Maturini Corderii COLLOQUIA SCHOLASTICA ANGLO-LATINA,

In varias clausulas distributa;
Observato utriusque Lingua Idiomate,

Quò sc. ope vernaculi, in quotidiano sermone Latino pueri felicins exerceantur, Positi sunt insuper in utriusque confiniis numeri, quibus uniuscuzusque vocabuli vel Phraseos indicatur locus, & usus genuinus.

A Carolo Hoole A. Mro.è Coll. Linc, Oxon. Privata Schola Grammatica Institutore inter Aurisabrorum diverticulum in ubra rucis, Gaream Virginei capitis in Alnea Porta vicis, apud Londinates; Cicero, de claris Oratoribus.

Ipsum Latine loqui, est illud quidem in magna laude ponendum, sed non tam sua sponte, quam quod est à plerisque neglectum. Non enim tam præclarum est scire Latine, quam turpe nescire.

Londini, Excudebant T. R. & E. M. pro Societate Stationariorum, 1653.

THE TONGO TONG

0

To his Honoured good friend,

M. HENRY HAMPSON,

Citizen of # LONDON.

SIR,

He lively Progresse that your eldest Sonne (the Leader of his Classe,) together with some other his fellowes made in these Colloquies, (whilest as yet they were conversant in their Grammar-Rudiments,) emboldeneth me to dedicate the same unto you; partly to significe how willingly I would be thankful for your singular and great savours done me; and partly, to witnesse your exemplary Education of your Sons at home.

For I remember, your care was to see them over-night to perform their tasks imposed; and amongst other things this was usually enjoyned him, to write out a certain number of the choicest phrases in this book, and to say them by heart the next day. By which he received a double benefit; first, to be able readily to reade, and truly to write our English, and withal to be well acquainted with some elegant, and pure expressions in the Latine tongue.

This most profitable Course I have constantly kept with young Enterers to the Latine, and observing it exceedingly advantagious to help them forward toward Authors with an easted elight; I proceeded thus to publish what I now present you with, for the general good of all, but more particularly for the benefit of your chil dren.

And bewever it may feem unworthy your Patronage, as infifting.

A 3 upo

The Epifle Dedicatory.

upon things more fit for boyes then men, to look upon ; yet confider- ti ing, how far meaner works (both of this and other subjects,) have a been dedicated to, and accepted by most noble P. rionages, and ma. r ny in most weighty and throng employments; I presume it ail no want your acceptance. And fish, the very worth of the Book hath o borne it out without a Patron (I may boldly fay to scores, if not) to hundreds of Impressions, both in this and forreign Countreys, it can- i not be any disparagement to you to give it countenance.

Mor let any tell you, that your Sons (how good Proficients soever) c are now past this poor Subfidiary; seeing it may befit even (the t most learnedst of all us Schoolmasters, both to learne and a teach by. And I have been told in commendation of that yet famous a Dr. Reynolds (once Prefident of C. C. C. and then the Univer- b fitie's Oratour in Oxford) that when young Students came to him, f and defired him to inform them what books they were best to peruse, p for the speedier and surer attainment of a clean Latine style or o speech; he ever bade them get Corderius's Colloquies, and be sure n In reading them, to make those expressions their own, both for k writing and speaking; because in them they should finde Terence i and Tullie's elegancies applied to their common talke

Which advice of his (without question.) were it now generally o taken, and constantly observed, (at the least) in that (my Mother) 30- d lins's Epistle to Cb. Cb.

cabemy; it would eafe be late complaint of one c * of the present publick Readers and cease the fre- t quent Sarcalmes of Forreigners, who deride to fee b Mr. Owen of fuch a general disability in Englishmen (other- o mise Scholars good enough) to speak in La- e tine.

And I conceive no better way, whereby this defect may be remedied; c and the scandal (that ensues thereupon) removed, then for every ! Schoolmaster, that professeth to teach Latine, feriously to trace Corderius's steps, and to inure himself and Scholars by little and little, 1 (as they daily gather strength) upon all occasions what soever to speak it that learned Language. And to further that most profitable exer- b cise, I have purposely translated these and other Colloquies, partly; 2 therein fulfilling the Authors request, that Masters would interpret P shem now and then to their Scholars, and teach them how to imitate e them;

The Epistle Dedicatory.

have are sometimes involved in particles and single words, as well as glo-

dma. riously exposed in larger phalesill not I might trouble you with some of those things which I have hath observed to this Authours commendations; viz. that, he underot) to went and performed this detactigating task of a Schoolnraster. tean- in fundry places in France, (more especially at Paris and Geneva) for above fifty yeares together; that, he bred many exlever) cellent and great Scholars, amongst whom Master John Cal-(the bin is most famously known for his Workes; that, that great and and accurate Printer R bertus Stephanus, was his intimate amous and beloved friend, and one that thought it no dishonour for niver his Preffe to print Care contrued by Corberius, as be him, should have done also these Colloquies, had not his own death eruse, prevented; and that, (for which indeed Il we of his Professiyle of on may admire him) he tought fix hundred boyes with far be fure more order and filence, then many other Schoolemafters could oth for keep with thirty or fourty only. I might adde, that, (besides his care erence in ordering his family, having alwayes a multitude of Tablers,) he spent many private houres (stolne, as it seems from his time nerally of fleep and recreation, in providing such helpes for his chiler) 3. dren, as might east himself, and encourage them in (passing) the diffiof one culties of Learning; and though he knew well enough many jeer'd, he fre- to see a man of his parts and yeares, thus to busic himselfe in such e to fee boyish matters; yet he so farre addited himselfe to teach little other- ones, that for their Jakes be condescended to any, even the mean-1 La est undertakings. So that indeed, I may well commend Corderius as an excellent Patterne for a good Schoolmaster to follow, and this Book of his, as a true Touchstone for judinedied; cious Parents, to try when their children are taught and difevery ciplined.

But I fear to offend with length, And therefore I will omit many things touching the use and benefit of the Colloquies, and my designe in translating them, because indeed I intend, (as God continues bealth and opportunity.) to proceed in I win Discovery of the old partly, Proving this and other books, used in Schooles to their proper imitate ends.

them;

May

The Epistle Dedicatory.

May you please (Worthy Sir,) to receive this meane expression of mine unfeigned desires, to promote the profiting of those towardly young Gentlemen your Sons; and to reserve it as a Please of my endeavours, (at the least) to avoid the name of A Chanklesse Person; I shall rest, after I have subscribed my selfe, Sir,

From my School in Goldsmiths-Alley.

Novemb. 4. 1652.

Humbly devoted to ferw you and yours.

CHARLES HOOLE.

*****

Matrinu

ಹಿಸಿಕ್ಕಾ ಹಿಸ್ತೆಹೆಸ್

ref.

ibe

erv

inu

M. Corderius's Colloquies, English, and Latine.

Col. 1. Bernard, Claudius,

Do save you Clautius.

And Fod save you too, Bernard.
Let us play a little while.
What say you, you little foo!?
You are scarce some into

You are scarce come into the Schoole, and do you talk of play already? I pray you, be not angry. I am not angry.

Why then do you speak so loud?

I blame thy folly.

May wee not play then? Yes, we may; but when time ferocth.

Fie ! thou art over wife.

I wish I were but wise enough: but I pray thee let me alone, that I may get what I am to say by and by to the Master.

you fap fair :

如如如如外如

M. Corderii Colloquia, Anglo-Latina.

Col. 1. Bernardus, Claudius.

Salve Claudi.

Tu quoque falvus fis Bernarde.
Ludámus paulisper.

Quid ais, inéptule ?
Vix scholam ingressus es,
& jam de ludo lóqueris ?
Ne irascáris, quæso.

Non irascor.
Cur ergò sic exclámas ?

Accuso tuem stultitiam.

Non licet igitur ladere?

Imò licet, at cum tempus
est.

Vah! tu nimi um fapis.

Utinam tantum saperem satis: sed mute me, quæso, ut iepetam quæ mox reddenda erunt præceptóri.

Aquum dicis:

B

15

I

2	M. Corderius's	Co	noquies,
•	I will also get with you, if you please.		Volo ego quoque tecun repétere, si tibi placet,
c.	What now what is this? What meaneth this fo fuddain an alteration?	•	Sibi vult ifta tam subin mulatio?
	Did not you talk of play but just now?		Nonne tu modo loquebi ris de lusu?
D.	I did speak of it indeed, but not in earnest.	30	_
C.	Why did you diffemble?		Cur simulábas ?
В.	That I might talk with you a little.		Ut paucis tecum fabulare
C.	what is that good for?		Quiditlud prodest?
В.	Did you never hear of the master?	35	Etiam rogas? Nunqua audivisti ex præceptón
C.	Joo not now remember		Nunc mibi non occuri
	both it to talk together?		quid, inquam, prode confabulári?
D.	To exercise our selves in the Latine tongue.	40	Ad nos in Latina lis gua exercendos.
C.	Truly pous think aright, and I love you the moze now.		Profectò rettè putas, l ego te nunc magis amo.
B.	I thank pou, come let us		Habeo tibi gratiam; ag get our part; for the master will be here by and by.	45	repetamus prælectio- nem; nam brevi pre ceptor aderit.
	Col. 2. Stephanio, and the Master.		Col. 2. Stephanio & Pra
S.	God fave you, Master.		Salve, præceptor.
P.	God fave you, my Stepha-		Salvus fis, mi Stephanio.
	whence come you so very	- 15	Unde venis tam mul early?

From our chamber.

E cubiculo nostro.

mane?

P

P

S. P.

S.

P.

S.

S.

P.

5.

P.

S. P.

5.

b.

P.

5.

P

S.

1		English and
cur cet.	P. S.	Mittle before fix, Mafter.
ubu	-	W/ 1 C
100	P.	What do you say?
iebi	S.	It is just as I say.
	Ρ.	You are up too carly; Who waked you?
(c	S.	My brother.
	P.	Did you say your pray=
láre	S.	As foon as my brother had comb'd me, I faid them.
- 1	P.	How?
qua	S.	Anceling upon my knees, and holding up my hinds together, I said
urri		the Loids Braver
rode		with a thankigiving.
	P.	I'n what tongue?
a lia	5.	In the English.
5,4	P.	D well done! who fent
amo,	S.	No body.
	P.	What then?
age	S.	I came of my own accord.
tio-	P.	My little fweet-heart,
è pre		what a fine thing it is to have a good wit! Is it not break-fast time?
	S.	3 am not hungry pet.
Pra	P.	What would you do then?
	5.	I will repeat the nonnes we use to say every day, if you please to anio.	P.	hear me.
		what hould it do but mul	0	please mee ? Do you re-
	S.	member them then?
	1	I do remember them.
nohe

Paulò ante sextam, præceptor.
Quid ais?
Sie st, ut dico.
Tu nimis es matutinus;
Quis te expergesécit?
Frater meus.
An precátus es Deum?

Quando surrexisti?

Cum primum frater me péxuit, precátus lum.
Quomodo?
Flexis genibus, & conjuntitis mánibus, dixi precationem Dominicam cum gratiárum actione.

Qua lingua?
Anglica.
O factum bene! quis te mifit ad me?
Nemo.
Quid ergo?
Ultrò veni.
Mi animule, quam pulchrum est sapere!

Nonne est jent and i tepus?
Nondum esurio.
Quid vis igitur?
Volo reddere nomina quotidiina, si tibi placet audire me.

Quid ni placeret? Tenes igitur memória?

Teneo,

30

35

Chanks

M.	Corderius	s Col	loquies,
----	-----------	-------	----------

	Chanks be to God.	40	Grátia Deo.
P.	Come on ; fay.	1	Age; pronuncia.
$.	But you use to go before		Sed mihi foles przin
1.	me in English, and I		Anglice, & ego Latin answer in Latine.	100	reipondeo.
P.	You do well, to put me in minde;	45	Bene mones;
	I had almost forget that: answer then.		Pene istud oblicus eram responde igitur.
S.	I expect you should pro-	50	Expecto, ut propónas.	I
P.	The head.
3.	Caput.	7.
P.	The top of the head.
S.	Vertex.
P.	The forepart.	. 55
S.	Sinciput.			S.
P.	The hinder-part.			P
S.	Occiput.			s.
P.	Now answer in English.		Nunc responde Anglid
	Caput.	60		S.
S.	The head.	E
P.	Vertex.			P.
S.	The top of the head.			S.
P.	Sinciput.
S.	The forepart.	65
P.	Occiput.
S.	The hinder-part.
P.	What if you say all by your self now?		Quid fi nunc folus dita	A.
S.	I can eafily fay.	70
P.	And I will be willing to hear you.		Ego verò te libenser aud	B. A.
S.	Caput, the head.			1
•	Vertex, the top of the			B.
	head.	75
	Sinciput, the forepart.	.,		A.
	Occiput, the hinderpart.			B.
	Have I not faid well,		The state of the s
	Master?		Nonne bene dixi, pre ceptor?

1		English and	1
	Ď.	Mery well as can be.	8
•	S.	The Lord God bee	8
è	P.	praised. D finely spoken!
	S.	Go now and ask the maide
Section .		for your breakfast.
		I had rather have it of you, Master, if it may	8
1		be no trouble to you.
	P.	O how I love you for that 1		faying! come follow me :
		thing that is good, be-	5 cause pou have done your buuncis well. What is this?
-	S.	white bread.
	P.	What are thefe?	1
ice	S. S.	Dzie figs. Count them.	5
100	S.	One, two, three, four, five, fix.
	P. S.	D pretty little boy!	10
	3.	Now get your breakfast, at
4		Col.3. A. B.
lica		Will you got your beach
	A.	Will you get your break-
udi	B.	I have no breakfast.
	A.	What ! have you not brought it ?
	B.	I got my break-fast at 1	home.
	A. B.	No; but because 3 rose	1
pr	20.7	pretty carly, my mo=	-
V

ra

Quam optime. Laudetur Dominus Deus.

> O pulchrum verbum! Ito nunc petitum ab ancilla jentaculum.

Malim abè te accipere, præceptor, si tibi non est molestum.

O quam te amo de isto verbo ! age, séquere me: dabo tibi aliquid boni, quia tuum recte fecifts officium.

Panis candidus. Quid hæc funt ? Ficus arida. Numera. Unz, duz, tres, tuor, quinque, fex. O lépidum capitulum ! Jenta nunc ociose.

A. B. Col. 3.

Quid est hoc?

Vis jentare mecum?

Non habeo jentaculum. Quid! non attulifti?

Ego domi jentaveram.

Itane semper facis? Minime : led quia bene mane surrexcrams fic ther

M.

D.

M

D.

M

D.

ceptori magna ex parti Vide ne mentiaris; nan ego illum percontabor.

Ut voles, præceptor; nº

hil hac in re metuo.

25 Age, pergamus. Meridit quid habetis réddere?

Habema

Have you done your duty M well?

pou.

B.

M

D

MI.

D.

I suppose I satisfied my D. Maiter pactty Well.

Dee you do not lye : for M. I will ask him.

As pou will, Mafter, 3 do not fear in this point.

Come, let us go on. M What have you to fay at noon ?

35

40

50

60

tre D. We have the Verb Poffum to form in Latine and English. Pothing elle? M. ábo. D. Nothing. I have taught you that at M. 60. other times : Do you not remember it? I dare not fap 31's till I D. Dild have tried. form it in the first per= M. fong, and the rest willbe dder very easie to you. The Indicative Mood. nem D. 07. Poslum, I can. o pie Poteram, I was able. Putui, I have been able. Potneram, I had been able. port ciavi Potero, I shall be able. Caró The Imperative is wanting. inter The Optative. nè & Utinam poffim, God grant I can. mus Utinam pollem, crtra would to God I could. s par Utmam potuerim, m al-God grant I have been ficat. iciua Otinam potuissem, would to God I had been able. prz. The Subjunctive. Ut poffim, that I may. partt. Ut possem, that I might. nam Quamvis potuerim, alabor. though I have been able. i in Qamvis potuissem, although 0. I had been able. Cum potuero, when I shall cridit be able. ere?

emos

Habemus declinare verbum Possum Latine & 'Anglice.

Nihil pratérea?
Nihil.
Ego te istud aliás dócui:

Nonne tenes memoria? Non ausim affirmare, donec tentavero.

Declina in primas personas; cætera tibi erunt facillima. Indicativus.

45 Imperativus deest.
Optativus.

55 Subjunctivus.

B4 Decline

M. Decline the whole Infini- | 65 Declina totum Infiniti tive Mood. The Infinitive Mood, Prefent and Præterimperfect tense, Polic, to may or can. The Præterperfect and Præterpluperfect tenle Potu Je, to have or had been able. The relt are wanting. Why doth this verb Postum want the Future tense of the Infinitive Mood? And why also doth it want the participle in Rus? Because it hath not the D. Supine. And what then? M. For those words use to be D. formed of the supine. Give an example in some M. perfect berb. As of the Supine lettu is D. made lecturus, and of lecturus is made lecturum well indeen. But why have M. you omitted the Particiciple of the Present tense of the verb Poffum, feeing Potens, potent is is used? Because as you have often D. taught us, Potens is not a Participle though come of Pollum. What is it then? A Noune Adjective.

vum. Infinitivi Modi prælem & præteritum imperfeaum. 70 Præteritum perfectam, & Plusquam-perfectum. C'ætera defunt. Cur hoc verbum Poffun caret futuro infinito 75 Cur item participio in Rus? Quia non habet supinum Quid tum? IMz enim voces à supini 80 formari solent. Da exemplum in alique verbo integro. Ut à supino lectu fit lectu rus, & à lecturus fi 85 lectu um effe. Recte sane. Sed cur pra participi termilisti prælens à verbo possum, cum fit in ulu, potent, potentis? 90 Quia (ut sæpe nos docuiffi) potens non ett parparticipium, licet à pof.

> sum veniat. Quid ergò est?

Nomen adjectivum

I

	English and	. 1	tine. Lib. I. 9 Probè meministi : útinam
М.	It is well remembred of you: I pray God you may alwayes go on		sie pergas semper.
D.	etter 6 out 2 of ette deute	100	Spero indies melióra per Dei grátian.
14.	And I also hope the same with you.		Ego quoque idem tecum
	Now it remaine's that you fay the Præterperfect tense with them that	105	Nunc restat ut dicas præ- téritum cum sua prole.
	come of it.	. ,
D.	Potuis potueram, potuerim, potuissem, potuissem, potuero, potuisse.		4
M.	Say the terminations.
D.	1. ram. rim. fem. ro. fe.	116
M. D.	Say the fignifications. Possum, I am able.
M.	Posse, to be able.  See, see, wee are called to dinner.	115	Hec battenus. Ecce, ecce,vocamur ad prandium.
	Col. 5. C. D.		Col. 5. C. D.
c.	When will you get your binner?		Quando vis prandère?
D.	I have dined already.		Ego jam prandi.
C.	At what a clock?		Quota hora ?
D.	At half an hour past eight.		Sesquiociava.
C.	Doe you dine so early	5
D.	so we tife commonly to to in fummer: but when dine ye?		sic fere folemus in æstace: vos autem?
C.	We do not dine till halfe an houre after ten , and	10	Non prandémus ante fef-sometimes after ele-

Offrange! why no fooner? we must tarry for my father, till hee come back from the Court.

Then you cannot be in the D. Hall at the finging of Plalmes.

I am bery Celdome there. How are you excused? (or how come you off?)

I am exempted from fo bona.

no exempted you? D.

The Mafter at mp fa= there motion.

Have all Miderinens fons D. then such a privilege?

They have, fotheir frathers beare it.

Could not your Mother give you your dinner before your Father came back from the Common=councell?

Shee could indeed, but my Father would have me tarry of him.

D. Why so?

Wecause it is his minde to have it so.

Now I must hold my D. tongue : for pout have stop't my mouth : (or, you have made that I have not a word to fay. ) agh?

dum ab undecima.

Papæ! Cur non citius? Expectandus eft pater. dum è curia redierit.

C.

D

D

(

15 Tu igitur non potes adeste aulæ in cantione Plalmorum.

Raro admodum interfum. Quomodo excularis?

20 Exemptus fum illo muneie.

Quis te exemit?

Didascalus, patris mei monitu.

Ergone omnes senate-25 rum filii habent hujusmodi privilégium?

Habent, modo patres jubeant.

30 Nonne mater posset dare tibi prandium, ante reditum patris e fenatu ?

> Posset quidem, sed pater vult à me expectari.

35 Quamobrem? Quia fic illi placet.

> Nunc mihl tacendum eft: Os enim mibi occlufifi.

Who made you so bute to 40 cur tu es tam curiosus percontator?

Jam bat a childe , and Puer sum, & pueri semper cupiunt aliquid scire children alwayes deare to know novelties. novi. Fateor, sed est modus in re-I confess it, but there is a C. mean in all things , as bus, ut præceptor nos 45 the Master doth often læpe docet. teach us. Ergo discedamus, ut te Therefore let us depart, that D. pranfum conferas. you may get ron gone to pour din ner. Ignofte, queso, si qua in I prap pou, pardon me,if C. 50 I have offended you in re offenderim. any thing. Ego abs te idem peto; ego, I beare the fame cour= D. inquam, potius qui te telle of pous 3, 3 fap,rather, who may offended offendere porui loquacitate mea, led inteyou with my talkative= rim nihil mali cogitans. nefs , but thinking no 55 harmin the mean time. Col.6. F. G. Col. 6. F. G. Whi hodie cibum cepisti? F. where got you your meat to day? At mp hoft's? Apud hofpitem meum. G. What did you dine for ? Quanti prandisti? F. Six farthings (or boits.) Sex quadrantibus. G. F. What did your supper, how Quid cœna, quanti conmuch cost it ? fficit ? G. Just so much. But what are Tentidem. Tu verò you maintain'd for quanti áleris quotidie? day? More then you. F Pluris quam tu. 10 Quanti igitur? G. For how much then?

For four pence : (folg, or Aibers.)

er,

tes

ne

m.

u-nei

0-úfju-

are ré-

ter

ft:

fi.

F.

Quartior affibus.

	Col. 7. Choletus, Collo-		col. 7. Choletus, Colla-
Ch.	whence come you?		Unde redis?
C.	From abroad.		Foris.
Ch.	Why went you forth?		Cur prodieras?
C.	To go home.		Ut irem domum.
Ch:	Why fo?	5	Quid eó?
C.	To fetch my Books.		Petitum libros meos.
	So ho! why had you not brought them?		Eho! cur non attuleras?
C.	I had forgot them.	3 5	Oblitus eram.
1000	Do pou ufe to fozget		Secine soles jentaculum,
	drinking on that fathis	.10	aut merendam oblivifa?
C.	on?		Rarissimè.
			Profecto magna suit negli-
Ch:	over-fight.		gentia.
C.	Yes indeed a very great one;		Imò máxima: sed quid
	wee are but boyes.	15
Ch:	whitif the Mafter knew of your doing?		Quid si præceptor tuum sa- Etum sciret?
C.	Perhaps I should bee pu=		Fortasse pænas darem.
Ch:	De you fay, perhaps ?		Ain' tu, fortaffe ?
	without boubt you hould be whip't.	20	Proculdubio vapulares.
C.	Tre you not ashamed to come into the schoole without your Books?		Non to pudet sine libris in scholam venire?
Ch:	It both not onely fhame, but irke me alfo ; ne-		Non folum pudet, sed pi- get etiam; veruntamen verthelesse 3 pray thee	25	ne me accufes, obsecro.
0	do not tell of me.		1 300 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
٠.	I have no fuch thought; but I cannot distemble,	1	Nihil minus cógito : fed non possum dissimuláres bul

Ch

Ch

Pu

Pu

•

F

.

but I muft finde fault quin ego te reprebendam. llo. with you. Istud (credo equidem) ch. you bo that ( 3 bert= in beleebe) as a friend, amice facis, itaque boni 30 confulo. and therefore T take it in good part. Id fatis eft mihi. That is enough for me. Eamus intrò in auditori-Let us go in a doors into the schoole. um. Ch: It is time : now the Cap= Tempus eft; jam decurio-35 :25 nes exigunt scripturz taing demand an account of our writing. ratiónem. um, Col. 8. The Scholar, the Col. 8. Puer, Pæda-(ci? Mafter. gogus. Præceptor, licetne pauca? Mafter, may 3 speak a word with you? gli-Pz. Speak boldly. Loquere audacter. Ego & condiscipuli mei I and my schoole-fellowes Pu. ind have been faft at our hoc ferè toto tridao li 2500's almost this three bris affixi fujmus: dayes together : fa-May we refresh our felbes Licetne paulisper animum with a little plap? ludo relaxare? Pa. Dic igitur aliquam fenten-Say some sentence then. P. Interpone tuis interdum gaudia curis, Ut posses animo quemvis sufferre laborem. Pz. Say the English verses 10 Dic etiam versus Anglitoo, if you remember cos, fi memória tenes. ris them. Mirth with thy labour sometimes put in ure, Pu. pi-That better thou thy labour may'st endure. Px Quam recte dixifti omnia! 190w well you have said en all ! . Pu. Chanks be to God: Eft Deo gratia. Px. Addendum posthac erit Hereafter pou muft put Ced something else to it. oliquid. 162 What ut

25

30

35

40

Pu. | What, Master ?

Pz. Who hath given me wit and a good understanding.

Pu. But who shall teach mee

P2. I will write them for you in your little=note= book, that you may learn them without Book.

But I pray thee tell mee, who taught thee that speech, which thou hast said?

Pu. Campanus had giren it me yeiterday in Swaiting, and I got it by heart.

Pz. Truly I love you, my Daniel, for that diligence of yours.

Pu. I thank you, Master.

Do you give way that we may play then?

2. yes. Go thy way, tell thy school-fellowes.

Pa. I will.

Pu. That which you once taught me?

Pz. But I will first hear it of Pu. We merry, boyes, behold

I bring you good news I have got you icave to play.

Well done, you have remembred it well. Now goe thy way. 20 Qui dedit mihi ingénium, & mentem bonam.

Sed quis me illa docébie

Ea scribam tibi in commentariolo tuo, ut ediscas. D

C

D

C

D

C

D

C

D

C

D

C

D

D

C

D

Sed dic mihi, quæso, Quis se dócuir istam oratiónem, quam pronunciasti?

Campanus heri dederat mihi feriptum, & ego memorie mandavi.

Profectò ego te amo, mi Daniel, ob istam diligentiam.

Ago tibi gratias, præceptor.

Permittisne igitur, ut le damus?

Sanè. Abi, renúncia condiscipulis tuis. Faciam.

Quid dices illis?

1d quod me docuisti ali-

quando. Sed volo prius ex te au-

Gaudete, pueri; en affer 50 vobis jucundum nuncium:ego vobis impetravi ludendi potestatem.

Eugè. Probè meministi. Ito nunc jam.

Col.9

English and Latine. Lib.I. 15

D	Add.
Repetamus nomina quo tidiána, ut certins red dámus ea præceptóri.		Day nounes, that we may fay them more furely to the Master.	C.
Bene mones; przito mi hi hefterna.	5	You doe well to put me in minde; goe before mee in pesterdapes-nounes.	D.
Dic Latine, an eye.		Sapin Latine, an eye.	C.
		Oculus.	D.
mrl		The right eye.	C.
mro	10	Oculus dexter.	D.
1012		The left eye.	C.
		Oculus sinister.
11 11		Both the eyes.	D.
3. 		Ambo oculi.	-
Probe tenes.	15	You remember Soell.	C.
Nunc audi an recte soli dicam.		120w heare whether I can say by my selfe rightly or no.	D.
Agè, audio.		Come on, I heare you.	C.
3,		An eye.	D.
Debes enumerare in dig		You must count them at	C.
	20	pour fingers ends, as the master teacheth us.
Quid prodeft iftud?		what is that good for?	D.
Ad memóriam juvandan		To help the memory.	C.
Quid boc fibi vult?		what both this mean?	D.
Non audivisti multotie.		Have you not heard many times?	C.
Ego sum obliviósus: qu ágerem ?	25	I am forgetfully what should I doe?	D.
Esto diligentior ad ea r tinenda, quæ percép ris.		Be more diligent to remem- ber, what you have learn't.	C.
Quod me fidéliter mon		you doe me a kindnesse, in giving me such friend-	D.

m,

bit

omdi-

ora-

erat

mi lili-

ece-

ļu-

on ali-

au-áffere uncitrávi

miffi.

Col.9.

C.	Come on, return to the		Agè, ad rem redi.	1
D.	An eye, Oculus.
	- Ocular dester	35
	The righteye. Oculus dexter.
	The left eye. Oculus finister.
	Both the eye. Ambo Oculi.
с.	How well you have faid	40	Quam recte orania di
Đ.	Let us repeat to-dayes		Repetamus etiam hodien
c.	befoze me again as I have done you.	45	Placet; at the vicissim pra- to mihi.
D.	A hand.
C.	Manus. The right hand.
C.	Manus dextra.	50
D.	The left hand.	'
C.	Manus sinistra.
Ď.
C.
D.	It remain's for you to say by your felf.	55	Restat, ut solus dicas,
c.	A hand, Manus. The right hand. Manus			1
Mili	dextra.
	The left hand. Manus si-	60
	Both the hands. Amba Ma-			ľ
	nus.			1
D.	D that wee could fay		O si tam bene diceremit
	thus well befoze the	65	coram praceptore!	1
	matter.			3
C.	What hinder's ?		Quid obstat?
D.	Because we are afraid.		Quia timemus.
C.	And yer hee correct's our faults gentlyenough.		Et tamen errata moftva fo	-

English and Latine. Lib. I. 17

I know not what this should mean.

am alwayes fearfull at the firft.

That is in a manner naturall to every one, as we have heard of the mafter. D,

Now wee should have said again in Latine and English : but I fee the mafter coming.

C. Let us goe in.

die

A. B. Col. 10.

A. Say in Latine, Let us say our lesson together.

В. Repetamus una pralectionem.

How many parts hath this A. speech?

Three. B

Shew the difference be= A. twirt every one of them expressp.

B. Repetamus is a veib:

una is an Adverb : Prælectionem is a Noune.

A Shew it a little moze plainly. B.

Doe you then goe before me, as the master useth.

A. Repetamus. B.

trafe

rgit,

Repeto, repetis, repetere, of the third Conjugation, like, Lego, legis, legere. The Præterperfect tense. Repetivi :

Nescio quid hoc sibi ve.

Ego semper sum timidus in principio.

Istud est quodammodo naturale omnibus, ut audivimus ex præceptore.

None repetendum effet Latine & Anglice : fed præceptorem venientem 80 video.

Ingrediámur.

A. B. Col. 10.

Dic Latine,

Hæc oratio quot habet partes?

Tres.

Discerne singulas nominaiim.

Repetamus est verbum: Una adverbium : Prælectionem nomen. Declara paulo planiss.

Tu igitur præito mihi,ut, solet præceptor.

Conjugationis tertix; ut

Prætéritum.

The

B.

The Supine. Repetelum. The participles. Repeten , & repetitiones. Una. A. It is not declined, because it is an Adverbin this place; In English, together. A. Prelectionem. В. Prælettio, omis, t. g. The lesson, or letture. Col. 11. A. B. Let us goe fay our leffons D. tagether. What thould I fay? B. Is it not enough that I have faid by my felf? If you have onely faid once A. or twice, that is but a fmall matter towards getting it without book. В. Nay but I have faid it over about ten times. A. Truly that is enough. B. What would you have more then? If you would be fure to fap A. before the mafter, it is requilite you should repeat it over with some 15 body. B. I did not know that : but I affent to you with all my Let us doe then, that which I advised you to.

15 Supinum. Participia. Non declinatur, quiaelt adverbium, hoc in locg Anglice together. Col. II. A. B. Eamus una repetitum. Quid ego repéterem? Non fatis elt quod fola repetiverim? Si tantum semel aut bi repetieris, id parume ad ediscendum. Imo circiter decies rept 10 Id quidem sufficit. Quid igitur vis ampliús? Si vis certissime redde coram præceptóre,opi est cum áliquo reper viffe. Istud ego nesciébam: se tibi li benter assentior.

Faciámus ergo quod q

te monébam.

B.

G

I. G

J.

G

I.

G

1 G.

I.

G.

I.

G.

G.

I.

English and Latine. Lib. I.

Truly I doe not fay nay; 20 Equidem non recuso : in begin. cipe. Col. 1 2. Gentilis. Ifaat. Col. 12. Gentilis. Isaacus. Teneine memoria præ-Can you say your lesson by G. lectionem ? heart ? Propemodum. Almost. I. Vilne repetamus una ? Are you willing wee should G. fay it over together. 5 Máxime. Yes, I am willing. I. Begin then. 'Incipe igitur. G. Faciam libenter : I will doe it with all my I. sed tu attente audi, ut heart : but doe you bee me corrigas, fi quid erfure to hear, that pou ravero . may tell me, if I mille 10 in any thing. Agedum. G. Come on then. Fac sumptum propere. 1. Jam errasti, incipiendum You have mist already, you G. should have begun with fuit ab hesterna. yesterday's lesson. I. You doe well to advise Bene admones; nunc inme. I will now begin. cipiam. Iratus de re incerta contendere noli: Impedit ira. You miffe in the accent of G. Peccas accentu ira. wa. lius I. Impedit ira animum né. Make a vidination after 20 Diftingue poft animum. G. édde animum. Impedit ira animum, ne possit cernere verum. e,opu Fac sumptum propere, cum res desiderat ipfa. repe Dandum etenim. G. You mitte in the accent | Iterum peccas accentu: m : 6 again. Say it again. 25 Répete. Dandum etenim eft aliqued, cum tempus postulat aut res. ntior. I. Doe you not fee that you Videine te errafte quater ? have mist four times? od q I fee it. Video. Tru And

eft

COS

folu

t b

em e

repe

	M. Cordelius's	Co	lloquies,
G.	And have you minded the places?		Et observasti locos?
I.	I have minded them.	30	Observávi.
Ğ.	By that meanes you will have the better heed to your felf.		Sic tibi faciliùs cavébu,
I,	Alas pooze boy that I		Me miserum !
	I thought I had it well by heart.		Putábam me rectè tenére.
G.	So it often fall's out with me too, ever when my memory is not well fetled.	35	Sic mibi quoque solet acci- dere, quoties memória non est bene confir- mata.
I.	He is happy that hath a good memory.		Felix qui memoriam be- nam habet.
G.	It is a great bleffing of God.		Magnum Dei beneficium.
I.	But time goe's on :	40	Sed tempus abit:
	Hear me now.		Audi nunc me.
I.	I hear you, fay.	70,000	Audio, pronúncia.
G.	Iratus de re incerta contende	reno	i.
1.	Look! the mafter is here.		Hem! praceptor adeft;
	Wold your tongue, that we may cry salve to him.	45	Tace, ut illum salutémus.
	Col. clement. Felix.		Col. Clemens. Felix.
C.	Is there nothing for us to fay to the malter to day?		Nihilne est quod reddimus hodie przeeptóri
F.	Nothing, but about the Grounds of Grammar.		Nihil, nisi de Grammatiu Rudimentis.
C.	What is that?	5	Quidnam?
F.	and you shall finde marks upon five lessons, which the master hath appoint-	,	Inspice libellum tuum, in venies notas in quir que lectiones, qui præceptor nobis pro
	ed us.	10	Icriplit.
C,	When was that?		Quando istud fuit?

F.

c.

F. C.

F.

English and Latine. Lib. I.

F. On friday, at four a Die Veneris, hora quarta, Clock. But I was not there At ego tune non interfui. then. Therefore pon beferbed Ergo plagas meruifi. F. to be whipt. Doe you passe such a sen-Siccine júdicas, severe 15 C. tence, you severe judge? judex ? I was bullip emploped Occupatus eram domi, nec at home, and 3 went abicram injusiu pianot away without the ceptoris. mafters leave. 20 Efto; sed tamen debuisti F. Suppose it were fo: yet postridie qu'ærere, quid you should enquire the day after, what was done pridie actum effet. the day before. T confesse my famit ; but Meam culpam confiteor: C. I pray thee, let me see thy sed cedo librum tuum, book, that I may fee what 25 quælo, ut videam quid nobis reddendum fit. we are to lay. F. Take it, and with the same Accipe, & eadem opera labour mark out, what lignato, quæ à præcethe mafter hath appointprore nobis præscripta left; 30 ed us. funt. C. I will bee fare to doc it: Faciam diligenter: neque not hall you blame me posthac (ut spero ) me hereafter (as I hope) accusabis negligentix. for my negligence. edd2 Col. 14. Comes. tóri Oliver. col. 14. Comes. Oliverius. natili What was done in the Quid actum eft in audischool at three of clock? tório hora tértia? n, in O. We parfed the Parts of Tractatæ funt partes oraquin Speech out of our lesson, tionis ex prælectione. que C. Nothing elfe? Nihilne amplius? pro O. I would have told you, but Dixissem nisi me interthat you interrupted me. pellasses. I have done amisse. Goe on. Erravi. Perge. 901 ria

CI-

fir-

be-

%.

X.

O. | Afterwards the mafter dictated a piece of English to be translated to day. When must it bee shewed ?

To morrow at noone.

Have you translated it already?

O. After a fashion.

Dictate the English (or bulgar) to mee, I pray you.

Take it, make hafte ; for 3 fomething have wzite.

Col. 15. Sylvius. Fervas.

What are you doing? S. I am getting with my felf. G.

What do you get? S.

S.

Chat Sohich the mafter G. fet us to day.

S. Can you lay it by heart? I think fo. G.

Let us get together; and fo we fliall both of us fay better before the master.

G. Doe you begin then, fince you dared me. S.

Come on, minde, that you doe not let me miffe. G.

I am more ready to hear you, then you are to tap.

Postea dictavit præceptor 10 argumentum 'Anglicum hodie vertendum Quando reddendum?

Cras meridie. Jamne vertisti >

15 Vicunque. Dicta mihi, qualo, vemi culum.

C.

A.

C.

A.

C.

A.

A.

C.

S. C.

S

S.

Accipe, festina; nam habeo aliquid scribere.

Col. 15. Sylvius, Gervahus

Quid agis ? Repeto mecum. Quid répetis ? Prafcriptum hodicmum preceptors. Tenésne memória?

Sic opinor. Repetamus una : fic uter que nostrum redi pronunciábit coran præceptóre.

10

15

Tu igitur incipe, quim provocaiti. Age, attentus esto, nem smas aberrare. Sum promptior ad audies dum, quam tu ad por nunciandum.

Col 1

	Col. 16. Achoratus.	Col. 16. Achoratus.
A. C. A. C. A. C. A. C. A. C. C.	Will you get your lesson with me?  I will.  Can you say?  Not well enough perchance.  Come on. Let us make triall.  What then doe wee tarry for?  Begin, when you will.  But it is your part rasther to begin.  Why so?  Because you invited me.  You say faire: minde then.  Jam ready.	Visne mecum repétere prælectionem? Volo. Tenésne? 5 Non satis recte fortasse. Agè. Faciamus periculum. Quid igitur expectamus?  Vbi voles, incipe. Atqui tuum est posius incipére. Quid ita? Quia me invitassi. Aquum dicis: attende igitur.  15 1sis sum.
1NB	Col. 17. Crispus. Sandrotus.	Col. 17. Crispus. Sandrotus.
C. Ain S. Draw C. Sim: C. dies S. pri	Can you say already what must bee said at three of clock? I can say. And I too. Let us talk together a little then. But if the monitor come upon us, he will think me are a prating. Why doe you fear, where there is nothing to bee feared? If he doe come hee shall not	Jamne tenes quæ reddenda funt hora tertia?  Teneo. Ego quoque. Sergò confabulémur paulifper. Sed si intervénerit ebservátor, putábit nos garrire  Quid times ubi nibil timendum est?  Si vénerit, non deprehen-

Ad. Corderius s	Colloquies, det nos in otio, aut in
pieb. Let him hear our discourse, if he please. You say very well: Let us goe aside some-whither into a corner, for teare iest any body should hinder us.	re mala.  Audiat, si velit, nostrum collóquium.  Optime lóqueris: Sece- dámus aliquò in án- gulum, ne quis nos im- pediat.
Col. 18. Trimunaus. Messor.	Col. 18. Trimunaus.
It doth not become us to be idle or to prate here, whilit wee look for the master.	Non decet hic otiari aut garrire, dum præceptor expectatur.
What doe you say ? It doth not become us ? nay in- deed, we may not, un= leste wee have a milde	Quid ais ? non decer? imò verò non licet, nifi volumus vapulare.
to be whip't. Doe you hear me then, whilk I say my lesso; and I will afterwards hear you.	Tu igitur audi me, dum prælectionem pronuncio: ego deinde te audiam.
Col. 19. E.F.	10 Agè, pronuncia.
Why doe you not write?  I have wait my leaf-ade already. But what doe you?  I am going to write in the	Col. 19. E. F.  Cur non scribis?  Fam scripsi meam página?  Tu verò?  Eo scriptum in árca.
why so? Because the skie is clear. Make haile. The time	5 Quid ita? Quia serenum est calum.

by and by.

Titus. Valenus. Col. 20.

Why doe you not write? T.

Because I lift not. V.

But the mafter bade you. T. V.

I know he did ; but I have fornething to read first; Befides, I have nothing to write now.

I would to God you would write for me.

What?

7

n

n-1-

aut

tor

eti

nisi

lum

: 010

17:4?

11711.

: &

gors

T.

V.

T.

D.

I have the mafters dictates T. to write out.

V. What dictates?

T. Upon Tallie's Epiftles.

I will willingly write them V. out for you, -but tarry till the next holy day.

I will tarry then ; but, 3 prap you, dee not faile

mc.

V. I will not wittingly, noz willingly faile you.

> Col. 21. Damon. Audax.

D Will you write out my leffon for me?

A. Why have you it not writ-

Because I was busied yesterday.

& mox exigetur ratio.

13

Col. 20. Titus. Valerius.

Cur non scribis ?

Quia non liber.

Atqui præceptor jufferat. Scio: sed est mihi aliquid legendum prius;

Præterea, nibil babeo, quod nune scribam.

O fi velles mibi scribere.

Quidnam?

20

10 Habeo describenda di-Ctata præceptóris.

Quæ dictata?

In Ciceronis Epistolas.

Libenter describam tibis

sed expecta feriarum di-15 em proximum.

> Expectabo igitur ; sed ne fallas, queso.

Nec sciens, nec volens fal-Lam.

> Col. 21. Damon. Audax.

Visne mihi describere prælectionem? Cur non habes?

Quia hesterno die fui occupatus.

Take

Accipe librum meum & A. | Take my book and write it describe out. Non ignoras me lentin You know I witt fome: feribere : & tu citin Sohat flowin; and pour IO totum descripseris, quan can fooner have witt ego quatuor aut quinque all, then I can foure or versiculos. tive verles. Quære tibi alium scriptó-Get some body else to write rem; nunc ego tibi non for you; I cannot help 15 possum dare operam. rou now. Cur non? D. Why nor? Est mibi aliud negotium, A. I have other buliniffe, and that too very needidemque pernecessarifull to be done. um. 20 Nolo urgere, nec possum D. I will not prelle pott, nor quidem ; sed falten indeed can I doe it; but lend me pour book ne= commoda tuum codicem. rerthelesse. *A. 'Accipe; utere ut libet Take it; use it as you will, so you doe not mede ne abut are. 25 abuse it. You have no reason to Nibil eft quod bic vereari fear it. Col. 22. Austin. The Mo-Col. 22. Augustinus, Ob nitor in the house. lervator domesticus. May we goe to bed, fchool. Liceine ire cubitum, confellow? discipule? 0. Why before the time? Cur ante horam? Quia tertia est mihi sw. A. Because 3 muft rife at three a clock. gendum. O. Why fo? Quamobrem? A. To write. Scribendi caufa. O. What have you to write? Quid habes scribere? A. 3 Letter to my father. Literas ad patrem: O. Why doe you not aske the 10 Cur non petis à pracep mafter leave ?

tore veniam?

0.

Pa

Pu

Pa

Pu

Pa

Pu

Pa

P

Pa

Pu

Pa

P

Px

Pu

English and Latine. Lib. I. 27

A. You doe well to put me in | minde, is hee in his ftuble ? O.

1 &

TANK!

tins

Han 1que

Pto-7101

um,

sari-

ffum

lten

códilibet,

caru

00 us.

con-

i su-

3 xcep

Yo

Pr

I thinke he is. Goe fee.

Col. 23. The School-ma-Reisand Boy.

Px whence come pout? I come from below.

Pu. What was your bufineffe Px. below ?

I went to make water.

Px. Sit at the table now, and tarry in the chamber, untill I come again.

Pu. what should I doe in the mean time?

Wet pour leffon perfect against to morrew, that you may fay it to me before Supper.

I have got it perfect al= Pa. ready, Maiter.

Px. Goe play then.

But I have no play fel-Pu. lo'res.

Pr. you fhall finde enow in this street, and of your School-fellowes roo.

Pu. I doe not care for that now: I had rather (if you thinke good) get fome of mp Watechisme without book against the Lords dap.

Px. As you pleafe. Pu.

If any body thall ask for Bene mones, estne in musaolo?

15 Puto elle : vile.

Col. 23. Pædagógus. Puer.

Unde venus?

Venio inferné.

Quod erat tibi negótium infra?

'Iveram redditum urinam. Sede nunc ad mensam, & mane in cubiculo, donec rediero.

Quidagam interea?

10 Edifce pralectionem in diem ciaftinum, ut cam mihi reddas ante cœnam.

fam edidici, præceptor.

15 Lude igitur.

Sed nullos babeo rollusores.

Satis multos invénies in hac vicinia, ex tuis eti-20 am condifcipulis.

Nihil id curo nunc: malim (fi tibi placet) ediscere de Catechismo in dien Dominicum.

25 Ut libet.

> Si quis te queret, quid pou, pout, Sohat thall I fap to him? Cell him that I am gone 30 forth, but I will come again by and by. Col. 24. The Schoole-ma-Ber. Abraham a boy. Ho Abraham. P. Inone mafter. A. Lay by your bookes; post P. have now pip'd your book fufficiently all the day long. Get pour felf ready, that we map goe walk. Were it not better to walke A. after supper? Bodily exercise is moze P. wholefome befoze meat. I remember I have heard it A. of you. Repeat a laying of Socrates P. to that perpole. When Socrates walked apace without resting 15 till evening, being asked, why he did it, he answered; That thee got him a ftos mach by walking, that hee might eat his fup= 20 per the better. You have remembred it well. Who is the author of it? Cicero. But Sohither Chall Soe goe abzoat, mafter ?

Without the City.

illi dicam ? Die me prodiiffe, fed mor reversurum. Col. 24. Padagogus. Abrahamus puer. Heus Abrahame. Hem præceptor. Pone libros ; jam fatis toto die Auduifi: S Para te, ut camus am bulatum. Nonne à cœna præstares? Salubrior est ante cibim exercitatio corporis. 10 Mémini ex te audire. Narra Socratis dictumin eam sententiam. Quum Socrates ulque ad velperain contentius ambularet, interrogatus, quare id faceret, respondit; Se, quò melins conavet, obsonare samem ambulando. Probe meministi. Quis author? Cicero. Sed quo prodibi mus, præceptor?

Extra urbem.

P.

A. P.

A.

P.

A.

P.

P. A.

P.

A.

Shall

30

40

A. Shall I change my shoes?

P. Change them, left you be busty these new ones:

Take your bonegrace too, that the heat of the sun may not tan your face.

A. I am now here ready.

P. Now let us goe abroad.

707

ora-

toto

am-

ret?

ex-

m in

e ad

ntius

oga-

eren

aret;

mbu-

A.

P.

P.

P.

A.

A.

P.

Shall I call a companion or two out of the street hereby?

You doe well to remember me; for so we shall have a more pleasant walk of it. For yee shall discourse amongst your selves upon the way, and play together some where or other in a shady place.

So also we thall get a sto-

I swill be going foftly a= fore; when you have got fome companions, doe yee follow me thorow the toater=gate.

Will you tarry for us there

Yes indeed.

What if I meet with no companions?

Doe you follow me neverthelesse: Doe you heate? I heare you, master, Mutabone calceos?

Muta, ne istos novos púlvere conspereas:

Sume etiam umbellam, ne folis ardor infuscet tibi faciem.

Jam parátus adfum. Nunc fanè prodeamus.

Vocabóne ex vicínia unum aut alterum cómitem?

Recte ádmones; sic enim jucundior evit deambulátio: nam per viam sermónes inter vos conferetis, & in umbra colludétis alícubi.

Sic etiam excitábitur cibi

45 Ego lentu gradu pracédam; ubi nactus eris cómites, vos me per portam Ripariam sequimini.

50 Nos igitur illic expectábis?

Certó.

Quid si nullos invénero?

Nihilominus sequere me :
Audistine?
Audivi, præceptor.

Shall

dibi-

	Col. 25. Hersenius. Gimardus.		Col. 25. Hersenius. Gimardus.	G.
H.	Of whom did you buy that paper?		A quo emisti istam che	H.
G.	Of Fatinus.		A Fatno.	6.
H.	Is it good?	1	Eitne bona ?	0.
G.	Better then that of yours, in my minde.	. 5	Melior quam ista tua, i	Н.
H.			Nibil miror.
G.	3 dee not marbaile at it.	7	Cur istud dicis?
н.	Because it is dearer per- baps.		Quia fortasse cárior.
G.	I know not.	10	Nescio. ~	A.
H.	What did you buy a quire for?		Quanti emisti scapum?
G.	3 penny halfe-pennic. But what did you buy yours for?		Solido & semisse. Tu verò quanti?	F.
H.	A pennie and more.		Solido & pluris.	A.
G.	For how much then?	15	Quanti igitur?
H.	Five farthings.		Quinque quadrantibus	F.
G.	Truly you bought it well.		Non male profecto en	A.
H.	Moreover the merchant or increer gave me some= thing over and above.	20	Quinétiam merc átor da mibi aust árium.	F.
G.	What, I pray you?		Quodnam, quælo?	F
H.	I sheet of blotting paper.		Schedam charta bibula	A. F.
G.	D what a fool was I, that forgot to ask !		O me imprudentem,quid	A. F.
н.	I did not so much as aske him indeed: but he gave it me on his own	25		A.
	minde.			F.
	And I give you this (quoth be) over and above, that	1	Et hoc (inquit) addo bi, ut me revilas.

you would come to me again. So they use to entice cu= G. ftomers. And no wonder : Cberp 34 ch H. man feek's bis profit. But what doe we ? having 6. forgot to dayes task? 11, H. It is but a little one: 35 we have time enough. Col. 26. Ancellus. Font anus. Doe you not remember that A. I lent you some paper im? lately? F. what should I doe else but remember ? 3 am not fo fozgetfull. How many theets were there ? ibus. F. Foure. den A. Why did you not give mee them again? or di F. I tarried till I had a book. A. Have you got one at last? F But to day. A. Whence did you get it? ibule F. I askt it of the master ? A. ,qui d Where ? F. In his study. A What did hee ? Did hee give dem, it you with a good will? F. He fent mee to the Usher, who presently gave mee a book.

addo

Nec mirum : Suum quifque commodum quarit. Sed quid ágimus ? hodierni pensi immémores? Exiguum est : Satis temporis nobis restat.

Sic folent emptores allicere.

Col. 26. Ancellus. Fontanus.

Meministin' me tibi nuper dedisse chartam mútuó? Quid ni meminerim?

Non adeò sum obliviósus. Quot erant schedæ?

Quatuor.
Cur non reddidisti?

Expectávi dum habérem códicem.

Habuistine tandem?

Tantum hodie.

Unde nactus es?
Petívi à præceptóre.

Ubi?
In bibliothéca ejus.

Quid ille? deditne libenter?

Misse me ad hypodidascalum, qui statim dedit códicem.

20

I fee weil enough what they are; how many

Satis video quales sin

quot was dare pro que will you give me for a farthing ? M. But fix. Qu: What doe you fay? fix ! F. I had rather buy them of en the Merchants, that bring them hither', from Paris and Lyons. 120 M. though I bio not know what they are fold de for. I have heard of my brother, who ferbe's a pen-man of this City, fay, that me he hath paid pence a peece for them at Paris. fáce F folkes live at Paris on one falbion, and at Ge-NUE neva on another: But there is no need of to many words ; will dit you give me twelve? M. Whoo twelve ! as though I had stoln them. arcu F. I doe not fap fo : but fee whether you like my rcut profer. les? M. would pou have me fpeak ulen at one word? I pray thee, speak, we have n for talk't to no purpose long enough aiready. ex al M. I will give you nine, so you will take them as they rum rife out of my hand. enter F You doe but trifle; I will not take fifteen unleife I might pick s fint and chufe. 0 4 drante?

Tantum fex.

Mallem emere à mercatóribus, qui Lutétia, & Lugdano huc adferunt.

Quasi nesciam quanti

Audivi ex fratre, qui dat operam scribe hujus civitatis, se emisse Lutétiz singulis assibus.

25 Aliter Lutetia, aliter Ge-

Sed non opus est tot verbis; vis dare duódecim?

Hui dúodecim! quasi ego

so furatus sim.

Istud non dico; sed vide

num tibi placeat cendi-

Vis uno verbo dicam ?

tio.

35 Dic, quæso; satis jam garritum eft.

Dabo tibi novem, modò promiscue de mea manu accipias.

40 Nugas agis; Ego sine delectu nollens accipere quindecim.

0.29

3	4 M. Corderius's	-
	finde enough some		Vale, álibi invéniam satu,
M	you may for me.		Per me licet.
6	Doc pou heare, Sir?come again.	45	Heus, heus redi.
F.	Why doe you call me back again?		Cur me révocas ?
М.	Take eight, if you will, and look for no more from me.		Accipe, si vis, octo; neci me plures expecta.
F.	Reach me the whole bundle, that I may chuse as I have a minde.	50	Cedò totum fasciculum, ut déligam arbitrátu mes
M.	Hold it; chuse as you will pour seif.	11	Tene; délige ut voles.
	See now, and if you have a minde, count them.	11 - 21	Vide nunc, & si libe,
М.	There be foure and twenty: the number is plain enough.	55	Sunt viginti quatuor
	But I wonder you took no pinion-quils: for they be harder.		Sed miror te nullas acce pisse ex alâ extrema
	I know that : but they have		funt enim firmiores. Scio: sed habent cauler
	a shorter stemme. Take pour mony.	60	breviorem.  Accipe pretium.
M			Bene vertat Deus utrique nostrum.
F.	I wish, and 'pray for the same thing that you doe.	69	Idem tecum opto atqu
	But when will you bring us better quils?		Sed quando afferes mel óres pennas ?
M.			Nescio an melióres por sim, sed (ut spero) ba
1	hope) I shall bring more shortly, swhen I come	70	1
+	home to pour house. Have you many geese?	İ	Suntne vobis multi ansor This tie. Triginta & amplius. Thirty and above. M. Papæ! quantus grex anfe-Oftrange! Swhat a huge F. rum? ubi pascuntur? flock of geele is that ? where are they kept? Scies alias ; You shall know some time M. Non licet mibi diutius bic elfe : I map not tarry morari. here any longer. 80 Fare you well, Frank. Vale, France. ec i Cura, ut valeas, Marce. F. Have a care you be well Mark. um, Col. 28. Othomanus. Col. 28. Othoman. men. Philobertus. Philobert. Will you give me but one Vilne mihi dare unicam 0. pennam? pen? libet, Non fic dantur mibi. P. They are not so given me. nor: Hem, rem tantillam mibi O. How now, doe pout denp me fuch a small re= negas? 5 quest ? acce Quid si magnum quid 10what if I thould ask you émá: garem ? fome great matter ? es. P. Fortaffe repulsam ferres. Perhaps you should have a aule Pap-fap(or a Canvag.) 0. I think fo indeed : well, 3 Credo équidem ; age, non peto dono : faltem comdoe not ask it a gift= IO triqu wife: will pou but lend modabis ? it me? atqu I doe not fay-nay, fo pott Non recuso, modò ne abu-P. doe not spoile it. taie. mel 0. Non abútar. I will not hurt it. P. See you firre not a foot Cave ne hinc pedem move-15 S PO hence. ) bre O. I will goe no whither. Nufquam movebo. 1, 00

profic

nfert Thu

P. pens? T.

36

M.

B.

M.

B.

M.

B.

M.

B.

M.

B.

M.

B.

I.

P.

I have but two. B. Lend me one.

I will not; I. Why not? P.

Left you should misuse it. Chinke on ; perhaps pon Chall fome time oz other ask me fomething and lose pour labour.

Cur non? Ne abutaris.

Memineris : fortaffe de quando me finftra vol bis aliquid.

I.

P.

I.

Arqui jubet Christus ma-

I. But Chaift bid's us to lum bono compensandum. recompense good for coill. I have not learn't that Nondum istud didici. P. pet. yet you muft nceds 15 Tamen discas oportet 6 I. learn, if pou will bee cupis effe Christi disci-Chaift's fcholar , (02 pulus. disciple.) What doe I defire more? Quid cúpio magis ? P. Difce igitur magistrum Learn then to imitate your I. 20 imitari. master. I will learn in time, (oz as Discam progressu temporis. P. time comes on.) Præstaret nunc incipere, I. It were better now to begin, dum per tempus licet. whilft time gives poil leave. P. Nimis wiges, Nondum you are too halty with compleve annum octame, I am not pet all out 25 cight pears old, as my vum, ut ait mater. mother faith. Semper eft bene agendi I. It is alwayes time to doe well; but I prap tempus: fed interim ne thee, be not angry at me, mibi, queso, succenfeas, for I was but in jest, that jocabar enim, ut te ad 30 I might fet pon on to colloquendum invitarem talk with mee a little tantilper dum sumus whilst we have nothing to otiófi. Dee here is a pen fo: Ecce tivi penna, caque non pou, and that none of ommino pellima. 55 the worlt neither. P. I will give it you again Reddam tibi flatim, cum prefently, after I have aliquid descripscio. writ a thing down. I. I would not have you give Nolo mihi reddas. me it again. P. What should I doe then ? Quid igitur faciam? what you will : .for I Quicquid roles: à (reelp

4

ufti

$18

Z.

od2

ejusmodi.

Puto effe plurimos.

2511

38

H.

G.

H.

G.

H

G.

H.

G.

H.

G.

H.

P.

consening knaves

are

that stamp. 3 think there great many.

tilv.

40

English and Li

But let us let these passe; and let us rather trie our penshife.

Experience will teach us.

Take it, and try it, I pray you. For I have but tried it very lightly, and that too as I bought it.

H. O strange! who taught you to make such a swife chaise?

choife?

nam

185 ?

dix otam.

d ne

facis

revearstun

opt-

fed

quò:

fiffic

Mico

2501

H

G.

G. Doe you ask? doe you not remember that the mailer fo often tels us, that it is God alone that tracheth us good things?

H. Truly he hath taught pour bery well.

G. I thank him with all my heart: and I defire, that he would ever reach me to obey his will.

H. And I also wish the same; and not onely for our selves, but also for all the godly.

G. You doe, as it becometh a goody childe.

But is it not time that we should goe into the schoole?

H. It is so; take your books, and let us goe toge= ther. scd bæc omittamus; quin pótius experiamur ipium scalpellum.

Experientia docebit nos.

Accipe & tenta obsecro.

Non enim probavi nisi

levissimè, idque inter emendum.

Papæ! quis te docuit tam prudenter eligere?

Rogas? non meministi p:æeep:órem nobis dicere tam sæpe, Deum esse solum qui bona doceat?

Profecto hic optime te do-

Ago illi ex animo gratias:

& precor; ut me semper doceat parere suz voluntăti.

Ego quoque idem precor; nec folum nobis, fed etiam piis omnibus.

50 Facis ut pium decet piic-

Sed éstine tempus ut conferámus nos in auditórium?

55 Sic est; sume libros & cámus uná.

D4 Col.32.

venit, præftare uter

pectem mercatum pr

xime futurum in hacis la urba.

Quid facies lucro ?

40

M.

R.

M.

R.

M.

R.

R.

S.

S.

better for me to tarry till the next faire that will be in this same City.

what wil you get by that?

M. I shall both buy one cheaper and of a better mark, I mean from the Germane shops.

5. Who gave you that advise ?

M. Our Hierome.

S. It was well bone of him.

for we owe alwayes to give good counsell to our friends.

M. What but to our friends then ?

nas

INR

ibi

lici-

S.

M.

S.

M.

i " C.

fei C.

atus

tex-

pio-

Cip.

Yes to our enemies too, I confesse; because Chaist our best master commands so.

I would we could keep his doctrine well imprinted in our memory, and could always follow it!

That good Spirit grant it, by whose alone inspiration our hearts are enflamed to doe well.

You fay a good prayer.

Col. 34. Campanus. Languinus.

Have you many bookes? Not very many.

But what have you?

The Grounds of Grammar, School-Colloquics, Terence, Tuiles Epifles with the French Translation, Cato, A Dictionary, an English Testament, Et minoris emam, & melióris notæ, nempe ex Germániæ officinis.

> Quis tibi istud consilium dedit?

Hierónymus noster.

20 Bene fecit. Debémus enim amicis bonum consilium semper dare.

Tantúmne igitur amicis?

Imò & inimicis, fáteor 5
quia sic jubet Christus præceptor noster optimus.

Utinam doctrinam ejus bene infixam memoriz conservémus, eamque perpetuò sequamur!

Faxit ille Spíritus bonus, cujus unius instinctu animi nostri ad bene agendum accenduntur.

35 Bene precaris.

30

5

Col. 34. Campánus. Languínus.

Habeine multos libros? Non ádmodum. Sed quos habes?

Rudimenta Grammáticz, Collóquia scholástica,
Teréntium, Epístolas
Cicerónis cum Gállica interpretatione, Catónem, Dictionárium, fiert poteft.

5 Profecto non postum.

H. Truly I cannot.

25

35

1		English and La
C.	S. H.	Why not? Because Gerard, who borrowed it of me this while, hath laid it in pason.
in.	S. H. S.	Sap ron fo? in pawn?  It is, as I fay.  How much hath he pawned it for?
C	H.	For three pence, (as hee faith.)
TA.	S.	Oungratefull fellow!
	H.	But ungratefull ?
STATE STATE OF	S.	Yes indeed, both ingrate=
X. S.		But what could he pawn
STORY OF		your thing without ma=
Service Services	H.	He could, as you fee it is done.
The same	S.	Yet for all that he ought Service of the servic	H.	not.  You have hit the naile on the head: but what should I doe?
application of	S.	Doe you fland to ask? Cell the mafter on him.
STATES TO STATE STATES AND ADDRESS OF THE ST	Н.	I had rather put up that wrong, then make the poole boy be whip't.
Section of the	S.	You doe well, so he but Sales Contraction	H.	give you your own again.  I hope, he will give it me
Physical Property	S.	Whence should be give it
	H.	you again? He faith he shall shortly re-
Marin Marin		ceive money of his fa-

Cur non?

Quia Gerardus, qui his diébus à me commodátò accéperat, pignori appofuit.

Ain' tu? pignori?

Sic est, ut dico.

Quanti oppignorávit?

Tribus (ut ait) affibus.

Tantúmne ingratum?
Tantúmne ingratum?
Imò verò, & ingrátum & malum.
Sed nunquid ille rem tuam oppignoráre potuit, te inconfulto?
Potuit, ut fáctum vides.

Non tamen debuit.

Rem acu tetigifi : sed quid facerem ?

Rogas? defer cum ad Praceptorem.

Malo istam pati injuriam, quam committere ut miser vapulet.

Bene facis, dúmmodo tuum reddat. Reddet, spero.

Unde rédderet?

Ait se brevi acceptúrum à patre pecúniam.

What

you doe not blot it; or else I hall scarce lend it you hereafter.

Truly I mould be unwozz the of your courtese.

> Col. 37. Augustinus. Rodigus.

What new guilt book is that which you make such gallant brags on ?

R. Terence.

G.

no. A.

fij.

ui nia

4 2

15.

dan

òiade.

?

cjul

Mill

at un

1 /1

isles.

101

R.

R.

A. | Where was it Printed ?

R. At Paris.

A. Who gave it you?

R. I bought it with my own money.

A. Where got you money?

You are a fool to ask fuch a question, as though I had stoln it. Far be it from me to have any such thought.

But I ask't that for my minds fake.

Nor have I found fault with your laying in good earnest, but we use to jest on that manner swith our best friends.

There is nothing hinder's why we may not jelt, so God be not of fended.

But come on, let us return to the point: of whom bid you buy that Tealioquin agrè commo-

Nempe indignus essem beneficio.

Col. 37. Augustinus. Rodigus.

Quis iste est novus liber deauratus quem tam magnifice ostentas? Terentius.

Ubi impressus? Lutéria. Quis tibi dedit eum?

10

15

Emi pecúnia mea.

Unde nactus eras pecuniam? Stulte iftud quærn, quafi ego furálus sim.

Absit à me id cogitave :

Sed ánimi causa id rogá-

Nec ego seriò dictum tuum reprehendi, sed eo more jocari solémus cum samiliaribus.

Nibil jecari prohibet, mo-

Sed age, ad propositium revertamur: de quo emisti. Terentium istum?

R.	M. Corderius	25
A.	Of that same pedling book-seller.	*	Illóne bibliopóla circa 1
R.	Yes indeed.		Máximé.
A.			Quanti constitit >
R.	Ten pence.	30	The state of the s
A.	No more ?		Nihilne amplius?
R.	Nothing at all.	736	Nihil omnino.
A.	Truly the price is cheap enough.		Profecto satis vile pretin
R.	Especially when it is guilt,		Præsertim cum aurate
	and fo neatly bound.	35	adeóque cleganter con
A.	were there any other fuch books as it?		Eranine códices alii sin-
R.	Two or three.		Duo vel tres.
A.	I pray you bring me along	40	Deduc me, quæso, adi to him.		lum.
R.	Let us goe.		Eáraus.
	Col. 38. Edward. Baldus.		Col. 38, Edvardus. Baldus.
Ε.	Is not this your Book?		Nonne hic liber est tu
B.	Let me fee it ;		Ostende mihi;
	3 own it to be mine;		Agnosco meum; Ubi i
	Sohere found pout it?		venisti?
E.	In our Schoole.	5	In auditório nostro.
3.	I thanke you, that you have taken it up.		Agotibi gratias, quòda
Ε.	But now you should be set		Atqui nunc notandus t down in the bill, if 3	- 3	les, si summo jure ve would beale in extre- mity with you.	10
3.	Why fo?		Quid ita?
3.	Dee not you know our		Nescis leges nostras scho
	Schoole-Diders?		lasticas?
B.	Even the Lawes them=		Iplæ etiam leges cupin
	seives deure to be go-	1 15	ut jure regantur.

HE ST

The state of the s

1

E

20-25

30 berned by right.

By what right are our lawes ruled?

ME.

B.

atu

COR-

di

_ B.

E.

bi i B.

dest

us é E.

erd B.

School

pin

ern

im E.

By Equitie, and the masters discretion, because he made them privately:

Besides, he both not use to be so severe in that which is done amisse either thosow negligence or forgetfulnesse.

So I have often found it too.

But what way so ever you doe amisse, you shall plead your case befoze the monitor.

I am not afraid to anfwer to any thing that thall be laid to my charge, where there is no danger.

Hay no moze.
But I pray you what need's
the monitor to know

For God is not at all offended here.

Well, I will conceale it.
You shall doe a good deed.
But hark you, remember to give me quid for quo, (i.e. to come even with me) if ever I chance to make the like fault.

you say faire and honest= ly; I shall thinks on. Quo jure reguntur leges

Aquitate, & præceptóris arbitratu, nempe qui nobis eas privatim condiderit:

Præterea, non solet tam sevérus esse in eo quod vel negligéntia vel oblivione peccatum est.

Sic & Sape expertus

Sed quoquo modo peccaveris, dicenda erit caufa coram observatore.

Non timeo causam dicere, ubi nihil est periculi.

Tacco.

Sed, quæso, quid opus est ut il sciat observator?

> Hic enim Deus nihil offensus est.

Agè, celábo. Bene fácies.

pari referre, si forte mini accident aliquid delictum ej usmodi.

Aquum & bonum dicis;

Col.39.

TO

Col. 39. Calliatus. Germanus.

why doe you not gibe me mp book again ?

Tarry till to morrow; 3 have not pet done with will tarry with all my heart.

Will requite pour courteue, God willing.

C, I will look for no requitall for fuch a small courteuc.

But pet it is my duty to acknowledge it.

> Col. 40. Noah. Capellus.

Did you not see my Book ? What Book doe you look for ?

N. Tullie's Epistles.

Where had you left it? N. I had forgot it in the schoole.

That was your negli= gence.

N. I confesse it : but in the mean time tell me if po:1 know of any body that took it.

why doe you not goe to the mafter ? for he ufe's (as you know) either to

Col. 39. Calliatus. Germanus.

Cur non reddis mibi brum ?

Expecta in crastinum d N em ; nondum fatis w lum.

Libenter expectábo.

Referam tibi gratiam, D volente. Pro tantillo beneficion lam expettabo gratia E.

Tantum est meum agnost B.

Col. 40. Nozus. Capellus.

E.

I

L

I

3

Vidiftine librum meum B. Quem librum quæris?

Cicerónis, Epistolas. Ubi reliqueras? 5 Oblitus eram in audin rio.

Tua fuit negligentia.

Fateor: sed interim in ca si quem scias atte piffe.

Cur non adis pracepo rem ? folet enim ( (cis) que à nobis rehit.

rati

that we have left into his studie, or to beliver them to some body that may give us them as gain.

You doe well to put me in minde.

N.

E.

of B.

E.

um B.

E.

din B.

1 IND

acc.

cepto

m (#

Main

5?

D what a forgetfull boy am I, who never thought of that!

Col. 41. Ezekiel. Beatus.

will you boe me an especiall courtese?

I would doe it with all my heart, if it lay in my power.

But wherein am Jable to pleafure pou?

Lend nie ten pence.

I have not fo much now, but the better part of it.

How much, I pray you? I cannot tell, unlesse I look in my purse:

Look, here is eight pence halfe-penny for you.

I will but have seven, for I swill not leave you quite swithout any at all.

It make's no great matter; take all, if you please.

I thank you, I think this funt, aut ferre in mus'aolum, aut alicui dare qui reddat.

Bene mones.

5

O me obliviósum, cui id in mentem non venit!

Col. 41. Ezekiel, Beatus.

Vis à me magnam inire gratiam?

Nibil libentius fecerim, st quidem penes me res ipsaest.

Sed quid est in quo tibi commodare possum?

Da mibi mutud asses de-

10 Non tantum nunc babcos fed majorem partem.

Quantum, quæfo?

Nelcio, nili crumenami inspéxero:

15 Ecce tibi octo affes cum

Solos septem accipio, non enim te vacuare prossus volo.

20 Parum refert; totum, fi

Ago tibi gratias, credo hoc B money

5	o M. Corderius's	Co
1	for my businesse, with		pecunia satis fore negin	1
	a little that I have of my own.	25	quam ipse habeo.	1
В.	Doe as you please.		Ut libet.	D
E.	I love you with all my heart, because you are so ready to doe me a kindenesse.		Amo te de islå tam to prompt å benignitate.	v
В.	If I can doe any thing else for you, doe not	30	Si quid aliud possim, u	D
14	spare to ask.
E.	(God willing) as foon as my father shall send to me.		Reddam totum, Deow lente, quum primi pater ad me milerit,	N D.
В.	Doe not trouble your felfe with too much thought; I have no need of it yet.	35	Nè sis magnopere sollion tus; nondum est opu mihi.	P.
	Col. 42. David. Nicolas.		Col. 42. David. Nicolan
D.	Can you lend me a little money?		Potésne mihi mutudda aliquántulum pecúnia
N.	How much doe you defire?		Quantum petis?	C.
D.	Five pence, if you can conveniently.		Quinque affes, sitibil
N.	I have not so many.	5	Non tot habeo.	P.
	How many then?	100	Quot igitur?
	But four.		Tantum quatuor.	C.
D.	Mery well, give me those four.	10	Bene sane, da mihi if
N.	I will give you the halfe, if you please.		Dabo, si vis, dimidim
D.	Why not all?		Cur non totum?
	Because I have need of		Quia sunt mihi opus	P.

English and Latine. Lib. I. 51

D. Give me two then , I pray you.

N. But they will not ferbe pour turn.

D. I swill ask of some body

N. Take these two then:

When will you give me them again?

D. On Saturday (I hope) Swhen my father come's to the market.

N Thi kon then.

Uioopu

de

uniz

tibit

idium

pus di P.

C.

P.

D. Doe not f ar it.

Col. 43. Pasquetus. Custos.

Lend me two pence.

C. I cannot fo easily now lead you any.

P. What doth hinder you?

for I know you received fome money within this little while.

I received fome indeed, but I must buy Books, and other things that

P. Jam loth to hinder thy profit.

When I shall have bought what I need, if any thing be left over and above. I will let you have a share of it with all my heart.

I will waite in hopes of it in the mean time then; but Da igitur duos, quæso.

15 Sed tibi non sufficient.

Petam ab aliquo alio.

Accipe igitur hos duos : quando reddes?

Die (ut spero) Sabbati cum pater ad forum venerit.

Esto igitur memor. Ne timeas.

Col. 43. Palquetus. Custos.

Da mihi duos asses mutuó.

Nunc mili non est promprum dare.

5 Quid obstat ?

10

15

Sciote hifce diebus accepisse pecuniam.

Accépi quidem ; sed émendi sunt libri, & alia mihi necessaria.

Nolo tuum commodum vemorari.

Ubi émero que mihi sunt opus, si quid supersit, faciam te libenter participem.

Interea igitur sperans expectabo: fed quid si ni-

Nibil adte.

Chat is nothing to rou.

English and Latine. Lib.I.

M. | I confesse it : but yet what will you doe with that money? I will buy paper, and other B. things that I want. What if you fould lofe it? M.

I muft take it patiently. B.

M. what if I chall chance to nced fome ? will you lend it me > B.

I will lend it you, and with all my heart indeed.

M. I thank you.

25.

2

n.

ur, a èren. F

ntel

edit

t.

C.

F.

Col. 46. Columbanus. Fontanus.

C. Dave you done with my venknife ? F. As much as I neco.

Give me it again then. C.

F. Take it : I thank you. C.

You have no cause to thank me.

But pardon me, that I did non give it you again of my selfe, and sooner.

I am not much offenbed at that matter:

For we ought not to bee offended, but when we fee God offended.

You are in the right of it.

15 Fateor : sed tamen quid facies ifta pecúnia?

> Emam chartam, & alia que mibi funt ufui.

Quid si amiseris? 20

Aguo animo ferendum erit.

Quid f forte eguere ? dabifne mútuo?

Dabo, & quidem libenter

Habes tibi gratiam.

Col. 46. Columbanus. Fontanus.

Satisne usus es scalpello meo ?

Satis.

Redde igitur.

Accipe : ago tibi gratias. Nibil est quod agas.

Sed ignosce, quòd non ultro & citius reddiderim.

10 Ea de re nibil sum offinsus:

> Non enim debemus offendi nisi quum Deum offendi videmus.

Recte fentis.

	Lend me your knife a little.		Cómmoda mihi parum per tuum cultellum
•			Semper aliquid comme
	rowing femething or		dato petis : accipe
	other: take it : but you	5	quin tu emeres poi should buy one rather.	20/10	ús,
	I have no mony. Why doe you not ask for		Non habeo pecuniam.
•	fome?		Cur non petis?
	Whence should I ask it?	3 17 3	Unde péterem?
	Of your father.	10
	He is not in this town.		Non est in hac urbe.
	Where then?	19.4	Ubi ígitur ?
	He is gone into another countrey.		Péregrè profectus est.
	Whither?		Quó?
	To Bern.	15
	On what day went hee?		Quodie?
	The day before yesterday.		Nudiustertius.
1 6 10	When will he come again?		Quando est reversúrus?
	To morrow, we hope;		Cras, ut speramus? f
10	for he said so when hee	20	enim dixit proficilcen went away.
-	God speed him well.		Bene vertat Deus.
-	Col.47. Columberius. Simo.		col. Columberius. Simo
			Cor. 43 Ordination
-	И
	Have you any store of bread left?		Restatne tibi multump
-	Enough, I mank God.		Satis, grátia Deo.
-	Will you lend me some?		Visne dare mihi mutuo?
-	With all my heart.	5	Libenter.
-	But perhaps there will	1	Sed fortasse tibi non su
1	not be enough to ferbe		ficiet.

5.	Yes, I truft fo.	1	Imò, ut spero.
C.	For how long a time?		At quod usque tempus?
S.	Till Friday.	10
C.	whence will you get		Unde babebis postea ?
	fome after wards?
5.	From home.		Domo.
C.	Who will bring it you?		Quis afferet ?
S.	I will goe fetch it my felf.		Egomet ibo petitum.
C.	When?	15	Quando?
S.	On the very same Friday.	-	Ipso die Véneris.
C.	Lend me a pound and a balfe.		Da mihi mutò sesquili- bram.
S.	Who shall weigh it?	565 T	Quis appender?
C,	Dur mistresse, or the maide.	20
S.	Let us goe fetch it out of my chest.		Eamus petitum ex arca mea.
C.	But goe by your selfe: I will tarry for you in the kitchin.	25	Quin ito solus : ego te in culina expectábo.
fi:	Col. 48. I. T.		Col. 48. I. T.
I.	I pray thee, give me fome		Oro te, da mihi ex pane
	of thy bread.		tuo.
mo T.	I have no more then I need my felf; yet I will give		Mihi non habeo nimis; tamen volo tibi imperti-
	you a hare : take it.	5	ri: áccipe.
ip T.	I thank you.		Gratias habeo tibi.
	you have no cause to thank me for such a		Non est quòd agas obvem tántulam.
ió?	fmall matter.		6.11.
	But I pray thee tell me, suhp		Sed dic, quæso, cur non at-
MI.	have you brought none?	10	tulisti?
	Because there was no bo-	2 4 4	Quia nemo erat domi no-
In	l by at our house that		stre, qui mihi daret. E4 would

5	6 M. Corderius
т.	But why doe not you take it?
1.	I dare not, unlesse my mo-
T.	you doe well : but hear fome good counfell.
I.	Itten to heare it: I pray thee tell me it.
Т.	When the meat that is left at the table is taken away, after dinner is ended, ask for your bever (or drinking) and put it presently into your pocket, so it shall come to passe that you may never come
I.	Mithout something.  And what doe you perswade me about break-fast?
Т.	That you ask for it at the end of the supper, and doe as I told you concerning dinner.
ī.	I never faw better coun- fell to be given.
T.	See you remember it, and use it when you will.
I.	I will use it indeed, as oft as there shall be need.
	Col. 49. O. S.

Give me a piece of bread.

Have you none?

- NACONA
olloquies,
Tu verò cur non accipi	0
Non audeo, nisi det m	C
ter. Eene facis; sed audi bo	0 num confilium.
Ausculto, ut audiam: a quæso.
Cum, prandio finito, to lantur mensæ reliquiz petito merendam, cin que in peram statim ne c'ondito, ita fiet, ut	S
nunquam in anis venia	0
	S.
De jentáculo autem qui fuades ?	0
Ut peras in éxitu com & idem fácias que dixi tibi de merenda

Nunquam vidi mélius co O.

Fac igitur ut meminer S. cum voles, útere. O Ego verò utar, quoti S.

O. S.

Da mihi frustum panis.

Non habes?

0.

S.

0.

S.

Glium dari.

opus erit.

Col. 49.

15

25

30

If I had, I would not ash.

Why did you not bring

I will tell you afterwards; 0. but in the mean time give me some, I pray you: for 3 begin to be bery hungry, or, mp belly begin's to chime.

quiz S. Take it.

S.

bol

- 6

to

Cam-

qui œnz

nda

quet S.

sem O.

uóu S.

S.

is.

ut t S.

n 71 O. Whoo fuch a little bit! What doe you complain? nia O.

Good cause why, you deal too niggardly.

S. See what a little bit is left: have almost given you the half. 0.

I thank you, you have given me a great deal : but 3 jefted with you.

Now answer me; why did you not bring lome bread from home?

There was no body would give me any?

nens S. No body ?

No body at all.

What did your mother?

She was not at home. 0

S. What did the other folkes?

They were every body 0. bulled.

Why did not you take it your felf ?

0. I durst never doe any such matter.

5. Why not ? Si baberem, non peterem.

Cur non attulifti ?

Dicam postea; sed dainterim, qualo:nam efurio vehementer.

Cape.

Hui tantillum! 10 Etiam quéreris? Non immerite, das parce nimis.

> Vide quantulum restat: dedi ferè dimidium.

15 Ago tibi gratias, dedifti abunde; sed jocabar.

> Nunc responde: cur non attulisti panem domo ?

Nemo erat qui daret.

20 Nemo? Prorfus nemo. Quid mater ? Aberat domo. Quid cz'teri.

25 Omnes erant occupati.

Cur tute non accipiebas ?

Nunquam audérem tale quidpiam.

Cur non?

My

you? S. Very lovingly, and altogether according to my own minde.

58

S.

O.

Perhaps to gour utter un= boina. God Almighty fozbid:

Cruly I doe not enby your happinelle.

why then doe you fay fo as you doe fap?

That in the interim I may put you in minde, that we all become worfe by having too much liber= tp.

S. You doe well, but what think you? may I not make use of my parents kindenesse?

Truly you may, so you doe not abuse it.

S. How doe we abuse it?

Doe you ask? when wee turn either our father or mothers making much of us into that which is not good.

ex animi sententia. Fortaffe in tuam permi S.

em. Aveitat Deus Optino. Maximus.

45 Non ee quidem invidu. Cur ergo iftud dicu?

> Ut interim te monto. Omnes licentia den ores fieri.

50 Bene facis, sed quid a ses? Nonne uti li parentum bonitate? S

Certe licet, modo ne a táris.

Quómodo abútimur? 55 Rogas? quum aut par S. aut matris indulgentie G. in malum vertimus.

70

75

You say right; But what one among a thousand is there that doth it?

Yes, almost all, except those whom the Lord God doth restrain.

Who can be good, but by the grace of God?

Therefore (as our master doth often admonish us) we must pray to him, that by his spirit he would make us good and holy.

I am glad you brought not your break-fast.

Why fo ?

125.

io, O.

S.

hab

ente

13 iné

â.

bernu S.

ptin O.

des.

?

one O.

0.

Q.

dete

id @

i

e? S.

ne an pm S.

entin G.

m. D.

Because, me thinks, I have done my self a great deal of good by this discourse of ours.

And I have profited by it too not a little.

It is done by your means.

Nay rather, by Gods bleffing, who indeed was pleased to have it so.

I beleeve so indeed.

Therefore both in this, and other matters let us acknowledge his goodneffe.

Chat is very fitting. I, very necessary,

If we will avoid the crime of ingratitude.

Recte dicis, sed quotus-

Imò, ferè omnes, nist qui à Dómino Deo prohibentur.

Quis potest bonus esse nisi per Dei gratiam? Ergò (ut sæpe monémur apræcept ore) precandus est ut spiruu suo nos bonos & sanctos efficiat.

Gaudeo te non attulisse jentáculum.

Quamobrem?

Quia hoc nostro collóquio mibi videor multum profecisse.

Ego quoque non parúm.

Tua opera id fattum eft.

80 Imò beneficio Dei, qui quidem ita voluit.

Credo équidem.

Et hîc igitur, & in cæteris agnolcámus bonitátem ejus.

85 Valdè id equum est.
Imò valdè necessarium, Siquidem volumus ingrati animi crimen estugere.

Ecce vobis penna sin O.

ad scribendum ; &

60

S.

D.

P.

D.

P.

D.

P.

P.

N.

pou ?

all ?

So we have learn't of you.

See here is for every one a pen a piece to write

35

40

withall, and that pour may not thinke them to bee any ordinary ones, they are such as they call Holland pens. We thank you mafter.

Und

Orto

tun pin D.

ecep P.

tui?

mk re

ac h

C778 pg

que

PIZE

O.

C.

de O.

prom C.

debt O.

S.

SIN

ith

C.

P.

uder D

Nay, but rather thank God the hearer of all good men, who gives good fucceffe to your ftudies : and Dee pee gos on dili= gently in your learn=

ing. we will doe our belt, as far as God hall enable Milour doings are to no purpose without his help.

Col. 51. The Monitor. Caparonus.

Whence come you, Caparonus?

From home.

What doe you bring from thence?

My bever, (or Munchin.) Who gave you leave to goe forth?

The master himself.

How will you prove that ? Let us goe to him, and aske him.

But have a care what you 300

putetis vulgares effe, ex earum funt genere, quæ vulge Hollandina appellantur.

Gratias ágimus, præceptor,

Quin potius ágite Deo omnium bonorum auditóri, qui dat studiis vestris prosperos successus: Vos autem in literarum studio pergise diligenter.

Dabimus operam, quantum juvabit ille pater optimus.

Sine ejus ope vana sunt nostra omnia.

Col. 51. Observator. Caparonus.

Unde venis Caparóne?

Domo. Quid affers illine?

Merendam. permiler Quis tibi exire ? Præceptor iple.

Quómodo istud probabis? Adeamus illum, ut confulamus.

At vide quid agas.

	62 M. Corderius's	, 00
C.	I feare nothing in this		Hac in ve nibil times. E.
0	matter. Bre you fo fecure?	1	G.
	he that speake's the	1.0	Adcone securus es? E. Qui verum dicit, nim G.
	truth ought to fear no-	15	mere debet. E.
0.	Chat is a true faying in-		Vera quidem ifta eff G.
	But how few are there		Sed quotusquisque E.
C.	that doe not lye?  I am fure I doe not lye	20	mentitur? E.
	now.	1.00	Certus sum me nibil me
0.	You doe almost perswade me.		Propémodum perlui G.
	Foe your way: I be- leeve you, because I ne- ber caught you in a	25	deprebendi.
€.	lye.		G
	I thank God; whom I be- feech, that he would pre- ferve me upzight and undefiled.		cor, ut me integrum purum custodiat.
0.	I wish every one would pray from their heart!	30	Utinam ex animo om E.
	Now get you to eat your bever.		Récipe nunc te, utel merendam tuam.
	Col. 51. Giraldus. Eliel.		col. 51. Giraldus Elid
G.	Who are the victors this week?		Qui funt victores h G
E.	Where was you when the	-	Ubi eras cum ratión
G.	accounts were given in ?		redderentur?
-	I was fent for by my father; but who are the victors?	5	fed qui sunt vidor
E.	I pray you tell me. I and Puteanus.		Dic fodes.
G.	Have you had a reward al- ready?	10	Ego & Puteánus.  Jámne habuistis prze um?

Wee have had it. 10. E. What ? G. Twelve Walnuts. E. Whoo, what a reward ! nihi G. Ho, you fool, doe you va-E. lue a reward by the worth of a thing then ? eff G. I see nothing else to be valued here. E. You are a base fellow, to feek after gain fo. l me Doe pou not remember the masters word? rlus G. What word ? qui E. 3 reward is giben not 25 for lacre, but honours 2111 fake. G. Now I remember it, as it were thorow a milt, mp (or, somewhat confused-TUR. ly.) I will be moze diligent hereafter. OTH So pou will be a wife man at the last. it tu Col. 53. Galatinus, Bur-Elid chardus. Hey brave, we are difmif= milled to play ; did you

Lib. I. 62 Habuimus. Quodnam > Ducdénas juglandes. Hui, quale præmium! 15 Eho, inepre, aftimas ergo præmium ex rei pretio? Hic nihil aliud video zftimandum. Sórdidus es qui fic lucro 20 inhias. Non meministi verbum praceptóris ? Quod verbum? Non lucri, sed honor is causa datur pramium. Nunc reminiscor, quasi per nebulam. Posthat ero diligention. Sic tandem Sapies. Col. 53. Galatinus. Burchardus. Euge, dimi fi fumus ad lu-(um ; audistine ? Quidni audirem, quum égomet adfuerim ? 5 Placetne paulisper confa-have pou a minde to talk a little ? and afterwards we will play together.

What should I doe but hear, when I my felf was there?

not hear?

CJON

ian B.

G.

tóre

(20)

1

bulari? deinde lude-mus una.

	I had rather play first.	1	Mallem ego priùs lúde
B. G.	But it is a hard matter to break off play.	10	Atqui difficile est lui	GB
В.	you say that swhich is very true, and I since it so in my self.		Plane verum dicis, &	G B. G
G.	Because you approve of my reason then, give us some subject to talk of.	15	bi mea ratio, da nd aliquid argumenti : confabulandum,	B. G. B.
В.	Nay rather it concerne's you to give it, because you challenged me.		Imò tuum est dare, me me lacessiveris.	G
G.	You say fair, give me the Nounes in Latine which I will propound to you in English.	20	Æquum dicis ; redden mina Latinè, quz i Anglicè propónam	B.
B.	Concerning what will you propound?		Qua de re propónes?
G.	Concerning housholdstuffe.		De supellectili.
В.	I will strive to answer, so you doe not propound above ten.	25	Tentábo respondere, no dò ne plura quam à cem proponas.	G
G.	I will count them on my fingers ends, lest per- haps I exceed the number.		Enumerabo in digitis, i fortè númerum exe dam.	B
B. G.	Hear then. I am ready, A Cupboard.	30	Audi igitur. Istbic fum.	GBG
B. G.	Abacus. A bench.			B. G. B.
G. B.	Sella.  A Candlestick.  Candelábrum.	35	•	G
G. B.	A Caldron. Abénum.			G
G. B. G.	A pair of bellowes, Folis. A pillow.	4 C		B. G

English	and	Latine.	Lib. I.	63
0 .

	Pulvinus:	1
G.		15.7
B.
G.	A STATE OF THE STA	45
B.
G.
B.		100
G.
		150	- 0:0
			Errafti semel.
			ubi?
G,	lodix.		Dixisti linteum pro le-
B.	I confesse it, 3 gibe pou		Fateor, debeo tibi semel
	the winning once.	55	victoriam.
G.	Now propound again for		Nune vicissim proponé,
	your part, that you may get off, if you can,		ut rédimas, si potes.
B.	Will you answer concerning		Vis respondère de edulis?
-		60	** . *
			Ut libet;
		7.3
		65
Section 1
	Aprugna.
		70
	When ?
	Courte 77-1 C
1000	Now charles Sevem lactis.	A.S. 174
	CiGuana.	3 3
B.	Daniel Porters	75
Mark .	Tues of
3,	Justarniums	1
	B. G.	G. A bolfter. B. Cervical. G. Linnen-cloth. B. Linteum. G. A pot of earth. B. Olla. G. A Flagon of wine. B. Oenophorum. G. You have mist once. B. Where? G. You said linteum for lodix. B. I confesse it, I give you the soinning once. G. Now propound again for your part, that you may get off, if you can. B. Will you answer concerning things to be eaten? G. As you please. B. Fresh meat. G. Caro recens. B. Pork. G. Suilla. B. Venison. G. Ferina. Venison of a wilde boar. Aprugna. B. Sod milk. G. Lac decostum. B. Whey? G. Serum. Vel, Serum lastis. B. New cheese. G. Case recens. B. Pottage.	G. A bolfter. B. Cervical. G. Linnen-cloth. B. Linteum. G. A pot of earth. B. Olla. G. A Flagon of wine. B. Oenopborum. G. You have mift once. B. Where? G. You faid linteum for lodix. B. I confesse it, I give you the foinning once.  G. Now propound again for your part, that you may get off, if you can,  B. Will you answer concerning things to be eaten? G. As you please. B. Fresh meat. G. Caro recens. B. Pork. G. Suilla. B. Venison. G. Ferina. Venison of a wilde boar. G. Aprugna. B. Sod milk. G. Lac decoctum. B. Whey? G. Serum. Vel, Serum lactis. New cheese. G. Caseus recens. B. Pottage. 75

60	M. Corderius's	Coll	oquies,
3.	Fish sod. Piscis elixus.	80		C
3. G.	Pickle. Condimentum.
B.	You are deceived.		Falleris.	M
G.	What is it then?		Quid ergo eft?	0
B.	Pickle. Intinctus.
G.	I will have it to be condi-		Condimentum volo.
	mentum.
B.	But I will not contend.	0-	At ego nolo contendere.
G.	Who contend's ? let us	85	Quis contendit? tons	S.
	ask some bodie's ad-		mus.
В.	bife. But let us play firft : that		Quin priùs ludámusi	M
ь.	Chall be done after.	19	lud fiet posterius.	S. M.
G.	Come on, it shall be done,		Agè, fiet, ne amilia	S.
	that we lofe not our opposituate to play.	190		N.
	Col. 54. Moses, Olevita-		· Col. 5 4. Mofes. Ole	S. M.
	nus.		tanus.	Se S
	-
M.	I am weary long agoe to		Jamdudum tædet mi	0
	use our schoole games		ties repétere lusus so	S.
0	fo often over. What will you doe then?		lasticos.	At
M	Let us goe into our garden.		Quid fácies igitur?	211.
	Let us got into our garden.	5	ftrum.
0	What shall we doe?		Quid agémus?
M	 111 11 11	1	Ambulabimus, collog	S.
	talk together, and re-		mur Dei benendi hearse Gods benefits in	10		M.
	his works.	1	marahimus.
0.	Truly there is nothing		Nihil sanè jucundin	5.
	more pleasant; but in the		led interim petent interim we must begge	1	à præceptore vens

interim we must begge

I have already got it for my felf, and one too whom !

leave of the master.

M.

à præceptore vénis

hi , & item uni

15 Jamdúdum impetráni

M.

I wil carry along with me. It is bery well; let us goe on Gods name. I pray that hee may keep us, M. I pray the same that you do 0. Col. 55. Sulpinus. Munchius. Dave you get leave to S. plap: We have got leave. M. S. For how long time? Till tupper. M. Who gave in the verfes? S. The first and second N. boves. What did the other forms? S. Every first Captain of the M. three next forms said a Sentence out of the Scriptures. Did yee not fay prayers as we ule to doe? We faid our prayers, and indeed whilest the mafter was there : but where was you? I was gone home, being lent for by my mother. M. What doe you thinke to do now then ? To play an houre and an half ; and then to betake mp felf to mp ftudic. M. would pou have me to be your play=fellow?

what should I doe but be willing?

m's

us ;

tian

Olo

mt

us 0

r?

ım

ollog

refici

cupul

etends

venis

etravit

uni 9

s.

vellem dúcere.

Bene res habet; eámus ducente Deo.

Precos ut nos cultodiar.
Ego quoque idem precor tecum.

Col. 55. Sulpinus.

Impetrastis ludendi facu.

tâtem?
Impetravimus.
Ad quod usque tempus?
Ad cænam usque.
Qui dederunt versus?
Primi & secundi.

Quid cæ'teræ classes?
Primus quisque decúrio
trium proximárum classium pronunciávit unam è sacris liveris sententis.
Nonne precáti estis, ut folémus?

10

Precâti, & quidem præfente ludimagistro : tu verò ubi eras ?

Iveram idomum, à matre accersitus.

Nunc igitur quid agere cogitas?

Ludere siguihoram; deinde ad sindium merecipere.

25 Vin tu, ut libi sim colli-

Quidni velim ?

With

M. Corderius's Colloquies, 68 Quo lufu nos exerción M. With what game shall wee mus ? exercise our selves ? Nullus est mihi jucuni :30 There is none pleaseth me or pila palmana. better then the hand=ball. Nec mihi quidem. M. Nor me indeed. Visamus igitur an cz'm S. Let us goe fee then whepartes fortiti fint : m ther the other boyes have 35 si foli luderemus, min chosen ades or no: for effet voluptatis. if we thould play by our felbes, it would be leffe fpozt. Vifamus fane. M. Let us got fee on Gods name. Col. 56. M. R. Col. 56. M. R. Visne ire mecum? M. will pout goe with me? Quò properas? whither go you fo halfily? R. Ad lacum. To the poole, (or dyke.) M Quid có ? R. Why fo? Lotum pedes. To wash my feer. M. I fane : nunc lotionen Goe on Gods name; I have R. hi opus non elt. no need to wash (or bathe) me now. Sed interim parum fab M. But in the mean time wee lábimur. will discourse a little. Ne fabulari quidem m R. I have no great minde to IO velim. discourse now.

Atqui utilis eft confahi tio duntaxat de m bonefis. At mihi utilior eft al 112. letudinem exercit corporis. Quid si mansero tecu

15

20

R.

M.

R.

٧.

В.

V.

B.

V.

В.

V.

B.

V.

B. ٧.

Prz.

Pei:

Piz.

Se.

Prudenter facies : &! pila palmária coll mus. Bene vertat Dens.

Maneo,

What if I shal tarry with you M. R.

M

R.

You shall doe wisely; and we will play together at the hand-ball-

Bur discourfe is profita= ble, fo it be onely of ho-

But exercise of my body is more profitable for me

God fend us good luck.

neft matters.

for my health.

I will tarry.

English and Latine. Lib. I.

I will goe with you to wash another time : that is, when 25 I thall have moze time. Let us buckle (or fall) to M. our sport then. I make no fron in the R. 30 bullneffe. Col. 57. Vincentius, Bonus, Why did you not play with V. us to day? I had no time to play. B. What bufinesse had you? V. That not bone my task. B. V. What task? B. I had half a copp to wait. V. Have you quite done it? B. I have quite done it. V. I commend pour dilt= gence ; you hall play another time at pour own leafure. B. when it please's God. You lay well. For nothing can be done without his pleafure. Col. 58. The first boy, the mafter, the second boy, and the third. Pri. God save you, master. tal Prz. Christ Jesus save you, children. Amen. Have yee laid already? tecu Pri: Yes, malter. Prz. Who taught you? Pei: The usher. Piz. What would ye have now? Se. That by your leave we may play a little.

nen

7 1

fabl

e 10

CICIL

colu

Alias lotum una tecum ibo:cum scilicct longius erit temporis (pacium. Ad ludum igitur nos accingamus. Nulla est in me mora.

Col. 57. Vincentius. Bonus

Cur hodic non lufilti nobiscum?

Non erat mibi ludedi spatisi Quid habébas negótii?

Non absolvera pensu meam. Quod penfum?

Dimidium exemplaris restabat mihi perscribendum. Perfecistine ?

10 Perféci. Laudo tuam diligentiam; ludes alias otiofe.

Cum voluerit Deus. 15 Recte dicis. Nam absque voluntate ejus fiert nibil poteft.

> Co. 58. Primus puer, Præceptor, secundus puer, & tertius.

> Salve, præceptor. Sit vobis salus à Christo, pueri, Amen. Jamne repetivittis?

Etiam, præceptor. Quis docuit vos Subdoctor.

Quid nunc vultis? 10 Ut per te licea t nob is parumper luder (.

7	o M. Corderius's	Coll	oquies,
Prx.	It is not time to play.	1	Non est ludendi tempus,	A.
	but for us little boys only.		Non petimus omnious, sed nobis parvulis tantim
Prz.			Atqui pluit, ut videtis.
Se.	We will play in the gallery.	15	Ludémus in pergula.
Prz.			Quo lufu ?	B.
5.	With pins, or walnuts.		Aciculis, vel juglandibus,
Prz.	what will pe give me?		Quid mihi dábicis?	A.
Pri.	We will fay Nounes.		Dicémus nómina.	В.
Prz.	How many will yee say a	20	Quot dicétis sínguli?
Fo.	Two.		Duo.
Prz.	Say then.		Dicite igitur.
Pri.	Paper, Charta.	A 3 1	3	A.
	Inke, Atramentum.
	I have faid.	25	Dixi.	1
Se.	A book.
	Liber.			В.
	A little book.		The Both State of the State of Libellus.		(中国) 在10分别,在10分别的	A.
	I have faid.	30	Dixi.
Ter.	A Cherry.			В.
	Cerafum
	Walnuts.
	Finlandes.
	We have said.	35	Diximus.
Pra.	what pacte little fel-		Quam belli estis homunce	11.00
	lowes pe are!		li!	E.
	Play till supper.	13/	Lúdice ad coenam usque	2
Ju:	We thank you, master.		Gratias agimus, præcepta	D.
	Col. 59. A. B.		col. 59. A. B.	E. D.
A.	Where is your father now?	1	Ilhi punc eft parer rusi
В.	I think he is at Lyons.		Puto eum esse Lugduni.
A.	What doth he there?		Quid illic agit?	E.
В.	De plaies the Merchant.			D,
A.	How long hath he traded?		Negotiatur.
В.	Since the beginning of the	5	Ab ipso inítio mercátis.

English and Latine. Lib. I.

10

I greatly wonder how he A. dares tarry there fo many daies, when there is such a great plague all up & down the city. It is no fuch great won-B. Der. Doth it feem fo to you? A. Yes indeed : for he hath bin B. at other times in greater danger: but the Lord God hath evermore preferved him. A. I believe so, and will yet preserve him. But when will he come back again? B. I know not ; wee look for him every houre. A. God fend him well back again. B. So fay I. Col. 60. Elizeus. Delphinus. E. what are you fo overs joyed for ? fque. D. App father is newlp epta. come. What matter is it to me? E. D. Yes a great deal, because he hath got us leave to play. uus uni. E. Doe you fay fo?

See the boyes are already yard.

tus.

playing in the court-

us,

fed

ım.

ous.

Valde miror, qui audeat illic commorari tot dies, quum pestilentia tanta fit per totam isibem.

Non eft adeo mirandum.

Itane tibi videtur? Ita profecto: fuit enim alias in majore pericu-15 lo : sed Dominus Deus lemper eum cuitodivic.

Credo equidem, & adhuc 20 custodiet?

Sed quando est reversurus?

Nescio: in horas expectamits.

Reducat illum Deus.

25 Ita precor.

> Col. 60 Elizeus. Delphinus.

Quà de ve fic elatus es latitia ?

Pater meus modo advenit.

Quid mea refert ?

Imò phurimum, quia nobis impetravit ludendi veniam.

Ain' tu?

10

Vide pueros jam ludentes in área.

> F 4 Let

Let others play on Gods name, I had rather plp mp booke then plap. and fo had I, but when time ferves; for ( as the proverb goes) there is a time for every thing. Whereupon our Cato give's us good counsell. Mirth with thy labour sometimes put in ure :

may'st endure. The things are true which E. you fay, I confesse ; but in time mean me alone, that I map ply my book in good

That better thou thy labour

earneft. you may ply your book name.

hinder pou ; but I will take this opportunity. Wake use of it on Gods E.

> Col. 61. The Monitor. A boy of the company. Likewise another boy.

for all mee, I doe not

Ho, boyes, ho, ho, ho.

Why do you call out so oft ? N. You must gibe ober play-Q. D thou noddy, it is not all out four a clock pet.

Why did you not give a to-A.

Because the little beig= rope is broken.

Ludant fane alii, ego fla A. dére malim quam luden. N.

Nec minus ego, fed in ten- A. pore. Nam (ut est in pro-15 verbio.)

Omnia tempus babent. Unde & nos recte mone Cato noster.

Interpone tuis interdun gandia curis;

20 Ut posses animo quemvi Q. sufferre laborem.

Vera funt que dicis, fateor : sed interim mit. Q. te me, ut serio studean O.

25 Per me fludeas licet, nin impedio; at ego hac un occasione.

0.

Q.

0.

0.

Utere sané.

61. Nomenclat Quidam puer ex turba. Item alius.

Heus pueri, heus, he heus. Quid clámitas?

Desistendum est à lusu. Eho inepte, nondum qui ta exacta elt.

Cur non dedifti fignun tintinnabuli fu Quia fractus eft.

But howdoth your father?

Truly I am very glad both

Well, by Gods bleffing.

is he well?

num

beas.

Valetne?

Sed quid pater?

Rede, Dei beneficio.

25 Equidem gaudeo plúri-

for

7	4 M. Corderius's	Co	lloquies,
	for your sake and his, that he is come safe again from his journey. You doelike a friend; but		mum tua, & ejuschi M. quod salvus péregrène M. crit. Facis ut amicum decessi M.
	to morrow we will talk together more at large: See the master, who is now going into the schoole.	30	loque mur: Vide præceptórem, qui ingréditur auditorium
0.	Let us goe take our lesson.	35	Eamus auditum prælet M.
	Col. 63. Mark. Aaron.		Col. 63. Marcus. Aaro
A.	I pity you. Why so? Because you misuse your		Miseret me tui. Quid ita? Quòd penna tua tamm serè abutáris.
A. M.	pen so pitifully. How doe I misuse it? Begause you hold it very isfavouredly as you	5	Quomodo abútor? Quia pessimè trastai acuendo. A.
A.	mend it. It is none of my fault; doe not you mistake your selfe.	3054	Non est culpa mea; ne qui B. erres. A. B.
M.	Whole then?	10
A.	My pen-knifes, the edge whereof is bull.		Scalpelli mei, cujus ata B. obtusa est. A.
M.	your penknife is not to blame; but your felf.		Scalpellum in culpanon d B. fed tu ipfe. A.
A.	Why fay you fo?	15
M,	Because you ought either to have whetted your pen- knife, or borrowed another		Quia debuisti vel scalpe A. lum ruum acuere, re aliud aliunde roge elsewhere, at the least for this present occasion.	20	præsens negotium. B.
Α.	I dare not ask one.	-	Non audeo petere.
M.	Why are you afraid?		Quid times?
A.	Lest it should be denied me.	1	Ne mihi denegetur.
M.	Look, here is mine for you.	1	Ecce tibi meum. S.
A.	I thank you.	25	Gratias ago.

I

0

I

English and Latine. Lib. I.

30

35

Me it as much as you wil, but ufe it weil. I wil not wittingly milufe it.

Eres

Cetil M

qui A.

eled M

ium

Aaron

mm

ta i

A.

A. B.

A.

A. B.

e qui B.

m B. alpe- A.

> 12

022

m 1

. B.

S.

is co

And be not fo loth to ask another time.

Mp nature is fuch , I ule to be more willing to give then to ask.

I would there were many fuch as you are : yet notwithstanding, he that wil= lingly both a favour, map likewise frely deare one. But Thold you too long; dispatch what you was about.

Col. 64. A. B.

Why is not Peter come to the school ?

He is bufie.

In what employment? In piling up wood.

How doe you know?

acu B. I was told. A.

By whom?

By his father. When faw you him?

He met me when I came.

Dee pou de not frame a lpe ; for I will ask him, if 3 chance to meet him in the streets.

you will finde it to be fo as I fap.

Col.65. Sulpitius. Roger.

Why was you away to day morning?

Utere quantum voles, sed vette.

Sciens non abutar.

Nec fis posthac tam verccundus in petendo.

Sic oft ingenium meun, foleo libentius dare quam petere.

Utinam multi effent tui similes : sed tamen qui libenter dat beneficium, 15 perere libere poteft.

Sed ego te nimis detineo; perfice quod caperas.

Col. 64. A. B.

Cur non Petrus venit in Scholam ?

Est occupatus. In quo negotio?

In ligno struendo.

Qui scis ?

Dictum eft mihi.

A quo ?

A patre ejus.

Ubi eum vidisti? Fuir mihi obviam quum venirem.

Vide ne mentiaris; nam ex illo queram, fi forte occurrat mihi per vicos.

15 Reperies fic ut dice.

Col. 65. Sulpitius, Rogerus.

Cur hodie mane abfuisti?

	70 12.00
R.	I was bufie.
S.	In what employment?
R.	In writing a letter to my
$	What need had you to write
-	* to her?
R. 5.	Because she had writ to me. You writ back then.
R.	You fpeak properly.
S.	Whence had she sent you a letter?
R,	Out of the countrey, I mean
-	from our town.
S.	When went she into the Countrey?
R.	The other pap.
S.	What doth the doe in the
R.	she lookes after our
1	countrey buineffe.
S.	What especially ?
R.	She gets things ready which are necessary for the
S.	next vintage.
R.	She doth wifely.
5.	How can you prove that?
	For in all things a dili- gent preparation thould be used.
R.	Who taught you that?
S.	A School-mafter dictated it out of Tullie.
R.	Upon what occasion ?
S.	When he admonished me to be fure to get my felf ready to fay my weekegs
-	work the next day.
R.	Truly he gave you good advise.

Occupatus eram. In quo negótio? In scribendis ad men Quid opus erat illi 6 Quia ad me scripserat, R. Ergò rescripsisti. 30 literis.

bere?

10 Proprie loqueris. Unde tibi miserat litte 5. Rure, nempe ex 1 nostra. Quando rus profectat 15 Superioribus diebus. Quid agit ruri ? Curat noftra megetia mi Quid porissimum? 20 Præparat ea quæ funton ad proximam vinden am. Prudenter agit. Unde istud probares? 25 Nam omnibus in wh adhibenda oft praper tio diligens. Quis te ittud docuit? Quidam pædagógus cavit è Cicerone. Qua occasióne? Quum admonéret, um diligenter pararem ! reddendam dam postero die. Profecto recte monebe

R.

R.

R.

S.

R.

S.

R,

Sed ad propositum reverta-But let us return to the 9. mur. purpofe. metr Have you not a baile, to looke after your bufineste 40 lli 6 ftra ? in the countrey? Yes, we have both a baily, rat, R. and men, and maides. cillas. 45 What need is there of your ites S. matris opera? mothers help there? R. Because the better know's dere rebus omnibus, how to provide every quam ifti imperiti rurithing, then thole unfkil= Rad 50 cola. full countrep clownes. S. Is there no other reason? R. Let me make an end of Sohat I intended to fap. a mi I thought you had made an an end : Goe on. Perge. R. 55 Moreover (as I have heard nt on my father fay ) the ma= ndém Gers main care is re= quifite in the ordering of a family. S. Therefore your father ret 60 should rather have been apai now at your countreyeffe. farm. 1 R. He cannot. Non poteft. s à S. What doth hinder him? Quid prohibet? R. Because he is all buffe at 65 his trade. occupatus. Ut S. De will get moze profit m M (as I conceive ) by that lim matter. R. Who make's any question? Quis dubitet? ba, S. Thence it come's to passe therefore, that he leave's Bu

Non haberis villicum, qui curet ruri negótia ve-Imò & villicum habémus, & famulos, & an-Quid opus est illic tuz Quia melius novit provi-

Nihilne amplius ? Sine me finire propositum

Putabam te absolvisse:

Etiam (ut ex parre audivi) pracipua cura domini requiritur in re familiari administrand 2

Ergò pater tuus nunc potius deberet ad villam

Quia totus eft in arte fue

Majorem (ut opinor) ex ea refructum capiet.

Inde igitur fit, ut relinquat uxeri emnem cuM. Corderius's Colloquies.

A.

R.

R.

L.

S.

L.

S. L.

S.

L. S.

L.

S.

L.

S.

L.

5.

L.

S.

English and Latine. Lib. I.

Why was you not with us ice R. at noon? I was gone abroad with the A. maiters good leave. ell c Wut in the mean time R. I hinder pou. m You doe not hinder me, I have not loft fo much STR 20 as a mouth-full by pour interrupting mc. R. It is wel: Goe on, but make hafte, 0) Col. 67. Ligorius. id co Saracinus. iton Have you done what you L. ought to doe? S. In what matter? e poi In repeating your lesion. L. S. I have repeated nothing yet. What was the reason? L. I tarried till my fellow rjus. S. came back. Whither is he gone? L. S. Home. ium Why fo? L. S. To fetch his bever. What if he come somewhat L. 13 late ? S. I cannot tell; It may be fo. L. Will you repeat with me in the mean time? S. Eruly I doe not say nay. L. Let us goe some whither aude then, that no bo dy may trouble us. S. réde Truly pour doe well to put me in minde; there

Cur meridie non adfuisti nobifeum? Prodieram cum bona venia præceptoris. Sed imerim sum tibi in pedimento. Nihil impedis: Ne bolum quidem perdidi interpellatione tuà.

Bene habet ; Perge, fed matura.

> Col. 67. Ligorius. Saracinus.

Fecistine officium tuum?

Qua in re? In repetenda lectione. Nihil adhuc repetivi. Quid causa fuir ? Expectabam dum rediret compar. Que ille ivit? Domum. Quid eó? Petitum merendam. Quid si redibit serius?

10

15

Nescio, fieri potest. Vis interea mecum repetere? Equidem non recufe. Secedamus igitur, ne quis molestus sit nobus.

Profecto bene mones; nemo studere potest in tan-can

Ita paulatim fiet, ut cura, fine tædio, molestia bonampun

prælectionis edifam

spiece meale. And what then? And so it will come to paffe by a little and a little, that I shall get a 'g ood piece of my lefton, wi!-

heart.

80

Col. 68.

our care, without toile, and without trouble.

I verily you feem to me to be wifer then your age require's.

It is no fuch hard matter, but I could teach you, but that you make fo much hafte to your supper. You doe well to put me in

D.

E.

e mu

edago

MAN CIT

did

edila

ar ticul

legant

, u lio, h n parti

iscan

You doe well to put me in minde of my supper in time.

I will therefore for its fake get me home. Farewell.

bod fend; you well this ther and back again.

Ista non satis intellige, & certe videris mihi supra atatem sapere.

Non est res adeo difficilis, quin te docére possem, nisi ad cœnam properáres.

De cœna intémpore ádmones.

35 Ego igitur ejus causa me domum recípio. Vale.

Ducat te Deus, & redu-

A short Preface which was prefix't before the next seven Colloquies.

Est Children should learn to doe ill by boing nothing, corrupting one another especially with idle chat, and lewd or sond discourse; they are to be moved by all means, to use two or three together, in the Præfatiúncula, quæ Septem próximis Collóquiis præfixa erat.

E Pueri nibil agenda difeant male agere, præfertim onoso sermone, pravisque aux ineptis colloquiis sese invicem corrempentes: omnibus modis incitandi sunt ut in scholao dum præceptoris in-

20

25

30

35

40

Schoole, whilst they look for the masters coming, to repeat among themselves what hee hath set them.

This pleasant exercise swill boe them a great beal of good, and be able to divert them from idlenesse, wantonnesse, and many other things that are evill, wherewith God is offended.

But because such kinde of Repetitions doe not use to be made without childrens talking together; and children of themselibre, unless they becaught, but nothing but speak barbarously; we have therefore here propounded some short Forms of talking together touching this subject, that they may learn by little & little to speak Latin amongs themselves.

But it swill rest upon the master's biligence, that he now and then doe explain these Colloquies to his scholars, and teach them how they should exercise themselves both at home & in the schoole, in these and others of that kinde, (which himself may give them) and gressum expectan, a suescant interea bit ternive, id quod abe præscriptum suerit, a mul repétere.

Plurimum proderit ha illis jucunda exerciatio, eosque interim a otio, lascívia, muluque aliis rebus mala quibus offenditur De us, avértere póterit.

Sed quia, sine puersii Calóquio ejúsmodi Repetitiones tractári non lent; puers autemonis instituti súem nibil aliud quambante lequuntur; idea ut Latine interse ha paulátim discant, ha de re hic aliquot bra colloquendi fórmus proposúimus.

Cxterum in preception diligential situm entre hace ipsa Colloquis aliquor interpretetur, doce que quomodo in & aliis ejus géne (qua tradere ipse terit) sese & domi in schola debent o cère, ad idque i that he ever and anon among-hand exhort them thereunto.

55

, 4

be

, 6

h

Cip

m :

ulu mais

D.

it.

iC

Rependonion de minimo de la minimo della min or bren

ecepie

collón doce doce in his géne domi ent a que i

So it shall come to passe in time, that he shall alwayes have them more ready and cheerfull to render those things in season, which he shall appoint: hereby also hee shall bring it about, that he may dispatch his duty of teaching with lesse labour and trouble.

151 identidem cohoriétur.

Ita fiet progressu témporis; ut promptiores semper & alacriores eas habiturus sit ad ea mature reddenda, quæ præscripserit: hinc criam consequerur, ut minore cum labore ac molestia docendi munus exequatur.

G 2

Col: 69.

Col. 69. A. B.		col. 69. A B.
will you let us fay to=		Visne repetamus una? Quidnam?
What?		Id quod nobis præscri
That which is appointed us.	3	tum eft.
Truly I am willing: but what kinde of faying fhall we use?	5	Equidem volo : sed q génere repetendi u mur?
Let us heare one another by turns.		Audiamus nos vicissim.
So the mafter doth often advise us.	10	Sic praceptor nos mon
He adviseth us well; but we obey badly.		Recte monet; sed m. parémus.
Whether shall begin?		Uter incipiet?
I, if you so please.		Ego, si tibi placet.
It pleaseth me palitig well ; begin therefore.	15	Maxime placet; inci
The Nounes of the second declension are declined after these examples in		Secundæ declination nómina his exemp Latine declinantur.
Latine.	20
Magister.	1
Puer.
Dominus.
Lánius, Antónius.	25
Regnum. Which are to be declined to day?		Quæ funt hodie declina
Lanius indeed is yesterdays	30	Hesternum quidem
Noune, and Antonius to	30	lanius, hodiernum vo
Why doe we there day re- peat, what we had faid the		Cur nos id repétim quotidie, quod pridi day before?	35	reddidimus?
Because the master so bid's. 1	1	Quia sic præceptor jube

B

BA

B.

B.

A.

A.

bo

English and Latine! 5 Lib. I. 85

To strengthen our memory. A. Come on, decline Lanius. B. Singulariter Nominativo A. rip bic Lanius. Genitivo bujus Lanii, and fo on to the end. quo Eurn it into Englif. Uc-В. Lanius, Lanii, of the Ma-A. sculine Gender, a Butcher. B. Decline Antonius. A. Sing: Nom: hic Antonius. none Gen: higus Antonii. Dat: buic Antonio. ma 5C and so on to the end. B. Curn it into Englif. A. Antonius, Antonii, of the incipe Masculine Gender, is the name of a man, in English Anthonie! tionis B. Why doe you fay the name emplis of a man? pout are not 55 ur. a man pet. A. I confess it, but there are other Anthonies which are men. B. I with por map be a man once! A. I shall be one, by Gods clinar helv. B. Minde now, that you may hear me as I have heard you em e I am ready to heare pout. um va Speak out with a cous pétim rage. d pridi B. The Nounes of the second Declenfion. A. or jube Give over; the Mr. is here. Б. er jube I heare him cough; Let us give over, for fear he should think that we prate.

Ad confirmanda memória Agè, declina Lanius.

S. N. Hic Lanius.

G. hujus Lanii, &c. ad finem usque.

Verte Anglice.
Lanius, lanii. m. g. a Butcher.
Declina Antonius.
S. N. Hic Antonius.
G. hujus Antoniu.

D. huie Antonio, &c. ad finem usque.

Verte Anglicé.
Antónius, Antónii, g. m. eft nomen viri.

Cur dicis nomen viri? tu

Fáteor, sed sunt alii Antónii qui viri sunt.

Utinam aliquando vir cvádas!

60 Evadam, Deo juvante.

Attende nunc, ut vicifium audias me.

1stic sum.

Die audacter.

65 Secundæ declinationis nómina. Défine: Præceptor adest. Audio tussientem; Desinamus, ne putet nos 70 garrire. G3 Col.

E.

P.

E. G.

E. F.

E.

F. E.

F. G. F. G.

E. F.

G. E.

G.

1	Col. 70. C. D.	1	col. 70. C. D.
C.	The mafter wil be here by & by ilet us repeat.		Mox aderit praceptor;
D.	What need have I to repea?		Quid opus est mihi rep
	I have repeated enough by my self.	5	Solus repetivi fatis;
c.	I can fay all by heart. What then? the oftner you		Omnia tenco memoria. Quid tum ? quanto fan
	thall get it over, the better pou wil retain it.		repetes, tanto mel
D.	you avbife me fair :	10	Bene mones : Habeo tibi grátiam.
C.	I thank you. Begin: the time palleth.		Incipe; tempus abit.
D.	Nounes of the fourth de-	•	Quartæ declinatiónis : mina.
Ç.	You mistake friend; We must begin with yester-	15	Erras amice: Incipiendum est ab
D.	dayes example.		emplo hesterno. Errávi, fáteor.
C.	I confesse, I have mistaken. Therefore now say right.		Die igitur nune rette.
p.	Sing: Nom: Hoc fedile. Gen: hujus fedilis, and fo	20	N. S. Hoc fedile. G. bujus fedilis, &c.
	on to the end. Nounes of the fourth de-		finem usque. Quartæ declinationis
	clension are declined af-		mina hoc exemplo
	ter this example. Sing: Nom: His fensus.	25
	Gen: Hujus sensus. Dan: Huic sensus.		G. hujus sensus. D. huic sensui.
C.	So much for that ; I hear the mafter.		Hec hattenus; audio p
	Col.71. E.F.G.		Col. 71. E. F. G.
F.	What would you do, Francis The matter is just a com:		Quid agas, Francisa? Instat praceptoris adm
F.	I, is he just a coming? it is not pet half an hour at- ter two a clock.	5	Scilicet instat? nondus semihora post secund

		English and	Lat
i,n	E.	Neverthelesse we ought not thus to waste our time in the mean while : let us	.
rep		repeat.
r	P.	It that not fick of me, for I am ready.	10
â. (apia meli	E. G.	Earry a little, I pray you,  J am one of your com= pany.	15
	E.	Make haste.
t.	F.	Let us fay every one his cafe in order, as our master doth sometimes teach us.
nis m	E.	There is enough faid ;	20
ab a	F.	What doe we else?
	E.	The Nounes of the third declension are declined in
té.		Latine after these exam- ples:	25
&c.1		Pater. Lumen.
		Rupes.
nis n		Meffis.	30
Pio		Pars.
		Sedes.
		Vettigal. Laquear.
lio pu	F.	Sing: Nom: bec rupes.
Hola	G.	Gen: bujus rupis.	35
-	E.	Dat: huic vupi.
à.	F. G.	Acc: bancrupem.
ifce?	E.	Voc: 6 rupes.
adte	F	Abi: hac rupe. Plur: Nom: he rupes.	40
	G.	Gen: harum rupum.
ndu	E.	You have mift , Gabriel;	5 1,18
cuna	-	amend pour erroz.
No	G,	Gen: harum rupium.

Tamen non debémus interim tempore fic abuti? repetamus.

10 Non flabit per me, ego enim fum paratus. Incipe igitur. Expettate parumper, quæ-10, ego sum vestra decirie.

Matura. Dicamus suum quisque casum órdine, ut interdu nos docet præceptor.

Satis eft werborum; Attendite. Quid aliud ágimus? Tertiz declinationis Nomina his exemplis Latine declinantur :

Errafti, Gabriel : Corrige crratum. G4

Dat:

H. 1. H.

I.

H. I. H.

I. H. I.

L. M. L. M.

8	8 M. Corderius's	Col	loquies,
E.	Dat: bis rupibus.	45
F.	Acc: basrupes.
G.	Voc: ô rupes.
E.	Abl: ab his rupibus.
F.	Eurn it into Englith.	1	Verte Anglice.
G.	Rupes, rupis.g.f.a rock.
E.	Put it in a speech.	50	Pone in oratione.
F.	It is not in our book.		Non est in libro nostro.
E.	But the Mr. hath taught it us		Sed præceptor dócuit,
G.	Alta rupes, a high rock.
E.	You speak after your own	1	More pátrio dicis.
	countrey fashion; aspirate		afpera fortiter high.
	the word high luftilp.
F.	Alta rupes an high rock.	24
G.	Sin: Nom.bec meffis.	. 7.
E.	Gen: buj is messis.
F.	Dat: huic messi.
	And so on to the end of this	55	&c. usque ad finem hoja
	Noune.		nóminis.
	And then they goe on to		Deinde sic pergunt colle talk together thus.		qui.
E.	Yee have both miffed.		Ambo errastis.
F.	I confesse I have missed.	60	Errávi, fáteor.
G.	And I too ; but whether		Ego quoque ; sed uter oi shall be cap t.		victus?
E.	The master shall judge.		Præceptor judicábit.
F.	You fay fair.		Aguum dicis.
E.	Will you let us say again to	65	Vultisne dicamus item ftrengthen our memory?		ad cofirmada memoria
F.	What elfe?	1.4	Quidni?
G.	What if the master come		Quid si præceptor inter
	upon us?		véniat?
E.	What then? he will high=	70	Quid tum ? laudabun
	ly commend us.	19.5	pleno ore.
G.	But we must change our		Sed mutandus est ordo.
	ozder.
E.	There is no doubt of it;		Non est dubium;
	begin, Francis.		incipe, Francisce.
F,	The Nounes of the third	1 75	Tertiæ declinationis
	Declention, &c.		Nomina, &c. Col.1

	Col. 72. H. I.	Col. 72. H. I.
Н.	Will you repeat with me? Why so quickly?	Visne repétere mecum?
1. 1	For fear lest the Monitor	Ne observator nos depre-
Н.	finate finds us pracing or idle.	hendat garrientes, aut o-
I.	Come on, let us repeat; but whether shall begin?	Agè, repetámus; sed uter incipiet?
H.	I, because I am the victor.	Ego, quia victor sum.
I.	Say then.	Dic igitur.
Н.	Prudens a Noune Adjective is thus declined into genders.	Prudens nomen Adject vum, sic declinatur génera.
	Hie prudens of the Mascu- line Gender.	Hic Prudens. g. m.
	Hac prudens of the Femi-	Hac Prudens. g. f.
	nine Gender.	15
	ter Gender.	Hoc Prudens. g. n.
	The same Noune is thus declined into cases.	Idem nomen sic declina- tur in casus.
T.	Nom: Sing: bic, bac, &	20
I.	Gen: Prudentis.
Н.	Dat: Prudenti.
I.	Acc. Prudentem & Prudens, &c. ad finem usque.	And so on quite to the end.
T.	Col. 73. L. M.	Col. 73. L. M.
L. M.	1	cur tues otiosus?
	The state of the s	Non fum omnino.
M.	, and a morning tillett .	Quid agis igicur?
L.	ing my leffon.	dá.
1.	and I am doing fo too; let us repeat together.	Ego queque id ago; repetá- mus uná.

M. Truly I doe speak from my heart.

Parte

M.

N.

P.

Q. R.

N.

P.

Q.

R.

N

0. P.

Ex animo certe,

	English and L		e. Lib. I. 91 Bene habet, desinámus;
M.	It is well, let us give over; I perceive the master is coming. See where hee is, hee is just here.	1	sentio praceptóris ad- ventum. Eccum, adest.
	Col. 74. N. O. P. Q. R.		Col. 74. N. O. P. Q.R.
N.	O ho boys, we are five of us here, let us repeat to days werb, as we use to doe before the master.		Heus pueri, nos hic sumu: quinque: repetâmus ho dicrium verbum ut so- lêmus coram præcep
_		5	tore.
Q.	Do body (as I suppose)		Nemo (ut opinor) contr
P.	Who should speak against		dicet. Quis contradiceret?
	It is a matter that con-		Nostra omnium res agitur.
Q	Begin then, Nicholas , pou	. 10	Incipe igitur, Nicholae
N.	Operative and Subjunctive		qui primus sedes. Optativi & Subjunctivi Modi Præsens.
	Mood.
O.	Audiam. Audias.	15
P.	Audiat.
Q.	Audiamus.
R.	Audiatis.
N.		20
0.	The Præterimperfect-tense.	-	Præteritum Imperfectum
	Audirem.
P.	Audires.
Q.	Audiret.	12.3
R.	Audiremus.	25
N.		1 '
O.	Audirent.
P.	The Præterperfect-tense.		Præteritum perfectum.

T

Si

I

L

(

Præter-imperfect-Præieritum imperfectum, The T. | tenfe, Sing: Docebam, I did teach. Si Docebas, thou dift teach. 30 Docebat, he did teach. Plur: Docebamus, we did &c. Docebatis, ye did teach. Docebant, they did teach Præteritum perfectum, The Præterperfect-tenfe. 35 u. Docui, I have taught. S. Detuifi, thou haft taught. ity Docuit, he hath taught. Documus, we have &c. 40 Docuiftis, ye have taught. Docueru: gra they have taught. vel di Docuere other fashion in On an 45 Aliter Anglice, English. CETT I have taught. Thou hait taught. m. He hath taught. Wee ; Yee have taught. 50 ali-They 5 rè f. T. Przteritum plusquam The Præterpluperfect-tense perfectum. Decueram, I had raught. 5 p/0-Docueras, thou had ft taught. 55 Sic pergunt quatenus pla-And so they goe on as far as places they think good, elen

Th

	$$$$$$$		$$$$$$$$
	The Second Book of School-Colloquies.		Colloquiórum Schi lasticórum liber Secundus.
	C l. 1. Cornélius. Martiális.		Col. 1. Cornelius, Martiális,
E. M.			Quid legis? Literas.
	From whom? From my Father.		A quo ?
	When did you receive it?	5	A patre. Quando accepisti?
V1.	Yesterday in the morning.	,	Heri vésperi.
C.	Who brought it?		Quis áttulit eas?
	I know not.		Nescio.
C.	Doe you not know? Who delivered them to		Nescis?
	Who delivered them to	10	Quis tibi réddidit ess?
1.	A wench from the Bigier.		Ameille manilem >
			Ancilla quædam à co
C.	Whence are they dated?		Unde funt datæ?
4.	From Paris, I beleive.	110	Lutétia, credo.
	What day?	.15	Quo die?
	I had no minde to lock into it yet.		Nondum libuit inspicent
-	Verily I have interrupted you.		Nempe ego te interpe
1	It make's no great mats		lávi.
	ter, I am not so	10	Parum refert, non throng:	-0	sum occupatus.
C, 1	Come on, read your letter;		Age, perlege tuam E

I

25

M.

M.

H.

M.

M.

H.

3 3

CA

cert.

CTPC

7

3nd I will doe fo too by and by.

> Col. 2. Musicus. Heraldus.

Dow goes pour bulineffe at Lyons?

I know not; we have heard nothing now this good while.

Hath your brother writ no-M. thing?

De hath fent no letters H. this two moneths, that my father hath feen.

Perhaps he is fick. M.

No indeed; for the carris H. ers boe often bring us commendations from him.

Jam glad to hear hee is well : I love him ocar= ip, because he was a most smeet school fel= low of mine.

And he (as I think) love's H. you too.

> Traly, I make no queftion of it. But time call s us.

> Let us goe into the schoole. Let us makehalte. The Will is now a calling.

stolam ; ego interim Rudebo.

Ego quoque mox idem faci-

Col. 2. Muficus. Heraldus.

Quo in statu funt ves ve. fire Lugdunenses?

Nelcio 3 jampridem nihil audivimus.

Nibilne scripfit frater tu-

Post menses duos nibil literarum mifit, quod viderit pater.

10 Fortafle zgrotat.

Minime vero : nam tabellarii fæpe nobis falute nunciant verbis eins.

Liberter audio illum rette valere: valde enm diligo, quia fuit mibi fuaviffimus condifcipulus.

Ille (ut opinor ) te vicilfim diligit.

20 Id vero mili non eft dubium. Sed nos bora vocat;

Eamus in auditórium.

Maturemus. Jam recitatur Catalogus.

And that the master cal's, more I forbear.

Coli

96

M.

2.

3.

B.

4.

M.

5.

B.

M.

7.

B.

8.

Col. 3.

08.

1.

2.

3.

B.

4.

O.

5.

6.

B.

06.

7.

B

8.

Cola

Definite, ô pueri, garrire, absente Magistro, Verba, quibus summus læditur ille Pater. De studiis potius tractate, & rebus honestis: Discite sermones aptáque verba loqui.

Discite & inter vos reddenda revolvere sæpe:

Doctor enim pueris semper adeste nequit.

Discite sectari vestigia certa bonorum;

Otia vos fallant blanda, cavete, precor.

En! ego præmoneo, vos ne delectet abuti Tempore; ne tergum verbera dura premant. Ecce iterum vobis morum prædico magister, Si quis erit cæsus, ne mihi det vitio.

Desine plura loqui, nemo parere recusat; Est monitor nobis optimus ille Pater, Illiusque Patris natus, cui nomen Tesus, Et qui nos renovans Spiritus intus alit.

Quem mihi sperassem tam respondere paratum?
Quis puer Angelicos mittit ab ore sonos?
O quam te memorem, nostrae doctissime classes!
Nam tibi divinum carmen ab ore fluit.

Non sum tam sælix ut fundam ex tempore versus:
Sed modò quæ dixi præmeditatus eram.
Si meditatus eras qui nunc tam fundis apertè
Castalios latices, quis furor iste novus?

Nam tua me tantis moverunt carmina flammis, Ut mihi nunc videar posse movere feras. Sed cur immeritum tantis me laudibus effers? Est tribuenda uni gloria summa Deo.

Atque utinam eloquium nobis, spatiumque daretur, Et nostra in laudes solveret ora suas. Sed quia tempus adest ut voce & mente precemur, laque jubet Doctor, defino plura loqui.

H

9	Col. 4. The Monitor. A Poy.	1	Col. 4. Observator. Pa	O.
0.	what are you boing ?		Quidagis?	P.
P.	Jam Soziting.		Scribo.
0.	What are you writing?	1	Quid scribis?	0
0	Sentences.	0.1	Sententias,	0
0.	What?	5	Quas?	P.
P.	Out of the New Testa-		Ex novo Testamento,	0
0.	It is well bone of you ;		Bene facis.
	Whence had you them?	5	Unde habuisti?
P.	The Ufher dictated them		Hypodidáscalus dia
6.	to us.	10		r
D.	When?		Quando?	P
P.	Yesterday.		Heri.
D.	At what time of the day?	1	Quota hora ?	(
P.	At noone.		Meridie.	'
100000	Where?	15	Ubi ?	-
	In the Court-yard.	1	In area.
-	Who were there?	000	Qui áderant?
P.	All those in the house, ex-		Omnes doméstici, na	(
	cept the first and se=		ter primos & secunia
	cond boyes.	30
0.	Where were they?	-	Ubi erant illi?
P.	In the common hall.	1
0.	What did they?		In aula communi.
P.	They disputed.		Quid agébant?
O.	Forewell and follows warm		Disputabant.
	Farewell, and follow your writing.	2)	Vale, & perge scribere.
	Col. 5. The Monitor.  Boyes chatting.		Col. 5. Observator. Par
0.	What are you doing here,		Quid vos hic ágitis, po
	boyes ?		eri?
1	Me thinkes you are		Mihi vidémini garriet,
	chatting and trifling.		nugas ágere.
P.	You are deceived your		Longe falleris, nam re
	note breadth, for we are	5
1	repeating together.	30.5		-

15

10

what about? 0.1 The irregular verbs, that P. which we are to fay at three of the clock. 0. Ye doe well. Will you hear our discourse? P. 0. Nay goe on; I have a greater piece of buuneffe in hand: I will goe fet fpzints for Magpies & Jack-dawes. You shall finde a great map. ny in the yard in the fun= Chine. O. There is a prey provided tor my nets. Col. 6. The Monitor. Boyes prating. 0. Di2 Aha! fee, now you are caught; doe you not confesse it? P. Truly we confeste it inge= nuoully; but we frake no words that have a= np hurt in them, I pray thee, good Nicholas, Doe not fet us down. 0. What did you pratle about? Pu Theard fomething, but T know not what it was, about breakfast. P. That is it; we spake about our breakfast in the morning, because the servant did not give it us in time. 0. I think that was it; nor is there any great harm in is

di

47 at 18.

70, C

ाटक

99 Quâ de ve ? De verbis anómalis, id quod reddendum eft hora tertia. Bene fácitis. Vis audire nostrum collóquium. Imò pergite; Majus opus moveo;

Volo tendere laqueos picis & gráculis. In area multos ad solem invénies.

Récibus eft illic præda 20 parata meis.

> Col. 6. Observator. Pueri garrientes.

Atat! ecce, nunc capti estis; non fatemini?

Certe fatemur ingenue; fed non dicebamus mala verba, quelo te, mi Nicholae, ne velis notare nos.

Quid garriebatis? Audivi , nescio quid, de jentaculo.

Illud est ; loquebamur de jentáculo matutino, quia famulus non déderat nobis in tempore.

15 Puto id fuiffe ; nec certe est valde magnum ma-H a truly

English and Latine. Lib.II. 101

will you fay nothing of this fault then? I will say nothing; but on this condition, _ that pon take heed of of= fending again, We will take heed, by the P. help of Chaift. Col. 7. The Monitor. A Boy. Where is your brother? N. De is jult now gon home. P. Why lo? N. To fetch us some meat. P. What need have you of N. meat now ? Against our bever. P. led N. Have you it not in your cheft ? 10% P. No. N. why not? P. Because my mother doth not ule to give us meat, but for the present. Because for footh the know's BE N. you are greedy=guts. mal- P How are we greedy-guts? Because perhaps pou de= ond N. vour that at one meale, which was given you for three. P. Hold your tongue. I will tell my brother that you call us greedy-guts. N. Hold you your tongue. I will tell the master, that your brother both no= thing but ein up and town.

It,

园 nda

ald

di-

ice

lqu

end:

PIZ-

ebu-ul de moi

fua-ores.

dil

epto

5?

d eti-

níolis

otidis

pir

101

Tacebis igitur hanc cul 55 pam? Tacebo; fed ea lege, ut caveatis recidere.

> Cavebimus, christo favente.

> C.7. Nomenclator. Puer.

Ubi est frater tuus? Modo ivit domum. Quid eó?

Petitum nobis optonium. Quid nunc opus cit opíónio?

In merendam.

An non habétis in arca veftra?

10 Non.

Quidita non?

Quia mater non solet nobis dere opionium, nifi in prasens tempus.

15 Nempe quia novit vos esse gulosos.

Quómodo gulófi sumus? Quia fortasse uno convi-Etu devoratis, quod m tres dalum fuerit. 20

> Tace. Ego dicam fratri, te vocare nos gulosos, Tace. Ego dicam præceptóri fratrem tuum nibil aliud quam discurrere.

H 3

25

Buc

That all were well. What faid he especially about your tather ? He say's that hee, by Gods blefling, is now quite thut of his feber, and that he begin's to reco: ver strength by little leave.

Lyons ?

ter?

P.

P.

P.

L.

P.

and little. Truly I am glad; and I pray God he may shortly recober his former health; but why hath he L.

De patre quid narrat po tiflimum.

P

L.

Air illum, Dei benefici jam plane febri care & paulatim (cere.

15

20

Gaudeo sane; Deuman precor, ut pristinamos letudinem brevi reci rel 3 sed cur ille (uth writ nothing to you, as he (de is wont to do? ven My brother faid he was not L. thit. able to write. Why fo? P. Because he was not luftie m? L. enough. t pra It is no wonder, feeing he one P. hath been fo foze fick fo long: but hath he fent idel you nothing? at. Yes, money. L. Ho brave; there is no news pres P. more welcome. L. So folkes lay. P. But you make answer, as nus, though you heard a tale. Lue L. But I hear that which is worfe. P. What is that? L. An errant lie. P. Have I told a lye? atte L. I doe not say you lped, but you spake an untruth. P. it? I doe not understand what you would lay. L. I will endeabour that at po you may understand. P. I pray thee, doe to. efici L. If no newes, be more pleaare iant, then that of money brought us, what then is na 50 the Gofpell of Chaift ? What is more pleasant newes, then the Grace mak of wood, which Christ brought us by the Gon se CHI Ipell ? P. | confesse nothing util 10

let) nihil ad te scripsit ?

Negat frater eum potuiffe scribere.

Quid ita?

Quia nondum satis erat confirmatus.

Nihil mirum, quum tamdiu tam gráviter agrotáverit : sed ille nihil ad te mist?

3º Imò, pecuniam.

Euge; nullus est jucúndior núncius.

Ita ajunt.

Tu verò sic respondes, quasi fabulam audias. Quin pejus audio.

> Quidnam? Merum mendácium. Egóne mentítus sum?

40 Non dico te esse mentitum, sed falfum dixisti. Ego quid dicas non intélligo.

Dabo operam ut intélligas.

45 Obsecrote.

Si nulius est jucundier nuncius, quam de allata nobis pecunia, quid ergò est Evangelium Christi?

Quis est jucundior nuncius, quam gratia Dei, quam Christus attulit nobis per Evangelium.

55 Fateor nihil effe jucundius Evangélio, iis duntaxat

H4 moze

ken up.

Will he not sup at home,

P.

V.

A.

V.

A.

٧.

V

90 Nonne conabit domis

English and Latine. Lib. II. 105

L. I think he will sup there.
P. I will goe then about supper time.

n.

e ha

ebud

fain

0721

e Th

od ed

io pr

ulga

tt om-

77725.

1000

fica

nean

rates

Man

not

1, 1

DES

mi, 9

YOH

1. Come I pray you, and you fhall sup with us all un-

P. 3 doe not fay nay.

L. Fare you well in the mean time, but fee you think on to be there in time.

P. At what a clock?

L. Before fix.

P. It is a very convenient time for me.

Col.9. Vignolus. Angelinus.

V. I pray thee, Angelinus, fitch me this paper together.

A. Why doe you pray me? It is none of mp trade.

V. And yet you often stitch for others.

A. How many sheets have you?
V. Eight: but they are folded already, they swant but onely fessing in parchement.

A. What will you give me, if I flich them for you?

V. I have nothing that I can give you: for I have no money.

A. Then feek pou another workman: for 3 will not doe it for nething.

V. My Angelinus, you are fuch pud vos ?

Conabit, opinor.

Ibo igitur fub horam coenæ.

95 Veni, precor, & eadem opera nobiscum cœná-

Non recufo.

Interim vale, sed fac memineris adesse tempori.

Quota hora?
An e sextam.
Hora est mihi commodissimo.

Vignolus. Angelinus.

Rogo te, Angeline, compinge mihi hanc chartam.

Quid me rogas ? non est

Et tamen sæpe compingis aliis.

Quot habes schedas?

10

15

Octo: sed jam sunt complicatæ, tantum restat insure membrana.

Quid dabis, si tibi compégero?

Nihil habeo, quod poffum dare; nam pecunia nulla mibi est:

Ergò quare tibi alium opificem: non enim gratis faciam.

20 Mi Angeline, tu es tam

3

	106 M. Corderius's	Co	lloquies,
	a good boy, and will you beny me such a small	1	bonus, denegabit	٧.	1
A.	Doe you know what the Proverb say's?		Scin' tu quid habet po
v.	What Proverb doe you mean?	25	Quod provérbium dici	A.	]
Λ.	Claw me and I will claw thee, i. e. Dne good turn bid's another.		Manus manum fricat.	V.
v	What meane's this?		Quid hoc fibi vult ?	A. V.
	Sive something if you would receive any		Da aliquid, si quid vi		-
	thing.	20	Ci anid Labian	A.	1
V.	If I had any thing, truly I would give it you with all my heart.	30	Si quid babérem, certès. benter darem.	V.	-
A.	Give me your bever.		Cedò merendam tuam		1
V.			Merendam? ah memis rum! quid éderem?	A.V.
	I had rather give you my cap, if I burft.	35	Mallem dare pileum,
A.	Your bever is but a small matter.		Merenda tua parva resel	V	•
V.	But I am bery hungry.		Sed vebementer esario.	A
A. A.	What is the reason? Because I had nothing to my dinner, but a piece of bread, and three or four	40	Quid cause est?  Quia nibil prandi, mi frustum panis, & m aut quatuor juglands
	Walnuts.			V	1.
A.	How now; what was the reason?		Eho, quid causæ fuit?
V.	from home?		Quia mater domo ábers!	A	1.
A.	Who then gave you your be-	45	Quis ergò tibi dedit m
V.	Shee.		Ipía.
A.	But you faid she was out of the way.		Atqui dicebas eam abful fe.	1	1.

English and Latine. Lib. II. 107

V. It is true ; For the was out of the way at dinner time, and the came not again, till a little before Pro bever-time.

lici A. Did you eat nothing at home, before you came to the schoole?

> V. Nothing. A. Why not?

Because I was afraid I V. should not be there in time.

The found of the Bell A. should you give sufficient notice.

V. But we feldome heare it from our house.

A. Why lo?

m.

mis

m,

721

m's

V. Becaule it is too far off from this schoole.

A. Are all those things true which you tell me? sei

V. They are true indeed, Angelinus.

A. Come on, give me your paper ; 3 will make thee a neat book: doe you in the mean time eat your bever.

V. I will aske my mother a bouble, which I will give you.

A. See you ask not, I will have nothing : but I would rather give you fomething, if you stood in need.

I thank you.

50 Verum eft; aberat enim tempore prandii, nec rediit, nisi paulò ante merendam.

Nihilne edisti domi, antequam in ludum veni-55 res ?

Nihil.

Cur non?

Quia timebam non adelle 60 in tempore.

> Tintinnabuli sónitus te satis admonére debet.

Sed varo audimus è nostris æ'dibus.

65 Quidita?

75

Quia longe nimis ab hac ichola diftant

Suntne vera ilta omnia, quæ mihi narras ?

Vera profecto, Angeline. 70

> Age, da mihi tuam chartam ; ego tibe compingam elegantem libellum: tu interim ede merendam tuam.

> Ego petam à matre fextantem, quem dabo ti-

Cave peras, nihil volo; 80 quin potius darem tibis hegeres.

Ago tibi grátias.

Did

Nonne putábas me V. Did you not thinke that I pétere abs te me A. demanded your break-85 fast in good earnest? dam ? Profecto sic putaban, V. V. Truly I thought fo. Atqui dicebam joco. But I fpake in jelt. A. A. Quámobrem? V. Why lo? Ut paulisper audiren A. That I might hear you talk 90 Latine fabulari. a little in Latine. Nam quod bene di D. For Jam glad you learn gandeo. Quanti emisti chen A. What did you buy this paper for ? hanc 2 95 Dedi pro códice V. I gave three half pence for the book. cum semille. You have bought it well; Non emifti male; It is good paper, but you Bona est, sed non ma.A. have not folded it well. complicalti. D. 100 Have you any parchment? Habes membranam? A. Look where it is for pou. Ecce tibi. Itis well ; I will difpatch A. Bene res habet ; ego cim D. it sooner, then you can confécero, quamtum eat your bever. rendam per ederis. IA. 105 I will give you most hearty Habébo tibi maximu thanks, my Angelinus. gratiam, mi Angelin You fpeake honeftly, but A. Honefte loqueris; sed me remember, childe, that mento, fili, ut sempe D. you alwayes libe in the vivas in timore Domin fear of the Lozd, that 110 diligenter obedias m you be diligent to obey tri, sis frequens infor A. your mother, that pott la, diligens in studio come constantly to the ne verferes cum prato D. schoole, that you ply ac dissolutis; demans your book, that you doe IIS quibus poteris benefat not keep company with to, quomodo vides m them that are naught tecisse tibi : inteller and rude; laftly, doe tin? good to whom you that done to you: doe you un-derfin

V

90

I

E

N

S

V

I

1 ŀ

F

I

derstand me?
Very well.
See then that thou often call it to minde.

I will doe fo, God willing. Eat now at your leafure.

Col. 10. Divinus. Albas.

What did your mother give you for your drinking? See.

It is flesh; but what flesh is

A. Beefe. D. Whethe

V.

A.

A. V.

em

di D.

are A.

D.

red A.

? A.

cii D.

s. A.

u m

imiz

elm

d me

omit

s m udia

m1914

efall

SI

eller.

fin felo A.

Dias D.

empe D.

D.

A.

Whether fresh or falt?
It is poudered beife.
Whether fat or lean?

Ho pou corcomb, doe you not see it is lean?

Had you not rather it were Beale, or Mutton?

Both is good, but of all kinds of meat I like kids-flesh the best, especially roassed.

Oh you fweet, tooth'd boy, are you fo dainty month'd?

Ispeak as I think, for we must not lye.

For wee are the sons of God, and the brethren of Christ, who is the truth it self, as he speaking of himself doth witnesse.

But to the matter. I love Posts too very well,

Optimé.

Fac igitur ut sæpe recordéris.

Faciam, Deo volente. Ede nunc otiófé.

Col. 10. Divinus. Albus.

Quid tibi dedit mater in merendam? Vide.

caro est; sed quænam?

5 Bubula.

10

15

20

25

Utrum recens an salsa ? Est bubula salita.

Utrum pinguis, an macra? Eho inepte, non vides macram esse?

Annon malles e sie vitulinam aut vervecinam? Utraque bona est, sed in omni genere sapit mihi bædina, præsertim assa.

Hem delicatule, jamne palatum tam doctum habes?

Dico ut fentionec enim est mentiendum.

Absint à nobis mendácia; sumus enim filii Dei, & Christi fratres, qui est ipsa véritas, ut ipse de se loquens testatur.

Sed adrem. Snika quoque refeor libenter, modico when Quid rides ?

Nelcio.

Nefcis ?

rit. Do pray J.

A.

Col. 11. Erasmus. Bessonius.

Why doe you laugh?

I know not.

Doe you not know?

English and Latine. Lib. II.

It is a great fign of folly. Magnum fignem stulti-5 tiæ. Me igitur fultum vocas? Doe you call me fool B. then ? No indeed, but I tell you Minime verò, sed dico o E. tibi argumentum effe it is an argument of a fultitia cum quis ridet. fool, when one laugh's 10 o nescit causam ridenand know's not why di. he laugh s. Quid est stultitia ? via B. What is folly? Si diligenter evolvas ca-If you diligently turn over en E. tonem tuum, istud quod your Cate, you shall find, 15 quæris, invénics. what you enquire after. se B Nunc non habeo meum I have not my Cate now, Catonem, & volo aliam and I will doe an other businesse. rem agere. Quod habes negotium? what butinesse have you? E. 20 Haben ediscere aliquid de ruh B. have something rudimentis. learn out of my grounds of Grammar. isi E. Interim quæris fabulári, In the mean time you doe feek to talk, you little fool. inéptule. ia m. B. Dic mihi (quæso) de stul-Tell me, I pray thee, that in .25 titia in Catone. Cato concerning folly. nteri E. Stultitiam simulare leco It's chiefest wisdome folprudentia summa eft. ly for to faign in time convenient. Annou hac didicifit? have you not learnt this? not B. Imò, sed non recordabar. Yes, but I did not call it to minde. When you shall be at home 30 Quum domi eris, inspice E. look upon your book. librum tuum. B. O quantas gratias ago ti-O what great thanks I give you! bi!

Ego propónam

victus.

35 istam quæstionem, qui non poterit mihi respondere , & sic erit

Hold

ti

Z D

nЫ

uil

Kla

Dam

re de eant

peru

cur ir

m

loni

I will propound that queftion to some body, that will not be able to aniwer me, and so he shall be cap't.

have you any newes? I had a letter from my brother, that dwel's at Lyons.

When had you it? Yesterday towards night. Who brought it?

M. A Fisher man.

II2

B.

E.

B.

E.

B.

E.

B.

E.

B.

E.

B.

E.

Quando accepisti? Heri sub noctem.

Quis attulit? Pitcarius,

Who

I,

English and Latine. Lib. I I

	English and L	atin	ne. Lib. 11. 113
c.	What understood you by that letter?	1	Quidnam intellexisti ez
M	That all was well there, as concerning the Gospell.	Io	Omnia bene illic habére, quod ad Evangelium pertinet.
c.	Doe you repeat the		Verane pra dicas?
М.	garry, and I will shew you the letter it selfe af= ter binner.	15	expecta, literas ipsas ostendam tibi à pran-
C.	Truly we have cause to be		Est profecto quod nostris fratribus gratulémur.
M.	I, and to give most hearty thanks to our God.	20	Scilicet, quodque Deo nostro máximas gratias agámus.
c.	Truly wee ought to doe that at all times; but now especially when we		Id quidem præståre debé- mus omni tempore; sed nunc maxime, quum
	heare those things, that pertain to his glory.	25	audiámus ca, quæ ad glóriam ejus præcipue pértinent.
	I wish we may alwayes have this in minde!		Utinam hoc semper had beamus in memória l
C.	Will you acquaint me with your letter then?	30
M. C.	As I have promised you. After dinner then?	.4.3	Ut promifi. Ergo post prandium?
M.	ftion ?		Etiam, dubitas?
C.	well	35	Intérea vale.
M.	Fare you well, and God be with you, Cleophilus.		Vale, & salve Cleophilus,
	Col. 13. Israel. Matthers.		Col. 13. Israel. Mathaus.
I,	Is your brother at home?		Est'ne domi frates ruus ?

	M. Corderius's (	10	Cur iftud roggas ?
I,	My father would speak with	1	convenire.	1
M	He is not in this Town.	5 1	Von est in hac urbe,	1
I.	Where then?		lbi igitur?
	he is gone into another countrey.		Peregrè profectus eft.	I
I.	When?		Quando ?
M.	Chree dayes agoc.	10	Nudiustértius.	B
	whither is he gone?		Quonam ivit?
M.			Lutétiam.	1
	which way is he to tra- bell?		Quâ iter facturus oft?	P
	By Lyons.		Lugdúno.	B
	whether went he on foot or on horse-back?	15	Utrum pedes an equi	100
M.			lvit equo.	I
1	When is he to come back?		Quando est reditúrus?
	I know not.		Nescio.
	But what time did your fa- ther appoint him?	20	Sed quem términum con fituit illi pater?	B
М.	he gave him order to be here at the twentieth day of this moneth.		Jussit ut bis adesset adv césimum bugus mon diem.
1.	God fend him well thi=		Ducat illum Deus, at ther and back again.	25	dúcat.
M.	So pray I.		Ita precor.	D
	Col. 14. Duens. Bal- linus.		Col. 14. Duzus. Billinus.	B.
D.	when will you goe home?		Quando profecturus et
B.	To morrow, by Geos		mum? Cras, Deo juvante.
	l help.			D
D.	2-1-0.461		Quis jussit?
Ŋ.	My Father,	1 5	Parer.

But when did he bid you? He writ to me the laft week. what day did you receive D. the letter on ? On Friday. B. what had your letter in D. te befides ? That all were well, and that B. the beginning of the vintage would be shortly. 15 D. O happy boy you, that make fuch hafte to the vintage. would you have me fpeak B. tomy father to feho for 20 POR ? D. that a good turn (hould you doe me! But 3 am afeato he will B. Yes, he will be glad both because of our acquaintance, and because we 29 shall exercise our selves in speaking Latine, and cons AC AT fer fometimes together about our book. D.

1

equ.

us ?

1 000

ad to

Ba-

100

B.

D.

Oh, I leap for joy every bit of me. I pray thee, my bear heart, have a care of that. you thall finde it: In the mean time let us beseech ons to the glory of his name. Thou doct give me good advise, and furely it is good fer us fo to doe.

God, that he would turn our actions and intenti-

Quando autem juffit ? Ad me scripsit superiore hebdomade. Quo die accepifi literas ?

10 Die Veneris. Quid continebant præs terea litera ? Omnes rette valere, Preximis dietus, initie um fore vindemiz. O fortunatum, qui vindemiarum properas ! Vis dicam patri meo, ul te > Quam gratum mibi faceres! Sed vereor ut moist.

accerfat.

30

35

Imò gaudébit, cum propter noftram conjunctionem, tum verd quia & Latine colloquendo nos exercebimus, & de fendio una interdum conferemus, Oh, gaudio totus exilio.

Amábo te id cura, mi enimule.

Senties: Interim Deum precomur, pe dicta & confilia nostra vertat in gloriam sui nomi-Bis.

Bene mones, & certe ita expedit facere. Col. st.

C. 15. Aurelius. Lambert.

A. Lambert, stay your pace a little: Sohither are you going so fast?

L. Straight home.

A. Why lo?

L.

A.

L.

My mother would speak with me a little.

A. Doe you not know why?

I. know not, unlesse perhaps she take order to get me some swinter clothes made.

A. Chat is very likely: for winter is now neer at band.

froits and ice too are already feen in some places.

Within these few dayes I saw some folkes that owell in the mountains in the market, who said there fell a great snow the last week, when as here in the interim we saw nothing but misting showers.

I heard that very same thing too at our house of countrey folks, that brought us wheat.

But I am compel'o to break off discourse, lest Col. 15. Aurelius, Lambertus.

Siste parumper gradum, Lamberte, quò properas?

Rectà domum. Quid eó?

IO

Mater vult me paucis con venire.

Nescis quamobrem?
Nescio, nisi fortè ut ustimenta hyberna mili
facienda curet.

Istud est verisimile; Jz enim instat byems. 1

B

B

I

F

Jam visa sunt gelicidide glacies etiam alscubi
His diébus vidi in son montanos quosdam, qui dicébant magnam un nivium decidiffe supe riore bebdomade, quun hic intérea lentas plus as tantum viderémus.

Ego quoque idipsum autividami domi nostræ en sticis, qui triticum si bis advéxerant.

Sed cogor abrumpere for monem, ne mihi in my mother should be angry with me.

But hark you, my Lambert, bring me fome grapes from home: for you had a very plentifull bin= tage.

L. I shall bring enow (I hope) foz us both, unleffe perchance my mother be angry with me.

A. God fozbid that,

> Col. 16. Pelignus. Baytholomew.

P. whither goe you fo nim= blo?

B. To the barber.

mis

Jim

140 cabi.

for

1, 90

THE

Supe-

quum

OLK ST

nus,

and.

ex Il

m m

72 1/1

hi m

P.

P. I will goe with you too. B.

Have you asked leave?

P. I have not asked, but tarry for me alittle, whilit I goe to ask.

B. Make halte then.

P. I will be here again by and by.

I am come again.

Let us goe just no x.

B. With what countenance did our mafter entertain you?

P. Truly with a cheerfull one: B.

He entertained me too with the like.

He doth not use to be angry with us, unlesse we goe to him in an unseasonable time.

scatur mater.

301 Sed heus tu, mi Lamberto adfer mibi domo aliquo uvas : nim amplissim fuit vobis vindemia.

Adferam (ut spero) utri nostrum offatim min 35 quid forte matet irat elt mihi.

Istud avertat Deus.

Col. 16, Pelignus. Bartholomæus.

Quonam is tam ccleater?

Ad tonférem. Ego quoque una tecum.

Rogalli veniam?

Non rogavi, sed tantifpe exspectame, dum co ro gatum.

Festina igitur. Mox rediero. 10

> Redii; Eamus nunc jam.

Quo vultu te pracepto excépit?

Hilari fane.

Eodem me quoque exce perat.

Non solet irasci nobis,ni si illum adeamus intem peftisé.

10 ha

Col. 17. A. B.

the leffe while.

A. And whither doe you goe alone?

B. You are ever beginning fomething with a verse.

A. It is an easie thing to begin a verse, but not so to draw it out to the end.

But tell me, whither goe you now?

B. Straight to the haven.

A. What bufinefie have you at the haven?

B. I am going to fee what vi-

A. will you have me to bear you company?

B. I and to guide me the way too, if you think good.

A. I never learned to be a

Col. 17. A. B.

Quò nunc solus abis?

B.

A.

B.

A.

N.

P.

N.

P.

N.

P.

N.

P.

N.

P.

N.

P.

P.

Semper à vérsibus aliquid auspicaris.

Fácile est carmen inciper, dedúcere non item.

Sed dic, quò nunc is?

Rectà in portum. Quid in portu habes nogórii?

viso ecquid alimenti mihi advectum sit. Vis me tibi comitem?

> Imò ctiam ducem, fi tibi ita vidétur.

Nunquam dux este didici,

English and Latine. Lib. 11. 119

guide, but I have often plaid the companion.

It is nothing to purpose to talk much here: let us goe together.

m

m

11-

e .

14

ČIII.

TU

tt

uid

ere,

nj-

ibi

B.

A.

B.

A.

P.

Let us goe indeed: we may talk more at large, as we walk by the water fide, if the thip be not yet come up.

What if it be come up already?

Yet we may walk abroad long enough, whilst it is unladen.

Col. 18. The Monitor.

N. Where is Peter?

heis gone abroad.

N. | Whither ?

P. De is gone into the coun-

N. With whom?

P. With his father.

N. who came for him?

P. His fathers man.

N. When will he come to the Town again?

P. I about eight dayes hence as be faid.

N. Of whom did he ask leave to goe away?

P. Of the under-mafter.

N. Why not rather of the headmafter?

P. He was gone forth about bufinelle.

sed sæpe egi cómitem.

Nihil ad rem pértinet plúribus verbis hîc fabulári: Eámus unã.

Eámus sané: confabulári licebic amplius, ambulando in ripa lacás, si navis non appu sa sit.

Quid si jam appulsa?

Tamen deambulare satis diu potérimus, dum exonerabitur.

> Col. 18. Nomenclator, Puer.

Ubi eft Petrus?
Ivit foras.
Quó?
Abiit rus.

10

S Quicum?
Cum patre.
Quis vénerat accersitum?
Patris famulus.

Quando est in urbem reditúrus?

Hinc (ut dixit) ad offa-

A quo perívit abeundi véniam?

Cur non porius a ludimagistro? Adnegótia prodictat.

14

3

Col. 19. Richard. Niger.
The state of the s	col.19. Richardus. Nige
Whither are you going up? Into our chamber. Why so? To letch my pen and inke. Bring me my girdle all un= oct one. Where is n? Upon my chest. I will bring it; but doe you trry so; me here. I will not stir any whi= ther.	Quò ascendis? In cubiculum nostrum. Quid có? Perítum thecam seripio. am. Adfer mihi cingulum in dem óperà. Ubi est? Super arcam meam. Adferam; sed tu mest expecta. Nusquam moveo.
Col. 20. Lenimus. Ge- rardus.  Ho Gerard! What would you have? You are fent for. Who comes to call me? Your brother. Where is he? De tarry's for you at the boore.  Are you fure it is my brother? Why should I not be fure? I faw him and spake with him.	Col. 20. Lenimus. Gerardus.  Heus Gerarde! Quid vis? Accerferis. Quis me vocat? Fracer tuus. Ubi est? Præ foribus te expellut.  Certo scis esse fracrem me um? Quid ni sciam?  Vidi illum, & sumale

Cola

English and Latine. Lib. II. 121

ral 98	Putaneus.	Vilactus.
6 01.21		B 4 5-11 6 5-10;

Doe not you know that we are forbidden to speake softly amongst our selves?

ige P.

Var.

P.

mi

P.

V.

P.

fow frould I but know, feeing our master doth so often presse upon us the reasons of it?

Why then did you doe the contrary just now?

V. Because Isay began to speak to me so.

P. What then ? You should have told him of his fault, but not have done as he did.

V. I should, but it came not then into my minde.

P. But in the mean time you are to be fet down.

V. No furely; unlesse you will be sharper then the ma=

Tell me the reason why.

Because the matter forbids any one to be set down, that doth voluntarily confesse his fault, so the fact be not such, as is sorbidden by the word of God.

Doth not God command us to honour our father and mother?

That is the fifth Commundement in the Decalogue.
But (as we have it in the Catechisme) that Communant extend's further.

Co. 21 . Paraneus. Vilactus.

Nescis vétitum esse, ne submisse loquamus inter nos?

Quid niscirem, cum præceptor tam sæpe nobis inculcet ejus rei causas?

Cur igitur modò faciébas contrá?

Quia Isaias ita me cœpérat álloqui. Quid tum? debuisti illum

Début, sed tunc mihi non venit in mentem.

admonere, non imitari.

15 Sed interim notandus es.

Minime veró; nili vis elle ipsopræcept ore severier.

Die mihi causam.

Quia preceptor vetat quempiam notári, qui sponte delictum agnóverit, modò ne tale sit factum, quod verbo Dei interdictum sit.

tum est, ut parentibus obediamus? Illud est quintum Decalo-

Illud eft quintum Decale gi præceptum.

Catechilmo) praceptum illud patet latius.

For

35

40

45

50

For under the name of fa= ther and mother it comprehend's mafters and magistrates, and to conclude, all those unto whom God himself harh Subiected us.

Truly I doe not deny those things which you fay to betrue ; but I had rather ask of the mafter, then contest with you; otherwife pon would daso me into a greater ebill. that is, the fault of contention, which our mafter hath much more forbidden.

You fay faire ; therefore remember to put the mafter in minte, when he thall call us to an account.

Doe not think that I will forget, especially when it is my own cafe.

> Col. 22. Roffetus. Ferre-1245.

whence come you? From the marker. F.

What newes did you heare R. there ?

None. F. None ? R.

P.

F. Mone at all.

It is a wonder you heard

Nam parentum præceptóres complé tur & magistratus, denique omnes qui ; Deus iple nos lubica

3

B

T

3

1

W

It

W

A

3

Fa

C

W A.

W

B. F

A.

Non équidem nego n effe que narras; malo præceptóre consulere, quamter disputare ; aliquin majus malum. me min ceres, quod eft contor. tionis vitium, mi magis à præceptore na

Aquum dicis; memine igitur praceptorem of. monere, cum ration R. nobis éxiget.

tirum.

Ne putes me oblition F. præfertim cum res m agatur.

F. Col. 22. Rofferus, Fer rerius.

Unde venis? E foro. Quid illic audisti novi?

Nihil. Nibilne? Prorlus.

Mirum est & nihil aud

English and Latine. Lib. II. 123

15

nothing concerning war, or other English mat-

ster those things that boe not belong to me.

Be it fo, yet you use to heare fomething as you goe to and fro.

That I may not tel you a lee, I heard formething as I went along.

Tell me what, I pray you.

I have no time to tell you now.

Why not ?

US,

ojec

0 7

otóro E

teca

nio

mar

onto F.

TE INTR

nimit.

o of.

ens R

ww F

R.

F.

25 8

yi?

I must make halte fome= whither elfe.

Whither?

It is nothing to you.

When will you come then and fee us again, that we may hear it of you?

After dinner, if I have any leafure.

I pray you, see you may have leasure.

J will doe my best, but you hold me too long.
Fare you well.

Col. 23. A. B.

A. Whence come you?
B. From the market.

A. Who fent you thither ?

My mother.

de bello, aut de care-

De iis que nihil ad me pertinent, non soleo percontari.

> Esto, sed tamen aliquid vel in tránsitu audire soles.

Nè mentiar, intellexi nonnihil in transitu.

Narra, queso.

Nunc non est narrandi spa-

Cur non ?

Est mihi alio properandum.

Quónam? Nihil ad te.

25 Quando igitur revises nos, ut ex te istud audiámus?

A prandio, si licebit per otium.

30 Amabò te, fac liceat.

Dabo operam ; sed me détines diútius. Vale.

Col. 23. A. B.

Unde venis ? A foro. Quis te illûc mîserat ?

Mater.

What

		5	Quid egisti infan D.
	ket? I bought fome peares. Doe you not know we are forbidden to buy any fruit?		Emi pyra. Nescis nobis veir D. émere frudus 2
	Who know's not that? For it was spoken openly in the hall.	10	in aula.
	How then durft you buy a- ny peares?		Qui igitur aufusti re pyra?
	ble, to buy me fome for my drinking.  What harm have I done, if	15	in merendam, Quid mali feci, fi
	I have done as my mo- ther bade me?	194	matri?
	Col. 14 Francis. Dionysc.		Col. 24. Francisco Dionysius,
	Where have you been these many dayes?		ubi fuisti bis dieba
	In the countrey.	0.00	Rure.
	In what place? In our countrey house.		Quo in loco?
	What did you there?	5	In vill â nostra. Quid agebas illic?
	Thelped my father	'	Ministrabam patri.
	And what did hee?		Quid verò ille?
	He digged our bines.		Pastinabat vites notes
	thence?		Quando illine realis
	But yesterday.	10	Heri tantum.
1	What did your father?	1	Quid pater?
	He came back with me.	1	Una mecum reveriss
1	It is well done; but whi-		Bene factum 5 la nunc is ?

Straight home.

n D

rat

eff :

15 6

mi

hie

,6

us.

bis

(?

i.

ries

C.

F.

But when will pon goe to the School again ?

To morrow (by Gods help) or at the furthest the day after.

Fare you well then in the mean time.

And fare you well, my Francis.

> Col. 25. Fontetius, Curtetus.

When will Blafius return ?

I doc not know certain= lp; perhaps to morrow: but why doe you aske that?

Becaute he hath taken the 15til away with him, and the mafter will be an= ary, if there be no body that can call it.

Leave that care to me; I have a copy of the Bill.

Will you call it then > I will call it.

You thall boe well , and our Blafius Swill boc gon as good a turn, if ever there thail be occasion.

15 Recta domam.

Sed quando repetes ludum literarium ?

Cras (juvante Deo) aus Summum perindie.

20 Ergò interim vale.

Et tu vale, mi Francisce.

Col. 25. Fontetius. Curtetus.

rediturus Quando Plalius ?

Non certo (cio ; fortalle die crastino ; sed cur istud rogas ?

5

15

Quia secura abstulit Cata= logum, & praceptor irascetur, si nemo sit qui recitet.

10 Relingue mibi istam curam: habeo Catalogi exemplum.

Recitabis igitur ?" Recitábo.

Bene facies, & nofter Blafius referet gratiam, fi qua fe offeret occafio.

1	Col. 16. Garbinus, Fur- navius.		Furnarius,	G.	F
3.	what owelling have you?	1	Quod eft tibi domini	F.	F
	My fathers house.		Paterna domus,
j.	Whence doe you come now?		Unde nune venis?	G.	1
	From home.		Domo.
j.	Where dined you?	5	Ubi prandisti?	F.	1
	At home,	-	Domi.		ľ
j.	Where will you sup		Ubi cænábis?		1
F.	At your house, I hope.	1	Domi vestræ spero.		1
3.	How know you?		Qui scis ?	G.
	Your father himself invited	10	Parer iple tuus hodie		-
	me to day.		invitávit.	F.
3.	Where faw you him?		Ubi illum vidisti?	G
	At Varro's house.		Domi Varrónis.	F.
3.	what busnesse had you		Quod illic erat tibin
3.		15	um ?	B 100 -
	there? My father fent me to carry		Pater me milerat nu	200	•
		101	tum aliquid.	1
	a message to him.  3 would know likewise		Some etiam velim		j,
ì.			cubiturus.	1
	Swhere you are to lye.	20	Domi fratris.
	At my brothers house.		Quid habes negotii	-
Ì.	What businesse have you	and the	The second secon
	with your brother?		fratre tuo?		F
,	He told our fifter, that he		Dixir forori nottra
	would speak with me,	25	velle convenire me
~	when I had leafure.	-,		1
G.	In what house doth he dwel?	1	In qua domo hábitat	is I	G
F.	In a certain hired house.		In quadam conducti	ALC: NO	9
G.	What, hath he no house of		Eho, nullamme	-	F
	his own?		propriam domum?		E,
F.	He hath one indeed, but hee	30	Haber quidem, fel
	both ice it out to certain	1	locat quibujdam n	de tenants.		mic_		,
G.	Doth he let out his own		Locat igitur domin	10 P. S. S. S. V.	(
	house then, and hire a=		priam, & conduct	IN	1
	nother mans ?	35	nam?	0.4	1
F.	Just, as you heare me fay.		Scilicet, ut ex me at	MIL	1

For how much doth hee let Quanti locar? G. ir ? For eighteen Italian pieces F. of gold, which they now City 40 vocant. call Piftolets. ? Why doth hee not dwell in G hitat ? that rather ? Because it is not seated in a F. place conbenient nough, or ( as I may fay) 45 fit for the market. But what doth he rent that G. die conducit? house of another mans for? Longè pluris. A great deal more. F. Quanti igitur ? G. How much then? 50 Five and twenty. F. nn G. Cara est babitatio. It is a bear owelling. Cariffima: fed quid agas? F. Very dear: but what should NUC loci commoditas id facit, one doe ? the convent= cy of the place caufeth it. wii G. Well, (that foe may once make an end) I pray you, 55 tell me, boe you know ii c rus fis ? were pou hal be to moz= rom? rz, F. I will come home again, ic at that I may goe thence to the schoole, if God per= 60 mit. Dominus. iti. G. Why doe you say, If God permit? permiserit? F. Becaule , without Gods d permiffion, we cannot 65 egs. so much as goe out of Sumus. the house. n pio G. I heard that often of the 16 master. ceptore. F. Why did you ask then? Cur ergo rogábas ? dis G. Because it can never be Octodecim aureis Italicis, quos nunc Piftoletos Cur illam non potius há-Quia sit a non est in loco fatis commodo , five (ut ira loquar ) mercatório. Sed illim alienam quanti Quinque & viginti.

Age, (ut aliquando tandem finiamus) die precor, scisne ubi cras fut is-

Domum revertar, ut inde in scholam me conferam, siquidem permiferit

Cur addis, Si Dóminus

Quia, nisi permiffu Dei, ne domo quidem exire pof-

Istud audivi fzpe ex prz-

Quia miniquam nimis dicifaib

1	faid too much swhich is well faid; especially where the talk is of		tur quod bene distur; rit, præseriim ubide, bus divinis ágitur,	CD
F.	We have learned that too of the master.	75	Istud quoque ex praco	C
G.	True: but it is good to repeat such things often to exercise our memo-		Verum : sed útile est i lia sæpe repétere a memoriam exercendan	D
F.	See whither your first		Vide out non Go question hath brought us by little and little.	80	Vide quà nos fensima dúxerit tua pri maima rogatio.	C,
G.	3 ochred but to jeft with		Tantum volebam pur	D
	pou in a word or two.		verbis tecum jocari.
F.	Come on, because wee have		Agè, quoniam nunc fr
	now exercised our minds	85	animum exercums
14	enough, will you not bee		non vis etiam ton
	content to exercise pour		exercère valetida	B body for healths fake?		caulà?	e.
G.	what should I doe but be		Quid ni velim ?	D.
	Swilling ?		2 11 11 11 11 11 11	-
F.	Let us goe play at hand:	90	Eamus igitur lusum	C.
	ball then, for I know		palmaria, nam eo 4	-
	you love that sport.		scio te delettari.	D.
G.	Hove it indeed, but now I		Delector sane, sed mu	C.
	have not a ball.		pilam non habeo.
F.	Dere is one for you, come	95	Ecce tibi 3 sequere me.	D.
	aft r me.		Ecce nor shedware
G.	I follow you with all my		Ego te sequor libens,
	heart, doe you guide me		me bene dúcito.	C.
1	well.		ine bene daei-4.	-
				D.
	Col. 27. The Creditor.		Col. 27. Creditor.
	The Debtor:		Debitor.	C.
	22002000 80 00 20
C.	when doc you look for		Quoad patris redit
	your fathers return?		expectas?
D.	About eight dayes hence.		Hine ad diem octavum
1		1	Ho

E

English and Latine. Lib. II.

How know you the day? C D.

My father himself writ to me.

Dis comina (I hope) will make you rich.

I shall be a richer man then Crælus was, if hee bring good ftore of mo= nep with him when hee come's.

Will you give me that again then, which I lent you?

You need make no question, but if you need any more, I will not onely reftoze Sohat was lent me, but will alfo make von a= mends.

C. How ?

Rien

A.

te a dan

in a inte

Dan D.

c iri imus

Corps

C.

D.

C.

D.

C,

r.

dita

um Hof D. I will lend you money as well as you lent me.

C. Chere will be nonced , I D. liope.

But you know not what map fall out.

Eime is very thoat.

Took not fpeak it to that end, as if I would bode some mischief.

what ever men map guels God rules all.

But Sohp doe we make no moze hafte to ger into the schoole?

You put us in mind in good time.

Quî scis diem ?

5 Iple pater ad me scripsite

Adventus ejus (ut spero) te det abit

Crafo ditior ero, fi bene nummatus venent.

IO Tenc mihi mutuum reddes >

Non est quod dubites, quin, fi tibi opus erit amplius, non modò reddam mituum, fed etiam 15 referam gratiam.

> Quomodo? Picuniam mutuam viciffim dabo.

20 Nihil opus erit, Spero.

At nefcis quid possit accidere.

Tempus of brevillimum. Non cò dico, quod tibi vel-25 lem ominari malum.

> Quicquid ominentur bomines, Deus claurm tenet. Sed quid cessamus recipere nos in auditorium ?

30 Opportune admones.

1	Col. 28, Picus. Macuar- dus.		Col. 28. Picus. Mac dus.
P. M. M. P. M. M. P. M.	When came you back from home? I came back but now. Where is your brother? He tarried at home. Why did he tarry? To dine with my mother. And you, why did not you tarry too? I had dined already with my father. Who waited on you? The maide. What became of your mother? where was the?	.	Quis vobis ministrate Ancilla. Quid mater ? ubi ex:
M.	She was at home too, but bulle.		Etiam domi, sed occupa
P	What about?	15	Qua in re?
м.	About taking in which, which was brought us.		In recipiendo tritito, a
P	When will you goe home a-		Quando redíbis dome
M.	When my father shall send for me.		Quum accersar à part
P.	what day will that be on?	20	Quo die istud erit?
	Peradventure about foure bayes hence.		Fortasse binc ad que dies.
P.	Why do you goe and come		Cur ves tam sepe com fo often?

bid us.

M.

P.

Itismy parents minde

But in the interim you lofe time at your book.

What do you at home ?

M. What our father and mother

Quid ágitis domi? Quod jubémur à parb bus. Sed interim perit de fudificum tempus.

tis?

25

H

ti to

ti

li

al

t

*th ho

co

Dot

35

40

45

50

55

60

It is not altogether loft.

What then >

P.

nnp

m PM

liz

213

MO

fuen

parrt

qui

CONT

3.

13

As oft as my father is not necessarviv employed, he exercise's us at all times, at morne, before dinner and after, before supper, after fupper a good Subtle, and latt of all too before we ane to bed.

In what thing's doth he ex-ercife you?

He doth exact of us those things especially, which we have learn't at the schoole all the week; hee looke's upon Themes, and asksus questions about them; he oft-times gives us fomething. to write down. cometimes in Latine, and fometimes in English; and sometimes also he propounds to us a thort sentence in our mother=tongue, to turn into Latine; and fometimes on the contrary, he bids us turn something in Latine into Englifh : laftly, befoze and after fupper, we alwayes read fomething out of the English-Wible, and "that when all the houlehold is by.

Doth he ask you nothing concerning the Carechisme ?

Non omning perit. Quid igitur ?

Quoties pater non est necellariò occupatus, omnibus horis exercet nos mane, ante & prandium, ante conam, à canà satis din , postrémo etiam antequam cubitum cimus.

Quibus rebus vos exercet ?

Exigit à nobis ea potifitmum quæ tota hebdómade in schola didicimus 3 Themata noftra inspicit, ac de ils nos interrogat, sæpe dat nobis aliquid. moco Latine. modo Anglice describendam; interdum etiam. nobis proponit brevem sententiam vernaculosermone, quam Latine vertamus; interdum contrà, jubet aliquid Latinum Anglice réddere: postremò ante cibum & post, semper ex Piblis Anglicis aliquid legunus idque tota præfente familia.

Nihilne de Catechismo interrogat?

his benefits. This is a good and godly P. Swift; fee that you have it not only in your mouth, but in your heart and more too.

M. I thanke you, that you give me fuch faithfull admos 1100 nitions.

patrem in tem M Faxicille, ut hock

I

1

D

T P.

婚

Fo

IW

护

3

W

Go

For

y

quam obliviscame Bonum & pium da optatum ; cura will. 95 non modò in at in animo eriand

> Quod me tam mones, haben tibil am.

105

110

10

15

We owe the duty of giving good advise to all, but especially to our brethren.

To our brethren then one-ly?

MI.

M.

P.

m in v

P.

ilga

cati

Ai

qui P m M

24

ICII P

o di M

HIP

DO

6 ibi

TIE.

HOM.

I call those here brethren especially, who are joyned to us by faith in Christ.

You judge rightly: but I will goe fee whether my brother be returned from home at last, for he is too apt to play the truant.

Col. 29. Myconius. Petellus.

Doe you write in earnest, or boe you play the foole? Truly I am writing in earnest; for why should I mispend my time?

But why doe you ask that?

For I have feen fometimes when you writ well. I write better fometimes.

how come's it to palle, that you write fo badly now?

I want helps to write well.

Which I pray you?
Good paper, good inke, and a good pen

For this paper of mine (as you fee) both fink piti=

Bene monendi officium debémus ómnibus, sed maxime frátribus. Fratribúsne igitur solis?

Eos potissimam fratres hic dico, qui ex side in Christo nobis conjuncti sunt.

Recte júdicas; sed viso num frater domo tandem reverterit, nam ad cessandum promptus est plus satis.

Col. 29. Myconius. Petellus.

Serióne scribis, an tuineptis? Equidem scribo serió, cur emm témpore abúterer?

Tu verò cur istud rogas?

Quia vidi aliquando quum bene scriberes. Scribo interdum méliús. Qui sit igitur, ut nunc scribas tam malé?

Defunt mibi bene scribendi adjumenta.

Quæ tandem ?

Bona charta, bonum atramentum , bona penna.

Nam hac mea charta (ut vides) miscrè perstuit, K3 fuilpa

13	4 M. Corderius's	011
	fully, my inke is water rish and whitish, my pen is soft and badly	20	atiamentum est aqui G subálbidum; p mollis & male pac		I
M.	Why did you not pro- bise all those things in time?		Cur ista omnia na non providisti?	M.
P.	3 Swanted money, and	25	Pet unia mili dettat,		1.57.
M	Thou haft fallen upon that common Proverb, 130 that wanteth money, wanteth all things.		Proverbium, can pecuma, hair defan
P.	Soit fareth with me.	30	Sic agitur mesun,	P.	]
M.	But when doe you hope you shall have it?		Sed quando te spers	M.
₽.	My father will either fend to me, or come himfelfe		In mercatu próxim ter ad me missure	P.
M.	the next market day.	35		24	1
P.	If you can boe so much, you will doe me a great kindnesse.	. •	Siquidem id potes, a beneficio me affecta	M.	-
M.		40	Accipe hos fex affest tuo ad chartam & tera comparanda
P.	How truly was that spoken,	100	Quam verè dictum		1
	I fure friend is trico	45	lud, Amicus certei	V.	-
	But what doth move you,	7,	Sed quid te impelia	S. V.
	to deal fokindely with me of your own ac- cord?		facias?	S. V.
M.	That love of God, which (as Paul faith) is shed	50	Cháritas illa Dei, ou Paulus ait ) effuis	3.	-
D	abroad in our hearts.		cordibus nottibi		1
P.	Wonderfull is the power of Gods spirit, which is the		Mira elt vis divinis tus, qui ejus aum	S.	. 1 author of that charity. But in the mean time 3 must think, how I map be able to requite ħ,

2 2

Add

ist.

A.

M

m

82

CIB M.

im P.

Óras,

illes#

n &

da md P.

pou. It is a fmall matter; forbear to take any fuch thought, left it hinder you, that you cannot fleep quietly: onely restore me what is lent you, when you can conveniently. I shall restore it (I hope) ere it be long.

Let us goe to prayers, that we be not let down.

Say one thing moze, if it please you.

with M. What is that ? That we be not fent fup= S, R. M. perleffe to bed to night.

> Col. 30. Velufatus. Stephen.

rte V. At Sohat a clock got you up to day? peli S. A little before five.

W. Who 'waked you ? S.

No body.

V.

, ou

IS.

ni S

min S.

Ha, ha, he.

Are the rest got up already?

in S. No, not yet.

Did you not goe to call them up?

I did not goe.

charitatis.

55 Sed mihi interim est cogitandum, quomodo tibi referam gratiam.

Parva res eft; omitte istam cogitationem, ne 60 te impédiat, quò minus in utramvis aurem dormias; tantúm red= de mutuum, quum ti= bi commodum fucrit.

65 Reddam ( ut spero) propédiem.

Eámus ad precatiónem, ne notémur.

Adde unum, si placet. .

70 Quid eft ? Ne bodie incænati mittamur cubitum. Ha, ha, he.

> Col. 30. Velulatus. Stephanus.

Quota bora surrexisti bodie? Paulò ante quintam. Quis te expergefécit ? Nemo.

An cæteri jam furrexérunt ? Nondum.

Non ivisti illos excitatum?

Non 1y1.

Why K4

S. The last year I learn't in my Cato; Keep hope, hope doth not leave men, no not dead.

uş,

ile

um S.

enibal

atre

ine

note

olla

80

Stribe

dece

otidia

ne ar

2 140

mila!

ec 1

bitu

S.

S.

jun V.

exa V.

nie V.

S.

You have done well, to remember it; for it is an excellent faying, and besitting a Christian.

But the author of that book was not a Christian.

He was not, the thing is certain.

Whence then did he get so many gallant sentences? Out of the heathenish Philosophers especially. For losophers especially. For even they (being enlightened by Gods Spirit) spake very many things which are agreeable to the word of God; which you also may be able to perceive at last, if you will follow your book.

I shall follow it (I hope) if God send my father to live longer.

Pray earnestly and from your heart that that may be so.

I pray for that often every day.

The Lord God grant you perfeverance in every good work.

I wish you the same, that you wish me; and I thank you that you have Anno superiore didici in Catone; Spem retine, spes una hominem nec morte relinquit.

morte relinquit.
Quòd retinueris, bene fecisti; est enim egregia sententia, & hómine Christiáno digna.

fuit Christianus.
Non fuit, certa res est.

Unde igitur sumpsit tot pulchras sententias?

Maxime ex Philosophia
'Ethnicis. Nam (& ipsi divino Spiritu illuminati) plurima dixérunt quæ sunt verbo Dei consentanea; quod tu quoque videre aliquando poteris, si literasum studium prosequére.

dúmmodo iple Deus det patri meo vitam longiórem.

Precare diligenter, & ex animo, ut illud contingat. • Quotidie id precor sæpe.

Det tibl Dóminus Deus in omni ópere bono perseverántism.

Quod mihi optas, idem tibi precor; & gratias ago, quòd me tam abbisco

S I	38 M. Corderius's	Co
	advised me so like a brother.		fraternè i
	Col. 31. Dominicus.  Barrafius.		Col. 31. Ba
D.  B.	Where are your wall-nuts? What wall-nuts doe you		Úbi funt De quibu
D .	talk of ?		glandib
D.	Which you had to day for a	5	Quas hodi cepisti.
В.	Doe you aske where they are? As if I were bound indeed to keep them for you.		Ubi fint re rò tibi rim.
D.	I doe not mean so; but I ask what you have done.	10	Non fic
В.	I have eaten them for my drinking.		Edi in me
D.	Hast thou eaten them, filly boy? why did you not keep them rather to play withall?		Edifti, mi non fer dum?
В.	I had rather eat them, then lose them.	15	E'dere m
D.	You could lose but twelve.		Non póte duódeo
B.	I confesse it.		Fáteor.
D.	But if luck had ferved, you might have won two hundred, or perhaps more.	20
B.	Came is hazardous, as folks commonly fay.		Dubius el
D.	What then ? we ought al- wayes to be indifferent	25	and the same of th fraterne moniseris.

Col. 31. Dominicus, Barrafius.

Ubi funt juglandes tuz: De quibus loqueris ju glandibus? Quas hodie ex pramio zo cepisti. Ubi fint rogas ? quafi w rò tibi servare debit rim.

Non fic intelligo; fel quæro quie féceris, Edi in merentlam.

Edisti, miser ? cur potiti non servábas ad luder dum ?

E'dere malui, quamper

Non poteras pérdere ni duódecim. Fateor.

Quod fi fors tuliffet, por iffes ducentas, aut for taffe plures lucrifacen.

Dubius est (ut vulgo die tur) ludi eventus.

Quid tum ? Ubique par ti effe debémus in utian B.

D.

B.

D.

B

D. B.

D B. D

> B. D

B. D

B

I

	Engliso una E
1	both wages, and to take in good part whatever shall betide us.
B.	Tknow that, but Jam not bery skilfull at that
- 1	hery skilfull at that	30
	kinde of play.
D.	Goe thy way, thou wilt mever thrive.
B.	There is no body thity's,
	ercept God will ; neither would I grow rich	35
	by gaming.
D.
-	goe look for another play-fellow.
В	Truly I boe not hinder pen.
	But tarry a little.	40
D.	What would you have?
B.	what one you mean by luck, which you menti-	. 17
	oned to me even now?
D.	Fortune it felf.	4
B.	And what is fortune?	7
D.	It is the opinion of Fooles.
В.	What doe fooles think of
	Fortune?	1
D.	I have no leafure now to	5
	antwer you about this;	1
	but see the matters noce upon Cato.	-
B.	Upon what place?
D.	Upon that verse,	5
	Fortune indulgeth bad men,	,
	to their burt.
B.	As I perceive, you are not ignorant, what Fortune
	is,
D.	I know very well, that For-	6
	tune is nothing.

12:

j0-

0 20-

G ve

butotiu

aden

n per

e ni

por at for cere.

ò di e par

uttat

boll

Lib. II. 139 que partem, & boni con= sulere quicquid nobis cvenerit. Istud ego scio, sed non fum admodum ludendi perstus in co genere. Abi, nunquam rem facies. Nemo remadacit, nife Deo volente : Ego ditari ex ludo velim. Eigò (ut video) quarendus est mibi collufor ali-Nibil fane impedio. Sed mane parumper. Quid vis? Quid tu vocas fortem, de qua hic mihi mentionem fecisti. Iplam fortunam. Quid autem est fortuna > Stultorum est opinio. De fortuna quid opinantur ftulti ?

Nunem bi non vacat de hoc tibi respondere; sed vide annotationem præceptorisin Catonem. In quem locum?

In illum versiculum, Indulget fortuna malis, ut lædere poffit. Ut video, non ignoras, quid sit Fortuna.

Satis sciofortunam nibil effe. Why

	140 M. Corderin	s's
B.	Why then did you fay, But if luck bad ferved?		Cur ergo dixisti,
D.	ped me fo to speak it, af- ter the manner of the Gentiles.	65	Excidit mibi sic les Ethnicorum more
	For their books (as the master oft doth teach us) are f . of such wicked doct sie.	•	Nam eorum libri (ut de cet præceptor) pl funt ejúlmodi im doærina.
В.	No wonder, for they had not the true knowledge of God.	70	Nihil mirum, nempe veram Dei cognit nem non habuérum,
D.	But doe you hear, my Bar- rafius, if you would di- fpute any more, get fome body else to dispute with you; for I must now goe play in good earnest;	75	Sed audi, mi Barrāfi, fi amplius, disputare qu re tibi alias disputati nam mihi nunc se ludendum est;
В.	Yet I would admonish you againe first as you did me.  D what a kindnesse you shall doe me!	80	Volo tamen priùs te cissim admonére.  O quam gratum mibi peris!
D.	Did not you say these words, Game is bazar-		Non tu dixisti hæc ved Dubius est ludi eventu
B. D.	I confesse I said it, but I fenced it before.	85	Fateor me dixisse,
В.	How doe you understand that? For I added these three		Quomodo istud intelligis? Addidi enim hæc triave
D.	words, As folkes say. D crasty for! You have stop't my	90	ba, Ut vulgò dicitu. O astiet am vulpeculam! Os occlusisti min.
	mouth. But these things be spo- ken betwirt our selves without hatred or ill-will.		Sed hat inter nos finedia aut malevolentia diffi

B.

D

B.

D

B.

D

B.

H. I. H.

I. H. I. H.

I. H.

I.

2 loge

t do. pleni impin

pe iii

nt. fivi

que tions ferio

e n

bi fi-verbe, musi

, lei

néll-

a ver

7. W.

diffi diffi

En

	English and	Lati	ine. Lib. I I 141
B.	God knoweth both our mindes.	95	Novit Deus utriusque ani-
D.	for he is the onely fear- cher of hearts.		Est enim ille folus cordium
2.	But what will you doe; will		Sed guid tu , vis hic solus you be diowing here alone?	100	olio torpéscere?
В.	I am thinking, with what fport I should exercise my felf.		Cogico, quo lusu me ex- erceam.
D,	As if indeed it were to be thought on any longer.		Quafi verò fit diútiùs co- gitandum.
	Come, follow me, I will lend you fome wall-nuts.	105	Age, séquere me, dabo ti- bi mútuo juglandes.
В.	Pow you speak like a friend; but when shall I give you them again?		Amice nunc loqueris; sed quando reddam?
D.	when two Sundays fall together, if you can no fooner.	110	Ad Gracas Calendas, si non potes citiús.
В.	D pleasant youth! let us goe.		O festivum caput ! ea-
	Col. 32. H. I.	*	Col. 32: H. I.
н:	James.		Jacóbe,
I.	What would you have?		Quid vis ?
H.	Let us say our lesson toge- ther.		Repetamus una prælecti-
I.	I have no leafure.	5	Non est mibi ótium.
H.	what bufineffe have you?		Quid habes negotii?
I.	I will write.	1	Volo scribere,
H.	what are you going to write?		Quid scribere paras?
I.	The masters dictates.	1	Dictata præceptoris.
H.	Why did you not write them yesterday?	10
I.	At what time should I have writ them?	1	Quo tempore scripsiffem?

R.

R.

bulinelle, and I mine. Well, doe as you lift. Col. 33. Rufus. Caftrenfis. When will you goe again to the school? I know not. Why doe you not put your father in minde about this matter ? What ? doe you thinke I care ? Very little, I believe. Indeed you say true. It is fign enough that you doe not love learning. I can read, and write, tten H.

eline tru.

Bit.

570

, let 112

UNZ

21

mi-

udio

cáiz.

qui iis.

fqui-ludo

OKAM

oles;

um-

ebit,

pre ailselle

eve.

i egi ncum R.

R.

C.

R.

C.

R.

C.

R.

C

It is fign enough that you doe not love learning.

I can read, and soutte, and speak Latine pretty-swell; what need I so much know-ledge?

I know more; then three

R. O poor Youth! doe you fo sight a thing that is unbaluable?

Why doe you exclaime so?
How come I to seem so poor to you?

Friend, I have done you no wrong.

For what I faid to you, is no railing matter; that meum. Age, age ut libet.

Col. 33. Rufus. Caltrentis.

Quando répetes ludum literá ium? Nescio.

Cur de hac re patrem non ádmones?

5

15

Quid? putas me curare?

Parùm admodum, ut cre-

Profectò verum dicis.

Satis est figni te non a.

mare literas.

Scio légere, scribere, Latine loqui mediocriter; quid opus est mihi tanta scientia?

Ego plura scio, quàm tres : sacerdótes Papístici.

O miserum adolescentem! siccine rem contemnis inæstimabilem? Quid tu sic exclámas? Unde tibi videor miser?

Amice nulla tibi à me or Quod enim dixi tibi, non eft convitium; ne tu in you

30

35

40

R.

R,

R.

C.

you may not take it it; but I pity you, that contemn that, which affordeth happinesse.

Gain, riches, and pleasure afford happinesse.

Nay, those things have been many mens oversthiow; although riches are Gods gift, and doe no hurt, unless it be to them that abuse them: but indeed no possession is more pretions to a man then bertue, and the knowledge of hosnest things.

you will make us a fermon then, for ought that I fee. I wish you had diligently

c. heard godly fermons?
Fie upon it, you weary me with your noyfe.

Would you have any thing?

That God would bleffe you with a right minde. Perhaps you have more need of it then I. Fare you well.

Col. 34. A. B.

A. 3 wonder sohat you mean; you are almost malam partem atta as; sed misereor a qui id contennis a felicitatem parit.

Lucrum, divitiz, &n luptas felicitatem par unt.

Imò, ista multis sura exitio; tametsi dividi sunt donum Dei, i mocent, nisi iis qui a tuntur: verum enime ro nulla est homini pitiosior possessio qui rivius, & rerum un siduum cognitio.

Vis igitur concionaint video.

nes audivisses diligent Hem, obtundis me.

Nunquid vis?

tibi Deus.
Ea fortaffe tibi magist
opus quàm mihi.
Vale.

col. 34. A. B.

Miror quid tibi velis;

B

В.

A.

В.

A. B.

A.

A.

B.

A. B.

A. B.

A.

В.

English and Latine. Lib. II. 145

ta

9 B

an A.

Pa

Hero

initi

1, 1

23 an im B.

ni pe

en, B.

conci

gent

em 4

agist

elis;

otion

al mile

B.

A.

B. n hou

A.

A.

B.

٨.

B.

A.

B.

A.

B.

you ?

alwayes idle, or prating, or aut garris, aut ineptis, playing the fool. What would you have me Quid vis faciam? doe ?" 5 Ut studeas diligenter. To ply your book diligent-Why doe you counsell mee Cur me istud mones? that ? Pro meo in te amorestuaque Dut of my love towards utilitate. pous and for pour own benefit. Frustra mones. It is in rain for pou to counfeil me. Why fo? 10 Quid ita? Quia non est mibi animus Because 3 have no minde to my boo't. in literis. Quid ergo velles? What then have you a mind Discere aliquam artem To learn some trade suitaaptam ingénio meo. ble to my disposition. 15 Tamne cogitafti, quænam have you unbethought ars tibi placeat potifiyou aiready what trade would please you most of mum. all? Long agoe. Jam pridem. Why then doe you not at= 20 Cur ergo patrem non adquaint pour father? mones ? Nunquam aufus fum. I never durft. Why not ? Cur non ? I am afraid he should be Vereor ut mihi iralcatur. angry with me. Intreat the mafter, that hee 25 Rogapræceptorem, ut illi would tell him. dicat. Nay, I intreat you; Imò te oro; Doe you your felf tell the Die tu iple præceptóri master from me, for I meis verbis, nam verecannot, because 3 am cundia me impedit. 30 too bathfull. Will you doe what I intreat Faciélne quod rogo?

and pleasant exercise.

cunda exercitatio

English and Latine. Lib. II. 147

libe M. As oft as I light upon any 15 of thele loofe Rafcals, I had rather meet with a For I cannot rhedariam carter. think upon any thing by the way for them, their 20 manners are fo diftaft= full to me. No wonder. For they are commonly fuch, as will neither speak any good, nor endure to hear it. 25 What should you doe with them, that have no care, but that they may facishe their lutts? They talk of nothing, 30 but their dainty dishes, and meer begling to= gether in private ale= houses.

35

40

me :

um.

am te

A OCI

adet .

uffi n

refin

i nu

Frih

mi ja

CHILL

IB

M.

M.

man F.

beit M.

ppe F.

I, and they laugh at us a pace, because we speak Latine up and bown the ftreets:

And that is the worlt thing of all, that they will never fuffer themselves to be admonished. Because indeed (as the Prophet faith) There is no fear of God before their cyes.

If you shall begin to advise them any thing fairely, you shall presently hear, hold pour tongue, you Breacher, you fill my head full of nople.

Quoties incido in áliquem ex iftis diffolutie nebulonibus, mallem offenditte. Non enim per eos mihi licet aliquid in via meditári, adeò mibi funt corum mores odioli. Nil mira. Nam ferè funz ejulmodi, ut neq; loqui velint quidpiam boni,neque audire suffineant.

Quid cum illis agas, quibus nibil eft cura, nisi ut fuas libidines expleant?

Nibil aliud crepant, nift suas cupédias, & meras compotationes in secretis caupenulis.

Etiam nos irrident plenis buccis, quod Latine per vicos loquamur:

Illud verò est omnium pessimum, quòd nusquam se patiuntur admonéri.

Quia scilicet ut ait Propheta(non) est timor Dei ante óculos eorum.

Si quid occoeperis amice commonere, ftatim audies, Tace, concionator, obtundis.

Lz

BH!

F

I

I

٧

T

1

(

Y

V

F

1

tle-coat, (jump-coat, Sip= po ?)

From home,

P.

S, P.

A.

P.

A.

S.

qua

of TIL A.

timu ntes D.

it can A.

inen D.

um il D

1 200

8 perva

lam

aur ' mices A.

What will you doe with it? I will put it on.

It is not time to change it

When then >

To morrow morning, when you rife out of your bed.

Thou givest me good advile. I will tarry.

Col. 38. Antonie. Daniel.

Obrave! I heard your fifter is married.

You heard that which is true Who is her husband?

A certain citizen of Lyons, come of honeft pi= rentg.

Is he rich?

Bo is he thought to be, but yet my father value's thefe things a great deale more; first, that he is a well-behab'd poung: man: next, that he is not onely a bery good Scholar, but one that learning berp lobes wel; and laftly, that hee is one that ferbe's God truly, and is a main Brofestor of Chaistia= mitp.

You tell me notable com= mendations ot roung man.

niculam?

Domo.

Quid vis facere?

5 Volo induere.

Nanc non est mutandi tempus.

Quando igitur?

Cras mane, quum furges 10 electo.

Bene mones. Expedibo.

Cot. 38 Antonius. Daniel.

Euge, audivi sorórem tuam nupfiffe.

Verum auditti.

Quiseft maritus ejus ?

5 Quidam civis Lugduneniis, boneftis parentibi. piogenitus.

Eltne dives ?

Sic babetur, fed tamen pater meus hæc longe 10 pluris facit ; primum quod ille fie bene moratus adolescens ; deinde, qual non folum dettif-15 fimus, led etiam bonarum literarum amantifsimus; denique, quod verus Dei cultor, & Christiane religionis

> Mibi narras egregios adolescentis titulos.

(ummus observator.

20

Col. 38. Henri: Gen

Hodie te non vidino

Col. 38. Henry, Gerard.

I did not see you to day at

English and I sime 51

1		English and	d La	tine. Lib. II. 151
200		the fermon, what mean's		cióne, quid illud fibi
A:	G.	I know not what it should mean, yet I was there.	5	Quid sibi velit nescio, ego tamen interfui.
bo BO	H.	Tell me what you have re-		Narra mihi que manda- fti memória.
ei b	G.	It belongs not to you to call me to an account.		Non est tuum à me rati- ónem exigere.
ef. Otta: IS,	н.	Truly I doe not require it.  But I ask you that, that we may confer together for our memories fake.	10	ego quidem non éxigo, verum id rogo, ut me- moriæ caula confera- mus una.
	G.	I rather choose now to call to my minde by my self.	15	Malim nunc solus recor-
the state of the s		You shall hear me if you will, when the master shall ask us before dinner.		Audies me (fi voles) quum præceptor ante prandi- um nos interrogabir.
ni.	Н.	if we should now confer among our selves about that matter?	2 0	Quid mals effet, si nune inter nos de ca re con- ferâmus?
1.	G.	It would be no harm, I confesse; but I have no lift to it now.		Nihil mali esset, fateor; sed nunc mihi non libet.
	H.	your lift rule's you then.		Tua igitur te libi do regit.
m 4 puè	G.	Let me alone; why doe you trouble me?	25	Omitte mescur molestus es?
& in eque	Н.	Truly I let you alone; but hear me one word. It both not become a boy to be		Omitto sane; sed audi unum verbum. Non de- cet puerum esse morosum:
	G.	Nor doth it become a boy to be so troublesome.	30	Nec puerum detet esse tam molestum.
13E1		Col. 39. Rublius. Lepufculus.		C.39. Rublius, Lepulculus.
0	R.	what have you done with my ruler?		Quid fecisti de regula
180	L.	I left it in the upper galle=		Reliqui in pergula superi-

20

25

5

Sould after pour man= nerg. L. I will pray to God, that he would change them for me. If you be wife; elfe no body R. will lend you any thing hereafter. L. I thank you, that you advise me so kindely. R. Goe now and fetch my ruler; for I want it to rule mp paper with it. Now I am going. L. Bring it to me into my R.

152

EL.

R.

R

I forgot it.

aence.

forry,

chamber. You shall have it presently. Cot.40. Emericus. Baldus.

Why doe you laugh to pour felf ? what is that to thee ? B.

Because perhaps you laugh E. at me.

How came you to fu= fped fomuch? Because pou are a naugh E.

ty cop. Truly we are all naught; but I am not worfe then

you.

Deum precabor, ut mi

E.

E.

N.

M.

N.

M.

N

M.

Si sapis; alioqui nemois 15 bi posthac commodit volet.

Habeo gratiam, quoda tam amice monueris

I nunc peritum meant gula; eft enim cami opus ad ducendas charta lineas.

Nunc eo.

Refer ad me in cubin lum.

Mox habebis.

Col 40. Emericus, Balde Cur folus rides ?

Quid tua? Quia fortaffe rides me.

Unde tibi orta eft iftafe Spicio? Quia malus es. Omnes quidem malife mus ; at ego te pejorno lum.

15

20

25

30

Doth no body laugh then, unlesse he laugh at some body?

(cd;

ide E.

m

Bet

2,2

it mi

mon

nodi

od m

CTIL

amie

2 mh

das a ubra

me.

flas

alile

or no

Du

E.

M.

N

M.

B.

и.

y doe not mean to; but he that laugh's to himfelf (as I have often heard) is either a fool, or thinketh fome mischief.

I know not whose saying that is; but whose soever it is, it is not alwayes true: yet I take your admonition in good part, & advise you too as well as you doe me, that you would have a care pour be not suspicious; For fearfull and suspected persons south most so beath, as it is in our morall verse.

I remember it. Nevertheleffe I take your admonition in good part.

C.41 . Nathanael. Mercurius.

N. whence come you?

M. From home.
N. what are they do

N. what are they defing at your house?

It makes no matter to you.

I confesse it, but we use commonly to ask our friends thus, just as if we should ask, how do you?

How go all things with you?

It both not become one to enquire over much

Nemo igitur ridet, nisi a-

Non sic intelligo; sed qui folus ridet (u: sape audivi) aut stultus est, aut aliquid mali cogitat.

Ista sententia cujus sit nescio; sed cujuscunque sit, non est perpetuò vera: tamen admonitiónem tuam in bonam partem accipio, téque moneo vicissim, ut caveas suspiciósus este; Nam timidis en suspestis optatissima mors est, ut est in moráli nostro cármine.

Mémini Boni tamen cónfulo admonitiónem tuam.

Nathanael Mercurius.

Unde venis ? Domo.

Quid agitur domi veftra?

Nil tua refert.

Fateor, sed familiares sic rogare ferè solémus, perinde quasi rogémus, Ut valétu? quomodo se vestra res habent?

10 De re aliena nimium percontari non decet.

after

1	54 M. Corderius's	Co	noquies,
	after another bodies			1.
N.	feen to me to be over- wife respecting your			P. M.
M.	J say nothing as my own; I have heard it	15	Nibil meum dico; id a-	P. M.
N.	often. I thank you, that you advise me so friendly; hereafter, by Gods blessing, I will take here of playing the fool.	20	Habeo gratiam, quòdmadeo amicè mones posthac, adjuvan Deo, cavebo ineptusife.	Р.
M	So you shall be wise by little and little.		Ita paulatim sapies.	M
н.	C.42. Humbertus Plautinus. Ho you firrah, the master is here.		Humbertus. Plautinus. Heus tu, præceptor add	P.
P. H. P.	What then? Look back at him. Why so?		Quid tum? Réspice ad illum. Quamobrem?	P.
H.	That you may put off pour hat to him, and fa- lute him as he come's.	5	ut ei caput aperias, & it
P.	It become's me to doe fo, but I was thinking of another thing.		Ità docer facere, sed alm cogit abam.	1
H.	Hold your peace.	10	Tace.	1
P.			Col. 43. Pontanus, Marci. Unde redis? Foris. Cur exieras? Rédditum urinam. Qualis est cœli facies? Nebulósa. An régelas?

M P.

The frost doth so give M. again, that the fnow begin's wholly to melt. And what doth it rain too? P. I felt fomething biop M. from abobe. id z Perhaps from the house= P. cabes as you went along Nay, I know it was from M. the clouds ; and if pou poe not beliebe me, look pour felfe. P. Druse Bg if I may not beliebe pon in fuch a fmail mat= ter. M Why then did you feem to make a question ? P. That I might have a little more talk with you. M To what end ferbs that? P. To exercise the Latine tongue. M. But in the mean time we oft freak tole words, from which Christ hath commanded us to abitain altogether. P. you are quite mistaken in the meaning of the commandement. M. Wby fay you fo ? P. Becaule it is not idle talk which hath reference to any instruction, especially when we treat of good and honest matters; such as are the works of God in naturall things.

Me thinkes you are in

15 m pere.

uòd m

Ones

UVERE

inus.

adet

& #-

alini

arcu

1

EN.

Sic refolvitur gelu , ut nives omnino liquescant.

10 Etiamne pluit ? Sensi a'iquid supérne diffillare. Fortaffe in transitu, ftillicidio tecti.

15 Imo, è múbibus scio; qued finon credis, vide tu ipfe.

> Quafi ego tibi non credam in re tantilla.

Cur igitur dubitare vide-20 báris? Ut pluribus verbis tecum fabulárer.

> Quorsum id pertinet? Ad Latinum fermoneum exercendum.

25

Sed interim fæpe etiofa verba dicimus, à quibus omnino abstinendum Christus præcepit.

30 Tota erras via in pracepu intellectu.

Cur istud dicis ? Quia non est otiosus sermo qui ad aliquá instiru-35 tionem refertur, præfertim ubi agitur de bonis & boneftis; qualia funt Dei opera in rebus naturalibus.

40 Videris mibi rette fentire; $b0

L.

R.

L.

R.

L.

R.

L

Whens

derat mibs in vico.

156

M.

T.

B.

B.

T.

T.

R.

Diop't from me in the areet.

20

25

R. | Whence did it drop? Out of my flicath, which I had indifferently left open.

R.

0.1

ride

lum

e julrtunt ni.

atus

um,

nus.

quod leni-

m;

num;

) 14-dia:

most air.

bege

How did you get it again ? I fet upa fiquis prefentle on the gates, and after dinner a boy of the fixth form brought it me again. I wish they were all as faith-R. full that finde things that > are loft. Truly there are but few that will make reftitution, if it be a thing of any value.

And yet it is particularly commanded by the word of God.

L. What elfe ? for it is a kind of theft, if one keep ano= ther mans thing when it is found, if so be hee know to whom it thould be restozed.

But most men think they may lawfully keep, whatfoever they find after it be loft I ruly they are very grievoully mistaken.

But (that we may return to our former speech,) what gave you the boy that had found your pen-knife?

L. I gave him a quu cee, and iome walnuts, moreover I commended him, and advised him in a word or two that he should doe so al-Maycs.

Unde exciderat ?

E theca mea, quam imprudenter apertam reli-

15 queram.

Quomodo recuperasti? Mixeram Statim chartulam valvis janua : post prandium quidam puer fextæ claffis mihi reculic Utinam omnes tam fideles ellent qui res amilfas reperiunt.

Profectò pauci sunt qui restituent, si modo sit res alicujus précii. Et tamen id verbo Dei nominatini pracipitur.

Quidni ? Est enim furti species, fi quis rem alie-30 nam inventam retineat; modo sciat cui reddenda fit.

At plerique putant se jure possidere quicquid amis-35 lum invenerint, Errant illi quidem graviflimé.

Verum (ut redeamus ad inceptum fermonem ) 40 quid dedisti puero, qui scalpellum tuum invenerat?

Dedi sextantem, & nuces aliquot juglandes: lau-45 davi præterea, & paucis admonui idem semper esse faciendum,

You

R. You have done very well, for so he may be more willing to restore a thing another time, if he find it.

But what if you had lost it?

I would have taken it in good part, and have bought me another.

R. I, would you have taken it

L. Verily not without fome

R. Therefore not patiently: but I will not presse you too straitly.

L. We are no Divines.

R. | What then ?

R. And very unskilfull ones indeed.

L. We ought so much the more diligently to pray to God, that by his Gospell he would free us from the darknesse of ignorance wherein wee have lived, and doe live as yet.

Truly we shall doe that, if we obey those holy admonitions which we hear every day from the matter, and oft-times from the Preachers, the Minifters of Gods word.

L See how much the losing of my pen-knife hath done us good.

Because of that I congratulate with you double: Rectè fecisti, sie ein 50 libentiùs reddat dia si quid repérerit.

> Sed quid si perdidisses Æquo animo tulissem, a mihi emissem aliud.

55 Itáne, æquo tulisses mo?

Certe non fine die M.

Non igitur æque anime fed nolo te arctiùs uri re.
Non sumus Theologi.

Quid ergo?
Grammaticuli.

65 Et quidem imperici.

Tanto diligéntiùs Den precari debémus, upe Evangélium suum m liberet ab ignorant ténebris, in quibus resari sumus, & alte versamur.

Id verò faciémus, film chis admonitionibus reámus, quas audim quotídie à præcepos, & fæpe à concionator bus, divíni verbi administris.

80 Vide quantum profur nobis scalpelli mei r missio.

Ob eam rem tibi doplir ter congratulor;

L.

C.

C.

M.

C

M.

M.

first, that I have bought it well for you; and secondly, that you have found it again after it was lot. I thank you, my Rowland. But the praise and thanks be to our heavenly father. Amen.

Me thinkes, you are not 0= her bufe.

C. Indifferently.

thin

dia

(3)

m, t ud.

320

nine

S BITES

Dan

utpt

n na

randa

US VER

adhu

file

ous p idims

eptor

12100 ofur

nei t aplici

aliqu M.

L.

R.

L.

C.

N. What if you mend me two or three pens?

It may suffice you, if I mend you one for the pre-

Are they new ones?

M. They are new ones indeed; but ready for the menbing.

For I have already shaved them, I have cut off the tops, and pull'd off the feathers.

they are exceeding good ones, and very fit to with all.

How know you that?

Because they have a large quill, hard and shining: for those that are soft, and have a shorter quill, are not sit to swrite.

M. I am glad I bought the wel.

That is not amisse; but for s mùm, quòd tibi rectè émerim; deinde, quòd amissum recupera veris.

> Habeo tibi gratiam, mi Rolande.

90 Quin patri nostro cœlesti fit laus & gratiárum actio. Amen.

Mercarius. Calvinus.

Mini non viueris nimis occupatus.

Mediócriter.

Quid si mihi exácuas duas aut tres pennas? Satis sit tibi, si unam acúero in præsentia.

Súntne novæ? Novæ quidem; sed paråtæ usque dum acuntum.

Jam enim lævigávi, caudam réscidi,detraxi plumulas.

Oftende: profecto funt optima, & ad feribendum aptissima.

15

30

Unde istud nosti?
Quia sunt caule amplo, sirmo, & nitido: nam molles & que caulem habent breviorem, param sunt ad scribendi usum útiles.

Gandeo mejutiliter emisse. Non abs re; sed quanti?

N

Y

N

G

B

W

V

erdm

au.

il enn

aim

, us

riùs e

148d II

picen B

Cas D

Sija

pro

cubir

Telisit.

Ah

C | After the giving over the School, that is, at nine a clock in a morning, or tour in the afternoon.

ficted (unleffe I bee deceived) for your use.

You shall keep this third fafe and found for you against another time. 70

Take it you, if you please. No but keep it for your felf, I have enow brought me from home.

I give you all possible thanks; fare you well.

God keep vou in fafety.

But heark you, Do not fpare for my labour at any time.

Do you also make use of 80 meand any thing that is mine, if næd be, as well as 3 Do. Again farewell.

Col.47. Puteanus. Buerla.

Whence came you cven

Out of the kitchin.

VVbat went you thither for ?

To warm my felf.

Ibelieve, you had rather 5 be in the kitchin, then in the school, had you not ?

Poft scholæ mislió em, hoc eft, hora nopa matutina, vel quarta pomeridiana,

Now you have two pens, wel 65 Nunc habes duas pennas, re-&e ( ni fallor ) in afum tuum accommodatas.

Hanc tertiam in aliud tempus tibi integram fervabis.

Accipe tibi, fi placet.

Quin tibi ferva, dome adferuntur mihi fatis multa.

Ago tibi quas poffum gratias; Vak.

Inco umem te conservet D.9. Sed heus, ne parcas unquam labori meo.

Tu quoque & me & rebus meis viciffim ütere, fi quid opus fueris. Iterum vale.

Col.47. Puteanus. Buerla.

Unde veniebas modó ?

E culina. Quid illuc iveras?

Ut me calefacerem.

Tu, credo, libentius es in culina, quam in schola, nonue s

M

Go

You advise me fair : I wish'25 Bene mones ; útinam fai he would promote our studies to the glory of his name.

Hee will do it, if we go on diligently to worship him.

P

Col. 48. Puteanu. Capufius.

what are you muling with pour felf, Caputius? I would willingly go home; That I may recreate my felf a little thefe few dayes 5 with my mother.

What hindereth that you cannot go ?

Nihil mirum ; in fde non eft ignis, ficut in a lina. Abi, fapis.

C

P

C

P

P

C

P

M

B

M

B

N

B

N

B

1

Utinam tam faperem ine

vinis rebus quam incei córporis. 15 Fac fapias.

Quomodo ? Studio, cura, labore, & & ligentia.

Non parco labori.

Rede facis ; fed eft unt expectandum, cujus po greffu fiunt omnia :im rim precandus eft Do affidué.

nostra promóveat ingli riam fui nominis.

Id fáciet, fi pergamus en colere diligenter.

> Col. 48. Puteanus. Capulius,

Quid tecum cogitas, G púli s Libenter irem domum; Ut me his diebus parum recrearem cum matte

Quid obstat quò ministr

Col. 49. Martialis. Blancus.

How much money you ? B

A farthing qu. but bow much have you ?

Not fo much.

delt

Da

n Cr:

26 tempe

is pro-

: 105

Des

Ance

in ga-us co

nus.

6, G

m;

Lund!

tre.

nuscu

Th

В How much then?

M But one farthing.

Will you lend it me ? M I have need of it.

В For what use?

M To buy paper.

Praceptor non vult permis

163

Meliùs tibi consulit, quam

Nam interea perderes multum temporis, & quum rediiffes, tibi dolé et.

15 Nonne verum dico? Profecto, fic eft. Mane igitur, fi fapis.

> Parebo tuo consitio, quia mihi redum videtur.

consilium dare.

Atque útinam quod fuádeo, succédat tibi prosperé.

Spero ita fore, Deo volente.

Col. 49. Martialis. Blancus.

Quantum habes pecuniz s

Affem cum femiffe : tu vero?

Non tantum. Quantum igitur? Unicum affem. Vis mihi dare mutu6? Est mibi opus. In quem ulum?

Ad emendem chartam. M 2

В	I will give it you again to	Hodie reddam tibi.
	day.		L
M	You should have said with-	te.	В
В	So our mafter teacheth us 15 out of Gods word; but I cannot ule my felf to	bo Dei; sed non possum af- suefacere.
M	See you do use your self to	Fac affuescas.	M
B	How shall that be done?	Quomodo id fiet ?	E
M	If you oft confider that wee 20 fo depend upon God, that we can do nothing without his help.	Si sæpe cógites nos à Des fic pendére, ut nibil possi- mus fine ejas auxilio.	NEN
B	Y u give me good counsel.	Bonum mihi das consilium.	E
M	Such as I would have to be given to me.	Quale mihi dari velim,	1
В	But (that we may return to 29 our purpose) will you lend me that farthing?	deamus) dabis mutud	E
M	I wonder that you ask to borrow, that have more then I?	Miror te mutuò pétere, qui plus habes, quam ego?	1
В	There is a scholarthat comes this way, that offer's a book to sell.	Est quidam scholasticus hac transiens, qui librum ve- nálem ostentat.	1
M	And what then?	Quid tum?
В	I bad a mind to buy it, be- cause he offers it cheap= 3 ! er then our bookseller.	Cupiébam émere, quia vi- liùs indicat, quam noster bibliopéla:
M	Take it; but, I pray you, how will you reftore it so quickly?	Accipe; sed, quæso, unde tam citò reddess
В	After supper I will go home, and beg it of my mc-40 ther.	A cœnâ ibo domum, ut à matre petam.	1
M	V Vhat if the will not give	Quid fi dare nolit?
	it you.	Shet	1

Shee will not fand upon it, when I shall shew her the book.

> Col. 50. Montanus, Eusebius.

M Dow old are you?
E Thirteen, as I have beard

my mother fay; but how old are you?

M Truly I am not fo old.

E How old then?
M I want one year of you.

M I want one year of you.

E You are twelve years old

M It is an easte thing to guesse.

E But what year is your bro-

M The fifth.

M

E VVbat fay you? can he talk Latine already?

WV hy do you wonder at it?

we have ever a schoolmaster at home that is both learned and diligent; hee doth teach us to speak Latine, he speak's nothing in English, unlesse it be 30 for explication sake of something, moreover we dare not speak to our father, unlesse it be in Latine.

E Do you never speak English

Onely with my mother, and 35 that at a certain hour,

Nibil cunciabitur, cum librum offendere.

> Col. 50. Montanus, Eusebius,

Quot anno, habes?
Tiedecim, ut à matre accepi;
tu vero?

Equidem non tet habeo.
Quot igitut?
Deest unus.
Sunt ergò duódecim.

In promptu est ratio.

Sed frater tuus quotum agit

Quintum.

Quid ais : jam Latine loquitur ?

Quid miraris? semper habémus domi pædagógum & doctum & diligentem; is semper nos Latinè loqui docet: nihil Anglicum effert, nisi aliquid declarandi causâ, quin etiam patrem non audémus, nisi Latinè álloqui.

Nunquam igitur Anglice loquimini?

Solum cum matre, ídque certa quasam hora, quum M 3 when

L

S

L

S

L

L

S

L

1

6-

j.

, I knew not, S. But neverthelesse is your ficknesse troublesome to you? Not very much, I thank God. what pains pou?

L My bead.

What ? all your head ? 5 L No indeed.

What part then? S I cannot tell the name of

Is it the crown of your bead ?

L It is not.

What then ? whether the forepart, or the hinderpart of the head ? L

This part of the head be-

S

It is the forepart of the head then. L

What shall I do then? Beft pou, and pou will be well by and by. For fo I have heard of my mother, that there is no prefenter remedie for head-aches, then 25 reft

But there are fundry diseases of the head.

S And perhaps fundry remedies; but what is more eafie then to try that which I told you?

to make triali.

Néscio.

Sed tamen éthe gravis morbus?

Non admodum, gratia Deo.

Quidnam tibi dolet ?

Caput.

10 Quid ? totumne caput ?

Non certé.

Quæ pars igitut? Nescio nomen.

Eftne vertex

15 Non et.

Quid ergó? utrum sinciput, an ácciputs

Hac pars antérior.

Bit ergò sinciput.

20 Quid igitur faciam 5

Quiefce 3 bene mox fanus eris.

Sic enim à matre accepi, nullum effe præfentimmemedium capitis doloribus, quam quietem.

Atqui varii funt morbi capitis.

Bt varia fortaffe remedia; fed quid eft facilius quam id tentare quod dixi tibis

I bope, it will not hurt me 30 Experiri, quidem nibil ( ut spero ) nocebit.

M 4

Puc

S. C.A.	But where shall I reft ?	Sed ubi quiescam?	Lik	12
S	At your house, in bed.	Domi vellra, in ledo,	L	Y
L	My mother will not let	Mitter non finet.		3
S	Yes, if you say you are not well.	Imò, fi dixeris te zeroi.		C
L	But she will think that I diffemble.	Atqui me putabit simula
S	It may be fo; but why do you doubt to make tri-	Fieri potest ; sed quid dubi	P	Ti
L		5 Bonum consilium.
S	Make use of it, if you, will.	Utere, fi vis,	100
L	I shall truly.	Faciam profectó.		1
S	Indeed, if you be wife.	Enimvero, fi fapis.	T	V
L	But one thing remains.	Sed unum reftar.		1
S		o Quid est ?
L	I must get leave of the	Impetranda à praceptin	P	B
S	Go to him and ask.	Adi & pere.		1
L	VV hat if he will not give in	Quid si nolit dare ?
S	Yes, be will grant you it very seafily.	Imò, facillimé.	TP	1
L	How know you that?	Quî scis istud?	1	I
S	Because he is apt enough to believe us, except ther othat have sometimes de-	Quia satis est crédulus no- bis, nisi qui aliquotis illum fefellerunt.		I
	ceived him.	mad Richeran.
L	I never deceived him to my 6 knowledge.	Nunquam sciens illum se felli.	P	I
S	Go confidently then.	Ito igitur fideliter.	1	1
L	Now Igo.	Nunceo	1.
S	But do you hear, first be-	Sed heus, meditare quid fis	1
No.	think you what you are 6	s acturus.	n	1
	make a fland as you speak,	ne forte loquendo harem.	1
	1000		100

L You advise me well;
3 will not come unpro-

Col. 52. Paul, Timothie, and Salomon the judge.

Timothie, you come to me at a with; I fought fome body to strive with me; but they all run to strive who can play; but what fry you?

VVhat should I rather choose, then to stribe peaceably with you about our studies?

But what subject do you defire to strive about? About repeating Tullie's Epistles?

T I had rather about Cato.

p VVby fo ?

T

P

Because I want fome lessons to get by heart out of Tully.

For you know I have been fick almost two weeks.

I do remember it.

VVould you have us fay then the second book of morall disticts?

It is too long for this

VV by fo?

Because we must play somewhile, that we may exerBene mones ; Non accédam imparátus.

Col. 52. Paulus, Timetheus, Salomon judex.

Optatus mihi ades, Timóthee; quærébam, qui mecum certare vellet; sed omnes ad lusûs certamen currunt; tu verò quid ais?

Quid ego malim, quam tecum de nostris fludiis pacificè conténdere?

sed quod petis certandi argumentum? An de repetendis Cicerónis Epístelas Malo de Catóne.

Quamobrem?

Quia restant mihi ediscendæ aliquot præsectiones de Cicerone.

Scis enim me agrotaffe ferè duas hebdómadas.

Memini.

Vis igitur dicámus fecundum librum morálium distichórum s

Eft longus nimis in hanc horam.

Quid ita ?

Quia nebis a'iquamdiu ludendum est, ut corpus ex-cile

1	170 M. Corderius's cise our bodie to preserve	ceamus ad valerale	Lik	). 1
1	our health	confervandam.	PI	1
2	Let us fay the third book 30	Dicamus ered librum.	s	I
1	then because it is the	citi, quia en breviffing	T
1	But I will have some body to be judge.	Sed júdicem volo.	P	3
P	Salomon is hear ready at hand, who doth follow	Præfid est Salomon, qui e	5	1
	me for that purpofe.		T	1
	then?	nos s	s	V
S	What are you to fay?	Quid di auri eftis?
T.	Distichs.	Tertium librum meralin Difficborum,	T	1
5	one after another ?			-
I	Rich.	Scilicet, fuum uterque D.		1
5	But ( that you may not	At pueri, (ne erreik) mi		1 mistake your felbes,)	vos audire tangum je	Bill and boyes, I will not hear 4	dex.	T	- 10
P	you as a judge. Why not?	Cur non?	P	1
•	Lest perhaps the one of my friends be offended with	Ne forte mea fententia	T
	my censure.	dátur.		1
7	Wherein then will you be a so	júcor?
S	I will diligently mask both your mistakes in a little	Notabo in chartula de genter utriusque laplu
	fhall carry them to the	deinde refere is 10 Mi	T	1
_	maker to know his mind.			1
T	What shall be done then? He shall adjudge the vi-	Quid tum fiet?	P	1
	dory and the reward, to	llle, utri videbitut,& vib		1 whether be shall think	cabit.		1

in

fa

1H

cult to me, I had fuch a mind to return to the ci-tic,

back

hoi

ver

the rett else Have of gra

How

A litt

Who

For 1

Yes f What

The

bol

tp But if

IV

mi

cat lin How bee

901 urbem redicio.

I an

For r

fu

th

Are y Pry I hav

But er

Let u

Why do you ask?

back.

How far is your countreyhouse of hence?

6 Four miles, and those not very long ones neither.

But enough concerning your 25 Sed jam fatis de réditu : return :

Let us now do something

Have you been mindfull of your promise?

Are you come again em-

Pry ?

grapes as I could. How many then?

A little hand-basket full.

Whoo! a little basket

For no body but your felt 35 Tibi igitur uni. then.

Yes for us two.

me ii

Ted

tus

What? fo little for two?

The Azength of my little body was able to car= ty no moze.

I would have brought as many as an affe could carry;

For my mother was willing to give me leave.

How I could wish that I had been there.

you exceedingly.

Quid quæris?

I was loth to come on horf- 20 Noluiflem eques venire.

Quantum diftat hine villa veftra?

Quatuer milliaribus, iifque non admodům longis.

Nuncaliud agámus.

Fuistine memor promissi tui?

Num rediifti vácuus ?

I have brought as many 30 Attuli uvaram quantum potui.

Quantum igitur 5 Quafillum.

Hui! quafillum!

Imò nobis duóbus. Quid duobus tantillum ? Non poteram ferre amplius pro viribus corpufculi mei.

But if I had been Arong, 40 Quod firobuftus effem, afini onus afportaffem ; t > Mater enim facile permittebat.

Quan vellem adfuisse.

I and my mother wanted 45 Ego & mater te plutimum 1. delide: avimus.

Bur

	But have a good heart; for the hath left a fervant in the countrey, who will come loaden with a very great basket full; and then the will give you good flore.	bit áffatim,	Lit B A B A	HTW
D	Aba, now you fay as 3 would have you, my William.	Aha, nunc optata loquis mi Gulielme.	3	P
G	Let us go home to our house.  I hope, you shall see our basket subole yet.	Eamus domum ad nos. Vidébis quafillum notre adhuc ( ut spero ) in grum.	A	T
D	O fine boy! For I had a mind too to go	O lépidum caput l Nam & cupiébam itt fi tátum matrem tuam m chariffimam.		I
G	Truely you shall do a thing that will be very acceptable to her.	Profecto illi gratifica		F
Đ	Let us go then.	Eamus igitur,
	Col. 54. Antonie. Bernard.	Col. 54. Antonius. Bernardus.	B A	I
A	What are you musing on bere alone ?	Quid hic folus cógin:?
B	I bewail my miserie.  What misery is it that troubles you?	Deploro meam miléim Quænam te áfficit miléi	В	,
В	Wo is me poor boy! fee, we have changed our form. & I have no money to buy	Hen me miserum lecten tavimus classem, nec mihi pecunia undella		1
A	books. Doth not your father give	emam. An non tibi dat pater?	9	13 ŝ.

In

BE

B

9

2,0

ec s

1,64

B He doth give me some in- Dat quidem , deed sometimes, but over 10 fed parce nimis, sparingly.

He is covetous then, That doth not follow.

What doth hinder him then, that he doth not allow you money ?

Poverty; besides, when 1 ask him, he wonders that we need fo many books.

That is no wonder, especially feeing be is fo poor 3 20 but in the interim have a good beart, and bo not trouble pour felf, 3 prapyou.

I will endeavour that my father may help you:

upon the poore, especially upon those whom he know's to be given to their books.

O happie I, if God shall help me by thy means!

I hope he will help yous but do you in the mean time pray unto him diligenily, that he would incline my fathers mind toward: 35 you.

You advise me well ; for (as I have ofte heard out of boly Sermons)

It is God alone that ruleth and guiteit 40 mens ixarts.

Est igitur avarus.

Non lequitur.

Quid igitur impedir, quò minus pecuniam tibi lupredicet ?

Paupertas; præteres, quum peto, mi. atur tot nobis opus effe libris.

Nibil mirum, præfertim quum fit pauper ; fed interim efto animo bono, nec te afflictes, quafo.

Dabo opam, ut te juvet pater meus :

For he is willing to bellow 25 Libenter enim largitur pauperibus, prælertim iis quos novit bondeum literarum fludiofes effe.

> Ome felicem, fi tuå ope-a 30 me Deus adjuverit ! Juvabit, spero; sed tu interim precare illum diligenter, ut mei patris animum erga te affectum reddat.

> > Rede mones ; nam ( ut fæpe au livi e facris conciónibus)

Solus eft Deus qui hominum corda gubernat ac dirigit.

AB	Ic is just fo. Farewell good Antonie, thou	Vale, mi Antóni, qui mini	1
	haft revived me.	ammum reddidini	V
. A	And farewell thou also, Bernard.	l'u quoque, Bernarde,vale.	P
	But I pray thee tell me, how 4 9	tum nummorum tibi oius
В	If I had two thillings, I though have enough	si duos haberem decusses, a.
A	for the prefent. Hold your tongue; you shall	bunde mibi effet in pra-find God ready to help you to morrow, I hope,	Tace ; cras ( ut spero ) divi- num aux ilium senties.	V
	Col. 55. Philip. Vultherius.	Col. 55. Philippus. Vultherius.	P
P	Whither are you going	Quò nunc is ?	v
v	now? Into the Rove.	In hypocaustum.	,
V	Why so?  Is such a question to be ask ed? Do you not feel the s	Quid có? Hóccine rogandum est? m frigus sensis?
P	there that doth not now feel it, when it is so bit-	Quotusquisq; nunc non sen- tiat, quum fit adeòacte bum?
	But I had rather warm my felf in the kitchin.	Sed ego malim me in culin calefácere.
v	But the maister hath forbid	Atqui præceptor vetut.	S
P	I know that well enough; but I will ask leave.	Non ignoro; iea rogale veniaur.	T
<sup>1</sup> ·V	Why will you not warm your felf in the floves	Curnon vis in hypocaufio calefieri?

i.

W

T

W

I

A

Bu

W

hi

ills !

4

200

in

fto

Th.

I know that well enough ;! but I will ask leave.

Why will you not warm your felf in the flove?

The fumes of the furnace 25 offend my head, which is otherwise crazie enough.

Whence it comes to paffe that I am foon trott= bled with the head= times; but I have used my felf by little and little to abide the inconveniences of the Rove.

And I shall (I hope) use my felf ; but it is better 35 to do that in the afternoons, when fo great a heat shall bee abated.

V But now it is not time to play the Philosopher here 40 any longer; foz mp teeth chatter with cold al= ready.

> Col. 56. Stratanus. Theobaldus.

What trees are there in your garden ?

We have a garden near the citie, in which are hearbs which weeeat every day; 5 and befides there are two

Non ignoro ; fed rogábo veniam.

Cur non vis in hypocausto calefieri ?

Vapores clibani tentant mihi caput, quod alioquin infirmum fatis habeo.

Unde fit ut facile ex capite laborem.

VI bave been so too some-30 Ego quoque sic aliquando fui; fed paulatim affueféci me ad ferenda hypocausti incommoda.

> Et ego (ut spero) me affuefaciam; verum id prastat fiéri horis pomeridianis, ubi tantus æstus deferbuerit.

sed nune tempus non eft hic philosophandi diútitiús; jam mibi dentes frigore crepitant.

Col. 56. Stratanus. Theobaldus.

Quæ sunt árbores in horto veftro ?

Hortum habemus suburbanum, in quo funt ólera quibus véscimur quotidie; præteres funt in fundo orchards S erchards in our ground fet with feveral trees.

What herbs have you in S your garden? T

My mother can better an- 10 De hoc mater melius fwer you touching this! matter. For fhee is often there either to fow, or to weed, or to get something.

Yet tell me the names of 15 Sed tamen die mibi alie 5 fome herbs. T

It would be you but a Little good to reckon you up the names, unleffe you faw the things themfelves : but let us go about the 20 bufineffe in hand. May you goe when you please ? T I may indeed, with my mo thers leave.

S I pray thee, fee that fhe may give thee leave, but on that condition that you take mee along with pou.

T That thall quickly bedone; Doe but tarry for mee here, 3 will come back 30 again prefentip.

What if the be not at home? Yet I will come and tell you this.

S God speed you well.

noftro bini bori vari arbóribus cóaliti. In horte quæ funt 6lera?

spondere poffet, N illic fæpe verfa'ur aut rendi caufa, aut farrie aut aliquid colligendi, C

T

t

In

t

Fo

d ólerum nómina. Parum prodeffet nomina recentere, nifi res in videres :

quin eamus in rem m fentem. Pores ire quando liber ?

Poffem quidem, matten mittente.

15 Fac, amábò, permittat: [ ] fedea lege ut me tibi comitem affina P 1 Id facillime fiet ;

tantum bic me expedu mex rediero.

Quid fi ea domi non ef! Tamen hoc tibi renuncian P

Bene vertat Dem.

Vari

1 213

iùs

N

2m

Trien

ndi.

alies

inad

es in 1 7

acre pe

tat: C

Tina P

bedu:

eft ?

ncian P

Col. 57. Prapositus. Laglonius.

received money of my father to day, if perhaps you have need of any.

I aced none now : but yet I thank you very heartily that out of your liberality & you offer me a kindenelle of your own accord.

For what one among a thousand is there will Doit ?

you have often invited mee with your kindeneffes.

Those have been fo fmall, that thep are not worth the speaking on. 15

That is no fmall kinde= nelle, Sobich is Done with a tery good will. I with wee could fo prize God's benefits towards 20 us,18 we use to do mens. He grant that we may more often and more diligently bufie our felves with that confideration.

Truly that is neceffary, if we 25 Illud profecto necesse eft, fi will have more often expersence of his bountie.

Col. 57. Præpofitus. Caulonius.

Hodie pecuniam à patre accepi, fi tibi forte est apus.

Nibil nunc opus est mihi : fed tamen gratiam habeo maximam, quod pro tua liberalitare ultro offers beneficium.

Quorus eniun quifque id faciet ?

think but a very few; yet 10 Credo pauciflimos; tu me tamen non semel beneficiis provocaiti.

> Adeò parva illa fuerunt, ut non fint commemoratione digna.

Non eft garvum beneficium, quad ab optima votuntate profectum eft.

Urinam Dei erga nos beneficia tam expenderemus, quam folémus hóminum. Faxit ille ut in ea cogitatio ne nos exerceamus. & (2pius & diligentius.

volumus ejus benignitatem fæpius experiti.

Col. 58. Fatonius. Barbarius.

F what are you boing?

B I am writing.

F what are you writing?

B I am writing out the matfters dictates ?

F What dietates?
B Yesterdayes.

F

B

F

F What ? was you not there?
B Yes, I was there; but I could

Yes, I was there; but I could not overtake the maister 10 as he dictated.

F What hindered you?

B Because I did not sit well enough,

F Came you too late then?
B Just so.

E Let me see your note-book;
I will write it for you.

B mobat shall 3 get by will write it for you.

what that! I get by that?

I shall have writ it out soon-20 er then you; and afterwards we shall play together, as our master hath granted us leave.

Give me your book, I say. Eruly I would bo it

Spirit air mp heart; but 25

What are you afraid on?
The mailter's expresse com-

Col. 58. Fatonius, Barbarius

Lib. If

Do

to or I ren

bo

0

C

b

C

Bef

We

WI

1

3

Fi

B

I

BIC

Wa

Do

Quid agis? Scribo. Quid scribis?

Describo dictata præcepi ris.

Quænam? Hesterna.

Quid ? non áderas ?

lmò, aderam; sed non preteram magistrum dista tem assequi.

Quæ res te impediébat? Quod fatis cómmodè a fedérem.

Vé neras ergò feriús?

Cedò commentatium tum égomet tibi scribam. Quid faciam lucri?

Ego citiùs quam tu dela F plero; post ludemus m ut concessit præcep.os.

Da, inquam, libellum tum p Libenter id quidem fin rem, sed non audeo.

Quid times?
Ediaum præceptóris.

Lib. II.

Сер

on pile ide

f ti

èm

tout

lefor F

s uni

01.

fia

Wa

What expresse command do you teil me of?

bath forbidden, any one to write for another without his leave 5

I remember it very well; but how shall be know this?

Do you ask? when he calls 35 our writing to account to mend it, then I shall bee catch'd: for he knows my band.

Befides, we mult neither 40 coofen, noz tell a ite.

We are forbidden both by the word of God.

What shall I answer the maifter then, when he denie's that I have writ those things?

I hope, the matter will neber com: to that paffe.

I will not unbergo fo much danger for all the boping.

faint=hearted, pon will never thribe.

But you perhaps are more adbenturefeme.

Do you then write as much as you will ; I will get me to my play.

Geryou gone, I pray you; I had writ one fide already if you had not hindred me.

Quod edictum mibi natras ?

Do you not know that he 30 Nescis eum vetuife, ne quis fine permiffu ejus alicci (cribat ?

> Id ego probè ménini; ed unde hoc sciet?

Rogas? quum emendandi causa icriptura rationem exigit, tum captus ero; novit enim manum me-

Præierea, neque fallendum eft, neque mentiendum.

Verbo Dei utrumque vetamur.

Quid ergo responderem præceptori, quam i'le negaret me ifta fcripfiffe ?

Won co res evadet, fpero. . .

Nole tua fpe tantum fabire per iculum.

Fie upon it, pou are too 50 Vah, nimium timidus es, nunquam rem facies.

At tu forfan auddeior.

Tu igitur scribe quantum voles ; ego ad ludendum 55 me confero.

Abi, quæso ; jam unam på. ginam deferipfiffem, nifi me interpellaffes.

N 3

But

-	But in the mean time weet benefit something, whilk weetalk in Latine	At interim aliquid pro p mus, dum Latine fab mur.
	Col. 59 Quirinus. Romulus.	Col. 59. Quirinus. Romulus.	RQR
2	is your father come to the	hodiernum?	QR
	Her came to speak to mee to day in the morning, when I was but get = sting out of my bed.		QRQ
2	Have you asked him no-	INITEL AD AC BASSILLE	R
	Yes, meney.	Imò, pecúniam.	A
2	And hath hee given you fome?	Et numer avit tibi?	A CONTRACTOR OF THE PARTY OF TH
	For this present.	In præsentia.	A
	How much I pray you?	10 Quantum obsecto;	Q
	Twenty pence.	Viginti affes.
1	Offrange! twenty pence?	l'apæ! viginti affes!
1	How come's it to paffe,	Qui fic, ut Audeat i
1	that hee dare's adven-	tantum pecuniæ comm
-	you?		C
	Because bee know's that I	Quis novit me diffenfatint	R
-	am a very good hus=	frugi.	,
-	banb.	C San High	1
100	bim an account to a farthing.	Siquidem semper illi nu do rationem usque ad u	The state of the s
2	But you had much adoe to get it perhaps.	Sed ægre fortaffe impeni	The second
2	Nay I got it very eafily, and with a good will too.	Imò facillime, atque all cum gratia.	S. Carlotte
2		25 O mitem parentem!

Hodie mane quota bora awake.

N 4

At what a clock did youl this your school-fellow. Pu I awaked, I got out of bed; I put on my coat with my doublet ; I fate upon the foot-itoel : I took my breeches and my foch= 25 ins; I put on both :

184

P

P

Torew on my thoes: I tied my breeches to my doublet with my points:

I tied my flocking about my legs with my gar=30 terg:

I girbed me about with mp girdle :

I put on my cap:

I put on my gown; then, I went out of my chamber and came Down be= 35 tow:

ad finitum jentaculum, Vos, pueri, auribus am animit diligenter attere te, ut di catis bunc vell

Lib.

3

ſ

Experredus fum, furreni lecto; indui túnicam or thorace : ledi in scabella accépi femoralia & un alia; utraque indui:

Calceos calceavi: Femoralia ligulis aftrin thoraci: Tibialia periscelide lign P (uper erura ;

Cingulo me pracinxi:

Apravi capiti piléolum. Togam indui ; deinet, ! greffus cubiculo defcet in fra:

Pu

Pul

bell rings for prapers . 45 We come together into the private hall, we pray together, we take our breakfalt in order from the cook, we get our break- 50 faft in the Dining=room fitting quiet without noite or flirre ; thefe whom l heard talking fondly, or speaking idle words, or 55 elfe faw playing the wantons, I admonished friendly; those that did not obey my admonition, 3 told the monitor on that he might fet then

Lib. II.

MAL

â; p n cul lit; a oftran oce in oes.

quide

fe mic

lum.

atqu

tiero

vett

ari, rexi

m cus abelo

r tin

. .

ftrin

de, t

escent

Liga P

was no body fet tel look over pout, whilf you got your break faft ! Pu Yes, the ufher.

Down.

What did he do in the mean time ?

Pu He walkt along the middle of the ball bolding a book 35 in his hands, and withing! the monitor withall to

In aulam privatam converitur, precamus una, accipimus ordine jentaculum à famulo culinario, jen'amus in triclinio (cdentes quieti fine muimure & stiépitu; quos audivi inepte garrientes, aut verba loquentes otiofa, aut etiam lascivientes vidi, amice admonui : qui non parcé unt admoni ioni, detuli ad obfervalorem, ul cos notaret.

60 Nemone vobis praerat, dum jentaiecis?

> Imò hypodicascalus. Quid agébat inté ea ?

Ille per n éliam aulam ambulabat tenens librum in manibus, & i emidem monens oblervato em ut an end about breakfait,

iter.

you interrupted me, Mai-5

nere de jentáculo, tu m interpellafti, Præceptor.

Lib

M

D

The maister come's in:
He enquire's concerning them that are asway:
And then hee fits in his feat,
and bid's the authors
writing to be read up:
Ver far three and the lica

nun

in &

, &

abo.

is ju din

t he

amen

cle-

m.

nihi :

pran-gori

ma

troi

lari

ON

mpo

ptoi-

Gal

V Vee fay three and three with a loud voice, as wee use to doe every day.

Then hee bid's us construe:
Some of the more ignorant fort read one by one;

Deinde sedet in cathedra sua, & jubet pronunciari auctoris scriptum:

Inquirit de absentibus :

Pronunciamus terni clarà voce, ut solémus quotidie. (terpretationem:

Tum jubet ut reddâmus in-Aliquot ex rudióribus legune finguli; We other some lay three! and three, and that by heart,

Except him that goes orderly before us (repeating) the very words of the 45 Authour.

At the laft the mafter exacts the English fignification of the words;

The better scholars, to whom he giveth that in 50 charge by name, make an-Jwer :

I also being commanded by him do answer; be commends them that answer well; of the number of 55 whom ( be it spoken without boalting.) 1 was one.

Afterwards he commandeth every part of speech to be orderly parled according 60 to the Grammar rule.

Last of all he doth openly appoint, what is to be repeated after dinner:

When it bath ftruck eight of 65 clock ecommands us to prayer; which when it is done, he adviseth us to do diligently what we have to do : at the laft he difmiffeth us.

As he looks upon us, we 70 go forth in order and without noise, and we depart merrily.

Nos alii reddimus ternije memoriter,

Lib.

9

B

T Pu

Pu 3

1

Præmer eum qui verba igi D auchoris præit nobis a dine.

Tandem præceptor étigi Anglicanam verborum M T fignificationem;

Doctiores, quibus nomina. tim id præcepit, respon dent :

Ego quoque juffus ab con Pa I spondeo; laudat ille, qui P bene responderint ; & quorum número egolque Pa T fine jactantia dictum fil unus eram.

Postea jubet singulas on tionis partes ordine tu Azri ad rationem Gras Pu 1 mdiicam.

Postremò palam præscribit Pu V quid fit à prandio me dendum:

Audita hora odava,pro P tionem imperat ; qual nita, monet ut official ledulo faciamus:

candem nos missos facit.

Bo Spectante, eximus o't ne & fine ftrépitu, lzu discé limus.

Mailta

ini.

pon.

, qui P

110

175 nâf

icium

t.

0.0

201

ailte

Maifter, habe 3 giben pou content ? M Boft abundantly.

D Doth it like you, that a- 75 bout supper-time I do the same concerning the other paffages of this day?

M There will bee no need.

Col. 62. The Maifter. The Boy.

Come bither, Charles.

on Pa I am here, maifter What do your two schoolfellows do?

Po The usher is yet a teaching 5 them.

But have you already faid cver the words of your leffon against to morrow morning?

Pu I have faid it.

Well enough? Well enough, I thank God. ribit Pu

Who bath heard you? red P The head-mailter.

Pu It is well; but there is rece P one thing I would ad= vile pon of.

Pu I should be glad to hear ft.

You must often think, how much you are beholden to 20 God the giver of all good things, that bestowed upon you both wit and for good a memorp.

Satisne tibi feci, pracepiors

Cumulate fine'.

Placetne tibi ut sub conz cempus idem faciam de reliquis hujus diei actiónibus

Nihil opus erit.

('ol. 62. Pædagogus. Puer.

Ades, Cárole.

Adfum, præceptor.

Quid agunt duo condiscipuli tui ?

Adhuc docentur à subdodore.

Tu verò jamne pronunciprælealti contextum &iónis in crastinum mané?

Pronunciavi.

10

Satisne rede?

Satis, gratia Deo.

Quis te audivis? Ludimagister.

Bene habet ; fed eft quod monere te velim.

Ego iftud audire percupio.

Sæpenúmero cogitandum tibi eft, quantum debeas bonorum omnium largitóri Deo, qui et ingénium & mendriam tam felicem tibi déderic.

What

M. Corderius's Colloquies 190 Lib. Pul VVhat doe not I owe to 25 Quid illi non débeam, pu T him, that bath given mee mihi dedit ómnias all things ? Die aliquot ejus benefici Rehearse tome of his chief P benefits, as I have somepræcipua, quemadmocm docui te aliquando. times taught you. Pu That heavenly father hath'30 Dedit mihi coelettisilleps given mee a body, a foul, ter corpus, animam, vi tam, mentem bonam,pa life, a good minde, good rentes bonos, locuples parents, that are wealthy, noble , well-affected tonóbiles, bene erga me a wards mee, and that not 3 $ fectos, & qui non mos Suppé litant mihi copio onely supply mee abundantly with all things neomnia ad hanc vitam is ceffária, led etram (que ceffary for this life, but eft longe maximum) up p allo (which is the great= Y benis literis, bonique est thing by far) take 40 moribus tam diligent order that I be fo diligently brought up in learinftituendum curant, i ning, and good manners, nihil fit præterea requ B that nothing further can rendum. be required. Vere omnia ifta dixifti, & Pu N You have spoken all those 45 unum prærermififti,que P U things very truly, but you eft fingulare Dei bent Pu U have omitted one thing, which is an especiall blefficium. fing ef God. PC Doe you know what it is 5 Scin' ru quid fit 5 Sine me paulifper cogithe. Pu Let mee unbethink mp 50 felf a fittle. Pu G Unbethink pour self at Otiofe cogita. pour leafure. Nunc ego reminiscor. Pu Now I remember it. Sed pro magnitudine rei, m But for the greatneffe of the Icro quibus verbis idre thing, I know not how fum exprimere. to expresse it. F Dic tamen quo póteris m P Yet expreile it as you can. Cógico eriam arque eriam. Pu I think of it again and again. P Speak at laft. Die randem.

ficial

: p2-

, V

1 02-

CIES.

e 1

node piol

n ne 900

COR

it, requ

Are.

ci, II

idec

(62 is m

iam.

Pu The bleffings of God Almighty towards mee are 65 innumerable, in body, in minde, in outward things; but none can be faid or thought to be greater then that hee bath freely 70 given mee his onely Son, who hath redeemed mee a most miserable finner, & captive under the tyranny of Satan, & deffinated to 75 eternal death, and that by his most cruel and thametall death in the world. You have spoken well enough, and almost in fo o many words as I have taught you at other times. But hath God bestowed this le great a benefit upon you onely ? Ri, & Pu No indeed.

i,que P Upon whom belides s ber Pu Upon all, how many foever believe the Gospel faithfully and truly.

P Come on, produ e a place 90 out of 5. Johns Gospell to that purpofe.

Pu God so leved the world that bee gave his only begotten Son, that every 95 one that believeth in him, should not perish, but have everlafting life.

For God fent not bis Son into the world, to con- 100 demn the world, but that]

Innumerabilia funt Dei Oprimi Maximi erga me beneficia, in corpore, in animo in externis rebus; fed nullum majus nec dici nec cogitari potent quam quod Filium fuum unicum gratis mibi dederit, qui me miserrimum peccato em, & fub Satanæ tyrannide captum, morti æternæ deltinatum redemit, idque morte lua omnium crudeliftima, & maxime ignominiofa.

Saus aprè dixisti, & toudem fere verbis quot alias te docueram.

Sed nunquid Deus tibi uni hoc tantum beneficium præftitit :

85 Minime vero.

Quibus prærérea s

Omnibus, quotquot Evangelio fideliter ac verè crediderint.

Age, profer locum è S. Joannis Evangélio, in cam fententiam.

Sic Deus dilexit mundum, ut kilium luum unigenttum daret, ut omnis qui credit in eum, non pereat, led habeat vitam æternam.

Non enim mifie Deus Filium (uum in mundum,ut condemnet mundum, fed

1. Corderius's Colloquies Lib. ut fervetur mundus the world might be faved by him. cum. Qui credit in eum, nonce O Ye He that believech in him is demna ur; qui verò m not condemned 3 but he credit jam condemain that believeth not is coneft, quia non crédiditi P demned already, because nomen unige aiti fliid 0 he bith not believed on 100 the name of the onely begotten fon of God. Hæceft autem. And this is. Hactenus fatis ; fed cup P Brough fo far; but whose P funt verba ifta? (queni O words are thole? Tofius Christi de feiplob Christs speaking of hinsfelf Pu Whom do:h he ipeak to s Quem'alloquitur? P Nicodemum, qui ad m P Nicodemus, who came to P nocte venerat. him by night. Fax t ipfe Christus unin Christ himself our alone Sa-P Servator nofter, ut mie O viour grant, that you may ac magis in iphus coge P p ofic more and more in 110 tione proficias. the knowledge of him. He will, I hope. Facier, fpero. Pu Perge igitur, ut capifti, di To on then chearfully, criter, quod bene vem as you have begun, Deus in gloriam fuite which God prosper to the, "5 minis. glory of his name. Ità precor. Pul I pray fo too. Eamus coenatum. Let us go to lapper. 0 Col. 63. Observator. Col 63. The Monitor. Puer. A boy. Tu nunquam ffudes; you never mind pour 0 book ; Quando eris dodies? when will you bee a fehoiar? Id fiet progressu tempri That will come to passe in

B

I,

A

I

W

Is

A

D

W

It

3

If

D

T

Cuja P

enii O 00

oge P

. 64

Verti

ui to 01.

time, by Gods affiflance.

pou muft take terim pains. But I am not a plough-man. diri P iD: 0 I, dee you jeer mee ?

As though to take pains were the fame as to goe to to the plough.

I know it is not the fame.

Why then did you make luch an answer ?

Is not that to jeer?

ca P And yet there is no harm in laughing, feeing it is a 15 thing natural to all men. MIN O Do you go on to trifle?

what I have fato is true, and to speak truth is not to trifle.

why voe you finde fault with mee Swhen there is no cause ?

I have cause to reprobe pou.

By what right ?

dere to laugh is usual for irridere to mock ; and yet you have conceived it so, as if I had spoke of laughing.

cause, what harm do I? Do you go on then in your flubbornneffe ?

Truly pout shall be set down in good earnest.

Deo juvante,

O You fay well; but in the in- 5 Recte dicis ; fed inte im laborandum tibieft.

> Atqui ego non fum arator. Etiam rides ? Quali laborare idem fit quod arare.

Scio non idem effe. Cur ergò sic respondisti?

Nonne istud tidere est? Et ridere non est malum, cum fit naturale omnibus hom inibus.

Pergin' tu nugas dicere? Quod dixi verum est, & verum dicere non est nugari.

Cur me immérità reprebendis ?

fure te degus.

Quo jure?

Because you know that ri-25 Quia non ignoras ridere pro irridere ufitatum effe ; & tamen fic accepiiti, quali de rifu fim loquitus.

If I make good my own 30 Si defendo causam meam, quid mali fácio? Pergis igitur effe fértinax ?

Profecto ferio notaberis.

	94 M. Corderius's		Lib
11	pray you, be not angry	Ne, quælo, mihi irakan	1
	with mee, good Martin. 3	) on Madine.	1
)	I am not angry, but I do my	Non irascor, sed office
1	office.	meum facto.
1	But, I pray you, hear mee.	Sed audi, qualo	p
)	What should I hear? your	Quid audiam ? tuas nugi	1
1	trifles?
9	Hear mee, I fay ; I will not	O Audi, inquam, non men
1	lie.	1,	4
0	Speak in thoat, I babe	Dic breviter, eft mibil	6
1	bufinelle ellewhere.	negotium.	1
P	First of ali, when you did ad-
1	monish me, I was not idle.	nuifti, non eram otio
o		45 Quid ergó?	7
-	What then?
1	If you did nothing, was you		90
	not idle?	ólus eras ?
P	I was not; if I might fay
0	foby prur leave.	rim.	6
O	and it could be a	50 Qu'i poreft id fieris
P	I will tell you, although you underffana this better,	hoc intelligis, quan	0
	then I.		10
	I did nothing, as it did	Nihil faciébam, utap	P.
	make thow; yet I though
	of tonie good.	ss aliquid boni.
O	Edl mer that nlainlier		0
P	When you make verfes, you		P often meditate a goor		(In while together, as if you were idle : although you are never leffe idle.
C	Pou are too wittie fo	Pro ift a atate nimis
	pour age.	e Eriamsi tibi (ut ais)	P
	Although you was not id	E Hamil tibi (uras)	10
	to your felf (as you fay	non eras, tamenqui	1
	yet they that faw y t	, de ent, por
- 13	might ju ge orberwise.	di are.	11
1,		A: folus eram.
0	Trae, but some might hav	ve Verum, fed foterant	1

Lib. II.

Cm

ngn

entia

ne m otió

i die

e meil ame o t apps

giran

las.

asfi f

nunci uis and

s) oni

qui n

2 in

1201

15.

come upon you in the mean time.

confesse your fault.

If there was any fault, it was in thar, that at the first fight I feemed to you to be idle, when indeed I'ze was not.

ido I ask nothing about that ; but what answer do you make concerning your mocking ?

Truly I faid nothing with a 80 Certe nihil dixi irridendi purpose to mock.

o What then?

I jefted . believe mee.

To what end 5

might learn something of you.

3 am not one that can teach you many things.

Nay I have oft times learned a great deal of good by 90 you.

What will you conclude then ?

That you pardon mee, feeing I have done nothing, as you fee, with 95 an epil intention, that I know on.

Well, I pardon you, because you feem to me to be fin= cere and open, and I neber found pou a ltar,100 pet.

intervenire.

To conclude you doe not 70 Dénique non fa éris culpam.

Siqua fuit culpa, in eo fuit. quod primo 2spectu videbar tibi effe in ótio, quum revera non elfem.

In eo nibil requiro: sed · de irrifione quid respondes ?

animo.

Quid igitur s

Jocabar, crede mibi.

Quorium?

That by talking a little I's, Ut paucis verbis fabulando, aliquid ex te addisce em.

> Non is fum à quo multa doceri queas.

> Imo tecum multum boni fæpe didici.

> Quid tandem vis concludere ?

> Ut mihi ignoscas, quando ut vides, malo animo nibil peccavi, quod équidem (ciam.

Age, ignosco, quia videris mibi candidus & apertus, neque adhuc vidi te mendacem effe.

I

-	thank you, moft sweet Martin.	Ago tibi grátias, Mu suavissime.
	Col.64. N. O.	Col 64 N. O.
A	Do you go into your own countrey then?	Ergóne abis in pátrian
	1 am confirmed to go, besting fent for by my fasther.	Cogor abire, nempe
	Are you never to come a-	Nanquamne es rever
	No, I hope 5	Non, spero.
	when are you to go?	Quando profedurus
	To morrow, I think.	Craftino die, ut opi
	will you thus forfake me then?	Siccone igitur me rel
	I must needs do fo.	Ita neceff eft.
-	and when thall I finde fuch a friend? fuch a com- panion in my fludies s	quando amicum repériam ? talem rum meórum lód
	Do not griete, be of god comfezt: God will give you a better companion.	Ne doleas, efto anim
-	Truly I know he can do it; but I can scarce hope for it.	Ille quidem poresi at ego vix spend
-	Donot take on fo much, I	Noli, obsecte, te flip is not like to die by this separation of our bodies, but it will rather increase more and more; and being absent in bedy, 2 wee shall be present in our mindes.	feparatione corpo teritura est amit stra, quin porius magis; & abser pore, præsentes à rimus.
-	What ? the Letters that wee	Quid ? Epístolz qu

M. Corderius's Colloquies

Lib. I

Et;

Ala

I ca

Do

But we

No

y

Wee

Cu 20

ig

Co

Do

CI

PI

in

d

0

[ rea

Yet

Whe D

196 fend to and fro, how great force doe you hope 30 they will have ? what ? because by that mutuall longing our love shall become more pleafant 5 am!

erlu

IS ES O

pina

m t

m cium

imt

uibi B

eft,

eran

te af

c enu

rporu

micin

ius act

) ents

s and they are all likely things which you fay, 35 but in the mean time mp grief is not all waged. Alas ! fozbeare weeping.

cannot for forrow. Doe you fo? doe you think that I am leffe grieved ? cling N But what would you do s we must over God's will.

Now, I pray you recollect pour felf; and provide 45 your self rather to eat your supper merrily.

Wee shall talk more after Supper.

O what a heavy parting is this!

Col. 65. Meffor . Valenfis.

Do you not remember that our mailter doth fo often put us in mipde of avoiding bad company?

remember it very well indeed.

Yet you sometimes make use of his admonitions carelefly enough.

Wherein do I feem to you to neglect them.

citroque d'abimus, quantam vim speras habituras effe s quid? quòd muruo illo desidério amor iple noster fiet jucundior?

Verifimilia funt que dicis ómnia, fed faterim non lenitur dolor meas.

Ah! réprime ldcbrymas. Non queo præ dolore. Siccine agis? an putas me minore dolore tangi? 40 Sed quid agas !

Divina voluntati parendum

Nunc ipfe te collige, oblecros ac porius ad bilariter coenandum te para.

Pluribus à cœna colloquémur.

O quam trifte divortium !

Col.65. Meffor. Valenfis.

Non meministi præceptorem tam fæpe monere nos de fugiendis pravis fodalibus ?

Ego verò probè memini.

Tamen alicubi fatis negligenter úteris ejus monitis. (gere ?

In quo videor tibi ca negli-

Lib.

G

H

HI

H

G

H

all men, as much as you are able. What will those things Doe 25 mæ good towards the profiting at my ftu= Dics ?

Neither burt, nor offend any body; envy no body;

contrary, love all men like brethren ; and do well to hate no body ; but on the 20

Very much.

nim

vit tt

ciene

, & 0

Duie 1

bigue

t tt

fou

pot

COL

108

H

Plurimum.

How?

Neminem neque lædito, neque offendito ; nemini

invidero; néminem ódio

habéto ; sed contrà, om-nes dilige tanquam fratres ; ac bene ómnibus, quoad poteris, fácito.

Quid illa mihi conferent ad

fludiorum profectum ?

H How?

G For fo God will enlighten your understanding, and 30 increase your memory and other gifts of the minde, to conclude, hee will so promete your ftudies, that you may every 35 day make a greater pro-greffe in them.

H Truly, you give mee very good counfell; I wish I may be able to use it continually to Gods glory, and to requite you once. 40

G I doe not defire, that you should require me on that fashion with any other favour, but that you often praise God, and al-45 waies follow honest fludies, and, that fo you may come at laft to the height of learning.

> Col. 67. Caffellanus. Meffardus.

C VVhat have you done for thefe fifteen dayes? M I tended upon my mother, who was very fick.

C Say you fo? M It is fo indeed.

C VVhat disease was fhee fick

M A tertian ague,

Quómodo ?

Sic enim Deus tibi illumini bit ingénium, memó in ac cæteras animi dos augebit, dénique fifth tua ita promovébit, e majorem in ea re pogreffum indies facias.

Lib.

CI

M 5

C

M

C

M (

CI

M 1

CI

MI

C

M

C

M

C

M -

M

C

Confilium mihi lane de optimum ; útinam in D iphus gloriam uti pent tuò valeam, tibiquea quando referre grátiam,

Non opto, ut mihi ali gratige co more refer nifi ut Deum fæpenum ro laudes, fludiaquel nefta semper persequan atque ita ad divindra literarum cognitions tandem pervenias.

> Col. 67. Castellanus. Meffardus.

Quid egifti per hos quint cim dies? Minifirdvi matri, quzgi viter agrotabat. Ain' tu? Sic eft profectó.

Quo laberábat morbo?

Febre tertiana.

Lib. II. C Hath the recovered ?

& litle, God be thanked VVbo cured her?

M The chief Doctor.

C VVho is he? M God bimfelf.

don

luk

it, t

S.

èd

in D

perpe ue all

iam,

210

efens

nún

ue b quán

ndra

1080 ous.

uind

Z

C I make no question of that ; but by whose means?

M Mr Sarafine's.

C Hee is accounted a bery great Dodoz ef phylick. 20

M His excellent cures do prove that every day.

C VVhat remedies did bee use in curing your mother?

M Medicines.

C I underftand that well enough, though you lay nothing.

But tell me plainly what medicines were those?

M Let me call my felf to mind 30 Sine me aliquantifper recora litle while.

C I doe let you ; fay at laft what you remember.

M I remember but two names, clutters and potions.

VV hat good do those do ? M Ho, you fool, you ask, as if I ftudied Phylick. And therefore if you defire your self enqu re rather of them that professe fuch things, that is, of Phylicians and Apothecaries.

I pray you, be not angry 45 Ne mihi succenseas, oro.

with mice.

An convaluit &

M She begins to recover by litle 10 Paulatim convalelcit, gratia Deo.

Duis fanavit eams Medicórum fummas.

Quis ille :

15 ple Deus

De hoc nibil dubito ; fed cujus operâ s

Dómini Sarafini,

Is babetur maximi niminis in medicinæ professione.

Id quotidie probant egrégia curationes ejus.

Quibus remediis ucebatur in curanda matre tua?

15 Medicamentis.

Satis istud intelligo, etiam te tacente.

Sed die plane, que suerint ifta medicamenta s dati.

Sino; die tandem quæ reminiceris.

Duo tantum nomina mihi 35 occurrent, clysteres & po-Quid iffa conferunt (tiones. Eho, inepte, ita rogas, quafi ego medicina operam dederam.

to know any more, do you go Itaque fi cupis amplius feire, quære tute iple ab iispotius, qui ista profisentur, hoc est, à médicis & pharmacopolis.

lus.

Lib

G

T

G

T

G

T

G

id.

te

פנומו

Ai i

ona

Veral

6m

undi nmod likin Col. 68. Grangerius. Torquetus.

G will you go to make wa= ter ?

TI have mare water at mp own leafure.

G Let us goe together, I pray you, that wee may talk a little.

T Hold your tongue, you fool, s unleffe you will be complained on, it is no time to talk ; should you not have made water, when you got your break-fait ?

G I should, but I forgot it.

the maifters good leave; and be not hereafter fol forgetfull.

G I will do as you will have mee, and 3 will think on it.

> Col 69. Malognodus. Gassinus.

M What do you think, Gaffinus?

Have a care of your felf, I pray you.

Why should I have a care of my self?

Col. 68. Grangerius. Torquetus.

Vifne ire mictum ?

Satis oticfus minxi.

Eamus una, quælo, ut parum fabulémur.

Tace, inepte, nifi vis accula. ri, non eft fabulandi tempus; nonne debuifti meiere quum jentaretur ?

Debui, sed oblitus sum. T Go then by your felf, with 10 Ito igitur folus, cum bona vénia præceptóris, nec fis podhac tam obliviósus.

> Parébo tibi. & meminero.

> > Col. 69. Malognodus. Gaffinus.

Quid cógitas, Gaffine s

Cave tibi, óbsecro.

Quid mibi cavébo?

Left

	204 M. Corderius	's Colloquies
M	Left thou fall fick.	Ne in morbum incidas.
G	From what causes	ua ex caula >
N	From too much play.	Ex nímia lusus intemperts
G	VVbence doth that danger appears	Unde apparet periculum;
M		Quia totus æftuas, totus fu- dore mades.
G	You admonish me wel', and in time.	admones.
	Truly I did not perceive it.	Profecto non sentiébam.
M	Give over, if you will take my counfeit.	Desiste, si me audis.
G <sub>.</sub>	my heart, and am ready to do what you bid me.	15 Audio verò libenter, actibi morem gero.
	For who would refuse such fairbfull advice s	Quis enim réspuat tam fidé le conssitium ?
М	wipe your face with your handkerchief, and get on your clothes quick- ly, left you catch cold on a fudbain.	Deterge faciem sudariou, & 20 indue te celériter, ne si bisum frigus contrabu.
G	I thank you. For I am com- menly apt to Difeafeg.	Hábeo tibi grátiam. Nam fere morbis sum obnéxim
M	VV hat is the reason ?	Quid est causa?
G	My want of health.	25 Infirmitas mez valetudinis
	For you see of what a weak constitution I	Vides enice quam imbecilla fum corpore.
M		Tantò magis debes tibio
	more to have a care of	vére.
G	1 know that very well, and both my parents give me warning often.	o Istud probe novi, & parens uterque me monet sepi- simé.
•	But what should one does	Sed quid agas ? natúri
	we are naturally

Lib

M

G M

G

G

R

B

R

English and Latine. Lib. II. prone to our own Des proni fumus in noftram perniciem. aruaion. M O my Gastinus, wee muft O mi Gaffine, non eft vonot serve our pleasure, but luptati ferviendum, fed we must pobibe fuz our temperántia valetuding confulendum eft. health by temperance. 6 Cato's verfe to that purpole 40 Eft in promptu carmen Catónis in eam sententiam. is forth-coming. M I remember it ; but of thefe Ténço; de bis alias; things fometime elfe ; Jam fatis indutus es. Now you are deck fut= ficiently. Nihil est quod bic morére You have no reason to stay diútius. here any longer. Vale, Malagnode, monitor Farewell, Malagnodus, most amicistime. friendly adviser. Vin' tu, ut domum te dedu-Are you willing, that I fide. thould tring pou along home. 10,8 G I need no bringing along. 50 Nihil opus eft deductione. e (i. I am bery well, by Gods Ego belle mehaben, Deibebleffing. neficio. M My Gaffiaus, have a care Mi Gaffine, cura ut valeas. you be well. Nam XIM. Col. 70. Robinerianus. Col.70. Robinerianus. Bobuffardus. Bobaffardus. dinu. ecilla R 3 wonder at my heart Valde miror cur kódie mane why you were not here to non adfueris. bia day morning. B VV by doe you wonder fo Quid miráris tantópero? much s It is no news here; many arens Nihil bie est novi; multi are away every day , yea 5 [apilabsunt quotidie, imo hoalmost every hour. ris fere fingulis. R But you had the victory in aturi Atqui victoria tibi erat in your power. manibus. 0100 What 43

3

Ju-

me

n.

cuhi

26.

	No. of the last of
	206 M. Corderi	us's Colloquies
В	Abort glory.	10 victoria (ut bene dical
R	But in the interim modest young men are hereby more enflamed to their studies;	fcentes hac ad studia magis incenduntur;
	man accien tactespois	rem Dei réferunt, quic- quid inde laudis accésse- rit.
B	Truly that falls out very fel- dome;	Id certe rarò contingit;
	for there be more that a- buse victories to their private glory, then that have any respect to Gods glory.
R	It is likely to be true that you fap.	Verissimile dicis.
B	Nay, ver y true.	Imò, veriffimum.
R	But I would have pour tell mee, why you was a- way.	Sed velim mihi dicas, cur ab- 30 fueris.
B	I wrote a letter to my father.	Scripfi ad patrem literas.
R	In whose name?	Cujus nomine?
B	My mothers.	Matris.
R	Did the her felf tell you what to write?	Dicavitne tibi ipia?
В	What should I have writ, unleste she bad told me ?	35 Quid feripliflem,nifi dida.
R	VVhat did the letter con-	Quid continébant litera!
B	It would be too long to tell you.	Longum effet tibi narrare.
R	But at leaft tell me the con=	Saltem die earum arguna

B

B

RI

B Z R V B S

HVAVEV VE

B R B R B R

B R

B

B Ask the merchants : it con= 70 Roga mercatores : nen eft cerns

d

12 ni

10-nicfie-

VI-

pri-

qui

OCI

ab.

da-

2!

rt.

BO.

Thy

To fear God, to obey my parents, to learn good arts and godlineffe. Traip pou tals gallant.

208

R

B

B

ty : but tell mee in good carnett, can you do fuch great matters ?

R Doe I affume that to my felf >

> it is not in my power to begin.

what will become of you then? God himfelf will work in B me by his spirit. R You think very well: I required no more of you.

B I bank God, to whom I am beholding for any good that is in me.

That is very well, and truly R I commend you, that I may not feem to you to do nothing but prattle.

When I faid that, in truth ! B jefted.

So I conceived it ; R but do you go on (as you have begun) to learn & to be wife.

B He that hath given me faith, the same (I hope) will noo grant me perseverance.

You hope well, and I hope the fame too : and thereQuid igitur curas ?

L

R

R

M

R

M

R

M

R

M R

M

R

M

R 1

MIS

Ut Deum timeam, paies tibus obédiam, bons p. tes cum pierare discan.

Næ tu magnifice loquein: fed die mihi fériò, patés res tantas efficere?

Egóne istud mihi affuno

Nay rather I confesse, that 80 Quin potius fateor, neine pere quidem penes m effe: Quid ergo de te fiet?

> Deus iple fpiritu luo inm 85 operabitur.

Optime fentis : ribil as præterea requirebam.

Eft Deo grátia cui acception refero quicquid ined i 90 me boni ?

iftud recte. & laudoem dem, ne tibi videar min a liud quàm garire.

Cum illud dicerem, jocabi fané. Ego fic accepi ; fed tu (ut cæpisti) pop discere & Sapere.

Qui mihi dedit fidem, idet (ut fper ) perieverantes dabi:

Bene speras, & ego iden fr to tecum : itaque perf

fore let us go on to live mod lobingly betwirt our felven, as wee have done hitherto.

Truly there hall be no failing on my part, un-leffe 1 be altogether de-fittute of Gods help.

aic)

25 2- B

m.

ert:

nein

umo:

C Inci

es m inm

l era m.

ceptes

ieff i emi

dia 1

ocabe

pergi

ides

201129 m fr

perp

R Bob fozbid; but do you hear the clock?

How have wee finished our discourse in good time?

The two Colloquies which follow are, according to the Buthous Direction, referred to the end of this Second Book.

Col. 71. Ruffetus.

R VVhence come you?

M From abroad.

R VVhat went you forth for?

M To buy paper.

M I have bought forme

M I have bought some.

R How much have you M A quire. (bought ?

R For how much?

M Five farthings.

R Of what fort?

M The leffer fort.

R Let me fee it.

M See whether it be good or mus inter nos vivere conjunctissime, ut adduc fecimus.

Per me quidem non stabit, nisi ope divina prorlus ero destirucus.

Avertat ipfe Deus; sed audin' tu horelógium? Ut in ipso tempore seimónem finívimus?

Duo que sequebantur Collóquia, de consilio Auttórie sunt transláta ad sinem bujus Secundi Libri.

Col. 71. Ruffetus. Monachus.

Unde venis ?

Foris.

Quid prodieras?

Ut émeiem chartam.

Emi.

Quantam emisti?

Scapum.

Quanti?

10 Quinque quadrantibus.

Cujus formæ?

Minóris.

Oftende.

Vide num bena fit.

R	Truly it is good; for what 15 Bona est profe use did you buy it?	ctó: in ann	ib.
1	Inenta quant
M	What use is there of paper   Quis est charmed but to write?	arum ufne nic	R
R	C lealing N Cit
M	What? tell me.   2015? cero.	3	M
R	TV Date 1 cont	volventas .	2
M		de charta Ch.	R
	nor of courle-paper; laftica, no		M
	for I am no mercer. 25 62; non cator.	enim fum mer-	1
R			R
36	a new writing.   candam re	centem scriptu-
M		d charteille	M
INT	that is blotting paper. bibula.	a sparts mis cit
R	And yet it is paper. Et tamen ch	arta eft
M	1 1 20
R		alciplex charz
	paper even in the school. 35 usus étian		H
M			B
R		n tibi aliumu	H
		uidem in scholi
	mon in the school. frequenti	flimum.	B
M			H
R	I dare not tell you without   Non aufim	dicere fine prawords of reverence be- fatione !	VIII	B
	fore.	THE RESERVE OF THE PARTY OF THE	H
M	What need wee to make Quid opus	M HINET HOS DO	B words of reverence a- notem pr	ztari ? non ent	H
	mongst our selves i for 45 verba for	rent.	B
	words do not flink.		H
R	I will tell you then, feetna Dicam igitt		В
M			H
R	To wipe one's breech in Ad tergend	as nates in latif
	the house of office. na.		B
M	Fair papers are net car- 50 Uliu nen	feruntur charte

Enolish and Latine. Lib. II. 2 I I ried thither, but those pura, fed jam feripiæ, ex-0 that are already written que inutiles. and good for nothing. Quid tum ? chartæ funt ta-R What then ? yet they are nifi men. papers. M Bat I speak concerning 55 Ac ego de charta pura &c fair paper, and new. nová loquébar. Sed interim victus es. But in the mean time you are capt. Cbo-Sit it à fane; non me pœni-M Be it lo indeed ; it doth not eutet disputatiunculæ hurepent me of this our litle nerdisputation. jus nostræ. Sed jam à lusu discéditur. R But now they go away from fictheir play. ptu-Et nos ergo loco cedamus. And let us go away then from this place. a eff Col.72. Hugh. Brafius. Col. 72. Hugo. Brafius. artz Habesne bonum atramenti ? H have you any good ink? B VVby do you ask that? Cur iftud rogas? H That you may give mee a Ut mihi des aliquantulum. Im Ulitle. chola V Vhat now, have you none? Eho, non habes? H Yes, but I cannot write with 5 Imó; sed eo non possum it. scribere. pra-VV hat hinders you > Quid obstat > H Because it is too thick. Quia nimis Spiffum eft. Do you not know how to os bo-Nescis diluere ? make it thinner. enio H I have no water. Non eft mihi aqua. Make it thinner with wine, Di ue vino. H I have far leffe of that. 14 114 Malto minus. What if you made it thinner Quid fi acéto dilúeres ? with vinegar ? The paper would fink Latti-Inde charta perflueret. thereupon. How do you know? 15 Qui fcis ? batt THE

2	M. Corderius's Colle
H	I have heard it of a maifter, Audi	i de quodam magilim B
B	And I have meater another	CIO allud audi i mani l
	thing more in ange.	LUMI.
	I pray you, tell me it. 20 Nari	a mih, fodes.
	What will you give me?	mibi dabis?
H	a god pin. Bonz	m aciculam. B
. В	Heat then what I learnt of Audi	Island quid coo dilla
	a certain Ichool-mainer	quodam pzdagóm u
	of mine.	eo.
	Ink which is made thin with Atra	mentum quod sceto
	vineger is hardly wip'e q	iefactum eft, zgredi
11		r.
п	It may be fo; but in the Fier mean time give me a little 30 m	poteft ; sed interima
	for mp prefent ufe.   u	ibi parum in prasemm B
R		e atramentarium tous
		ene apertum, ego infu am eibi
H		i infunde.
		I and m Hamilton all
	is I	r: quant riquidum ar: B
B	Perhaps because there is not For	taffe quia non eft gur H H gum enough.	ni fatis.
H	But how bad-coloured it Sed	quam décolor !
	is!	V
В	Make use of it if you will, 40 Ute	re si vis, quale quale of on enim habeo melin
	no better.
	What thall I do then?   Qu	id igitur faciam? B
В	O you feel, can you not He	n inepte, non potes po
	mir it well with your	â tuâ bene miscere? HA
H	pen.
п	I have mingled it enough ; 45 Mí	cut fatis ; quid pour prætérea? B 1
Ъ		unde rurlus in ton
, u	Hold is pearen . is shown a	neum.
* 77	Hold is neerer; is there e- Ad	move própiús: éffacis
	l nordus (201 )	is?

からない からかい 一般のできない よいないないない am, ut interim difcam a-

Erperia

liquid.

gi

idia

Sógo

0 eli

m d

mien

toug

nfus.

eff!

Sm

le ef

gélin

es por police

COLL

Roek

e jell

in the mean time,

13

P

D

P

D

P

D

P

din.

ftrs.

ter

quo

ùs, u elicca

atis.

fit!

m fee

oction

ziltran

ce imi

IXTION

emper

Phill

ceio.

denti

; 20

TH

D

P

P

The Third Book of school-Colloquies.

Wherein are contained Difcourses of a Maister with his Scholars.

The Advertisement.

These Colloquies are to be fo read of children, that of two that read one may play the Scholar, and the other the Maister.

Col. 1. One of the Scholars, and the Maister.

God fave you, Maister, God fave you through Jesus Christ.

Christ.

Tre thep all got up?

All except the little ones.

Is any one fick?

None, thankes be to God. What are they doing?

Some are getting on their clothes, and some are studying hard airendy

Is the Usher with you? A good while ago.

Goe to prayers then, and commend your felves diligently to the Lord God through Jefus Christ our 15 Mediatour; and after-Colloquiorum Scholasticcrum Liber Tertius.

Cui insunt Magistri collóquia cum Discípulis.

Admonitio.

Hæc púeris ita legenda erunt, ut ex duóbus lege'ntibus unus discipulum, alter præceptórem agat.

Col.1. Unus ex Discipulis. Præceptor.

Salve, Præceptor. Salve per Jesum Christum.

An surrexérunt omnes?
Omnes præter parvulos.
Nunquis ægrótat?
Nemo, gratia Deo.
Quid agitur?
Alii se induunt; alii jam student gnaviter.

Jamdúdum. (scalus ?
Ite sigitur precátum, vósque diligenter commendate
Dómino Deo, per Jesum
Christum, deprecatórem nostrum; deinde pérgite
P 4 wards

2	16 M. Corderius's	Colloquics	Lik
1	wards go to your books	in fi údiis veftris,usqued	L	V
D	in wantere do muster.	Illa lo e nue processi	D	1
P	Truly Lebelieve it ; but be- 20	Credo equidem . G	L	H
r	cause you are commonly	I ICIC TOMMICHIAL AL		18
	siecpie and negligent, 1	negligentes, ideires es
	therefore admonish you	vos admóseo fapiús		F
	the ofrner.	aco iz pius,		F
D		Gratiam habemus, prece-	n	1
	maister.	peor humanistime.	L	1
	Would you have any thing	Nunquid vis prztérea?	L	1
	elfe ?			1
P	Speak to my man, to	Die famulo, ut togam dife.		1
	biting mee my gofon.	rat.	D	1
	bying me my go-		-	1.
	Col. 2. The Maister.	(1-1 - T-1:- 10	L
	The Scholar.	Col. 2. Ludimagister.	D
A second	106 3000001.	Discipulus.	L	1
		N. 101 - N. 1 - 1		1
L	Was you at the fermion to	Adfuissine kodie concide	D
	day?	facra?		T
	I was there.	Adfui.		1
L	Who are your witnesses?	Qui sunt testes ?	L	1
D	Many of my school fellowes	Multi ex condiscipulis, qu that faw mee there can	me viderunt, teftaripol		1
	witnesse it.	funt.
L	But some must be produced.	Sed producendi erunt il	I	)
_		quot.		1
D	I will produce them, when	o Producam, quam Jubeon.	I you bid mee.	a to 1 () to assert from
L		Quis habuit concionem?		1
D		Dom. N.		1
L	At what a clock did hee be-	Quota hora incépit?		1
-	gin÷
D	At Icven.	Séptima.		1
L	Whence did hee take his	5 Unde lumpht mems:	I	)
•	tert?	O Doubled Romb	1
D	I am the printer of a war	Ex Epift. Pauli ad Romi	1	0
	l. tothe Romanes.	nes. VVIII		184
			-

1,

		The State of the S
	218 M. Corderius's
1.1		Non poruiti att.	Lib.
-	nay, you would not, or 50	noluiti, aut cent	DI
	certainly you did not	curaiti.	L
1	care.	cu. a.c.
D		Cogor fatéri.	DI
L	What thing enforceth you?	Our res to and	LI
D		Quæ res te cogit ?
D	My conscience, which accu-	Conscientia mea, que
-		acculat apud Denm	DA
L	You fay well; I wish you	Recte eicis, utinam era
_	fpake from your beart!	mo:	I
D	Truly, I fpeak from my heart.	Equidem ex ánimo dies.
L	Boit map be ; but come	Ita fieri poteft ; fed age
	on, what was the rea 60	fuit causa, quamob	L
	fon, why you got nothing	nihil memoriz manda	2 100
_	by heart 9	ris.	D
D	My owne negligence, for 3	Negligentia mea, non to did not give any great	ailizenter audiebam.
	care.	100 P	L
L	What did you do then? 65	Quid igitur faciébas?
D	I fell afteep ever now and	Iré stidem dormiébam,	D
	then.
L	So you use to do; but what	Ira foles ; fed quid agebu	L
1 4	did you the rest of the	réliquo témpore?	1
100	time?
D	I thought of a thousand	Cogitabam mille inépi	D fooleries, as children use 70 to do.	ut tokin p	8 1
L		An tu dded puer es, ma	L
-	Are you to bery achilde,	débess attentus the
	that you could not be at-	Dei en diendir
	tentive to hear the word	verbum Dei audiendu
-	of God?
D	If I were attentive, I might	Si attentus effem, pofen	2
	benefit fomething. 75	liquid proficere.	U
L	Waat have you deserved	Quid igicur meruisti?	L
16	theo?	C8
D	Stripes.	Vé bera.
I	You have deserved indeed,	M ruifti profetto,idque!	D
	and that good store.	M Milli plotter
	and that 2000 Hole.	giffime.

English and Latine. Lib. III. b) D lingeniously conteste ir. the L from the teeth out wards, I suppose. D Nay verily, from my heart L Perhaps fo, but in the mean time get pou readp to be whipt. D Ah maifter, I befeech you, 85 Ah magifter, igno ce, obfeforgive me. I confesse I have done amifs, but not of an illpurpole. But that fo westellefs negligence is the next to,90 lewdneffe. D Truly I do not deny it, but I beleech you mercy for Jesus Christs fake. L What will you do then, if 195 shall pardon you? D I shall do my duty hereafter. I hope. You should have faid withall, by Gods help, but you 100 quz :

um.

era dics.

age a mobil anda

ton en

4m.

3 ?

ım.

geba

s, ut n

che

endur offen!

if

lque

care litle for that. inepi D Yes maister, by Gods help, I will perform my dury > hereafter. L Well, 3 parbon gonr fault for pour teares tos fahe; & I pardon you en that condition, that you remember your promise.

D I thank you, kinde maister. You shall be in special fa= bour with me, if you no be as good as your word. D God almighty grant, that I may do it.

|30| Ingénue confireor. Verbo tenus, opinor.

> Imò certe, ex animo. Fortaffe, fed interim para te ad plagas recipiendas.

Peccavifateor, sed nulla ex malitià.

Arqui tam fupino ifta negligentia proxime ad malitiam accesit.

Non equidem infi ior, sed tuam imploro clementiam per Jefum Chriftum.

Quid igitur facies, fi tioi ignovero?

Faciam officium meum posthac, ut spero.

Addendum erat, adjuvante Dec, fed id parum curas.

imò magifter, adjuvante Deo, præfiabo posthac officium.

Age condono culpam tuis 12chrymis ; tibique ea lege ignosco, ut promissi memineils.

" (ni Time.

Gracias ago, maginer huma-Eris apud me in maxima gratia, si promissa servaveris.

Faxit Deus optimus maximus, ut poffim.

I

3

0

1

Lib. III.

qui a A

lippu

tto.

ex dil

cis.

meo.

Suo,

eter pi

loct

iquem.

cum t

lagiffs P fome that A Bere are would fpeak with

pou.

Where are they ? They tarry for you in the town=ltreet.

I will go to them prefently. But thep are in hafte.

Run b. fore and bring them into the court-yard, I will 10 come after you 3 do yee in the mean time tarry and be quiet.

I will be here by and by, that I may fend you away to supper. O what a good word is I 5 O quam bonum verbum!

Col. 5. Canellus. The Maifter.

nten d C Maister, what shall wee say to morrow morning?

I told you openly to day morning before you gave, over the school.

But I was not there, mai- 5

Ask your school-fellowes. For if they should ask me every one feveral concerning things that I spake 10 openly, I pray thee, when should there bee an end ?

Sunt quidam qui te conventum volunt.

5 Ubi funt ? Te expectant in vico.

Nunc adibo. Atqui urgent.

Præcurre tu, atque eos intromitte in aream, ego te fequar ; vos interim expestate cum silentio.

Mox ego adero, ut vos ad cœaam dimittam.

> Col. 5. Canellus. Præceptor.

Præceptor, quid reddémus cras mane?

Hódie manè palàm dixi ante è schola mislionem.

At ego non aderam, præceptor.

Roga condicipulos. Nam fi vellent fingult me interrogare de rebus à me palam dictis, quælo, quando finis effet ?

P

C

P

C

P

C

P

C

P

C

P

F

P

F

P

hafte.

VV

wi

It W ī

1 y

Th

Yo

D

ib. Ili. I will come again as foon as can be.

V Ve are all bere, maifter, what doz you please to command as ?

It was enough to bid; I am neither Commander nor 15 Magistrate. 3 gabe 02per to call for pour hi= ther, that I might pur you in minde of your duty.

T ad p

me

63 â qu

105, Q

erant

ámole

re.

quinq

vatore

in bu

ftin'

et at 10 qu

effin.

Therefore hearken minde diligentip.

You are not ignorant with how great fear of the Lord, I chose you yesterday in our common-hall. 25 VVes began with devout prayers; our admonition followed, and our exhortation to ail the cempa= ny of scholars touching 30 the fear of the Lord, and touching manners which become scholars which are daily at the schools and then I choic you five not without the approba-35 tion of the best youthes, whom I thought fit for this employment; at last of all, we came to thanks-giving Do not therefore think that action , in which the name of the Lord hath been called upon so seri-145

the later prayer and a 40

Quamprimum rediero.

Adfumus omnes, præceptor. Quid tibi placet imperare?

Satis erat jubé e; nec ego fum Imperator, nec Magiftra us. Ego vos buc accersendes justi, ut vos vettri officii commonefacerem.

and 20 Vos igitur attentis auribas atque ánimis audite.

Non ignoraris quanto cum timore Domini, hesterno die palam in aula nostra communi vos elégerim.

Auspica: sumus à sacris precibus ; lequuta est acmonitio noftra atque exhortatio ad omnem cetum scholasticum de timore Dómini, déque moribus qui déceant studiosos in schola quotidie versantes, deinde non fine optimorum adolescentium approbatione Vos quinque quos ad hoc munus iconeos existimavi ; politémò, ventum est ad lecundam cum gratiarum actione precationem.

Ne igitur putétis ludum fuifle aut jocum act'onem illam, in qua nomen Domini tam sturioully, oufly, to be a play or a jeit. And although this fun aion feem both base and abjest with them that are unskilfull and proud; 50 vet do you think that fervice of yours to be both honourable and holy. Bat if you shall think otherwife, it cannot be, 55 that you should rightly discharge your office. Therefore I exhort you all that I can, and I befeech

you for Jefus Christs fake, that in the fear and 60 reverence of God you show diligence in all those things which you shall conceive to belong

Let there be far from you therefore all partialitie, hatred, favour, studie of revenge, and the like. which carry men a: 70 way, and corrupt found Judgment.

your office.

Fear not the threats of lewel persons, wherewith they use to deter the mindes of young men from their 75 duty.

For what power bave they over you? rather fear him who is the Lotd, who hath power of life and Death.

diole fuerit invocato

Ac licet apud imperious arrogantes hoc munu vile & abjectum videz vos tamen crédite, ci honorificum tum fans effe veftrum iftul mi fterium. Quod 6 1 existimabitis, fieri n poteft, ut munere ve rede fungamini.

Itaque ego vos ethor quantum poffum, & Jeium Christum d iter, ut cum Dei im atque reverenna dile tiam præfetis in is d nibus quæ intelligets officium veltrum per 65 nere.

A vobis igitur ablit on favor, odium, gratii, dium vindicandi, & fin lia, quæ tras verfos un homines, & finceruma rumpunt judicium.

Ne timeátis improbot minas, quibus illi ánin adolescentium ab off solent absterrere.

Quam enim habent int porestácem ? póciuses We timéte qui vefter ett D minus, qui vita un potest atem habet. 80

If

Be

Lib

L

Do

1 Th

(

d

0

ROL 2

rideka

ite, ca

a fanô

id mi

6 35

leri n

te vel

ethor

m, &

ion e ci tim à dile

n iis d

ligets um po ofit on ratii,

1, & 60

T 605 45

erum

um.

probot

lli anii

ab off

ent in óciùs en

er eft D

12 61

et.

Let the feat (I fay) or that fo great a Prince be al way befoze pour eyes. Yee thall facur (I know) the barred of fome wicked 85 and lewd perfons ; but les the love and dearneffe of your heavenly Father a lone be of more weight with you, then all the til- 90 will of all men.

Be alwaies mindfull of that faying, whereby our Saviour and chiefe Maister exhorted his Disciples to constancy:

If the world bate you (quoth) he) know that it bated mee before.

Do not yee therefore care a pin for all the threats, of fences, and grudgings of knavish fellows in respect of Christ bimself; for long as yee may faithfully do fervice to the glory of God.

ning which I thought good now to admonish you according to the hortness of the time, belides thole things which you heard yefter-ino day in the ball.

Wee give you hearty thanks. molt kinde mailter, and wee befeech Chrift, that be would alwaies increase Illius (inquam) tanti principis timor vebis ob oculos Semper obverseiur. curréci. (cio) ia áliquot improbo um ac diffolutórum ódium; fed plutis vobis fit uni9 Patris velli cœleRis amor, & charitas, quam omnes omnium bominum inimicitia.

Elto:e semper mémores verbi illius, quo Servator nofter & fummus Præceptor suos Discipulos ad conftantiam hortabatur :

Si vos (inquir) odit mundus, (cit te quod me prius ódio babuerit.

Vos igieur propter ipium Christum omnes flocci facite nebulonum minas, offentiones, inimici is; dummodo glotie Dei possitis intervi e fideliter.

These are the things concer-tos Hae funt de quibus nune protemporis brevitate vos admonendos elle existimari, > præter illa quæ vos in aula besterno die audivistis.

Maximas ubi gratias agimus, praceptor humanissime, & Christian precamue, ut sua dona his gifts in you. And wee earneftly defire you, that (if it bee no trouble to pou) you would give us your exhortation written down, 120 that wee reading it over fometimes amongit our felves, may fallen it the better in our memozy Fi will do that at the first opportunity, feeing yee request a thing which in-125 deed is very honeit. We defire too (if you pleaf) to have of you a little note written of the chief heads of our office, thar 130 we may be certified what we are chiefly to minde in this matter.

You put mee in minde of this in good time, and fo 135 T was refolbed a gob while ago, but every bap one thing after another bath hindered mæ.

Therfore I wil give you fuch a litle note, to wit, which 140 may contain whatfoever belongs to the duties of publick monitors; and ye shall watte it out of mp copp, which I will keep, to 145 the end that I may deliver it also to other monitors which are like to be hereafter.

Now return yee every man'

Lib. tibi femper adauget, A te verò vehementer pi 1. mus, ut (fi tibi meleta w. non eft) præfcriptante nobis hortationem tun quò illam inter nes que doque relegentes, and riæ tenacius infigina C

M

T

T

W

T

W

₹

y

W

Ik

We

Go

We

t

Idego faciam primoque tempore, quandoqu rem sane honeftiffe C postularis.

Optamus étiam àte (fit cet ) commentariolum ptum habére de pracis officii nostri capinbu fimus certióres quida tiffimum bt nobishi re observandum.

In iplo tempore de bai mones, & fic ego jui dem in animo baben sed me quotidie flin alio impedivit.

Dabo igitur ejulmodi o mentariolum, quod licet contineat qui ad observatorum put rum efficia perund id autem describen iplo archétypo meo, ideo fervare volo, mo ris quoque traderepi futuris observatoribu

Nunc redite in fum to his form. wee go Araight= way, 1. Maifter. ob.

> Col. 7. Clericus. the Maifter.

Muister, may not I and my uncles fon go home ? M To what end ? To my fifters daughters del.

man

inba

quid :

e bai

babeh

e dlin nodi a quod i t quic

um publ

pertina

Criben

meo,

00,110

adere pi

atoribo fum?

wedding.

When is the to be married?

To morrow.

To morrow. Why will ye go fo quickly ?
To change our clothes.

yemay go for me : but on this condition, that you to come hither again to morrowto bed.

What if my uncle will have is tarry the latter weds bing Day?

Iknow very well, he will not Itay you, if fo be you tell, I him on what condition I let you go.

We will rell the truth.

Go your way, and take heed of all Diftemper ; and caufe that your light may 20 fhine before all men, that our beavenly father may be glorified.

We truft it will be fo, by his affitting of us in all things.

que auditorium,

Rect à imus, præceptor.

Col. 7. Clerious. Magister.

L'cerne, magister, ut ego & patruélis camus domums Quid có? Ad auptias confobrinz.

Quando est nuprura ? Crastino die.

Cur tam citò vultis ire? Ut mutémus vestimenta.

Per me licet eatis ; bactamen lege, ut cras huc redratis cubitum.

Quid fi volet patruus wex. pectémus repotia?

Non detinébit vos fatis fcio, dummodo dicatis ei qua lege dimiferim.

Verum freebimur.

Abite, & ab comni cavete intemperantia : faciléque ut luceat lux veffra coram hon inibus u glorifice ut nofter ille cæ effis Parer.

lea quidem fperamus fore, iplo nos in omnibus adjuvante.

Q 2

25

Col.

Col		8.	Laurence.
	th	2	Maister.

Mry I nor go forth, Maifter What caufe have you to go forth >

That I may feek some of ou countrey folks in the mar-what need to there of, that?

L

Would freak to him to put inp friends in minde eicher to bring me some bread, or send me feme.

where bread fails, there M all things are to be feld. 10 T

That is a common proverb L

* among us.

M Yea, a very common one every where, fo necellary 9 is bread for the life of 15 man.

But to the matter: would you now go abroad?

If you please, Maister, test 3 loofe the oppostunity of my bullneffe.

M Go your way, and make hafte to come again be: toze dinner.

L Truly I will do my endeavour.

Col. 9. Beatus.the Maifter.

May I not go forth with my brother ?

Cel 8 Laurentins, Magifler.

B

P

B

13

B

P

B

P

P

Licetne exire, magifter? Quæ tibi eft excundiranis

Ut quæram in foro alique ex nostratibus.

Quid iftud opur eft.

Mandaroilli volo,utmess al moneat de pane mibi a adferende, aut mittende, u bi panis déficit, omnis fa illie vendlia.

Iftud volgarum eft apute proverbium.

Imo ubique pervulgam adeò panu mortalium ta eft neceffarim.

sed ad rem ; tu nunch dire vis ?

Si tibi placer, magifter, negotii occupia mei amittam.

Abis & feftina ante pri um redire.

Dabo équidem óperan.

cel. 9. Beatus. Pizco

Liceine mihi exire unid fratre ?

B

us shoes; and then that 5 we may go to the bar= ber.

To what pu pole?

1;

*C10(2)

lique

109M mibi :

trende

nnis a apuda

olgam

Lium 3

ounc pr

ifter,

ccafin

e pris

zce

unio

Corut our hair. What need is there now?

may go to morrow to fee our uncle.

Go and come again in due time to your books, certificate from your mother against to morrow, or bring a wirnette along with you.

B By Gods help, I will have a ipeciail care of ir.

World you have any thing elfe. Maifter?

That you prefent mp fer= P bliete pour morger.

> Col. 10. Albertus. the Maister.

Maifter, may we not go to the barbers

Why lo >

To cat our bair. A

Ye would willingly go forth 5 P fix times every day , but tarry till to mozzow, that ye may go with the reft.

A But the barbers = Shop will be throng'd by reason of 10 grit in confirma. the market.

Quid caufæ est?

That my mother may buy "Ut mater emat nobis cálceos , deinde ut tonforem adeamus.

Quid to?

Resectum capillos. Quid nunc opus?

That (if God permit ) we 15 Ut cras ( fi Dominus permilerit ) invisamus patruum.

> Ite & marure redire ad fludium.

But, ho boyes, bring me a 20 Sed, heus pueri, adferte mihi à matte testimonium in craftinum diem, aut teftem addúcite.

> Des juvante, id curabo diligenter.

Nunquid aliud vis, præceptor ?

Ut meis verbis matrem officióse falutetis.

> Col. 10. Albertus. Præceptor.

Præceptor, licé:ne nobis ire ad ton orem?

Quid co ?

Ut capillum tondeamus.

Libenter quotidie exiretis fexies : quin expectace in craftinum diem, ut catis un' cum exteris.

Atqui propter forum turba What

M VIII V H	cet you to your books again. s you please, maister.  Col. 11. Bargius. the Maister.  Laister, my father hath sent for me. Where is he? the Inne. When came he? le came but even now. Oho brought you word	- 1	O ii ad expectand Recipite vos ad studi Ut libet, præceptor.  Col. 11. Bargi Præceptor,  Præceptor, accersor  Ubi es est ? In diversirio. Quando venit ?. Advenit modó.
M VIII V H	Col. 11. Bargius. 1he Maister.  laitter, my father hath fent for me. Where is he? 1 the Inne. When came he? le came but even now.	5	Col. 11. Bargi Przeceptor.  Przeceptor, accerfor  Ubi es est ? In diversorio. Quando venit?.
VIIIV	the Maister.  Lailter, my father hath fent for me.  Vhere is he?  In the Inne.  Vhen came he?  Le came but even now.	5	Præceptor, accerfor Ubi es est ? In diversirio. Quando venit?.
VIIIV	tent for me.  Vhere is he?  In the Inne.  Vhen came he?  It came but even now.	5	Ubi es est ? In diversirio. Quando venit ?.
I V	Vhere is he?  the Inne.  Vhen came he?  le came but even now.	5	In diversorio.
V	Vhen came he? le came but even now.	5	Quando venit ?.
H	le came but even now.	5	Quando venit ?.
-		5	Advenir madá
n	the brought you word		m :
	fo foon ?		Quis tibi tam cità
	le fent his man to me.		Misit ad me samulu Ubi est ?
	Vhere is be? De tarties for me at the boor.	10
1	Vhy did you not bring him in ?		Cur illum non intr
1	e would not come in.		N bluit intr dre.
1	V by fo?		Quid itá?
	tecause ( as he faith ) he is	15	Quia ( ut ait ) fel urgetur.
0	fpeak with him a little; and then go your way;		Voca illum, ut pauc niam; deinde abi ra ut quam prin
1	but fee you be here as		adfis.
13	will go call him.	10	Eo voc dium.

Lik

LRLR

L

R

L R L

P

S

ball

IM,

R

R

L

2 100

MAC

edu.

omiff

rnatio

s Com

fela

P

R

Col. 12. The Maister. Ruscinaus.

VVbere is Martin? De is gone to the market.

VVhy fo? Co buy a girdle as be

He should not have gone forth without my bidding: But this is not thing to you.

VVho shall give you your drinking?

R He faid he would come again at two of clock, to give it us.
L What if he decive you?

What if he deceive you? Chat is not bis fashion.

Unlesse he come at the hour appointed, put my wife in mind of your drinking; for she bath another key of the buttery.

Col. 13. The Maister. Scarronus.

3 monter greatly whence you come now.

I come again from home,

Maister.
Why went you home?
To fetch my bever.

Col. 12. Ludimagister. Ruscinzus.

Ubi est Martinus?
Ivit ad forum.

Quid eó ? Empeum ( ut dixit ) cingu=

lum. Injustu meo exire non débuit :

fed hoc nibil ad te.

Quis dabit vobis merendam?

Dixit se horâ secundâ rever-

Quid si fallat? Id non est moris ejus.

Nisi ad horam adfuerit, admone uxórem de vestra merenda; habet enim clavem alteram cella penudria.

Col. 13. Praceptor.

Demiror unde nunc vénias.

Domo rédeo, præceptor :

Cur iveras domum? Petitum merendam,

4 Why

M. Corderius's Colloquies Why had you not brought's Quamobrem non attile it ? Mater erat occupata My mother was bufie. Quid tum ? debuifti ti What then? should you goe injuffu meo? abroad without my bid ding ? Non debui, fateor. I ought not, I confesse. What have you deserved 10 Quid igitur meruifi? P then ? Plagas accipere : To be Suhip't; fed ignosce mibi, qui but I pray you, mailter, præceptor. pardon mec. Cur non petivifti exe P Why did you not agh leab to go fortin? potefidiem? Qia non audebam te Because I durit not disturb terpellare. you. P Quid agébam? What was I doing? Tenébas libellum qui S You was holding a litle dam, & legebas aliqui book, and reading fome- 10 thing. P It map be fo, but yet yee! Fieri poteft, sed vos tan often diftuib mee about fæpe me interpellan a fmaller matter ; thererem lev d'em; nunc ign fore get pou ready to para te ad vapulandum be swhip t. I pray you, maister, pardon 25 Parce mini, oblecto, pa ceptor. Sine ut priùs cogitem a Let mee unbethink mp quantifper. seil befoze a Utle While. Age, parco, tum quit Weil, I parden you, both genue confirers, t because you confesse in-120 quod facis Audioiusmi genionly, and Because videris. you frem to mee to be fludious enough. Gratias ago máximas, I thank you very heartily, ceptor hunanissime.

molt kinde mailter.

L

(

tile

ta.

ti?

i, gaz

i exem

am te

s aliqui

VOS tam

ellani

unc ign

landun

cro, pri gitem a quis !

rs, t io.us m

imas,

Hime.

fti a

Col. 14. William. The Maifter .

G Maifter, I habe no paper left to watte withall, will you give me a book ?

For what ule s Partly for Colloquies, and 5 partly for copies. Have you fet it bown in pour book :

I have fet it down.

Let me see it.

fter.

L VVhat is that ? you have fet down eighteen fineers : will you have of the larger paper then?

G It you pleafe. L

left bee should make any doubt, shew him your book, that he may fet the same thing down in his I bear you.

G L too that you be not spoil your paper, for fear pour father be very augry with pou. God grant I may make G good ufeofit.

Col. 14. Gulielmus. Lucianag fter.

Præceptor, non reftat mihi charta ad feribendum, vi [ne dare codicem ?

Quem in ulum? Partim ad collóquia, partim ad ex mplaria.

Resulti in librum tuum

Retult. Oftende.

Look you where it is, mai- 10 Ecce tibi, præceptor.

Quid iftud ? retulifti octodecim: vis ergo de majon?

Si tibi placet.

Ask my man foz it ; and 15 Pete à famulo ; ac re dubiter, oftende illi tuum codicem, ut idem in fuum réferat.

Audio.

Hear then ; and take beed 20 Audi ; item cave abutaris charta, ne tibi pater graviter succenfeat.

Faxi: Deus, ut bene utar.

Col. 15. Grivetur. The Maifter.

Col. 15. Griverus;

Maifter, may I go forth?

Wby fo? To buy meatsknibeg.

Where are those which you had?

I left them at home.

Why fo? Because they were become dull, and good for no= thing. Have you any money to buy L

My mother gave me fome. Who shall help you to buy them ? Gerardus. G

not coulened. We will have a care by G

Gods help. He indeed helpeth all men, L > nour. Col. 16. Vernet the Maifter.

but especially those that Spatula.

V Maifter, may I fpeak a word of two with you? Speak.

Ludimagifter.

L

S

L

S

L

Præceptor, lieetne prolini Quámobrem ? Ut ema cultellos menfirin Ubi funt quos habébas?

Reliqui domi. Quid ita? Quia jam obtúfi erant, & inutiles.

Habelne pecuniam ad em dos álios?

Mater dedit mihi. Quis erit adjutor ad en dum ? Gerardus.

Go verily , and fee pou be I 5 Ite fane, & cavete nem imponatur. Cavébimus, Deo juvant.

Omnes quidem juve, cos potifimum, qui e jus honorem omnin refer all things to his ho- 20 ferunt.

> Col 16. Vernetus, Ludion fter. Spatula.

Præceptor, licetne paus

Loquere.

L

L

odin!

farin.

125

20t, 8

d ette

d ene

VADIL.

uvat, t

qui ון נוחם

udios

TIEL

5

V We two propounded, if you thought good fo, to go te walk abroad, whileft others play.

hither will ye go abroad? neo the next fuburbs.

And what will you do as you walks

We will hold some confe-

But of good and honest matters.

for and this fo goodly a face of the earth will afford us some honest subject.

praising God wanting, at leaft way to those that truely ferve him.

Never indeed; but that we may return to the purpole (maifter) will you give us 25 leave to go abroad out of the citie?

Unleffe your confant fidelity, and true lobe to learning were wel know |30 tome, I would never give you leave ; especially see ing naughty pouter have fo often beguiled me in this kind.

come home again to sup= per in Due time.

Nos duó proponebámus, fi tibi ita videretur, ire, dum czteri ludunt, foras ambuldtum.

Ouo valtis exire?

In próxima fuburbána.

Quid autem agétis ambulantes >

Tra Cabimus colloquium aliquod.

Sed de bonis & honeftis rebus.

This fairnelle of the fea= 15 Hac temporis ferenitas, & tam pulchra terræ facies præbébunt nebis boneflum áliquod argumentum.

There is never matter of 20 Nunquam deeft Dei laudandi materia, duntaxat veris ejus cultóribus.

> Nunquam profect ; fed ut ad propositum revertamur, permittis nobis(præcepter ) extra urbem prodire >

> Nifi mibi perspecta effet ve-Ara perpétua fidelicas, & amor liter drum. permitterem ; nunguam præfertim cum pravi adolescentes me fæpe in boc genere fefellerint.

Go ye therefore abroad, and 35 Ves igitur prodite, & maiure ad conam revertimi-711.

(, )

P

C

1 P

C

C

P

P

C

P

Lib. I Col 17. Ifaias. Ludimagite Col. 17. Efay. the Maifter. Præceptor, licecol prodin Maifter, may I not goe a-I broad ? Whither do you defire to go Quò prodire cupis s L abroad & I To the taylor. Ad farrorem. L Why fo? Quid có? To fetch my bzeched. Petitum femoralia. 1 Are they made already? Jamne fada funt ! L hey are as I think. I Sunt, ut opinor. L Yaddo well to fay I think, Recte opinor dicis, qui because the thing is unincerta eft. certain. Bat hee promised mee them 10 Atqui promiserat mili I against this day. hanc diem. Quid fi fallat ? L What if hee deceive you? Nihil mirum fuerit. I It will be no marvel. Nunc quoque vere logic L Now you have spoken truth es : nam rarò al pro toa; for tradef men 15 9 jum tempus fidem prati felbom perfoam their artifices. word at the time pro= mifed. Viso tamen, præceptor, Nevertheleffe, maifter, I will mihi permittis. go fee, if you will give me 20 Nibil impedio. I bo not hinder pou. Nunquid vis, przcepta Would you have any thing, maister? Imò, ut properes, na Yes, that you make hafte, pralectioni. that you be not away at pour lesson. Bene mones ; I You do well to put mee in abco. minde; I am going. 25

magile

qui logue

t pro

prata

ceptor,

epta.

M A

P

Col 18 Cains. the Maifter.

Cel 18. Caius, Praceptor.

prodir C, May wee not go forth ?

P Whither ?

C Home. p How now, to gad home fo often s

C My mother commanded 5 that I and my brother should go home to her.

p For what reason?

C That our maid might 1008 our clother.

p What is that ! Date pout 10 Quid iffud ? Suntne vebis any lice ?

C I, and a great many indeed.

P why did pout not tell my wife fo much ?

C Wee durft not.

As though indeed thee was fohard to be spoken to. Shee bath a maid chiefly for that purpose, to fee you be all kept cleanly; neither are you ignorant of it, but yee are glad yee have an occasion offered you to go fee your mother. Do yee tarry therefore, and 25

I will take order to morrow, that your clothes be look'r.

C But our mother will chide

3 will pacific her ; boc you reft you contented 130 quiefeite.

Licetne prodire?

Quó?

Domum.

Hem, tam sæpeire domum?

Mater jufferat ut ego & frater fe adiremus domum.

Cujus rei gratia?

Ut ancilla vestimenta nobis excuteret.

pediculi ?

Et quidem multi.

Cur uxorem meam non admonuiftis s

15 Non auf famus.

Quafi verd illa fit wfque aded difficilis.

Ancillam babet ea petiffimum gratia, ut veffram omnium curet munditiem; nec vos igno atis illud, fed gaudet s matris invisendæ occasionem vebis dari.

Vos igitur manéte; cras ego curábo, ut vobis excutiantur veftes.

Sed mater nos objurgabit.

Col.

Egomet eam placabo;

Col. 19. Tornstor, the Maifler, the Scholars.

Maister, may I go home to morrow? VVby so?

To fetch some bread.
Have you none left?

There is fome left indeed, but a very litle.

I. VVhat doth your brother?

is hee to go with you?

My father commanded (o.

I VVhen met you with him? T On Thursday, when bee

L VVhere faw you him?

Do you not lye?

I do not lye.

There are some of my school-fellowes which were there.

Who are they without any more abo?

T Here are Blasius and Au-

L Is it true, boyes?

D Altogether true.
L How do yee know?

D Wee faw his father, and heard those very words.

to goe home with your brother.

Col.19. Tornator. Lui.

Lib.

L

T

T

L

T

L

T

L

T

M

V

M

Præceptor, licétue cusine domum?
Quid có?
Petitum panem.

Non tibi restat s Restat quidem, sed parun ádmodum.

Quid frater ? éftne tous irúrus.

Quando conveniti illum? Die Jovis, quum venifit in bane urbem. Ubi illum vidisti?

Non mentitis?
Non méntior.
Unde probábis?
Sunt ex condicipulis qui

Qui tandem ?

aderant.

Adfunt Blaffus & Ander.

Efine verum, púci somnino verum.
25 Qui scitis?

Vídionus ejus patrem, & 21dívimus ipla verba. Si ita eft, permitto ut el domum cum fratre.

F

12.

Lib

H

H

0

M

h

Wha

Enolish and Latine. Lib. III. H | What cause have you to go Que tibi eft prodeundi ciula? forch s I must go to the market. Eft mibi eundum ad forum. erri. Quid có? Why fo? Ut emam corium. dabile I To buy leather. In q em wum? H For what ufe s Ad calceorum Coleas. for thoo foles. Rude. L Who shall help you in the To Quis re adjuvabit in emptione ? buying ? Quidam oppidanus cui bec spiz. L 3 towns=man to whom manddvit pater meus. my father gabe this miai. ozber. Debueras adire me cum ca'illa. H You should have come to mee with the reft that is teris qui ad forum prodimino! went abroad to the market. I was bufie. Occupárus eram. Wherein ? Quá in re ? In witting a letter to my fa-In scribendis ad patrem liris nother. teris. H When will you fend it 5 Quando eas d bis ? y, quis To day, if I shall meet with Hodie li quem in foro noattuiany of our town in the Aratium offendero. market. H Go your way, and remem-Abi, & memineris ad hober to be there at the ulu- 25 einle. ram ioliram adelle. all hour. mil I will remember. Meminero. Col. 22 Arator the Maifter. .101 C 22. Arator Ludimagifter. Maifter, I went out by your us. Præcepter, tuo permiffu holeave at one of clock, and us, prima prodieram s now I am come again. nunc rédeo. Habe pou Disparch's Curadi negotium tuum ? pour buffneffe ? (God. ihi pro-I have dispatch't , I thanks Curavi, gratia Deo. Wha Ιc

組制	L	It is well done; what a clock	Factum ber
翻引	A	It is at hand of two.	Infiat fecund
	. L	Call me my man; and then goe to your bever with the rest.	Voca mihi fi de ito ad cateris.
		Col.23. Eusebius. the Maister.	Col. 23.
	E	Maister, will you lend mee a little money?	Præceptor, tuò dare cúniæ?
	P	What need have you of mo- ney?	Quid opus
計畫	E	To satisfie Sylvius.
	P	How much doe you ewe	Quantum
	2	Three half pence.	A ffem cum
	P	Because hee writ mee some	Quia scrips
	E		to Collóqu
	P	Let mee fee them.	Ostende.
	E		Vide, fi pla
1	P	Goe to the Uther Ibid him give you as much as you defire.	Adi Hypo
	E		15 Grátias ag
	P	You have no reason to thank mee; but fet it boswn in pour bob.	Non est que
	E	1 D 1 L 1	Quin jam
	P	It is well done; let my Usher see it.	Factum b Hypedi

aum bene ; quoti e hora? fat fecunda. oca mibi famulum; deis de ito ad merendam con

Lib.

M

W

He

W

N

W

In

Bu

6

If

W

Da

Ta

Bu:

To

At

No

和

8

Col. 23. Eufebius, Præceptor.

ræceptor, vine mille tuò dare aliquantum cúniæ? uid opus est tibi peruni

It Sylvio fatisfaciam. Quantum debes illi ?

fem cum femife. Quo nomine? Quia scripfer mihi align Collóquia. Oftende.

Vide, fi placet. Adi Hypodidascalum, ut det quantum petis.

Gratias ago, Praceptor. Non est quod agas; fel fer in codicem tuum.

Quin jam rétuli. Factum bene; oftende Wi Hypedidascalo,

IS,

umal

cura

aliqu

um,

petis.

eptol.

s ; led uum.

flenden

Col. 24. Blafius. the Maifter. .

Maifter, may I go to my Guardian?

What reason make's you? Hee bade mee come and meet him to day, if I had 5 any leafure.

When did he bid you? Now three dayes ago.

Where faw you him ?

over against the Church,

But fee pou do not lie.

God forbid 3 Should lie. if you will, 3 will baing fome of mp fchool=fcl=15 lows that were there to witneffe.

Who are they ? Daniel & Corderius; Swill pou have mee go cail them?

Bur tell mee, what doth your guardian stand in need of your help?

To write down something. At what a clock then will vou go to him?

Now, if you pleafe. When will you come back again hither ?

As fon as he chall have tone with me.

Col. 24. Blafius. Ludimagister.

Liceine mihi, præceptor,adice Tutorem ?

Ouz te causa movet ?

Tufferet ille ut le hodie convenirem, fi liceret per 6. tium.

Quando jússerat? Nudinstértius.

Ubiillum vidifti >

In the open place which is 10 In area quæ eft è regione templi.

> At vide ne mentiaris. A me abfit menddeium.

Si vis, dabo teftes ex condiscipulis, qui mecum dderant.

Qui sunt illi? Dániel & Cordérius ; vi [ne ut eos accerfam ?

Tarry , I shall meet with 20 Mane, ego illos conveniam.

Sed dic, quid eget tutor ópera tua?

Ad aliquid describendum. Quâ igitur hora vis illum adire ?

Nunc, fi tibi placet. Quando huc redibis s

Gum primum me demiferit.

R 2

Now

1	to bim-	Nunc abi, atque illi exne die salutem pluriman.
3	I will doe it with all my 30 heart.	Faciam libenter.
	Col. 24. Scriba. The Maister.	Col. 25. Scriba. M gifter.
	Maister, my father invites you to dinner, it it pleases you.	Præceptor, pater te invit ad prándium, fi tibip cet
M	Is hee all alone?	Eftne folus ?
S	besides the folks of our own house.	Solus (opinor) præter doméfices.
M	Excuse mee to him, for I was just now invited to another place.	Excusa me illi, jam eni aliunde invită; us eram
	Yet thank him frem me.	Agè tronen illi meisvel gratias.
s	Would you any thing elfe?	Nunquid vis aliud?
M	Nothing, but that you come to the school again in	Nibil, nifi ut matite fcholam rédeas.
S	In good time, by Gods belp.	Mature, juvante Des.
	Col 26. G sper. The Maister.	Col. 26. Galper. Ludimagister.
G	May I not goe abroad, Maister?	Licéine prodire, pracept
1	Whither?	Qe6?
G	First to the botcher's, and	Primum ad fartorem,

l

1

then to the barbers. L | Way to the botcher ?

G That I may get mp fto. 8= ings menbeb.

L Are they toin ?

.

a.

invit bi pu

s verba

co.

er.

er.

accepto.

m,

6 So torn that I can fcarce put them on.

Why to the barber?

G That I may let bim fee a bople which is rifen upon my thigh within thefe few daves.

Uncover it, that I may fee defire fo.

It is a fellon. thought.

tram L When you shall have opened it to the batber intreat him to lap a plaifter foz 30 a borle to it.

I will doe as you perswade sárè 4 L mee.

But is here any body that wilgo with you? Yes, John Fluvian.

What hufinefle bach bee > Hee will goe to the ba ber

o e gether then, and come again fo.

cife ?

That you haften your coming back, left pou foz= feit your Dinking.

deinde ad tonforem.

Cur ad fartó em ?

Ut curem tibialis reficienda.

Sun ne laceráta ?

Ad o laceráta, ut vix induere possim.

10 Cur ad tonforem?

Ut illi oftendam ulcur, quod mihi his diébus subercum est in femore.

Détege, ut videam.

6 See it, feeing you have a 15 Vide, quando ita tibi placet.

Eft furunculus. Ita conjicié bam.

Cum apertieris tonfóri, roga illum ut emplaftrum illeri aptum adhibeat.

Faciam ut suades.

Sed nunquis est qui tecum prodire velit?

Imò . Joannes Fluviánus. 25 Quod habet negórium ?

Tonsor:m quoque vult ad-

Ite igitur und, & redite fimi iter.

Would you have any thing 30 Nunquid vis præ érea?

Ut matu étis réditum, ne merenda veftra mulciéminz.

R 3

Col.

246

L

F

L

L

F

Effine multi qui prode vultis s Ferme omnes. Quid boc fibi vult? Eft hodie mercatus: bence it is, that almost inde fit, ut fere quile every one would buy fomvelit aliquid émere, Now I am too bufie to take 10 Nunc ego fum occupain qu'am ut fingulorum per notice of the reason of every one's going abroad; go therfore to the uther, that hee may take notice; and if hee have leafure, I 5 let him goe along with you. Wee thank you, most kinde ducat iple.

Gratias ágimus, præcept humanistime.

Col. 17. Franciscus,

Præceptor,

prodice?

Ludimagister.

Col. 28. The Maifter.

I heophilus.

Col. 28. Magifter. Theophilus.

deundi cau'am poffe cognó cere ; adne igu

fub doctorem, qui cogo

feat ; & fi vacat, vos

M Did you meet with Peerer then to day? To day.

M Where

In the temple. M At what a clock ?

maifter

At eight a clock in the morn ing.

Hodie igitur Petrum cont nifti ! Hódie. Ubi ? 5 In temple. Quotà hora? Odává matutina.

Lib M

T M T

M

M

T

MI

MD

3

M

10 licetne nobi

Præceptor, liceine exite?

Quò tibi cundum eft.

R 4

Dabe

Ad tonlo em.

quila

im pro

YOS C

ter.

whither must you go?

To the barber.

M. Corderius's Colloquies Lib. 248 Non eft tibi aliud negotim M habe you no other bull= P C n ile ? A tonfore, ire emptun F om the barber, to go to 5 P gulas ; illine me ad fui buy points ; and to ger C me fom thence to the LEE conferre. fhoo-m ker. V V hy to the shoo-miker? Cur ad fur 6rem ! P That hee map fet a tab on U: uni ex calceis meis an F C Stat corrigiam. one of my thoos. V.Vhen will you have dif-Ifta omnia quando con P C parch's all those things ; ceris 5 Intra hora fpatium, ut foe P within an hours time, I F C hope. Erunt multi fortaffe ion P There will be a many per-M Arina expectantes. haps tarrying in the bar= bars thop. Fieri poteft ; sed fi vide It may be to ; but if I fhall diutius mihi moranda fee I must raity there too illic effe, expedibot long, I will stay till Sadiem Sabbati. Is there any body else would 20 Eftne álius qui proditt turday. lit 5 go abroad s Concanus ait le velleche Pontanus faith hee would tam émere. buy some paper. Scifne illi opus effe Do you know hee wants it ? 25 Scio. F I dee know. Ice igitur und ; curate di Go both together then; and genter fuum merque u be fare that each Difs gotium ; ne fitis afer patch his buanelle ; res. that peu map probe truants. By Gods help, wee will have 30 Deo javante, curábisous a care. Col. 30. Carbonarius. Col.30. Garbonarius. Praceptor. The Maister. Licetne exite C | May I go abread ?

P

C

L

L

English and Latine. Lib. III. 249 Quó? P | Whither ? Ad fartorem. To the Taylor. C Ouid es? Why lo? P Ut mibi tunicam faciondam That hee may take mea- 5 III. fure on mee to make metiatur. me a coat. Qua tibi eft materia? What have pout to make tt of ? Niger pannus. Black cloth. P Where is it ? Ubi eft ? COB Io In arca mea. In my ch it. Put what aylor have you? Sartor autem quis tibi eft ? t (per C Peeter Sylv us. Petrus Sylvius. P Is bee a con workman? Eftne peritusartifex? 10 to Sic audivi, & eft notus patri C I have heard fo, and hee is one that my father Is meo, qui juffic ut illum vide adirem. thow's, and hee bade randu mee go to him. tábo t Ubi habitat s Where dw ll's hee s In vico Xenodóchii. In the Spittle-Areet. dien P Non nimis longe eft. It is not berp far off, See, you to not run rote = 20 Cave, difcurras. le chr ing up and bown. Cavébo. I will have a care. Facile à me véniam impe-They eafly get leave of mee, that never beguile mee. trant, qui nunquam falte di lunt. que # Gob fozbib that eber 3 25 Avertat Deus ut unquam ceffer hould deceibe pon. fallam. ignus. Col. 31. Luterinus. Col. 31. Luterinus. The Maifter. Præceptor. arius. L Maister, may I speak a word Præceptor, licetne pauca s e cwi io Speak what you will. Loquere quid velis. When you by sometimes Quum interdum dicis ali. bithe

I I

٤

P

P

L

L

Lib

P

N.

non mini mus

D 76-

inter-

IUT RE

Aquer

112 0

uò m

Cupio,

O Ves

maxi-bum:

s De

qui lourifor

totta

nehoo

mut in s cuis

eminin

Wh

Why fo ? P Because pellis is such, which is fet down in the grounds for an exaple. You did not gueffe that a-P miss. For nounes that 45 end in is, as pellis, are for the most part feminines.

Not all then s

There is fcarce any rule fo general, but it hath 50 an exception.

Follis therefore doth fall under an exception, because it is a malculine. So lome others, as ignis, pifcie, 55 axis. &c.

But how shall I know them? You wil quickly know them, when you come to the Grammar rules. But in the mean time minbe 60 them diligently that ipeak Latine, and be fare to fet pour felf to imitate them.

Bur, maifter, that is a great while to.

Rome was not built in one dap.

Experience reacheth us fol much. But my father would fain fee .me a scho- 70 lar in a years time.

And I would fain fee that in a dayes time.

But what should one do ? we must wait for a time 75 Omnibus in rebus expectanin all things.

40 Quamobrem >

Quia tale eft pellis, qued elt in rudimentis pro exemplo politum.

Ne abs re id conjicie as. Nam is finita, quale eft pellis,magna ex parte fæminina funt.

Non igitur omnia s

Vix ulla eft tam generalis regula, que exceptione careat.

Follis igitur sub exceptione cadic, quia mafcu'inum eft. Sic aliquot alia. ignis, pifcis, axis, &c.

Sed unde illa dignoscam? Fácile cognosces,quum pervéneris ad Grammatica regulas. Sed interim Laloquentes attente observa, téque ad corum 1mitationem diligenter accommoda.

At iftud longum eft, præceptor.

Non fiunt nifi longe tempore praclara adificia.

Experientia nos istud docet. At pater meus vellet me annuo spatio doctum videre.

Ego verò istud unius diei spario videre vellem.

Sed quid agas ?

dum tempus eft.

Your

P

Your father, because te 70 Pater tuus, quia non diffe learning, no knoweth not Suhat learning is worth, nor with whit great paines it is gotten.

You fay true ; but what an 7 Verum d cis; fed quid i fwer can I make him, when her complain s tome of the long time in getting learning?

will teach you, as we 80 are at the fupper ; now go and play weth he reft. that I map go again to my fludy.

I pray you, maister, pardon mee, that I have interru- 85 pted you. you have not interrupt= ed me at all because I was not buffe. Befides, it is bad been a trouble to mee to heate 90 you could not I put pou off till another time?

L you might have bone that at pour own pleafure.

Go your way then.

Col. 32. Caffronovanus. the Maifter.

G d fave you, mafter. P you come luchtig; liver an nefcit quid doffe na valcat, neque quanit labócibus illa company. tur.

Lib. I

EN

0

B

S

1 P

I

P

C 1

responde e postum,qua apud me conqueritur, & tempo i lon i fpation & Scendes literis.

Docédo ce inter conandra non i o lulum cumq teris, ut me in mufen recipiam.

Ignosce mihi, queso, pra ceptor, quod te interpo C laverim.

Nibil me interpellafti, mit p nim occupatus eras.

Præéea, fi te min mibi moletum fuile nonne poteram te in di ud tempus regiceres Tuo jure id poseras.

Abi igitur.

Col. 32. Caffronovanis. Præceptor,

Salvus fis, præceptor, Auspicato adveni

Lib. 111. What do you fay? My father intreats you, that wee may go together for 5 our recreation, into his itica win.

ningo

pare.

id ill

guup,

a, 4 oin 6

ndun

Im C u/an

, prz-

, most- p

2U-1

fuifle

in dianus.

VVm

Orchards in the fuburbs. The fairnelle of the Sue 1= ther invites us to that marter, and now Suce keep boly=day.

worth the looking on? Severall and fair trees with their fruits, and a wonderfull varietie of herbs and flowers.

There is nothing more pleafant then those things at this time. terpe C

Such is the bountie of God towards us.

ertoll ebery Day.

Bur I am afrato, left we thato make our father to tarry of us.

Carry a little till I take my other gown, that 1 25 may be the more nimble to walk.

I am now ready; let us goe now.

But is your father at home ? Doz.

It is very well, fee that pou make him an handlom len.

Wee have been ofren admonished about this matter, Quid núntias?

O:at te pater meus, ut animi causa camus una, in hortos fuos fuburbanes.

Ad eam rem nos invitat ferenitas, & nunc sumus feriati.

But what shall wee see there 10 Sed quid illic afpectu jucuredum vidébimus ?

Vá ias & pulchras á bores cum fuis fructibus, irem herbarum & florum miram varietatem.

Nihil est illis rebus boc tempore jucundius.

Ea eft Dei erga nos beneficentia

Which indeed wee ought to 20 Quem quidem afsiduis landibus profequi debemus. Sed vercor ne patri in mora limus.

> Tantifper expedta dum togam muto ut fim ad ambulandum expedicior.

Jam parátus fum ; nunc eámus.

Sed effne domi pater ? he tarrie's for us at the 30 Pra foribus nos expectat.

> Bene res habet, vide ut cum decenter falutes.

De hoc, te docente, fape

whil'f

	whil'st you raught us.	admóniti fumus.
	Col. 33. David. The Maister.	Col. 33. David, Ludimagister.
D.	dy father hath him heartily commended to you.	Pater meus tibi salúsem pli- rimam dicis.
L	Say you for when came he one of the countrep?	Ain' ru? quando rure redii:
D	But yefterday.	Heri tantum.
		Vt valet ?
	Mery well:	Optimé.
L	And where is your mother ?	Mater verò ubi eft?
D	Shee is in France yet.	Adhuc eft in Gallia?
SECURITION OF THE PROPERTY OF	Where in France?	Ubi in Gallia?
		o Auréliæ.
	What do you hear of her? That shee was in good health by Gods blessing.	De illa quid audinis?  Effe bon a valetúdine prziitam, Dei beneficio.
L	The Lozd God have her	D'ominus Deus conserve
D	in his keeping.	Is eam.
STREET, STREET	Becommend mes again	Ità precor. Die vici sim patri salútes
-	very heartily to your father.	plúrimam verbis atis.
D	I will be fure to Do it.	Faciam sedulo.
	Col.34. Buchod. The Maifter.	Col. 34. Buchodus. Ludimagister.
B :	Maister, may I speak a word or two?	Præceptor, licéine panca?
L.	Speak and welcom .	Die libere.
D	Why do wee not fay his ar-	Cur non dicimus his arba,
	bor, as well as hic labor.	Gene big labor.
	Likewise why doe wee not 5

n

erve

lutem

cis.

15.

ica?

arb#,

pound

proneunce the Genitive cafe di boris with the laft lyllable lave one long, as wee doccommonly in other nounes of that fame termination.

both approved it or therwife.

For Analogic hath not place cherp were : bat where it faile's, wee muft f l'ow their fa= thion, who have fpoken well and purcly.

for even Latine it felfe both confift moze in use and authozitie, then in reason.

Give therefore an authority cocerning the nonn ar bor.

L Arboris excelfa truncus, flock of a rotten tree, in Virgil.

Do you not plainly fee both the gender & the accent?

I fee it, maifter. But are there no others of the same accent?

First of all, all Greek nouns, Caftor, Caftoris; and fo Heffor, Neftor, & the like.

Likewise these two the neuter gender. Equor, aquoris; marmor, marmoris.

There are also certain Adjectives, as, memor, me-35 moris; and immemor compounded of it.

non proférimus penúlcimå longå, ut fere in cateris nominibus terminationis ejuldem.

Because nie of fpeaking to Quia loquendi usus aliter probavit.

> Nec enim ubique locum habet analogia; fed ubi ea de ficit, jequendus eft corum ulus, qui rede & pure loquuti funt.

Nam ipfa Latinitas ufu 6 authoritate magis quam ratione conflat.

Da igitur authoritatem de nómine arbor.

Arboris excelfa truncus, 2pud Virgilium.

Nonne maniseste vides & genus & accentum?

Video, præceptor. Sed funtne ália codem accentu ?

Imprimis, Grace omnia, ut, Cafter, Cafferis ; fic Hector, Neftor, & fimilia.

Irem hæc duo neutrius ge neris, e E quor, aquoris; marmor, marmoris.

Sunt & Adje aiva quadam. ut memor, memoris; & ex co compositum immemor.

Such

Such are alfothe compounds of decus and corrus, as, indecor, indécoris; tricorpor, trisorporis.

256

But you will quickly by your 45 felf finde out these things which are noted among it the Grammarians.

For that age of yours require's every day more and more diligence.

Moreover, you will bets ter remember those things, which you have found out by your own labour and oils

B I give you thanks, most so kinde maister, that you do not onely teach mee, but also admonish mee with so much gentlenesse.

You doe well: but in the 60 mean time I would have you remember to ac= handwledg you have it from God onely, what-foever good thing accrews unto you by my labour.

For we labour in vain in 65 teaching, unless Gods tickling attend our labours.

You know that of the Apo-

Neither is beethat planteth any thing, nor bee that watereth, but God that giveth the increase. Talia quoque funt ex desa & corpus compositis, ex indecori, indecorii; mi corpor, tricorporis. sed bæc apud Grammanica an no áca fácile per te me

Lib

B.

B

A

C

Sa

Li

Li

0

Ho

By

She

For

Lik

12

Ь

b bi tl

You

Nam ista zeas tua majo tem indies requirit dii venies.

Huc accédit, quòd bac info qua tuo libere es dil géntia invéneris, firmin tené bis memoria.

Ago tibi grátias, humanífime præcep or, quòd m tantà humanitate no folum doces, sed éim admones.

Bene facis: sed interim vole p. memineris, soli Des auto prum referre, quiequi p. boni ex labóre meo in a proficiscitur.

Frustra enim docedo label mus, nifi laboribm nostri divinus fabor accessent.

Nôsti illud Apóstoli,

Neque qui plantat est il quid, neque qui rigat, fel qui dat incremenum Deus.

157

Truly we should be bery

outl, if we should be ignorant of those things, which you inculcate so often, and so diligently upon us.

Ir behooveth you both, to remember and call them to minde fo much the more diligently.

But now it is time for you to get your felf again to your baily tags.

And I in the mean time will mew my felf up in my little studie,

Col.35. The Master, O-

Say inlatine, A Book.

vole P. Liber, of anı

d me

non é ian P.

noftri

erit.

£ 21 zat, fet

entun

Tru

P. Liber, of what gender is it?
Of the Malculine.

P. How know you?

By the use and custome of well speaking.
Show the use.

O. For as we speak every day we say thus; Hic liber eujus en; whose book is this?

Likewise we oftentimes say, liber meus, my book, liber tuus, thybook bonus liber, a good book.
You barranged

You have answered well, but who taught you the wie of speaking? Essémus profectò plumbo stupidiores, si ista ignoraremus, quæ nobis tam sæpe inculcas, támque diligenter.

Tantò diligentiùs vos oportet tum meminisse; tum recordari.

Sed jam tempus est, ut ad quotidianum pensum re referas.

Ego verò interea me abdo in museolum.

Praceptor, Oli-

Dic Latine, A Book.

Liber.

75

15

Liber. Cujus generis?

Qui scis?

Ex benè loquendi usu, & consuerudine.

Ostende usum.

Nam quotidie loquentes fic dicimus; Hic liber cujus est?

Dicimus item sepenumerò, Liber meus, liber tuus, bonus liber, & similio

Bene respondisti, sed quis loquendi usum to docuit? S You ber to wish well to all men from the heart, and especially your Schoolfellows.

I will.

P. You should have said also, God willing.

P. I confesse, I have forgot.

> Col. 36. The Mafter. Daniel.

Minde, Daniel, that thou may learn to turn La= tine well into Eng= tilly.

Tu iple, præceptor. Ergone tenes omnem ufm L

D

D

D.

L.

D.

L.

D.

Q It

Opi

Ar Eft.

Av

Gal And

Ut.

pl

A

lingue Latina. Si tenérem, noneffemdife pulus.

Quid igitur?

Magister fortaffe. Abi, reiponfo tuo conte tus fum.

> Gaudeo sané. Age gratias Deo, quit D. dedit ingenium, mentem bonam. 120 Utinam semper agnoles L. ejus in me beneficia D.

> utinam ille favore fue D. ftudia profequatur! L.

Quid hoc fibi vult, Oliva L.

125 Quod mihi bene precis Ergo tu quoque memer bene ex animo pred D. 3 omnibus, præcipues rò condiscipulis tuis

Faciam. 130 Addendum fuerat, Del juvante. Oblitus sum, fateor.

> Col. 36. Ludimagifte Daniel.

Attende, Daniel, utdi Latina bene Ang vertere.

hill. English and	Latine. 159
ib.III. English and I do minde Master. But diligently. Yea very diligently, and with all my heart. You do well. Propound the Latine to me then, as you use fometimes to do to us.  Quid opus est? What is needful? Gallina. To an hen.	Attendo Præceptor. At diligenter. Imò diligentissimè, & animo. Benè facis. Propone igitur mihi I tina, ut nobis interdifoles.	.a-
D. I will answer as farre forth as I shall be	Rectè vertifti. Nunc ad singulas par hujus orationis respo de nominatim. Respondebe quoad poter dummodo mihi pra	nable, so that you but go before me.  Quid.  It is a noune.  Opus.  A noune.  Eft.  A verbe.  Gallina.	Quid. Est nomen. Opus. Nomen. Est. Verbum. Gallina. Nomen: ut.
place.	Conjunctio hoc in lo	io.

	160 M.Corde	rim	's Colloquies,
Ly	Illa.		Illa.	Li
D.	A Pronoune.		Pronomen.	D
L.	Sit.		Sit.	1
D.	A verbe.	363	Verbum,
L.	Bona.		Bona.
D.	A noune.	40	Nomen.
L.	that you may under- fand every thing a		Age, dicámus herum, ifingula paulò plenini telligas.	L.
D	little mote fully.		~	2
	What shall I answer now?	1	Quid nunc respondébo	D.
L.	Shew me in short the de- clining of every part as I use to teach you.	45	Indica breviter fingular partium declinátum, vos docére fóleo.	L. D.
	Go before me then, as you have begun.		Præito igitur, ut capit	B 5.1
		1	Quid.	2
D.	Quid, cujus, an irregular noune substantive.	50	Quid, cujus, nomen in
L.	Opus.		Opus.
D.	neris.		Hoc opus, operis, ut bu	2
L.		55	Fálleris, Daniel.	D.
	Why fo?		Quid icà?
	Because opus is an adje-		Quia opus hic est adju	L.
	What, an adjective! How is it declined?	60	Eho, adjectivum! Q
	It is undeclined.	00	Est indeclinabile.	1
	We is me poor boy!		Me miserum! nungi
L.	You should have said with- al, that I know on,	65	Addendum fuit, quil	1
	or an ratte as I can	1
-	remember.	1.3		1
D.	Why fo?	1	( )uamobrem,	1
1.	Because perhaps you had heard, but not boell remembred it.		Quia fortasse audieras, memineras male.
	aremoted ft.

crum,

enini

ndébe!

ngulan

atum,

men

óma

43

e.

m.

quei

dieras, ıle.

RINTE

0.

nus, bona, bonum.

Now ask one another, that

D

H

nus, bona, bonum,

Nunc mutud vos inte-

145

LID	ye may parse all more fully.
	Col.37. Blunderius. The Usher.		Col.37.Blunderius: Hypo didasculus.
B H B	Master. What would you have? May I go home? Why before the time?		Præceptor. Quid vis? Licétne mihi ire domum Cur ante horam?
H	My father bade that I should go to him now.	5	Pater juffit, ut nunc ad
H B	What needs he your help? He will fend me to our Countrey-house.		Quid eget óperâ tuâ? Vult me in villam mítter
11	Why fo?	10	Quid eó?
H	To fetch grapes, and to bo an errand to our 15 age life all under one.		Petitum uvas, & cadem e perá nuntiátum aliqui
H	What if you deceive me?		villico nostro. Quid fi fallis?
В	I will bring a Certificate as I use to do?	15	Adferam testimónium, a
H	When will you come back again?		Quando redibis?
B H	At one a clock, I hope. How can you come again so quickly?	20	Horâ primâ, ut spero. Quî tam citó?
В	Our Countrey-house is net fatre from bence.		Villa nostra non long
H	Goin Bodg name.		Ito sané.
	Col. 38. D. H.		Col. 38. D. H.
D	Master doth it please you		Præceptor placétne audir
Н	to neare my excule?		exculationem meam ?
D	When was you away?		Quando abfuifti?
H	renerday.	;	Hesterno die.
D	At what a clock? At one.		Quotâ horâ.
H	What was the reason?		Primâ.
	mas the lesion ;	1.4	Quæ fuit causa ?

			us's Colloquies,
	I was fent for.	1	Accersi rus fui.
H	By whom?		A quo?
D	By my father.	0	A patre.
H	Who brought you word?		Quis tibi nuntiavit?
D	Our man.	1	Famulus noster.
H	Why did he not come to me?		Cur me non adivit?
D	Because he said he mas in		Quia dicebat fe urgit great hafte.	15	festinatione.
H	Have you any witness?		Suntne tibi teftes ?
D	Here they are, master.		Adfunt, praceptor.
H	Get you gone, and fit in		Abi, sede in loco tuo;
3	your place, I will exa-		interim cos interroza
*	mine them in the mean	20	curering cos interior
	time.
	Col sa The Wher Mi-		Co'. 39. Hypodidasculu
	Col. 39. The Usher, Michael.		Michael.
н		100	C
M	Why came you no fooner?	1	Cur non venisti citius
H	Frattiebtor my Diotifet.		Expectabam fratrem.
M	Where is he?		Ubi est?
	Becarried behinde in the market.		Restitit in foro.
H	Why did you not bring	5	Cur eum non adduxift him along hither?	1
M	He had a minde to buy	1	Volébat émere atrant
	Some ink	1	tum.
H	Nay peares or apples ra-	-	Tmò nyra, mala, auta
	ther, or some other		quid è cæteris fructib fruit.
31	I know not, yet he faid	10	Néscio, tamenillud di
	fo.	1-0	hat.
H	Seeing you are brethren,		Cum fitis fratres, cur
	why have you not	- 1	haberis domi (om
	inkeat home in a bot-		atramentum in ampul
	tie bettoirt pou?		Frater nihil vult bi
	My brother wil be halbes	15	20 40 10 40

m.

loyter?

Ego semper tibi ádfeto ag à patre scriptum, auti fámulo paris nostro nómine

Lil

T

H

T H

T

I

T

H

T

H

H

T

H

Recte facit paier.

Sunt enim multi qui at H pascunt mendáciis. Nunc abi, & patri dich Faciam, Præceptor.

lutem verbis meis.

Col. 41. Magister, Can ronus.

Heus, Caperóne. Hem, præceptor. Quid flet frater tuus?

Qui scis. Saris a paret. Quo figno? Quia vomuit. Quid ibi dolet? Caput & Stómachus, ut & Ægrótat.

Cit. Cur non récipit se de mum? Non aufus eft.

Tu verò non audébas T admonére.

Age, duc illum tu ipfel mum usque, & mon narra diligenter, will le babeat.

Propera, quid cellas?

H

T H

T H

H

H

T H

T

M. Corderius's Colloquies. 170 Alioqui nil poffischio Otherwise you can obtain nothing. Credo équidem. I verily beleeve it. T Non fatis eft crédere, It is not enough to beleeve H 115 cures efficere diligue H it, unlesse you have a care to effect it diligently. Curábo pro víribus, a I will have a care to my aes noctésque id man bility, and will think meditábor. upon that only thing day and night. Optime loqueris, dum 120 pou lav bery mell, lo you men memor effe perga but 90 on to beare it in minde. Quomodo poslemoblivio T How can I forget it? Nunquam definum ih The Breach to do never monére concionation cease to pu: us in minde tu verò ferè quoi 125 of that; and you almost ad id nos horráris,&h every day exhort us to ne facis, præceptor, q it, and you do well, maomnes sumus valde w fter, becaule me are all ligentes, sed ego prim bery negligent, but I 130 omnium. the most of all. H Da igitur operam, u. H Endeavour then, that you the first of all change omnium primus mm iftos mutes, ac meme T thoie manners, and remember especially to be to præcipue lempera 135 alwayes truc-fpcken. rax effe. T Faxit Deus ut nunque H God grant I may never lie-H O how happy should you mentior. be! O quam felix esses! Satis in prasentia felix I hall be happy enough T 140 ro, fi tantum me abio for the prifent, if you will but acquit me. veris. I will do what I have pro-H mised you; but on that Facia quod tibi fum poli condition that you recitus; sed ea legeut promember your promile, missi tui memineris, & and perform it in very re ipla præftes, quer

dus eris parentibus, &

plea-

Lib, III.

iter.

DOTE

ere,

15, 20

dum :

Te perg

oblivio

unt ih

matine

quone

715,&b

Ptor, q

aldê n go prim

m, u 1

us mon

c meme

emper

es!

felix i ne abio

um poll

ge ut proineris, &

s, quan

your self, you shall be nungur H id me H

digen H

4

6

3

In W

Lo

Omi

PTOTA

um fe

min

gand

S me

o prin

e, mo cant, n

ugeni

efto b cório.

ingon

rzcepti

**$$$$$$$$$$$$

The fourth Book of School-Colloquies.

containing somewhat graver matters, especially in manners and Christian doctrine.

Col. 1. Fr fins. Samuel.

Pray thee, Samuel, lend methy help a little. What is the matter?

I know not what is falien into my eps, which troubles me bety much.

Into whether eye is it

Into my right.

Would you have me look 10

Lock; into it, I beseech

Open it as much as you can, and hold it that it do not fir.

I cannot hold it from twinkling.

Stay, I will hold it my felf with my left hand.

Do you fee any thing?

I fee some lettle thing. I pray you, take it out, if you can. $$$$$$$$$$$$$$

Colloquiórum Scholasticórum liber quartus.

Paulò gravióra cóntinens, præértim in móribus, & Christiána doctrina.

Col. I. Fryfius. Samuel.

Obsecto te, Samuel, da mihi operam paulisper.

Quid istud est?

Néscio quid incidit mihi in oculum quod me habet valdè malè.

In utrum óculum incidit ?

In dextrum. Vis inspiciam.

Inspice, amábo te.

Aperi quantum potes, ac tene immóbilem.

Non queo à nichu con i-

Mane, égemet tenébo si nistra manu.

Ecquid vides?

15

20

Vídeo áliquid minútum. Exime, quælo, fi potes.

Bu

Quin jam exémi.

O fact um bene ! quid e Cerne tu ipfc. Est mica púlveris, Er quidem ufque sicon filla, ut vix cernipp 5

Vide quantum doloris F ferat óculis res um igua. Haud mirum quiden. Nullum enim è mon exterióribus óculo a rius effe dicitur.

Inde etiam fit, uten mur nihil effe nobisa rius.

Hoc Deus approbagas de sua in nobische te loquens apud 21 riam. 2. cap. fic air, vos tangit, tangin lam oculi mei.

1

I

t

You

O immensam Dein tatem, qui nos ta pere charos babes. Non mihi rubes denta Aliquantulum : # quia fricuiti. Credin' tu mihiadhad He lere? Quidni eredam, qui talem moleftiam in pertus?

Xou.

of ft ?

10

15

25

C And not also that we should live soberty and walt?

ita.

ecers.

min

ò 105

us fier

eas, E

m in imk.

o tant

ale. C

pidius. 0

15.

andire

élium?

Deum 0

tateces pónda

rem? N

Przier

us Dez

to me those two adverbs.

Soberly, that is, continently, justly, that is, in right coulinesse, to wit, that we may give to c-bery man his own.

So it comes to passe, that soberly, pertaines to the private life of every man; and justly, to the charity, which we owe to our neighbour.

But heare me, my Claudius; doth not the wo:fhip of Got, contain all thosethings?

You are in the right Quintine; but I would try whether you under flood your answer tightly.

You have done well; for nothing can be fath too much concerning the pure understanting of Gods Word.

And concerning this matter, indeed I would willingly have talked with you more at large.

But the time it left puts us in minde to bepart.

Nonne etiam ut sobrie & juste vivámus?

Declára mihi illa duo adverbia quæso.

Sóbrie, i. e. continenter; juste, i. e. in justiria, nempe, ut suum cuique tribuamus.

Ità fit, ut fobriè ad vitam cujúsque privátam pertincat; justè autem ad charitátem, quam próximo debémus.

Sed audi, mi claudi, nonne cultus Dei, 6mnia illa compléctitur?

Probè sentis, Quintini; sed volui experiri, an responsionem tuam recte intellizer.s.

Bene fecisti; Nam de sincéro verbi divini intelléctu nihil nimis dici potest.

Et de hac re quidem tecum pluribus verbis libemer agerem. Sed nos hora apfa admonet, ut discedamus.

T 3 Col.

	Col. 4. The Monitor. Baptista.
0	Your brother is alwayes either prating, or playsing the fool, or probes Bing fome body in the Sermon; whence it comes to passe, that he	5 is oft-times fet down, and hen whip't.
B	What would you have me
0	Why do you not oft-times admonish him?
В	I neber gibe ober abmo- nifhing him.
OB	Go on, I pray you.	10
B	you have no cause to prayme; I will neber gibe ober, till (God willing) he reforme
0	himself iomemhat. So you shall make use of	15
٣	Cato's Precept, When know the rest.
B	But I pray you good Ni-
•	cholas, as oft as you fet him down let me know	20
0	There mould neber be an end, his name is fo of=
B	At leaft, let me know	*1
,	once as foon as he	25
	then I will tell my fa-

Col. 4. Observater. Bm. tifta.

Li

0

C

Frater tuus semper in concióne aut garrit, aut inéptit, aut aliquem it B citat ; ex quo fit, utie pè notándus fit, dans vápulet.

Quid vis fáciam?

Cur non fæpc mones!

Nunquam desisto moneia R

Perge, precor. N thil eft quod me preceit nunquam ceffábo, dm R (volente Deo) alique ex parte le corréxent

Sic ulurpábis Catonispa ceptum, Quande min áliquem, nosti cze

Sed oro te, mi Nicholz ut quoties eum noran C ris, id mihi remuntica

Nunquam finis effet, de R frequens eft nomen qu in meis commentarial Saltem, fac me semel cent Grem, quum priminim miscrit quo sit accuji dus; tum ego dicampa

T

What

ACCN AT

and histri, matter ?

when iple puerdrum anims timore lui affécerit.

Lib.

A

H

A

H

H

A

A

H

A

H

A

H

Ergo precemur eum, wil brevi contingat.

Col. 7. Antonius. Hieremias.

Qua pecunia emisti le brum iftum ? Quâ censes nisi meâ?

Miror unde habueris?

Quid miráris? An ta débeo réddere ratione Egónc éxigo?

Vidéris exigere. Non éxigo, inquam, le sic solemus inter no familiariter & liber fabulari, ut Latine len per condicamus ale quid.

Ea res, faceor, plurimin confert nobis ad La tine loquendi faculti tem.

Sed nemo est tam lenis,qui interdum subirascim

Eft ut dicis ; fed eft brei puerorum ira.

Quod autem de pecini rogabas,eam a parte ceperam. When

V

Bai

deberem tamen non pa-rum.

winted? his way. ed ? H H holden. he had given me a bad father, yet I should have been not a little behold-en to him.

184

i.

in his law.

vita; profeetus et.

O miserum adolescente Imò verò miserrimon Quid fáciet?

Id quod czteri, qui le quantur illud vitz g nus, nempe, spoliate L rapiet, ludet alei, p tabit, Cortabitur.

Estre istac militum vin

Omnino. Unde scis iftud? Audivi nuper ex par 0 quum cœnaremus.

0

Quorfum narrábat tála

Docebat nos, nihil effect tius quam Deum timet qui custodit párvula colque in viam retin paularim inducit.

Et præceptor iple nok de his rebus læpe m admonet.

Tanto magis debemusent soliciti, ut parentes di- 0 ros habeamus & pa ceptores, quorum open Deus ad nostram inte tutionem utitur.

Utinam utrifque prafit mus, quod ipie nobisio lua lege præcipit.

God

L

0

£.

it.

ti.

it.

Li

L As well as I know one finger from another. My mother fent him thi-O ther, till my fathers f ry mag paft. L What came of it at the laft? My mother dealt with our 188

L

0

0

L

O

L

What elle?

fon.

babe bun.

his utmost.

your house?

No indeed.

Where then?

husband?

mp fatt erg ange .. Thus then your bother get into your fathers fabour again.

kinsfolkes and friends,

that they would appeale

Quid tandem áccidit.

Egit mater cum propisquis & amicis noltis ut iratum patrem mill. garent.

105

Sic igitur frater tuus cut patre in gratiamrédit. Lib.IV.

matter. For now my father began to be forry that he had been so angry, and that he had entertained bis fon fo itig roughly.

Verily, time had pacified big anger.

Yet he entertained him on that condition , that he should promise 120 he would go again into Germany shortly after the vintage.

Der how fond this affes tion is towards our mothers.

But the methers them= 125 felbeg are in the fault; for why do they bote fo much upon us?

It is an hard matter to force nature.

of Horace's to that purpole?

Though with a forke thou nature dost expel,

Yet foon it will return. But what a thing is this? Whilest we talk, me have negleded our play.

ide thall get no hart by that; Now let us go together to our disputations:

O Chat was no fuch bard 110 Id non fuit magni negotit. Jam enim patrem cceperat poenirere, quod fic excanduisset, quodque tam graviter accepiffet fi-

> Nempe, dies ejus iram lenierat.

Ea tamen lege recépitillum, ut promitteret le in Germaniam rediturum fatim à vindemia.

Vide quam incptus fit ifte in matres nostras affectus.

Atqui ipfa matres funt it caufa . cur enim adeò tenere nos ádamant?

Naturam cogere difficile cit.

Do you remember a verse 130 In hanc sententiam tenesne verfum'ex Horatio?

> Naturam expélas furca licet, ufque recurret.

Sed quid hoc?

Dum fabulamur, à lufuccifatum eft.

Nihil nobis inde accidet mali, ad disputationent conveniamus jam.

Col.

1

natus. fit tun

chrymi L eban. 1 , 94 arctren

inje

ım eft 0 eftrz!

nabátu

on mor

atre, du ve can di.

propin s noft is em milluus cun m rédit. Chat

· Vi		1		- 4
Col. 10.	Conradus. Linus.		Col. 10. Conradu. Lin
Where wa	s you to day after		Ubi fuisti hodie à pranti
In my M	afters garden.		In horto pracentosis	(
He ient	me to fetch some	5	Quid illic iveras?  Ille me miserat petium	I
And what	Dot-herbs have		Quæ tandem olera m	(
	rcely reckon them		gísti? Vix enumeráre possumo	I Reckon	at the least those you remember.	10	Saltem qua occurrum	(
	you defire that?		Cur istud quæris?	100
That in	he interim we may minde some names		Ut interim recordence	L of ttt	ings, which we		párvuli didícimus	C
little b				L
TO SEE STATE OF THE PARTY OF TH	gallant exercife,	15	Pulchra eft exercition	L
especia	ally when we have	1	præfertim quum din nobis suppetat otii.	L
Heare th			Audi igitur:
	gathered garlick,		Collégi allia, serpila	20
	thyme, leekes, o-	20	porros, cepas, nafturia	C
nions	cresses, cummin,		cuminum, fænicile
fenne	l, thyme, marjo-		thymum, amáracum,
ram,	hylop, purfley, lage,		sopum, apium, alim
which	are fweet herbes, you have reckoned	25	Herbæ sunt olentes quit huc numerasti.
hithe	rto.	1
	intended to reckon for my memories		Sic institueram mem lake.		1
Go on fa		1	Perge porrò.	L
	are a few behinde,	15:	Pauca quidem refun

	Lib	.IV. English	and
13		as beetes, succorie, let- tices, forrel, rocket, cole- worts, purslaine: 3 can pranci.	C	How could you remember 10	35
tinum	L	My mafter gave me a Ca-era d	C	And did you know them
Mund	L		40
rrunt s	C	But I do not know them all, though I have learned their names.
e rdeme ómina	L	I will shew you more yet	45
mus.	CLC	Have you brought any store?  3 basket full.  Buthow much of every one?
exercitati um álip ótii.		What do you mean? I have brought as much of every one as was need-	50
ferpille nafturi fænicul áracum,	C	ful. Though I feem inquisitive to you, yet I would have you answer me this.	55
m, falvi ntes qua ti.		Do you know for what use the master hath caused so many forts of pot-herbes to be gotten?
n men	4	Partly that the pottage might be well feasoned, and parfly that an herbes publing might be made.	60
refter	L	How well did he provide for us.?	65
			2

ut, beta, cichoreum, lactúca, óxalis, erúca, bráffica, portulaca: plures non occurrunt. Qui potustitot meminisse? dédetat Præceptor mihi scriptum catalogum. Et noveras omnes? Noram, alioquin eum interrogassem. Atqui ego non novi omnes, quamvis nomina didicerim. Ego tibi plures etiam demonstrábo, quum licebit nobis in hortum ire. Multumne attulisti. Plenum cálathum. Sed de fingulis quantum? Nimis es curio us. Quid vis? De fingulisattuli quantum opus fuit.

Taméth curiólus tibi videor, tamen hoc mihi velim respondeas. Scin' tu in quem ulum præceptor tot olerum genera curaret apparanda?

Fartim ut jus bene condins tur, partim ut minutal ex oléribus fieret.

Quam bene consulébat nobis!

Very

M. Corderius's Colloquies, Lib 192 Optime, fed tamen eann L Very well, but yet that was erat causa præcipus. nor the chief cause. Onænam igitur? What then ? Legistine unquam mi Did you ever read of Virtum Virgilii? gils Pudbing of milh, mine, checke and berbs. Carmen quidem legi, el C I have read the verse indeed, moretum nunquam but I never are of the nec vidi quod sciam, pudding, nor faw it that I know of. L At videbis, Spero. Namon L But Thous you thall fee ceptor uxórem dón it, torour Mafter taught conficere, & illa confe his wife to make it, and ex ejus præscripto. the Lat made to according to res Direction. An apponetur nobis dist Shall we have any good in comam boni? ching provided for our L Supper? 80 At the least fat fleth=pot-Saltem jus carnium tind carnes opima, & minin tage well-feafoned, fat meat, and an herb=pubex oléribus. Ding. How know Unde scis ifta? you I. things ? Omnia vidi in culina,qua I saw all in the kitchin, jusfus essem adjuvarepo C when I was bidden to help, especially as 3 cipue in meis oléribus purgandis. mag picking my potberbeg. What becomes of the pud-Quid morétum? ding made of milk, cheefe, wine and herbes? Non saltem gustabime Shall we not tafte of it at the leaft? 90 L Imò, dabitur nobis; 11 Yes, we shall have some confectum est, quod fait given us, for there was sit omnibus. enough mate to ferbe us all. Ista mihi sapiunt mi I the chose things beiter, ea non

L

White.

legi, id C lam pra L

dóm

a confe

s alique

m ting

" minu ina,qui ivarepra

léribas

tabione

is; III

quod (sil am el

iam.

especially in Summertime, then flesh or fish.

Truly 3 could with fiesh might be sabed against winter, that we might use to eat herbs and fruits all Summer long.

But (as I have heard) those have lesse nourishment in them.

I have heard that too fometimes;

But what need Schollars 105 habe to much meat?

Not so much, I confesse; but yet if our Parents should see us pale or leane. they would presently lay the blame of that matter upon our Master; Is it not so?

There is no doubt of it, but what should one do? $\frac{1}{2}c-\text{tents (especially mo= 115 thers) commonly bo cocker us too much.

Indeco you fartrue; but in the mean time, you are content to enjoy your morters cockering.

That I may not lie, what I charge upon you, I oftentimes finde experience of in my felf.

tens affections tewards us, but by our faults; only let us have præsértim æstáte, quam carnes ipsæ, aut pisciculi. Optáremprofésto serváricarnes in hyemem, ut to: a ænes in hyemem, ut to: 2 xflate ólera & fructus efitarémus.

Atqui (ut accepi) ista minus alunt.

Id ego audivi aliquótics;

Sed quid opus est tanto stu-

Non tanto fateor; si tamen parentes nos viderent pállidos & maciléntos, statim ejus rei culpam a signárent præceptóri: nónne sic est?

Non est dubium; sed quid ages? ferè parentes (præcipue matres) nobis indulgent nimi um.

Vera quidem dicis; sed tu înterim maris indulgentia libenter frueris.

Quasi verò tu minùs. Ne méntiar quod tibi ascribo in me quoquefrequénter expérior.

Non possumus parentum crga nos affectum, nisi nostris vitiis, immutere; tantium caveamus corum

V 3

2

1	M. Cord	ern	u's Colloquies,	Lib	. 1
C	a care how we abuse their good will; but especially let us praise that our most bountiful Father, who hath given us such Ancestors.  I am willing to hear those things; but the time calls us away.  Come, set us make an erb.		abúti benevolentia; id imprímis laudémusillan Patrem nostrum benig- nissimum, qui nobista- les progenitóres dedit. Ista libens audio; sed 201 la ra vocat.	DMOMO
	Col. 11. Molerius Dotheus.		Col. 11. Molerius. Dother	D	-
M D M D M D	Whence come you? From the market. What have you bought? Flesh meat What like? Veale. I pray you, let me see it; it is almost a nobesty	5	Unde redis? E foro. Quid emisti? Carnem. Qualem? Vitulinam. Ostende, quæso; ferèm res est hoc témpore.	M D M D	1
D M D	Look upon it. Me thinks it is good. I suppose, you are not mistaken.	10	V ide. Bona vidétur mihi. Non fálleris, opinor.	100	1 0
M	How many pounds are		Quot funt libræ?	1	M
D M D M	Why not? Because of its nobilty. See their cunning! truly every man sells as dear	15	Nolunt lanii appendent tulinam. Cur non? Propter novitatem. Vide aftutiam! scilicet que vendit, quam pu	4	D M D
Þ	as he can. You have hit the naile on the head.	20	carissimè. Rem acu tetigisti ?		11
M	How much do you think it weighs?		Quantum putas péndere		D

Two pounds and a little more.  What did you buy it for? Comeon, gueste.  I am no diviner.  But many men gueste, who for all that are no diviners.  It may be so; but upon cere tain grounds, otherwise guesting aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures.  What be so is but upon cere tain grounds, otherwise guesting aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures.  What he seems that the series of two pence.  Deficient is series of two pence.  For somewhat lesse.  Deficient is series of two pence.  Twenty deniers.  Justil no longer put you to the stretch about nothing.  Tell me then, I pray you.  All this cost me three halfpence.  Truly fortune favoured you very well.  What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  Tusting ob serve good customes, as weobsituated in strength cept be bad.  The strength cept be bad.  The strength cept be bad.  The strength cept be bad.  Two pounds and a little more in plains.  Quanti emssets.  Atqui multi divinuar.  Atqui multi divinuar		11	IV. English and	La	tine. 195
What did you buy it for ? Come on, gu:sic.  I am no diviner. But many men guesse, who for all that are no diviners.  It may be so; but upon cere tain grounds, otherwise guessing aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures.  In the D guessing aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures.  In the D guessing aforehand is fortwo pence.  For somewhat lesse.  I town much then?  I dessent again.  Twenty deniers.  I wenty deniers.  I will no longer put you to the stretch about nothing.  Tell me then, I pray you.  All this cost me three halfpence.  Truly fortune favoured you very well.  What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  Tustome (as they say) is a betty bab tyrant.  And I wish we could as carefully observe good customes, as we obstituate people color force.  Tustome divina.  Atqui multi divinant, que tamen divini non suat.  Fieri potest; sed ex quibid dam conjecturis; alsoque divinatio vérita est in divinissive vérita est in divinistive vérita est in	iel .	100	Two pounds and a little		Duas libras & paulò am-
Mar day you have Come on, guesse.  I am no diviner.  But many men guesse, who for all that are no diviners.  It may be so; but upon cere tain grounds, otherwise guessing aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures.  My conserve two pence.  D For somewhat lesse.  M How much then?  D Guesse again.  Twenty deniers.  J bull this cost me three halfpence.  M Tell me then; I pray you.  All this cost me three halfpence.  M This is the custome of speaking.  M This is the custome of speaking.  M Tustoune do you tell me on?  M This is the custome of speaking.  M Tustoune (as they say) is a carefully observe good customes, as moothstinately keep the bad!  M Tusting before good customes, as moothstinately keep the bad!  M Tusting for the street good customes, as moothstinately keep the bad!  M Tusting for the street good customes, as moothstinately keep the bad!	llun		more.
I am no diviner.  I am no diviner.  But many men guesse, who for all that are no diviners.  It may be so; but upon cetating grounds, otherwise guessing aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures, uesse then upon some Eground.  Myou have bought it all for two pence.  D For somewhat lesse.  M How much then?  D Guesse again.  Twenty deniers.  J toth no longer put you to the stretch about nothing.  M Tell me then; I pray you.  All this cost me three halfpence.  M Truly fortune favoured you very well.  What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  D This is the custome of speaking.  D Tustome (as they say) is a terfully observed good customes, as moobsituate in successions, as moobsituate in successions, as moobsituate in successions.  Non sum divinus.  Atqui multi divinant, que tamen divini non sum.  Fieri potest; sed ex quibil dam conjecturis; alsoque divinatio vétita est in divinitio véti	Nig.	M	What did you buy it ioi
Atqui multi divinant, que tamen divinant, que tamen divini non funt.  Atqui multi divinant, que tamen divini non funt.  Fieri potest; sed ex quibus dam conjecturis; alsoque divinatio vétita est in divinatio vétita	$ 13-	D	Come on, guelle.	20
tain grounds, otherwife guessing aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures.  It may be so; but upon cere tain grounds, otherwise guessing aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures.  It may be so; but upon cere tain grounds, otherwise guessing aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures.  It may be so; but upon cere tain grounds, otherwise guessing aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures.  It may be so; but upon cere tain grounds, otherwise guessing aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures.  It may be so; but upon cere tain good divinatio vertice and vinishing of the surface of two pence.  It may be so; but upon cere tain good divinatio vertice and vinishing of the surface of two sides and the surface of th		24	I am no diviner.	-, rers.  It may be so; but upon cers tain grounds, otherwise guessing aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures, ueste then upon some Eground.  Myou have bought it all for two pence.  Description of the state of the		D	But many men guene, who		Atqui muit divinant, qui
It may be so; but upon cere tain grounds, otherwise guessing aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures. uesse then upon some Ground.  Myou have bought it all for two pence.  Defor somewhat lesse.  Myou have bought it all for two pence.  Defor somewhat lesse.  Myou have bought it all for two pence.  Defor somewhat lesse.  Myou have bought it all for two pence.  Defor somewhat lesse.  Myound then?  Guesse again.  Twenty deniers.  Myould the stretch about nothing.  Myould the stretch about nothing.  Myould the stretch about nothing.  Myound soft it is the stretch about nothing.  Myould the stretch about nothing.  Myould the stretch about nothing.  Myould the stretch about nothing.  Myound soft it is the stretch about nothing.  Myould the street half-pence.  Myould the street	160				tamen divini non lunt.
tain grounds, otherwise guessing aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures.  uesse then upon some sturies in the seriptures.  Description two pence.  Proformewhat lesse, How much then?  Description said the seriptures in two pence.  Description said the seriptures in the series in t		11			Fieri poteft ; fed ex quibufgueffing aforehand is forbidden in the Scriptures.  ueffe then upon fome  Ground.  Myou have bought it all for two pence.  For fomewhat leffe.  Mound then?  Gueffe again.  Twenty deniers.  Ji will no longer put you to the Artech about nothing.  Tell me then, I pray you.  All this coft me three halfpence.  Truly fortune favoured you very well.  What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of fpeaking.  Tuttome (as they say) is a bety babty rant.  And I wish we could as carefully observe good tustomes, as woodstinately beep the bab!  To bidden in the Scriptures.  Divína igitur ex cônje Hurâ.  Emusti totum duóbus ássi bus.  Paulò minóris.  Quanti ergò?  Tenta iterum.  Viginti denaríolis.  Nolo te diúcius torquére de níbilo.  Dic igitur sódes.  Hoc totum cónstitit milh sex quadrántibus.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quam milhi fortúnam nar ras?  Hic mos est loquéndi.  Mos (ut dicitur) tyránnus espessimus.  Atque útinam bonos more tam studiose colerémus qu'm obstinate retinému malos!		71	tain grounds, otherwise bidden in the Scriptures.  Deficients.  Myou have bought it all for two pence.  Deficients.  Myou have bought it all for two pence.  Deficients.  Myou have bought it all for two pence.  Deficients again.  Twenty deniers.  Deficients again.  Twenty deniers.  Deficients again.  Twenty deniers.  Deficient denariolis.  Nolo te diútius torquére de nébile.  Myou tothe stretch about nothing.  Myou have bought it all for two pence.  This is the cuftonie of speaking.  This is the custonie of speaking.  Tustorial resum.  Viginti denariolis.  Nolo te diútius torquére de nébile.  Hoc totum constitit min fex quadrântibus.  Profecto fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Ouam mini fortúnam nar ras?  Hic mos est loquéndi.  Mos (ut dicitur) tyr innus est péssimus.  Atque útinam bonos more tam studios ecolerémus qu'im obstinate retinému matos!			questing aforehand is for-
D nesset then upon some Gground.  M You have bought it all for two pence.  D For somewhat lesse.  D Guesse again.  Twenty deniers.  D Will no longer put you to the stretch about nothing.  Tell me then, I pray you.  All this cost me three halfpence.  M Truly fortune favoured you very well.  What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  Tultona igitur ex conje Aurâ.  Emusti totum duóbus ássis bus.  Paulò minóris.  Quanti ergò?  Tenta iterum.  Viginti denariolis.  Nolo te diúsius torquére de núbilo.  Dic igitur sódes.  Hoc totum cónstitit min sex quadrântibus.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quam mini fortúnam nar ras?  Hic mos est loquendi.  Mos (ut dicitur) tyránnus est péssimus.  Atque útinam bonos more tam studios? colcrémus qu'im obstinate retinému mates!	4		bidden in the Scriptures	20
For fomewhat leffe.  Define again.  Twenty deniers.  Ji will no longer put you to the firetch about nothing.  Tell me then, I pray you.  All this coft me three halfpence.  Truly fortune favoured you very well.  What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  Tuly babty rant.  And I wish we could ass carefully observe as weobstimately keep the bab!  The firetal for bus.  For lomewhat leffe.  Built i totum duóbus áfsi bus.  Paulò minóris.  Quanti ergò?  Tenta iterum.  Viginti denarsolas.  Nolo te diútius torquére duíthilo.  Dic igitur sódes.  Hoc totum cónstitit min fex quadrántibus.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quanti ergò?  Tenta iterum.  Viginti denarsolas.  Nolo te diútius torquére duíthilo.  Dic igitur sódes.  Hoc totum cónstitit min fex quadrántibus.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quanti ergò?  Tenta iterum.  Viginti denarsolas.  Nolo te diútius torquére duíthilo.  Stiffe again.  Viginti denarsolas.  Nolo te diútius torquére duíthilo.  Stiffe again.  Viginti denarsolas.  Nolo te diútius torquére duíthilo.  Stiffe again.  Viginti denarsolas.  Nolo te diútius torquére duíthilo.  Stiffe again.  Viginti denarsolas.  Nolo te diútius torquére du núthilo.  Stiffe again.  Viginti denarsolas.  Nolo te diútius torquére du núthilo.  Stiffe again.  Viginti denarsolas.  Nolo te diútius torquére du núthilo.  Stiffe again.  Viginti denarsolas.  Nolo te diútius torquére du núthilo.  Stiffe again.  Nolo te diútius torquére du núthilo.  Stiffe again.  Nolo te diútius torquére du núthilo.  Stiffe again.  Nolo te diútius torquére du núthilo.	102	D		30	그 가는 사람들은 사람들이 가는 사람들이 가는 사람들이 되었다면 하는 것이 없는 것이 없었다.
M You have bought it all for two pence.  D For somewhat lesse.  M How much then?  Guesse again.  Twenty deniers.  J will no longer put you to the stretch about nothing.  Tell me then, I pray you.  All this cost me three halfpence.  M Truly fortune favoured you very well.  What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  This is the custome of speaking.  Tushing to strey say is a bety babty rant.  M This is the custome of speaking.  Tushing to strey say is a bety babty rant.  M This is the custome of speaking.  Tushing to strey say is a bety babty rant.  M This is the custome of speaking.  This is the custome three half-pence.  This is the custome three half-pence.  This is the custome of speaking.  This is the custome three half-pence.  This is the custome of speaking.  This is the speaking.  This is the custome of speaking.  This is the speaking	4
bus.  Paulò minóris. Quanti ergò? Tenta iterum. Viginti denariolis.  Nolo te diútius torquére de núbilo.  Dic igitur fódes. Hoc totum cónstitit milifex quadrântibus.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Dic me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  Tustome (as they say) is a betty bab tyrant.  And I wish we could as carefully observe good tustomes, as weobstinately keep the bab!  Tivo pence.  Dic igitur sódes. Hoc totum cónstitit milifex quadrântibus.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quanti ergò?  Tenta iterum.  Viginti denariolis.  Nolo te diútius torquére de núbilo.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quanti ergò?  Tenta iterum.  Viginti denariolis.  Nolo te diútius torquére de núbilo.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quanti ergò?  Tenta iterum.  Viginti denariolis.  Nolo te diútius torquére de núbilo.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quanti ergò?  Tenta iterum.  Viginti denariolis.  Nolo te diútius torquére de núbilo.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quanti ergò?  Tenta iterum.  Viginti denariolis.  Nolo te diútius torquére de núbilo.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quanti ergò?  Tenta iterum.  Viginti denariolis.  Nolo te diútius torquére de núbilo.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quanti ergò?  Tenta iterum.  Viginti denariolis.  Nolo te diútius torquére de núbilo.	1	M		1
D For somewhat lesse.  How much then?  Guesse again.  Twenty deniers.  J will no longer put you to the stretch about nothing.  Tell me then, I pray you.  All this cost me three halfpence.  Truly fortune favoured you very well.  What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  This is the custome of speaking.  Tushome (as they say) is a bety babty rant.  And I wish we could as carefully observe good tustomes, as weobstinately keep the bab!  The solution of solution of the street good tustomes, as weobstinately keep the bab!  The solution of soluti
M How much then? D Guesse again. Twenty deniers. J will no longer put you to the stretch about nothing. Tell me then, I pray you. All this cost me three halfpence. M Truly fortune favoured you very well. What fortune do you tell me on? This is the custome of speaking. D Gustier sodes. Hoc totum constitute military solutions and the strength of solutions and the solutions as carefully observe good customes, as weobstinates.  M This is the custome of speaking.  Gustier sodes. Nolo te diútius terquire de núbilo.  Dic igitur sodes. Hoc totum constitute military solutions fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quam military solutions and solutions and solutions solutions and solutions.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quam military solutions fortunam nar ras? Hic mos est loquendi.  Mos (ut dicitur) tyr innus est possimus.  Atque útinam bonos more tam studios colerémus qu'im obstinate retinému malos!		n		35
Twenty deniers.  I will no longer put you to the stretch about nothing.  Tell me then, I pray you. All this cost me three halfpence.  Truly fortune favoured you very well.  What fortune do you tell me on? This is the custome of speaking.  Tustome (as they say) is a bety babty rant.  And I wish we could as carefully observe good customes, as meobilimately keep the bab!  Tenta iterum.  Viginti denariolis.  Noto te diútius torquére du níbilo.  Dic igitur sódes.  Hoc totum cónstitit milh sex quadrántibus.  Profectò fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quam milhi fortúnam nar ras?  Hic mos est loquendi.  Mos (ut dicitur) tyr innus est péssimus.  Atque útinam bonos more tam studios è colerémus qu'm obstinate retinému malos!	1	No.
Tell me then, I pray you.  M Tell me then, I pray you.  M Truly fortune favoured you very well.  What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  Tultone (as they say) is a bety bab tyrant.  And I wish we could as carefully observe good customes, as weobstinately keep the bab!  Twenty deniers.  Viginti denariolis.  Nolo te diútius torquére de núbilo.  Dic sgitur sodes.  Hoc totum constitut min sex quadrântibus.  Profecto fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quam mini fortúnam nar ras?  Hic mos est loquendi.  Mos (ut dicitur) tyr innus est péssimus.  Atque útinam bonos more tam studios es colerémus qu'm obstinate retinému malos!	- 10		The second secon		the same of the sa
Distribution longer put you to the stretch about nothing.  Molo te diútius terquére du néhilo.  Molo te diútius terquére du néhilo.  Dic égitur sódes.  Hoc totum constitit min sex quadrântibus.  Profecto fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quam mini fortúnam nar ras?  Molo te diútius terquére du néhilo.  Dic égitur sódes.  Hoc totum constitit min sex quadrântibus.  Profecto fortuna tibi pul chrè favit.  Quam mini fortúnam nar ras?  Hic mos est loquendi.  Mos (ut dicitur) tyr innus est péssimus.  Atque útinam bonos more tam studios est colerémus qu'im obstinate retinému malos!	- 1	100 to the Arctch about nothing.  Tell me then, I pray you. All this cost me three halfpence. Truly fortune favoured you very well. What fortune do you tell me on? This is the custome of speaking. This is the custome of speaking.  Tultome (as they say) is a bety babty rant. And I wish we could as carefully observe good tustomes, as weobstinately keep the bab!  To the Arctch about nothing.  Dic sgitur sodes. Hoc totum constitutions fex quadrantibus. Profecto fortuna tibi pulchare favoir.  Quam mihi fortunam nar ras? Hic mos est loquendi.  Mos (ut dicitur) tyr innus est pessions.  Atque útinam bonos more tam studiose colerémus qu'm obstinate retinému malos!	400	_
Tell me then, I pray you.  All this cost me three halfpence.  Truly fortune favoured you very well.  What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  This is	-		to the Aretch about no-	40
All this cost me three halfpence.  Truly fortune favoured you very well.  What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  Tultome (as they say) is a bety babty rant.  And I wish we could as carefully observe good tustomes, as weobstinately keep the bab!  The solution of the surface of the same of the surface of the	1	M			Die feitur fodes.
pence. Truly fortune favoured you very well. What fortune do you tell me on? This is the custome of speaking. This is the custome of speaking.  This is the custome of speaking.			All this cost me three half-	711111
Truly fortune favoured you very well.  What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  Th	1
wery well.  What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  D Custome (as they say) is a bety babty rant.  And I wish we could as carefully observe good customes, as weobsi-nately keep the bab!  The chrè fayit.  Quam mihi fortunam nar ras?  Hic mos est loquendi.  Mos (ut dicitur) tyrannus est possimus.  Atque útinam bonos more tam studiose colerémus que mobstinate retinému malos!	1	M
What fortune do you tell me on?  This is the custome of speaking.  Tustome (as they say) is a beep babty rant.  And I wish we could as carefully observe good customes, as weobstinately keep the bab!  The work of the custome of speaking and sell the masses of the customes of the color of the	1			145 me on? This is the custome of speaking.  Tustome (as they say) is a bety babty rant.  And I wish we could as carefully observe good tustomes, as weobstinately keep the bab!  The custome of the mass of the custome of	7	D
This is the custome of speaking.  D Custome (as they say) is a bety babty rant.  And I wish we could as carefully observe good tusiomes, as weobstinately keep the bab!  The custome of the custome of speaking.  Hic mosest loquendi.  Mos (ut dicitur) tyrannus est péssimus.  Atque útinam bonos more tam studios ecolerémus qu'im obstinate retinému malos!	1		me on ?
D fustome (as they say) is a bety babty rant.  And I wish we could as carefully observe good customes, as weodstinately keep the bad!  Mately keep the bad!  Sometimes of the same of the	1	M		100
D Tustome (as they say) is a so Mos (ut dicitur) tyr innus est per bad tyrant.  And I wish we could as carefully observe good customes, as weodstinate retinémus qu'am obstinate retinémus malos!	1		speaking.		The mosen roquenar.
And I with we could as carefully observe good customes, as weobstinately keep the bad!  Distributed by the bad!  péssimus.  Atque útinam bonos more tam studiose colerémus qu'im obstinate retinému malos!	2	D	Cultome (as they fay) ic a	50	Most or dicional tom inner of
And I with we could as carefully observe good customes, as weobstinately keep the bad!  Atque útinam bonos more tam studiose colerémus qu'im obstinate retinémus malos!			bety vanturant.	,,,	postione
customes, as weodst- nately keep the bad!    tam studiose colerémus   qu'm obstinate retinémus   malos!	1	M	And I with me could ac
nately keep the bad! 55 malos!		1	carefully of ferbe good		Augue utinam vonos mores
D anately Reep the bab!   55 malos!	-		customes, as months.	16.7	an junioje coleremus,
	1	1	nately keen the han
		)	Then all things would	55
		7 17	gobriter.	1	Tunc melius se habérent omnia. V 4 Let

TO A CONTRACTOR OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERT

1	96 M. Corderius
D	Let us leave that fortune thento heathens and god-	0	Nos igitur fortúnam illm Ethnicis & impis tele- quamus. Fortúna nibil est: Solus est Deus qui faverus bis, solus est adjúntos protector noster.
М		55	Istud quidem certò scio, s de liter credo, & vete co fiteor; sed quid agu Sæpè lábitur lingua, n hil mali cogitánte ánim
Þ		70	Oportébat te istud men nisse, ne lingua pracin mentem.
M	Truly we learned that out of the layings of the le-		Istud quidem didícims septem sapiéntum didi
D	ven wise men; but we do not alwayes think upon such fine speeches, though we get them by heart. The memory is so much the more to be exercised,	85	fed non semper occ runt ejúsmodi puld dicta, licet ea manda rimus memóriæ. Tantò igitur magis illas exercenda, ut nobis,qu opus est, súppetat,
M	I Gall learne another time to be wifer by this		Isto tuo admónitu, dife esse ali às prudentior.
Þ	your giving me warning. But I heare the bell ring, let us give over.	1	Sed audio fignum dari; de námus.
	Col. 12. The Master. The	Grad 12 h	Col. 12. Herus. Fi-
ı	Have you been to day in the market?		Fuistine hodie in foro?

Lib.

FHFHFHFHFHF

H

F H F H

F

H

F

H

F

		erss	w's Colloquies,	1
HF	What were the fruits?  Some were not ripe enough, and of other fome, 3  made a question whe=	40	Quid fructus? Alii erant non fatis matiri, de aliis ego dubitabane. (entne boni.	lib a c
н	O wretch, couldest thou not taste?		Miser non póteras gustáre?	-
F	But these women suffer you to taste nothing, unlesse you say you will buy.	45	Atqui istæ mulières nihil gustare permittunt, nih te empturum affirmes.
Н	No wonder, for a great many would taste for their mindes sake only.		Nihil mirum, multi enim gustárent ánimi tanim grátiá.
F	Therefore be you wiscr another time.	50	Tu igitur esto alias pa- déntior. Quomodo?	C
н	If you see any faire fruit, buy a little for a denier,	< <	Si videris pulchrum áliquen fructum, eme aliquino
F	that you may make trial.  And what then?	55	lum denariolo, ut ficia periculum.	Q
H	If you like it well, then buy more; but if not, let it alone, and go to another place.	60	Quid tum præterea? Si tibi sapúerit, tum émin amplius; sin minus rela- quito, & aliò te conférn
F	That is a good caution.		Bona est ista cantio.
Н	Remember then that you use it hereafter.		Memineris igitur, ut in postesutaris.
F	I hope, I shall be careful to remember it. Would you have any thing else?	65	Ego, ut spero, meminendi ligénter. Nunquid vi prætérea?
н	That you minde those things which concerne your office, and then that		Ut cures quæ tuisunt offici deinde literis incumbus	С
	Col. 13. Carolétus. Quin- tinus.		Col. 13. Caroletus. Qui-	Q
С	Was you present at Morn- ing prayer?		Adfuisti matutina practi-

80

90

95 nt, 1

a defe-

O TORE.

bum !.

cum?

Hàrm

nim (

efficial

t ftair er bum

lloque

nini bi

Aum b

um pe-um L

menlen eruni, i ntur, L

ptilling

penin-

(æpiffm andopiz

flims

atque e

obleques

e ex ipil Q

Licimur it led effet

H

that willingly receive the doctrine of Christ, do not oftend on purpose or of malice.

Thetrue feare of the Lord doth cause that.

Such therefore, as far as they can, through the weaknesse of nature, do carefully endeavour to take heed, that they do not willingly do, say, or think any thing wherewith God may be offended, though never so little.

Therefore let us also have a care to avoid that; let us study to live well, & obey the will of our God, not only that we may not be whip't, but rather that we may please that our best Father.

So shall it come to passe, that we may truly be the sons, not of darknesse, but of light.

But of these things another time more at large; let us go to our disputations.

Lo, th: Well calls us.

Col. 14. Albertus. Ti-

Are you come from the market at the length? rissimum; tamen qui do trinam Christi libentet amplectuntur, non studio peccant, neque mal, tià.

Istud præstat verus ille timor Dómini.

Tales igitur, quoad licèt per nature infirmitatem, sedulò cavére nituntur, ne quid scientes faciant, dicant, aut cógitent, quo Deus vel minimum offendatur.

Ergò studeámus & nos id ipsum cavére: studeámus rectè vivere, & Dei nostri parere voluntati, non modò ne vapulémus, sed magìs ut illi óptimo Patri nostro placeámus.

Ità fiet, ut verè simus, non tenebrarum, sed lucis filii.

sed de bis aliàs pluribus; ad di putationes nos recipiamus.

Ecce, vocat signum.

Col. 14. Albertus, Ti-

Nune demum redis à foro?

Why

There is fuch a theory at the floambles, that I could fearce come near.  A What flesh-meat have you bought us against to morrow?  There good store of flesh in the market?  Truly so great store, that I wonder it is so dear.  It is no wonder.  A sthere ismuch flesh-meat eat flesh-meat every day. But what kindes of flesh meat did you see especially?  I saw beef, veale, commutation, pork, kid and lambe.  Nothing else?  What would you have else?  What would you have else?  What would you have else?  Was there no venison?  I cannot reckon all at once, yet I saw venison too.  What like?  Reb-beare and bores-flesh, O how foolish are you!  Why so?  Bubulam & vervesiman flam hadinamagin na cópia?  Tanta profectò, ut in decorror adeo caras esse.  Nihil mirum.  Ut multæ sunt carnes multi qui edunt of quotidie.  Sed quæ potissimin in carnis genera?  Vidi búbulam, viruis ovillam, vervesiman, sillam hædinamagin Nihilne ampliùs?  Quid vellesprætere.  Nihil erat ferinæ?  Non queo referre smal nia; imò etiam servidi.  Qualem?  Cervinam, & aprugnam O quam pinguis di prugna!  O quam ninepus es!  Quid ità?  Quid ità!ersi in renum minibus.  Nam quod in su director arvinas.		202 M. Core	ierii	as Colloquies, in the market?  Truly fo great ftore, that I wonder it is fo dear. It is no wonder.  As there ismuch flesh-meat, fo there are many that eat flesh-meat every day. But what kindes of flesh-meat did you see cspecially?  I saw beef, veale, stocematton, catcher-mutton, pork, kid and lambe. Nothing else? What would you have else? Was there no venison? A cannot reckon all at once, yet I saw venison too. What like? Reb-beare and bores-flesh, O how foolish are you! Why so? Because you are mistaken in the names of things.  A For that which is called fat in a tame swine, is cal-		Why at the length?  There is such a throng at the shambles, that I could scarce come near.  What flesh-meat have you bought us against to-mor-		Quid demum?  Tanta est ad lanienam trin  ut vix accédere potucio  Quas attulisti noli
A lt is no wonder.  As there ismuch flesh-meat, fo there are many that eat flesh-meat every day. But what kindes of flesh-meat did you see especially?  A I saw beef, veale, Ememeton, pork, kid and sambe.  Nothing esse?  What would you have esse?  What would you have esse?  Was there no venison?  A Cannot teckon all at once, yet I saw venison too.  What like?  A Red-beare and bores-flesh, O how fat the boresflesh is!  O how foolish are you!  Why so?  Because you are mistaken in the names of things.  For that which is called fat in a tame swine, is cal-  A sthere ismuch flesh-meat, addeo caras esse.  Nihil mirum.  Ut multæ sunt carnes, multi qui edunt of quotidie.  Sed quæ potissimim vi carnis génera?  Vidi búbulam, vituim ovillam, vervetinam, sillam hædinam, agmi Nihilne ampliùs?  Quid velles prætérea?  Non queo reférre smol nia; imò etiam sem vidi.  Qualem?  Cervinam, & aprugnam O quam inéptus es!  Quid ità?  Quid stalleris in rerum minibus.  Nam quod in sue des stat in a tame swine, is cal-	A	Is there good ftore of flesh in the market?	10	Bubulam & vervecinam. Estine in foro carnium na cópia?
A sthere ismuch flesh-mear, fo there are many that eat flesh-meat every day. But what kindes of flesh-meat did you see especially?  A I saw beef, veale, Ememet ton, pork, kid and sambe.  Nothing esse?  What would you have esse?  What would you have esse?  Was there no venison?  A Cannot teckon all at once, yet I saw venison too.  What like?  Red-beare and bores-flesh, O how fat the bores-flesh is!  O how foolish are you!  Why so?  Because you are mistaken in the names of things.  For that which is called fat in a tame swine, is cal-  A sthere ismuch flesh-meat, and that are many that ear many that quotidie.  Sed quæ potifimum vicarnis génera?  Vidi búbulam, vituin ovillam, vervecinam, sillam hædinam, agni Nihilne ampliùs?  Quid velles prætera?  Non queo reférre smal nia; imò etiam set vidi.  Qualem?  Cervinam, & aprugnam.  O quàm pinguis di prugna!  O quàm inéptus es!  Quid ità?  Quia talleris in renum minibus.  Nam quod in sue din stico dicitur arvina, in flico dicitur arvina, in		wonder it is so dear.		Tanta profectò, ut ma
carnis genera? Vidi búbulam, viruin ovillam, vervecinam, fllam, hædinam, agnin lambe. Ton, pork, kid and tambe. Nothing else? What would you have else? Was there no venison? A cannot reckon all at once, yet I saw venison too. What like? Red-beare and bores-flesh, O how fat the boresflesh is! O how foolish are you! Why so? The Because you are mistaken in the names of things. A borthat which is called fat in a tame swine, is cal-	Ţ	fo there are many that eat flesh-meat every day. But what kindes of flesh-	15	Ut multæ funt carnes, multi qui edunt car mutton, talether-mutton, pork, kid and lambe. Nothing else? What would you have else? Was there no venison? A cannot reckon all at once, yet I saw venison too. What like? Red-beare and bores-flesh, O how fat the boresflesh is! O how foolish are you! Why so? Because you are mistaken in the names of things. A For that which is called fat in a tame swine, is cal-		cially?		Sed quæ potiffimum viz carnis génera?
Mothing else? What would you have else? Was there no venison? A cannot reckon all at once, yet I saw venison too. What like? Red-beare and bores-flesh, O how fat the bores-flesh is! O how foolish are you! Why so? T Because you are mistaken in the names of things. For that which is called fat in a tame swine, is cal-	A	mutton , Mether-mut-	20	Vidi búbulam, vituira ovillam, vervecinam, illam hædinam,agnin
T Was there no venison? A cannot teckon all at once, yet I saw venison too. What like? Red-beare and bores-flesh, O how fat the boresflesh is! O how foolish are you! Why so? T Because you are mistaken in the names of things. A For that which is called fat in a tame swine, is cal-	A			Nihilne amplius?
What like?  Red-beare and bores-flesh, O how fat the bores- flesh is! O how foolish are you! A Why so? Because you are mistaken in the names of things. For that which is called fat in a tame swine, is cal-  A Cualem? Cervinam, & aprugnam O quam pinguis di prugna! O quam inéptuses! Quid ità? Quid tálleris in renum minibus. Nam quod in sue di fico dicitur arvina, ii		3 cannot teckon all at once, yet I faw venison	25	Nihil erat ferinz? Non queo reférre simula nia; imò etiam sena
T O how foolish are you!  Why so?  Because you are mistaken in the names of things.  For that which is called fat in a tame swine, is called fat the name of things.  A Because you are mistaken in the names of things.  A For that which is called fat in a tame swine, is called fat this called fat the name of things.  A For that which is called fat in a tame swine, is called fat this called fat thi
O how foolish are you!  Why so?  Because you are mistaken in the names of things.  For that which is called fat in a tame swine, is called fat stin a tame swine, is called fat s		O how fat the bores- flesh is!	30	O quam pinguis di prugna!
T Because you are mistaken in the names of things.  A For that which is called fat in a tame swine, is called fat the first of dicturary in the difference of the first of	- 43			O quam inéptus es!
A For that which is called fat   Nam quod in fee de fico dicitur arvin, i		Peccuse you are at Oalson		Ouid ità?
A For that which is called fat   Nam quod in foe on fine at ame fwine, is cal-	.1	the names of things.	35	minibus.
The fero (in a winde	A	For that which is called fat		Nam quod in sue des flico dicitur arvin, in sue fero (id est, an

edere potiere 1 ti nobis carre

A

Lil

vervecinam. cárnium m ectò, ut m A T int carnes,

edunt can A ffimum vid

ım, vituin T inam,agnin A

T

A

Lib. IV. swine, that is, in a bore, and it is the hardest in am tari that kinde. potucia I do not remember that ever I heard that. bis carre Now you have heard it, um? commit it to memory if you will. cinam. But you teacher, whence did 45 ium no T you learne it? Venison is a very common Ut mi A thing at our house. luch Whence have you ftore ? arnes, My father hath a Pathe of int con A many wilde beafts in the countrey, out of which um vid sometimes whole borcs are brought into the city. What a like one is that vituing T cinan. Park ? It is a very large place, aln,agnin A most foure-square, fen. ced about on all fides with rea? . . very high walls, fet with fimil many and tall trees; am feria mong which there arevery 60 many bramble-thickets. What like trees are there? whether such as use to grow about townes, or luch as use to grow in Woods?

ugnam.

uis et es!

rerum!

fue do

vina, N

elt, am FREE Almost all such as use to 65 grow in woods, but amongst these, especially oaks and beech-trees, with the most wherofred deere, bores and fallow deere are fed.

callum vocatur; & eft in eo genere dur, ffimum.

Istud quidem audire non memini.

Nunc audisti, manda (fi vis) memorix.

Tu verò doctor, unde illud didicisti?

Domi nostræ ferina caro res est frequentissima. Unde vobis tanta cópia ?

Pater habet ruri ferárum multarum vivarium, ex quo intérdum folidi apri, in urbem adferuntur.

Quale est vivárium istud?

Locus est ferè quadrangulari forma amplissimus, muris altislimis septus undique, confitus multis & procéris arbotibus; inter quas funt dumera maxime denla.

Quales sunt illic árbores? utrum urbanæ an sylveitres ?

Sylvestres ferè omnes; sed in his potissimum quercus & fagi; quarum glande pascuntur cervi, apri, damæ.

that follow. In what chapter? The fixt, unteffe my mc-T mozp faile me.

> But so much for this. For we have discoursed enough, and now they are 90 met together to dispute.

Let us go then. followine, or (if you had A rather) go befoge me. I will do neither, but the will go together.

O quantas merito gan Deo debétis, qui vo largitus est tantamien omnium abundania

Lit

Non fumus immémores neficiórum ejus. Pa enim plurima!bona pauperes érogat; quel men tibi uni didum

Quia talia non vult pu

Tanto migis laudalis quod Christi pracin vere lequitur, cujus apud Matthaum in G funt ; Quum facis quit) Elecnoffna 1 quæ sequuntur.

Quoto capite ? Sexto, nisi me fallit mon

A

I

W

A

0

It

Bu

Sed hæc hactenus. Satis enim fumus college ti, & jam ad dilpua dum convenitur.

Eamus igitur. Séquere me, aut (fimil pracede.

Ego neutrum faciam, und abimus.

95

STATE OF

ntan

min

nores h bona

s. Pay

qual G

ult fre

tudad

præcin

cu jus w

um la

facis

fnan,

it men

s colleg

dilpu

(fimil faciam,

tur.

S.

Col. 15. Grinandus. Ma-

Are you but come to day then from your Countrey-house?

But to day; and that a little before dinner.

But you faid you would be there but two dayes.

So I hoped it would be, and fo my father promised. What hindred you then that you did not come back looner?

My mother stayed me, though I befought her even with teares that she should let me go.

But why did she stay you so

That I might beare her company as she came back.

And what did you in the mean time?

I gathered fruits with our 20 Countrey-folkes.

What fruits?

As if you did not know harvest and laterard frais, peares, apples, walnuts, chesnuts.

O pleasant exercise!

It is not only pleasant, but profitable too.

But this is not well, that in the mean time the bene- 3°

Col. 15. Grinandus. Ma-

Tantum igitur hódie è villa revertisti?

Hódie tantům, idque paulò ante prándium.

Atqui dixeras te futurum illic modò biduum.

tà sperabam fore, & sic pater promittebat.

Quid igitur obstitit, quo minus redie is citius.

Mater me detínuit, tamétsi etiam cum láchrymis eam obsecrárem ut me missum sáceret.

Sed cur te tam diù remo-

Ut se comita er in réditu.

Quid verô agébas intérea?

Colligebam fructus cum Quos fructus ?

Quafi non fint tibi noti fructus autumnales & fcrotini, pyra, mala, juglandes, caltanex.

O jucunda exercitátio !

Non est jucunda folum, sed étiam frugisera.

Sed hoc malum, quod interim quinque aut sex

75

80

io

half. You fay faire, fce then you have a good courage, for whereas I have talked with you at large about this matter, I did it not, because I had a minde to draw you to de. spaire, but it all proceed-love towards you. I make no boubt of that; whence it is that I thank you the more.

ed from mine especial

But lo, the little boil cails us to the Duppe . 3 feafonable meffenget.

Col. 16. John. Rubetus.

God fave you, Rubetus. O fohn, Pou come in a luckie boure, are you well ?

Very well, I thank God, but how do you?

Very well indeed, by Gods bleffing; but when came you back from home?

Now three dayes ago.

It is well, you have come very featonably.

Verily I knew the vacation time was at hand.

Are you content we should talke a little now at our leafure?

Yes; so we be farther off

Recte dicis; fac igitur habeas animum bonum. Nam quod ego recum pluribus verbis de hac re disputavi, non ideo feci, ut vellem te adducere in desperationem; sed totum illud proféctum est ex meo in te amore singulari.

Haud mihi dubium illud eft: quò fit, ut majorem tibi hábeam grátiam.

Sed ecce, vocat nos ad cœnam tintinnabulum.

Nuncius opportunus.

Col. 16. Joannes. Rubetus,

Salve, Rubere.

O Joannes, auspicato adve. nis, valeine bene!

Optime, gratia Deo; tu verò ut vales?

Recte sane, Dei bene scio; sed quando redissiti domo?

Nudiustérrius.

Bene habet, opportune venitti.

Nempe sciebam instare vacationis terminum.

Placerne ut or ôse aliquandeu confabulémur?

Maxime dummodo semoti from

Lib.IV. austi.

pero; ous ut ; uperen

ótero d

uthoris n latisi

ræcepio G ut lenie

e ássequ tis em.

aderisni conferin R em ficial quidem i

iod pobe

isset viv tri voces

Stirerat.

mihi n ec mead elt,

Be ill

30

35

208

farther off from this company of playing beg. s, that make fuch a naple.

You do well to put me in minde; let us goafide into that ichool, which is 20 open.

How finely do we fit here! Come on, let us talk free-

Are the Vintages Done?

Duite. R

1

R

R

JR

how much time babe you fpent in the whole work? About fifteen dayes. JR

Was you always there then? I miffed not a day.

What did you do? I often gathered grapes. You should joyne something else with the verb I gathered.

What, I pray you? And I are them.

What needed that? no body can make any doubt

For who gathers good and 40 ripe fruit, but he eates even of the best?

Truly, you say well, O brave, I commend your aniwer.

Did you now thlnk to have Cop't my mouth

I did not so much as think of that. What then?

Bene mones; secedamus in auditorium , illud , quol est apertum. Quam apte hic sedemus!

mosa ludentium.

R

Agè, loquámur liberè. Suntne peratta vestra vi

Omnino, Quantum temporis positi in toto opere?

Dies circiter quindecim. Tu igitur semper intent

Nullum intermisi dien. Quid agébas? Uvas sæpiùs colligebam Cum verbo collig band buifti aliquid addere

Quidnam, quælo? Et edébam. Quid opus fuit? Dehoc nemo dubitárepor

Quis enim fructus bonn mattiros legit, quint etiam ex optimis? Profecto recte loque euge, responsum laude

F

T

Jamne putabas os occia mihi? Istud ne cogitavi quiden |

Quid igitur?

Thence it comes to passe, plain of fuch Ushers.

that the Matters them- 85

felves do fometimes com-

mus!

ere.

diem.

ebam.

dace

nis?

quidem.

209 Non expectabam tam promptum tamque prudens responsum. Nihil est quod mireris. Nam, ut est in Proverbio, Sape etiam est olitur verba opportuna loquitus. Cui debes hoc proverbium? Magistro Fuliano. Is enim dictat nobis interdum Proverbia ejúlmedi, & pulchras lententias ex b)nis authoribus. Optime vobis consulit; sed quibus horis id solet sa-

Nonnunquam à cœnâ, fæpius autem cum in auditorio nihil habemus reddere.

Utinam sic omnes facerent, dummodo non effent impedimento quotidianis scholæ exercitationibus!

Bene subjunxisti istam exceptionem per alverbiun Dummodo.

Sunt enim quidem pædagó. gi, qui suis dictatis & privatis lectionibus lic onerant pucros luos, ut non possint in schola satisfacere.

Inde fit ut iph præceptores interdum conquerantur de talibus pædagógis. X 3 But R How glad was you of that Mastership! What a goodly thing was it to see you with your gravity, commanding
some, encouraging others, and chiding others!

Truly if you had feen me, you would have faid I had been another kinde of body then a Icholar in the school.

As far as I can perceibe, you was not idle.

Nay, like a good husband I did oft times put my hand to the work, that I might egge on the work-folkes by my example.

Your father (as it appears) had preferred you to this office not without a cause.

Truly he had tried my diligence in other matters. $45

Yet bar bragging.

Imean so; but I talk so freely, because I talk with my frient.

But let us go on.
What store of wine have

Indifferent, as is faid to be almost every where this year, although we have the laret-wine in abun= bance, yet have we not white fo.

Quàm gaudebas isto magistério! quàm pulchrum erat vidére te cum tuâ gravitate aliis imperantem, alios adhortantem, alios denique arguentem!

Profectò si vidisses me, dixisse álium esse, quàm in schola; discipulum.

2/2 video, non eras otiólus.

Imò, ut bonus pateriamilias,

adhibébam sæpenúmeró

manus operi, ut iplos operários meo exemplo instigárem.

Non abs re (ut appare)

'pater te huic muneri præfecerat.

Nempe áliis in rebus expértus erar meam diligéntiam.

Absit tamen verbo jaët intia. Ego sic intélligo; sed liberè sic loquor, quia cum famiiári meo.

Quanta est vobis vinicópia?

Mediócris, qualis ferè hoc anno ubique esse dicitur, tametsi vinum rubéllum habemus affátim, album non item.

X 4

Bas

em incupanus s ? diebus, roptétu оретатіad id lo

iffunding le uvz in reflx in in toru iuntura R

as iffa.

gendis on

am, ma årem open R nquam rà magin Réctus li or Récett J So it commonly comes to paile. But do not you think I have 185 told you enough about vintages? What would you have elic? R Because we can 'tend so well, I will know fomething of you too concerning the feuit of trees. For it is, as it were, another vintage. Have you not great store?

212

you filled ?

otherlome.

for.

R

J

R

J

R

J

R

R

ty to ns. When were they gathered? Our folkes gathered them when we made wine.

What kindes of fuch like truits have you?

Apples, peares, chesnuts

Quo tempore vinum faci banius, familia collige bat.

200

Quæ sunt vobis ejulmou fructuum genera? Mala, pyra, caftanez, p leffe correction is to be borne patiently, especially if it be juit.

na, præfertim justa.

G

ientis tra ret peche

ners ; What thou deferv'ft to bearc, beare without grudge. But what if the correction little book of good man be unjust?

That also must be endured 40 nevertheleffe.

For whole cause?

For Christs cause, who futfered amost unjust, and that a most bitter death 45 too, for our fins.

I wish we could think upon that, as oft as we fuffer any thing!

The Master doth often put us in minde of it, as oft as there is occcasion. But be talkes to them that do not heare him, as the Proverb layes. Therefore let us strive to be more diligent hereafter. God grant we may do fo.

Col. 18. Grandinus. Thomas.

Why was you not at the Sermon to day?

I was buffe in writing ictterg.

Could you not putoff your bullm ffe ?

The Eartier was in baffe.

But our Master teacheth us

This sentence is in our 35 | Hæc habétur in libéllo morali sententia.

> Quod merito pateris, patié ter ferre memento. Sed quid si pæna sit injusta?

Ea quoque patienda est nihilóminus.

Cujus causa?

Propter Ielum Christans, qui mortem injustissimam, eamque acerbiffimam, tulit pro peccaris nostris.

Utinam id nobis in mentem veni et, quoties aliquid parimur !

Fræceptor id nos sæpe monet ; quoties occurrit occano. Sed furdis narratur fabula, ut est in prcverbio.

Ergo demus operam, ut fimus posthac diligentióres. Ità faxit Deus.

Col. 18. Grandinus. Thomas.

Cur non interfuisti hodiernæ concióni?

Occupatus eram in scribendis literis.

Non poteras differre negotium?

Urzeoat tabellaris festinatio.

Atqui præceptor docet nos that e illi con

ommend commo E

quenui 3 ofequin igenter 1 et, ut & B

aula: propies ıs.

5 ? necessin B mauns

icis, la a'; Non nem quin G omnibs d tames a cft pz. 1.

Thi

time.

Lib. omnia postp onenda efe Dei negótiis.

Docet quidem, neque mihi dubium eft; id M nunquam fumus acope. fecti, quin læpe Dem C terrenis iftis postponi mus.

Istud malum est.

Peffimum vero; sed seme hómines sumus, nih D. M us nos Spiritu luo imme taverit.

Sed dic (quælo) fuitne fr quens anditorium?

C

M

M

M

M

Col

Non admodum, pro more !! C lito. Unde fit istud?

I gnoras populum nunce occupatum in vindemis

Non ignoro, sed non pol M funt homines divinism C bus unicam horam in- M pendere.

De hoc non est meum un reddere rationem; Hoc tantum dico, Turpe est doctori, quim cu pa redarguit ipsum.

Papæ! quantum colaphu impegisti mihi!

Vale: verbum non amplin aldam.

Esto alias prudentior.

de efe

eque il

adeope.

d femme

nifi D.

o imme

utne fr

nunc e

ndemis

ivinism-oram im-neum un quim a colapha

n amplia

Cul

107.

um.

nem ;

n?

A; fel M e Den C oftponi

Whole

Molinaus. Ca-Col. 19. Molinaus. Ca-Col. 19. rarius. rarius. pou are to go atray then TH igitur cras (ut audio) disceffurus es. to mortow (as I hear.) To morrow, if God gibe Cras; fi Dominus permife-What now! why fo foon? Eho! cur tam citò? My father is urgent upon Urget me pater. me. Imò, tu urges patrem. Nay, you are urgent upon your father? Do you think fo? Itane tibi videtur? Quócan I urge my father? modo patrem urgere pol-10 fum? By continual lending of Assidua missione literaruna I only writ once, that the Tantum semel scripsi instao more H C breaking-up-time was re vacationem scholasticam. 15 Quando missit When did you fend your literas ? letter? The last meck. Hebdómade superiori. ! non pel- M On what day? Quo die? On Friday. Véneris. What will you do at home? Quid facies domi? 20 The vintage is nigh, and Instat vindemia, interim other fruits must be gacolligendi funt fructus thered in the mean time. arborum. You might tarry till the Póteras expectare dimifiobreaking-up-bap. nis diem. I do not know when it will Né cio quando sit futúrus. I hope it will be at the Spero fore ad finem proxima nert weeks end. hebdomadis. But that is not in our Sed iftud noneft in noftro fipowerto determine. 30 tum arbitrio. No, nor in the Masters in-Ne in præceptóris quidem. deed.

iomina

ur ind P

6 pemil emissibe C

net en C e futer of P

ræcepti

iemel ( Paulifa

altun &

aenter b LIÓTA IZM

coenar

s meas to ne det

Tum te

Col

Col. 20. Petrinus. Croteránus.

In what kinde of sport have you exercised your selfe to day?

For wall-nuts.

labe you monne any tijing?

Nay, I have loft.

pou had bad fortune tien. I know not what fortune, only I know it hath befallen through my default, but so as God would

Why would God have it

That I may learn hereby to bear more grievous things, when they befall

As if God regarded chil: 15 diens plap.

He doth regard it indeed; moreovernotting comes to paffe in the morie, without Gods probi= dence.

Fre you grown to wife? who taught you those things?

Have not you your felfe, heard them very often of our Preacher?

It may be, I might have heard them, but what should I do? my memorp is but weak.

Col. 20. Petrinus, Croteranus.

Quoludi génere hódie te exercuifti.

luglandium.

Ecquid lucri fecifti? Imò, perdidi.

Fortunaigitur tibi adversa fuit.

Nescio quæ fortuna; tantum scio mea culpa id accidiffe, sed ità volente Deo.

Cur Deus id voluit?

Ut hinc discam ferre gravi-. ó a, quum acciderint.

Quafi verò Deus lufiones puerorum curet.

Curat pofecto; quinétiam nibil fit in rerum natura sinc diviná providentiá.

Si cinc Philesopharis? Quitnam te ista docuit?

Non tute audivisti toties ex concionatore nostro?

Fieri potest ut audierim? fed quid agam? Fluxa eft mihi memoria.

That

Nimírum, quia illam no exerces. Quómodo exercenda el Primum diligenti attentio. ne, hoceft,diligeneral vertendo ea que audivi. C mus,aut legimus; deinde éadem sæpè repeténdo; dénique docendo álics p quæ didicimus, Ista nobis sapius inculcia

tur a præceptore: le

(me milerum!) quant

pina eft bæc mea negli gentia? Sic lumus omnes, nifi Spin tus ille Dei nos excite. Quid igitur faciam? Expergilcere, mi Petrin M toto animo, totisque ? . ribus ad Deum april M illum affidue & pro 15fectu precare, vigilas A elto, pravos fúgito,uli re cum bonis, tum mon-M. busfacillimis effice ut est tibi familiares reddas.

Quid tandem conféquet.

Si te istis moribus affuete cerls, Dominus Des lua clementia tui milatel bitur, brevique animum tuum immutatum fentis

220 exercile it.

How is it to be exercised? P First by diligent attention, that is, by diligently minding what things we have heard or read; and then by often repeating the same; and lastly by teaching others what we have learned.

Thole things are often prest upon us by the Master; but (wo is me!) hotecareicffely negligent am 1?

So we are all, unlesse the Spirit of God quicken us.

What shall I do then? Awake, my Petrinus, make towards God with all thy heart, and with all thy strength play unto him continually and devoutly, be vigilant, thun them that are naught, keep company with them that are good, and make them familiar to you by your courteous behaviour.

What hall I get by it at ti e laft ?

P

Do you ask? if you use your felt to this kinde of carriage, the Lord God will in his goodnesse have mercy upon you, and you shall perceive your minde to be altered in a thort time.

m m p O what a scasonable meeting hath this been to me? I intreat thee Croterdnus, 65 that we may talk oftner together.

There hall be no failing on mp part, as oft as we are both at leature.

I thank you heartily.

You have no reason to 70 thank me.

Let us get us into the ichool.

Col. 21. Giles. Maffuerius.

excite. I Why did you fcatter peafe up and down here.

When?

After dinner.

n apn I did it for my mindes lasc.

But whence had you those 5 peale?

um mon-M. I took th m out of a trey, where they were laid up that they might be fodden to morrow.

Ought you to do evil for your mindes lake?

I did not think that was any harme.

Not to be any harm to tread bread under your fect ?

I would be loth to do 15 that.

m fenios Why would you be loth?

O quan opportunus hie mihi congressus fuit? Objecto te, mi Croterane, ut læpiùs colloquamur.

Per me non stabit , quoties utrique licebit per otium,

Gatias ago maximas. Non est quod agas.

Recipiámus nos in auditorium.

Col. 21. Egidius. Maj. luerius.

Cur hic dispergebas pifa?

Quando? Post prandium. Id facicbam ánimi caufa.

Sed pila illa unde habueras?

Acceperam e conchula, ubi reposita erant, ut crastino die coquerentur.

Debuistine ini ni causa malum facere?

Non putabam id esse ma-

Annon esse malum concul-Girc panem pédibus?

Istud ego nollem facere.

Car nolles?

IO.

da eft? tentio-

mer adaudivi. C 3 deinde

etendo: alics

nculcin ore: 6 quanta a negli

rifi Spin

u s Petrine M isque To A x pro 1 Vigilan A rito, ut fice ut as reddas.

équa.

us affuete nus Des ui milere e ánimum

2:	M.Cord	eri	m's Colloquies, Ti
	God hath created both peafe themselves, and other things which are caten for our use,	1	Quia panis est nobis nia imè necessárius. Et pila ipia, & catera qui cduntur, Deus in ulum nostrum creavit.
M	I am not ignorant of that; moreover, I am content to eat peale, if they be trell fodden, and sea= foned.	5	Non ignoro illud; quires M am, pisis libenter vescon si bene coda & const. sint.
Æ	Befides, would you misuse your own things?		Præterea velleine abui: bus tuis?
M Æ	Much leffe ought you to mif- use other folkes.	30	M nimè. Tantò minùs aliénis dans
M Æ	Therefore you have not done well.		Istud satis intelligo. Ergò non rectè fecisti.
M	I confesse I have not done well, yet with no ill intention.		Non rectè fáteor, non- men ánimo malo.
Æ M	Why then did you do it?  My folishnesse set me uponit.  What have you deserved	35	Cur igitur fecisti? Mea inéptia me adillais citavit.
Æ	thereupon? A whipping.		Quid indè meruisti?  Plagas.
M Æ	You say well, but (I sup- pose) not from your heart.	40	Recté dicis, sed (opinion non ex ánimo.
M	Yes indeed, I pray you, do not complain of me.		Imò certé, nè me accia
Æ	10:	45	16 16
	his minde.	1	n m

era न्या

ingual

et :velor or contin

e abuits

20.

fecilti.

eor, non alo.

ad illuis

niti ?

ed (open me accu

n sponte

cculabo:

dixit prz

me.

1,

What faid he? That we should complain of no body to him about fuch fmail matters, who did but willingly acknow ledge his fault. quine M

Cherefore, I thall be be= 55 holding to you, Giles, for that kindeneffe.

I would not have you be beholding to me for this matter; but pray to God with me, that he would 60 deliver us from evil.

ienisdely We pray openly in the school every day, to ue or five times.

What then?

And befides privately, as oft as we go to meat, as oft as me go to bed, and as oft as we rife out ben.

Are not these things inffici-

Belides thele, our Mafter 70 doth oft admonish us, that every one go aside fometimes fomewhither into a private place to pray for himself; do you not remember it?

I remember it very well; 75 but (as you know) ifeemes to be an hard matter for boyes to ule themselves to private prayer.

And yet it would be very Quid ille dixit?

Ut de ejútmodi levióribus neminem ad ipfum deferamus, qui modò culpam libens agnoverit.

Istud ergo beneficium tibi debebo.

Nihil velim mihi debeas hoc nomine; fed mecum precare Deum, ut à malo nos liberet.

Quotidie in schola quater aut quinquies palam precamur.

Quid tum?

Paterea privatim quoties cibus súmitur, quóties cubitum itur, quoties cubitu furgitur.

Nonne satis hæc sunt?

Præter illa, sæpe monet Præceptor, ut intérdum pro se quisque precandi caula lecedar aliquo in secretum locum; meminifti?

Memini probe : sed (ut icis) difficile videtur effe, ut pueri lecrétis précibus afluelcant.

Et tamen paulatim affuégood Yz

good to use themselves by little and little.  God himself will stir us up, and use us to that thing in time.  We are to hope it will be so,		fcere óptimum fútrit.  Progrésiu témporis Dem ipie noster ad eam rem nos incitábit atque affue. fáciet.  Ità fore sperándum est, su men in verbier.
if so be that we profit well, both in the reading and the hearing of his Word.  Col. 22. Varro. Castrino-		men in verbi ejus tumls ctione, tum auditiones dulò proficiamus.  Col. 22. Varro. Cafric vanus,
Vitasi	1
How is it that you came so foon from your Uncles to day, especially seeing there was a feast?		Quid est, quod hódiem citò à patruo redire præsértim cum fin convívium?
C What should I have done		Quid illic fecissem diuin
V You should have tarried till the Supper that you might eat of what was left at of the truet.		Cœnam expectaffes; me deres de prandii reliqui
C I had eaten enough at din-		Saris éderam in prándia
ner. Besides, my Uncle bade me go along with my master home again, whom I had brought to the feast.	10	Prætérca justit pátruus domum redúcerem pa ceptórem, quem ego convívium deduxerm
What did thy Kiniman thy Unclession?	15	Quid frater tuns parrues
Why did he not come back with you to the school?	,,	non rediit?
His mother stayed him for a day or two.		A matre retentus elin
V   Why fo?		Quámobsem?
C That his clothes might be mended.	20	Ut illi rejarcianur a I 20

Al. Corderius's Colloquies,

224

Lib.IV. men. But come on, because we are now at leafare, I pray you, tell me something concerning the feaft. ft, hat do you defire to know concerning it?

Deus

m rem

e affue-

tumla

10ne

Castrin

ódie un redien

n fueri

n diwin

les; ut rándio.

erem p em egol

duxera

patruci

First, who were the guests, then how dainty and and fumptuous the feast was.

Thele were the prime guests, foure Pensionaries, 135 the Deputy Gobernour of the city, and other two of very great note, of the company of Bibermen.

Do you know them? Sp fight indeed; but 3 cannot bit on their nameg.

religion Was there none else?

Two of mp Uncles neer acquaintancc.

how high did our Ma= ffer fit? párrous Idid not minde how high he late, but he was almost in the middle of the table, ober against my Uncic.

But where fate you? veb Oyou fool, that askett fuch aquestion!

us efta Should I, mean fellow, fit down with fuch great men?

It was honour enough to me

That care belongs to wo- 25 Illa est muliérum cura. Sed age, quoniam nunc otiosi sumus, narra mihi (quæ so) aliquid de convivio.

Quid de illoscire cupis?

Primum, qui convivæ fuerint, deinde quam lautum & opiparum convivium.

Convivæ fuerunt hi præcipui, quatuor Syndici. subprafectus urbis & alii duo primæ notæ e Senatorum numero.

Noftin'?

40

50

55

De facie quidem ; sed eorum non tenco nomina.

Nulline prætérea?

Duo ex patrui mei familiaribus.

Quotus accumbébat pracéptor ?

Quotus effet non observavis sed erat in media fere mensá, è contrária parte mei patrui.

Tu verò? Hui inépte, qui istud rogas!

Egone homuneulus cum tantis viris epularer?

Satis hoc mihi honorific im that I waited at the table. Were there no women? None but my Uncles wife, 60 who late at ils lowelt end of the Cable. Why fate the fo low? She had a minde so her 65 selfe, that she might more conbeniently rife eber and anon, to keep better ogber in artendancc. What did her fon? Quid filius? C He fate by his mother. 70 I am fatisfied as concerning the guests; now I shall look for lome:hing concerning the feaft. pou impole upon me a bery weighte and hard task, especially consider- 75 ing my memory; but forasmuch as (you say) we have got a little more leafure this afternoon, I will do my best, that I may farisfie your beffre in 80 fome part. Lou Gall do me a kind= neffe. Yet on that condition, that you do me as good a turne, if cber there be occasio. occasion. V pou habe no reason to make any queltion of this. Begin. But I will fit in the mean time, because it is a long flozp.

fuit , quod ministrates Nullane erant mulieres? Nullæ præter uxórem pá trui, quæ quidem fedeba in menfa extrema. Quid item tam remotal Sic voluit ipfa,ut idemia commodius surgeret in pter ordinem ministen

Juxta matrem affidebat. Hábeo de convivis; m C expectabo de convivia V

Onus mihi valde men impónis ac difficile, a C F ime propter memoria sed quando (ut diri phulcu'um otii nati mus hoc pomendia tempore, dabo équit V A operam, ut aliqua exp expleam de iderium tal Pergratum mibi feccis.

Ea tamen lege ut pur referas, fi quando data y H

De hoc nibil est quod to tes. Incipe.

1

At ego intérea sedére ra quialonga eft narritio.

eres ?

rem pa.

fedeba

d.

otal

demin

eret tri nisten.

è mizza

emorian

ut dixib nacti i mendia

nuá ex tot eceris.

it has a quòd tià

dere 104

arrátio.

rdo data y

States V Let us go under the Ballety, that we may talk the 90 more commodiously in the shadow.

Heare me now. Because (as you say) it is a long ftory, tell me first at what a clock they fate 95 down?

Almost at ten.

At what a clock did they ril ? A little afore noon.

debat. V Did they all fit well? is; = C | Very well.

nvivia V from fall to the bufineffe. Take the Preparatives then. y Set them on when you pleafe.

cile, a C First there were fet upon the table little thin waf. rs, sweetned after the bakers with hypo= fashion craffe.

equie v A very fine beginning indeed, and fit to gain their affections.

C I pray you forbear those interruptions, forfeare my memory should be confounded.

Hereafter I will not interrupt you, unlesse there be occasion to ask you something.

There followed falt-gamons, chitterlings Dit= ed in the fmoke, faulages, neats tengues

Eamus sub pergulam, nt in umb à commoditis fabulemur.

Audi nunc jam.

Quia (ut ais)longa est nárrátio, die mihi primum quotà hora accubitum

Ferè décimà.

Quota refuriectum?

Paulo ante merifiem Sedebantne omnes commo-Commodiffimé.

Nune ad rem aggredere.

Accipe igitur menfa pralúdia.

Appone quum voles. Imprimis appólita funt tenella cruftula, mellita opera piltoris cum aromailte.

Optimum sanè exórdium & ad conciliandos ánimos apt flimum.

Omitte, quæso, istas interpellationes, ne mibi perturbetur memoria.

Posthac non interpellabo, niss si quid opus erit reguirere.

120 Sequutæ sunt perna salita, hills infumáts, lucanica, lingua bubula, sale quoque & fumo indurara. hard-

Lib

C

228

V

229

Lib. IV. citin: | Well, I give you leave. C These were for the most part in the, fecond courfe, pics, chickens boyled withlettice, beefe, mutton, veale, pozh, freih and poudred, ficit-pot= tage, daintily featoned with the yolkes of egges, lathon and verjuice, and fome brothes made of herbes, Here I imagine they talk't more then they are, because indeed the rostmeates were expected. They had fcarcely touch't the Table, when we were bidden to take them a- 170 way.

& 1

s acue

217012 re con

T, PIZ

nihea

liãi:

iatefin

cx :n

m und

de pra

MIN MIN

itum ch

iatio.

hic pr dem its denda il

m polit

bos este

mas on V

I come therefore to the third course, in which theie rost meats were ferred up, chickens, voung pigrons , fat gellings, 175 and pigs, likewife rat= bers, shoulders of mutton; and last of all, bention-patrics of ave lorts.

What elfe?

What? ho: (I had a most forgot it) there were a couple of partridges set amongst them with a leberet, gieen beang fried, and peafe foddenin the ficils.

Was there no fish ?

Age, fino.

leribus.

In secundo miffu hæc fereiuérunt, artorea, pulli gallinácei elixi cum lactucis, bubula, vervecina, vitulina, fuilla recens, falia, jus carnium ovorum vitéllis, croco, & omphacio suavissime conditum, aliquot item juscula ex o-

Hic plus opinor fabulatum, quam e.um fuisse , quia scilicet assa expectabanmensam ! attigerant, VIX quum illa tollere juffi iumus.

Venio igitur ad tertium mislum, in quo affa hæc fuerunt exposita, pulli gallinácei, pu'li columbini, ansérculi, fáctiles, & ficuli, item cuniculi, armi, vervecini; postremo ferina duorum generum, opere piftorio incrustáta.

Quid prætérea?

180

Quid ? hem ! (penè prætermili) duæ perdices interjecta, cum lepúfculo, fabe virides frixa, & pifa coffe cum feliquis.

Nihilne piscium.

You

195

200

205

215

You put me in minde in a

There was a huge trout, which was cut into foure parts, befides the tayle; as also a great pike quartered after the same manner.

I forbeare to speak of the small fishes, and them that were of a mean size, which were partly boyled, partly broyled or fried, as also fresh mater cray-fish, all in a great abundance. But these things were rather for oftentation then necessizity; for there was nothing almost tasted of them.

You feem to have omitted one thing.

C What is that?

Had none any fauces to

Yes, bainty fauces to dip in, were fitted almost to every messe, which the Cook had neatly contribed with admirable skill

Nor were there wanting capers in oile and vineger, limons, pickled olibes withtheir pickle, role-vineger, and greenfauce.

O how many and how great provocations to gluttony! In témpore ádmones, Erat trutta ingens, que divila fuerat in partes quituor præter caudam; prægrandis item lúciu ad eundum modum quidripartitus. Li

Táceo minútos pilces à mediocres, partim ela os, partim affosautim os, item cancros flavido les, magno ómnia mero. Sed hæc magna oftentationem, quam a necefficatenç de is ena

Unum mihi vidéris pratemilisse.

fere nihil guftatum ch.

Quid illud est? Nulline crat intindu?

Imò singulis propenden ferculis áddita eran si tissimi saporisembanas quæ coquus ipse mina tissicio concinnávera.

Nec verò defuerunt capti des ex óleo & acéto, to la cytrea, oliva conditi cum suá múria, aceta rosaccum succus exálta

O quot & quanta gulz il citaménta!

Quid confert tanta cibaridance

02 dies quaidam :

lucia

m qua

ices &

m en

aut finluvidi

nia nimagigg uam :

is eng

m eft.

przt.

Aus?

erant A

bdmm:

vers.

Lib.

C

V

C

232

dance and variety of meat, do good ! To overcharge the stomach, and breed very many dif- 255 cales.

But what should one do? Chug folke libe nom adages for the most part.

They that fealt luch great persons, seem to strive for abundance, preparation, pompe and delicateneffe.

And yet (as I heare) amongst the lawes of this city, there are some a- 265 gainst too much sumptuoulnesse.

Lames are Clent at feafts. that by the way we may wrest something out of Tully to our purpole.

Do you think that all guests are taken with that 270 extraordinary excelle of Expinces?

I do not think it, unlesse (perhaps) they be quiltqu's, or rotous perfons, or fuch bellp-gods |275 (as I may fay) as Apicius mas.

But what is the reason? Do you ask?

Not only the folly, but also the madnesse of them that make feafts.

The most of men are fick of that disease.

305

ichum, ites ge-ferè boc

onvivi identa itu, a ia,

r huju uædan uariz

nvius one de quid.

onviva nanina

int lwt Apr m) 201-

ula?

niani em mir

mod

As Horace faith.

But let us forbear this judging others, according to the Proverb, Let not the Shoemaker, &c.

Let us return then to our purpole.

What wine was ferved to the table?

If you enquire concerning the colour, there was white, dark red, (i.e. 311tecant ) yellowish, bloodred, and fundry forts of wine of several colours.

If concerning their goodnefle:they were all for the most part very rich : but they chiefly commended that fort of wine out of Burgundy, which is commonly called Arbois wine or Malmfie.

V Whence was this fetch't?

Out of my Uncles winc-sel-

Hath he much of this same lort?

Two hogsheads of Caretmine, and two of most pure white-wine. How ended the dinner?

When my Uncle faw the the guests almost weary 310 with eating, and drinking, and talking; he commanded wine to be filled for every one, and inbitco all to the minking of 315 the last health.

Vt áit Horátius.

Sed nos hanc censuram omittamus, juxta proverbium, Ne futor, &c.

Redeamus igitur ad propópositum.

Quale vinum appositum est?

290 Si de colore quæris, album, nigrum, fulvum, languineum, deque fingulis coloribus vina multiplicia.

Si de bonitate : omnia ferè generosi Jima; sed imprimis commendábant illud vini genus ex Burgundia. quod vulgò vocatur Ar-300 bolium.

> Unde hoc petebatur? E parui cellà vinarià.

Haberne multum ejulmodi?

Duos cados vini helvelli, duos item albi limpidi[limi.

Quis fuit prandii exitus? Ubi videt parruus convivas omnes pene defessos edendo, bibendo, celloquéndo; tunc vinum infundi jubet fingulis, & omnes al extremum potum invitat.

Here

330

345

Hereupon all things are orderly taken away.

Broad fine linnen tourels are spread upon the table, street mater is given them to wash their hands withal lightly; I and my Uncles son, as we used to do, say grace, and my Uncle with a loud voice thanks all the company.

At the last, he that was the uppermost Pensionarie, in the name of the guests, gave publike thanks to the Master of the feast, in a pretty handsome speech, and withal chid him, because he had feasted them with such stately and costly provision.

Nay, (faith my Uncle,) I pray you pardon me, because I hate not entertained you sufficiently according to pour

When they had faid thus, they all rose from the table, a great many habing taken their scabe, sently went away, the rest tarried standing and talking in the hall.

mozth.

What did you in the mean time, that had waited at the table?

We got us into the kitchin

Hinc ordine tollantur ou-

Lib.

1

1

I

V

I

1

B

C

B

I

I

I:

Insternuntur mensis lation mantilia ex lino tenuis.

mo, datur aqua odorism mánibus léviter abluén dis, ego & patruelis de more, Deo grátias agi mus, ipse vero pátrus clará voce grátias agit viniverso cœtui.

Tandem primus Syndica convivárum nomine, a tis accuráto fermóne, publicas agit grátias convintóri, fimul objúrgat eun quod tam munifico a fumptuolo apparátuco vivátus fúerit.

Imò (inquit pátrus)
mihi quæso ignóscie, quòd vos pro dignitátem
satis amplitertractávem

His dictis surgunt è mens universi, magna parsus dieto statim discedit, a teri manent stantes s colloquentes in aulà.

Quid vos intérea qui mitstraverátis ad meníani v

In culinam ad prandim

V

Lib.IV. to dinner, and there the made much of our felbes, at our own leafure, and as we lifted our felves.

OTH

ttiona

uiffi.

2 | 674

elis de

attus

ndica

ne, a C e, pub v

nviva

it eun

tu copruus ) olcie, mena

dit, a ntes & ulâ.

ni min

andim

enfam! v

luen- V

s agi. C

git y. V

lic otiole, & ex animi sententia curavimus.

the mean time? My Uncle had called him afide to speak to him.

Where was the Mafter in 355 Ubi erat interim præceptor?

I think it was, that he might commend you and his fon to be better taken notice on.

Patruus illum seorsum vocaverat ad alloquium. Credo, ut te & filium suum de meliore nota com-

That is very likely. Do you not know what was 360 the occasion of such a Istud est verisimile. Nelcis quæ fuerit caula tanti convivii?

mendaret.

great feaft ? What concernes it me to ico & C know ?

Quid mea scire refert?

It concernes me then to much the leffe.

Tanto minus igitur med.

Peu make a good Co!lection, and to I expect

Rede colligis, & he exper Etábam.

But I am no Logician. atenn V You have natural Loávoin C

Atqui non sum dialecticus. Tibi est naturalis dialectica. Eandem habent & rustici.

gick. Countrey-folkes have the lame too. ars tal

Sed age, die mihifé io, non ego te tractavi magnifice.

But come on, tell me in 370 good earnest, have not I enterrained you gallantip.

Tali convivio nunquam interfueram.

I was never at such a feast in all my life.

Gaudeo ftomacho tuo fatis elle factum.

I am glad your appetite is lo well fatisfied.

Eft Deo gratia, qui dedit no ótium tam jucundum.

Ithank God, who hath given us such a pleasant time of leafure.

Let

and betake us to our

Chere hall be no fop in 25 me; let us cramine out fatchels, come on, drinkings.

open yours.

Pa Stayalittle while; Tell

Namque bic (ut cernis) in est sait is amplus utrique. Mittamus ergò versiculas meré: das nostras con ramus.

Per me non stabit seruit la peras, agè explicatum

Expecta parumper ; dicui

40

45

50

Lib.IV. m;

luin &

ulus. P

réfide

nori,

25, 14m

penus?

s nobis

3, qui

1 11/w

prima

s e can

ICTTAL,

iacelm bifex my oqui, m

AMENA

libi, an ereni.

cum tour

ernis | lad

utriqui

erlicus

Atras com

ica tuos

ridicuit

mbri.

abetar.

It;

me fiest, what have you 130 for yourdrinking?

Bread. As if indeed a drinking used to be without bread.

Poor folkes have not almapes to much hicab.

You put me in minde in good time, we must put our fcraps into their Almes-basket.

P. What if there shall be no (craps ? At the least there will be some bread left, and this will be enough.

But tell me without any more ado, have you any meat?

What do you make any queftion? my mother would not fend me to the school without some meat.

Tell me then, what is it? Guette.

I am no Prophet, nor would I spend this drinking time in trifles.

At the least you shall try how you can queffe; 5 concerning which thing we have heard fomething already in Rhetorick.

fernten ta It is either cheese or flesh. meat that was left at dinner.

Neither.

mihi prius, quid habes in merendam?

Panem.

Quafi verò fine pane merenda esse sóleat.

Ne panem quidem pauperes semper habent.

In témpore ádmones, ponenda erant reliquie noitræ in eorum corbulam.

Quid si reliquià um nihil inerit?

Saltem restabit panis, & hoc fatis erit.

Sed die tandem, nunquid habes opsonii?

Briam dubiras? mater mea nunquam committeret,ut me in scholam mitteres fine áliquo opfonio: Dic ergò, quid est?

Divina.

Non sum vates, nec velim hanc merendæ horam in nugis icrère.

Saltem periculum facies, qu'm valeas conjecturis. qua de re jam aliquid in Rhetoricis audivimus.

Aut caleus aut caro est retidua ex .prandi Neutrum.

Dic, sodes, waring Lib. nos operi.

Nè re diutius torque P I funt pyra pracócia

Ain'tu ? res nova, non fa hoc anno videram. Vide nunc. Quam matura funt? Cur non addis etiam, of P bona! Sed nondum guftavi. Pa

Satzs acute me repreha Accipe & gufta. Papæ! quam mitin boni succi!

Nonne merito minifi gratias agere dele nostro tam benigno tri, qui nobis init tot bona tamque n largitur?

Qui non facit, isproted ? est ingratissimus. Agedum vescamur boni jus cum gáudio & ga árum actione.

Jamdudum elurio. Sed tu nullum habes of nium?

Vide frustum crassum fti calet.

Edámus primum pyra, co claudémus stómachus

Sed maturemus, ni

accine Lib IV.

torque P

cia ram.

unt?

tiam, or P

CS,

time perhaps prebent ug. I see neither of us loyter; certainly as for me, 3 can eat no faiter .

14,000 Pa But Do not cate fo greebily like a fwine.

are pou not affamed at all?

Becautie you faid we must make hafte. uftivi P I faid, let us make good ipred, but not let us make more hafte then good freed.

I make no fuch (crupulous a difference beiwixt theie 110 verbs.

o mintel yet the Master will have us ipeas properly, as far as our capacter will trach, for by speaking well we learne also to 115 write well.

, is proted P. And on the other five, by witing carefully, we wont our felbes to speak rightly.

I These two are joyned one to another.

But do you heare. let us cat leafurely (I fay) for we have time enough.

Is not this whole houre free for our drinking?

Truly it is free to day; but neverthelesse let us give over, lest our bread taile us, and there be nothing left for the poor.

te bora nos opprimat.

Neutrum ceffare video ; certe quod adme pertinet, non queo comesse citius.

Ne tamen ità devores, porcorum more.

Ecquid pudet?

Quia dicebas esse festinan.

Maturenus dixeram, non autem festinemus.

Ego non adeo scrupulose inter hæc verba discrimen facio.

Vult tamen praceptor, ut proprie loquamur, quantum per ingénii captum licébit. Nam bene loquendo, bene et am scribere condiscimus.

Contra diligenter scribendo confue cimus ctiam reste Loqui.

120 Hæc duo inter fe conjuncta funt.

> Sed heus, otiofe (inquam) edamus; fatis labemus temporis.

Nonne tota hæc hora ad merendam libera est?

Hodiè quidem libera est; sed tamen definamus, ne panis deficiat nos, & nihil reliqui fiat pauperibus. Zz repreha ta. nitia of P e debe benigno bis inte mque ra

mus. nur bom dio & e.

10. habes of rassum a n pyra,co ómachin P us, nep

p	40 Gil. Corderin
	Let us go to the well then, that we may brink a little.	20	anquantum potemus.
Pa	Fic, you alwayes abuse the propriety of words; that is, to soals it in, not to drink.		Hem verborum proprieta, feinper abitteris; istudii bere est, non poiare,
P	I thank you that you do not spare me I got those faults by bad teaching at the first.  Quintilian then said very truly, Those things stick	125	Quod mihi non parcas, hibeo sanè gratiam. Ex prava institutione la vitia contraxi. Verissimè igitur Quintinus dixit, Haciplana
P	most closely which are the worst.  Do you remember it?	130	pertindeiter haren, a deteriora funt. Meministin'? Memini, sed interim p meantime help me, that me may brew water out of the Wal!	135	me, ue hauriemus que páico.
Ta	Put more firingth to it, you let me take all the painer.		Enitere validiùs, nima me laborare sinis.
	You will drink fo much the more pleafantly		Tantò bibes jucúndius.
	let us get into the hall, that we may not be away at prayers and thanking ving.	140	Bibitum satis est; remembres nos in aulam neps cationi desimus, & Etioni gratia um.
P	Do you go before whilest I go thither to make water.	145	Tu præcéde, dum uin illuc co rédditum.
	Col. 24. Lconard. Pollio.		Col. 24. Leonardus.Pa
L	i wonder greatly at your negligence. In what thing I pray you? Because you look to your felf no better.		Demiror tuam negliatium. Quâ in re tandem? Quôd te non curas dilitativis.

Ws.

prieda istudbi

re,

reas, his

One la

uiniu:

plamo

rent, 9

rim jo

is aqua

nima

ndiùs.

16tibis im ne pi ns, &

m und

125. Pul

as dilico

tum.

um.

m:

P Perhaps I look to my felf 5

leat, and drink, & fleep sufficiently, such is Gods good nes towards me, besides I combe my hair, I wash my handr, face, teeth, and eyes, and these in the morning especially; moreover, when time serves h

3 recreate my body, refresh my minde, and play with the rest, what, would you have any more?

Let us let those things passe, those are not the thingthat I blame in you.

What then?

100k about your clothes, from foot to head you shall findenothing whole, all things are torne and worne out of order. Truly these things do not become your descent, if at the least you would but see to get your clothes membed or repaired, some may or other.

You say what you lift; but if you had Parents to far off, perhaps you would not be finer.

If I had but money, I would not fuffer my felfe to be fo tattered.

And ver you are not void of negligence. For why do you not ask to bor-

Ego verò me curo fortaffe

Satis edo, bibo, dórmio; quæ est Dei erga me benígnitas; prætérea pesto capíllum, lavo manus, sáciem, demes, óculos, & hæc mare præcipue; quinétiam cum tempus póstulat, corpus extraee, reláxo ánimum, & ludo cum exteris. Quid vis ámplius?

Mittamus ista, non ea sunt quæ in te reprehendo.

Quid igitur?

circúmipice vestimenta tua;

à calce ad vérticem nihil integtum invénies: ómnia sunt laceráta es obsoléta Ista prosectó nequáquam vestrum genus decent, si saltem cur res vestitum tuam sarciéndum, nt quóquo modo instaurándum.

Léque is tu quidem que libet; quòd si p rentes haberes tam procul remes tes, fer ailè non esses elegantior.

Si mihi pecunia suppeterer, non paterer me usque ade de pannofum este.

Nec ideo tamen cues negligentià. Cur enim non peris aliendematrò?

Z 3 Where

70 if I ask any thing of my friends, either to lend or borrow.

No body would blame you, unlesse perhaps you will misuse such things.

But you (as far as I know you,) will not misuse them.

Certe

2 ex dif

ffe.

ledin im mil

te tuin

undu ixit a n in a

1; led

eftan

, ut one re que fed of m P

ndi mas

edit int

t certe

nihil a hominum

ii alionu

t; quis u

abit fi cult

comm

Fie upon that misusing.

What doth hinder you now then that you cannot ask, especially of a man that is very courteous, and (as it doth appear,) loves you very well.

Well, I will ask, but by a little Epistle which I will give you to him.

I will give him it truly with all my heart, and I will carefully commend you to him.

Truly I am not a little thankful to you, that you have made fo much reckoning of me, as to encourage me to this confidence.

Now it remaines that you write the Epistle that you spoke of, and ict me a= 80 lone with the rest.

God speed us well in what we have begun.

Make no question, but the matter will go well c-nough.

dátò petam aut mutuò?

Nemo reprehéndet, nisi fortè rebus ejúsmodi abúti velis.

Tu verò (quantum egote novi) abúti nolles.

Apage istum abusum.

Quid ergo jam obstat quo minus petas, præsértim ab hómine facillimo, tusque (ut apparet) amantissimo.

Agè, petam, sed per epistò: lium, quod, ut reddas, tibi dabo.

Reddam profectò liben. tissimè, teque illi commendabo diligenter.

Equidem non parvam tibi grátiam habeo, quod me tanti féceris, ut ad hanc fidúciam hortarére.

Nunc restu ut scribas quod dicis epistolium, reliqua mihi committas.

Benè vertat Deus quod cœ-

Ne dubites, res prospere suc-

Z 4 Cd.

M. Cora	eri
Col. 25. Clavellus. Quer-
You know not what thoughts I have had of late.
What was that, I pray
I was aminded to put my felfe into the Colledge.  What into the Colledge? to	5 reside there?
Not that I may reside there as a lodger, but that I	9.5
may biet with you at the Mafters Catie.
I would you spake this from your heart, and as you	10 think.
You should know suffici- ently, by our mutual ac-	- 11
quain ance and friend-thip, that I do not use to faine, or dissemble any thing with you.	15
I know this very well long	16 fince already, but when I heard that word from you, my passion forced me to cry outso hastily,	20
I had so quite forgot my self.
3 tabe pour meaning to be no otherwise; but to the purpose.
144.6.1	1

My father indeed doth not force me, but I see well enough by his counte-

Col. 25. Clavellus. Que cetanus.

Nescis quid mihi his bus in mentem vénerit.

Q

Q

Quid iftuc, quæio?

Cógito in gymnasium récipere. Quid in gymnasium? his tandicaufa?

Non ur inquilinus habite fed ut vobiscum vivin menfa praceptoris.

Utinam istud in ex ins ac verè diceres!

Ex nostrà mutua conie tudine atque amichile beres faris intelligere, m nibil apud te neque time lare neque distinuis sólitum.

Plane istud jam pridemit télligo, sed audno es isto verbo, me rapuit fectus in eam exclana onem, ita prorfusobra eram mei.

Non aliter dictum tume cipio ; sed ad rem.

Pater quidem non co me, sed ex vulu & verbis ejus satis vide

15 hisdi

vénerit alium z

im? hi

habite

ex anim

1 conin

nicitiad

igere, m

eque fine

iffimalia oridem in dito er:

ripuit

exclana

fus oblin

tuum e

וסח כמו vultu & is video pance

m.

Th.

rivina C

nance and words, that that pleaseth him very well.
Truly this is the titty of the matter. Your father being a very bicreet being a bery bileteet man, knows very well that ingenuous bisposttions will not be compelled, but are easily perstraded. And yet I make no question, but that is done by the instinct of Gods Spirit, but what think you?

I am of that optimen, especially seeing I incline to that side on my own accord

It is a great figne that refolution is from God.

I have thought fo.

For they that are compelled to that matter by their parents, do commonly seek for shifts, whereby to stip their Bobern- 45

I (that I may confesse ingenuously) have some times had experience of that in my selfe, I mean before I went into the Colledge.

For what do you think? I heard so many railing reports from those slaves of Satan, both concerning the Master, and concerning his discipline, that me thought I went rather 55 id illi placere maxime.

Nempe hoc illud eft. Novit pater tuus, vir prudentissi-mus, liberalia ingenia cogi nolle, duci facitè. Sed tamen non dubito, id fieri divini instinctunuminis, tu verò quid judicas?

In eadem sum sententia, præsértim cum ego queque in cam parte m spente propéndeam.

Magnum arguméntum istud esse Deo consilium.

Id ego crediderim.

40

Nam qui ad eam rem coguntur à paréntibus, fer é quærunt subterfúgia, quibus derréctent impérium.

Ego (ut sáteor ingénuè) aliquándo id in me sum expértus, antè se licet quam ingéssus essem.

Quid enim censes? Audiébam ex istis Satanæ mancipiis tot maledicta tum de præceptóre, tum de disciplina, ut mihi vidérer carcerem aut pistrinum ingrédi véinto

Nunc pergamus ad reliqui

Lib

Quid restat nisi ut Dan preceris, & pergas gnanter in lententia? Audis de quotidiano vidui vestra mensa, depræm toris & hypodidalcalite Q miliaritate in audiend prælectionum repenior ne, de facilitate pracetoris in iplo convictu, a C illo à cœna placido ftul Q orum certamine, de libre tate colloquendi per or um de honestis, de liber inter nos reprehension

Q

Con

246 into a prison or an house of correction, then into a Colledge.

And if you also had light on some such rogue, there is no question, but he would 60 have endeavoured what h e could to deter you from so good a resoluti-

I had not yet disclosed it to any body.

What you lay to me is not to disclose to others.

I know it very well, that ober= fipped out of Terence.

Now let us go on to the

What remaines, but that 70 you pray to God, and go on stoutly in your resolution: you shall hear concerning our daily diet at the table, concerning the familiarity of the Master and the Usher, in hearing the repeating of lestons, concerning the gentlenesse of our Master in his dieting with us, concerning that pleasant 80 ftrife in our studies after Supper, concerning the liberry of discourse at our lealure, about honeit things, concerning the freedome of find ing fault one with anther.

mur.

in ai-

pelten

dubium

nanibus

e cona

re tea

opólio

m fees

non et

bi ifu

ntio,

reliqu

t Dan

s gnan-

Audis

vidun

pram-alcalite

audiend

epetino-præcep-rictu, a C do fte per or de liber

de liber

nition.

Con

C Concerning all those (I fay) you told me enough at other times, which do 85 all please me very well: yet me thinks nothing is more profitable then that constant use of speaking Latine. For 90 what greater benefit is there of our studies? what is more honest, what is more pleafant, especially when one freely blames another without hatred or envie?

Q What, because they that are overcome in striving about those things, are only punished, and they that do overcome have rewards given them?

Laftly, all your employments do marvelloufly delight me in the very hearing.

How muchrather would you fay fo if you faw them, if you were by whileft they are done!

I will be by, if God will.

I wish within these few dayes !

So I hope indeed, yet 3 habe one fcruple left, which you can cafily tio me of, if you will. .

I will in good carnelf; if I can, but in the mean time have a care you to not feck a huot in a bul

De his (inquam) ómnibus fatis multa narrasti mihi alias, quæ quidem valde placent ómnia; mihi tamen nihil videtnr utilius, quam illa perpétua Latine loquendi exercitatio. Quid enim major est studiorum fructus? Quid honestius? Quid jucundum mag's? præsertim ubi alius alium fine odio aut invidia libere reprehendit?

Quid, quod victi in earum rerum certamine pudó e tantum punientur, victóres étiam præmio do-nantur?

105

Omnes dénique vestræ exercitationes, vel audituip. so me delectant mirifice.

Quanto magis illud diceres, si videres ista, si dum geruntur interesses!

Ego (Deo volente) interero. Utinam propédiem'!

Ità spero quidem, unus tamenreftat mibi ferupulus, quo me facile (h voles) li. berabis

Faciam bona fide fi potero; fed interin ne no lum in feirpo queras , ut antea vidi-tull,

M. Corderius's Colloquies, 248 mus in Terentio, ruh, (i.e. that pou make 115 not a scruple where none is ) as we faw before in Terence. Agè, qui tandem scrupula Come on, what scruple is it without any more ado? Sufpécta est mibi vestra di 7 am nat fatisfico about ciplina Scholoftica; we pour School- Cobernquod velim incepto de ment; not that I would liftere, sed ut alacrius no defilt from mine enter-120 niam, & jucandius, ii prize because of that, but ca de re audicro. that I may come more chearfully and more plea fantly after I have heard of ir. Unlesse you were one, who Nifi tu is effes, qui (at (as I know) do neither novi) me nec vanum, i mendacem exiltims, think me an idle-headed fellow, nor aliar, I had 125 quidem mallem de h rather be filent altogether omnino tacere, quam s tibi referre que lentia in this businesse, then report to you what I think. Why fo, I pray you? Because it is a very hard Quid ità tandem? Quia difficile est en vent thing to make them feem likely, though they have mi ia facete, quanqua alioquin verissima, an been otherwite very true, feeing the common fort de his vulzus bomina reilimi quæque diail of people, speaks and thinks the worst they can judicet concerning them. Quorfum istud, qualo? To what end do they that I pray you? Nam improborum mende For our government is fo 135 ciis á deò male audh a ill reporte Den, amongst itra disciplina interitti those idiots, through those idiotas, ut mirum fet wicked peoples lies, that num aliquem habitareit it is a wonder that any schola nost a velle, tr one is willing to dwell in 10.

Lib

crupulu C

eftra di

ca; m epro de icrius, d i (ac

inum, E

timas,

n de ha

quam :

Centia.

ea ven-uangua

m3, di

bominn

dicat &

xfo?

menda

udh s

nter illi

um fire

bitatti

velle, it

CU

125

130

our School, though (fuch is the work of God) the more we are spoken of, the more come to us.

pou need not make such a long 19:0.acc; sell me tong Diciace; sell me every thing plainly, be not afraid, you shall not affright me:

I all things apprehend, and well advise aforehand.

Minde then, and I will tell you as briefely as maple whatfoever shall seeme to be any thing worth.

And fift, I would have you perswade your self, that our Master is much more kinde to us then he makes open shew in the School. For he behaves himself as familiarly amongst us, as a discreet father uses to do amongst his children.

You will fay then, why is he fo fevere openly?

I answer, because (as I heard him, when he one time told one of his acquaintance) such a company of schollers, and of such several dispositions, can neither be kept in, nor held to their ducy without such severity.

For every one would live after his own fashion, every one would live as himself thought good. meth (quod est opus Dei) quò pejus audimus, cò plures ad nos conveniunt.

Nihi' opus est tam longă infinuatione; dic mihi plane omnia; ne timeas, non me absterrebis:

Omnia percépi, atque ánimo mecum ante peregi.

Adverte igitur ánimum, dicam brevissime, quicquid alicujus esse momenti videbitur.

Imprimis illud velim perfuádeas, Præceptórem effe nobis multò humanió em, quám in scholà palàm ápparet.

Tam enim familiariter verfatur inter nos quam prudenspater solet inter liberos.

Cur igitur (inquies) est palam tam severus.

Respondeo, quia sine tali severirate (ut ex ipso audivi, cum aliquando samiliári custam narráret) tanta turba scholástica; támque váriis móribus prædita, nec coercéri, nec in osficio cominériposser.

Suo enim quisque more, suo quisque ajbitratu vellet vivere.

More-

This domestical discipline, though it seem distasteful to a sew teat are naught, yet it greatly pleaseth them that are good and studious, because of its commodity.

for if things were loosely carried at home, what could we have fafe against Nam si domi res esset distributes quid nobis tutum to ret contra lascivorum &

ca, licet paucis imprebis

odiola videátur, bonistamen & studiosis propo utilitatem valde placet.

190

195

200 0 10

tantan reve.

fileni.

ue mo-

rere . 6

Chois

que conymnih

o, quin

eronn.

in its vereora

ration

Tráte.

ellasipu

ropólitun

rolequera am tibi!

dometti

improbis

bonistiis propor

è placer.

Set disto-

cutum fo-

vórum &

Ws,

T.

the affaults of faucy and wanton boyes? what rest could we have? what quietnesse of our studies could there be? The government therefore it self is a resuge, and as it were, a place of desence to them that truly love learning; just as the haven is to the sea-men in a storme. Lastly, who soever amongst us is quietly disposed, and of correction.

Not indeed doth our Mafler that, to hale us to out studies with blows and strokes, but he endeayours rather to bring us by those things especially, by honest and good usage, by good-will, courteste, gentlenesse of behaviour, benefits, and to conclude, by the love of vertue and learning.

alwayes ready to do well,

is most lafe from leverity

Whence it comes to passe, that the greatest part of us are so inclined, that we study to obey him from our heart, we take heed of offending him, we love, observe and reverence him as a farher.

Otherwise you should not do the duty of Schollers. petulántium insultus? quæ nobis quies? quæ studiórum tranquillitas? Itaque disciplima ipsa veris studiórum amatóribus est perfügium, & quasi propugnáculum; non secus ac nautis portus in tempestáte.

Dénique quisquis est inter nos pacificus, & ad recté semper agéndum parátus, is est à disciplina tutissimus.

Nec verò il agit præcéptor, ut nos plagis & verbéribus trahat ad literárum stúdia; sed nos pótius indúcere nititur his maximè rebus, honestà & liberáli tractatione, benevoléntià, humanitàte, facilitàte morum, beneficiis, denique virtutis & studiórum amóre.

Ex quo sit, ut major pars nostrûm sic assecta sit, ut illi ex ánimo parére stúdeat, eum caveat osséndere, eum tanquam parentem diligat, observer, revereatur.

Alicqui discipulórum officio non fungerémini.

But

245

B

F

B

F

F

1 in proximam hebdom

Arnm tuis précibusCh

sto commenda etiama

Iterum vale, & incéptumo

Precor tibi noctem dem.

etiam.

and a found judgement. Farewel, and look for me (if God will) the next week. Again farewel, and commend our designe ever and anon to Christ in 252 tendeth.

Q

your Prayers. I with you a good nights

Tones,

iment,

c ve:

litera.

int com

ut ve.

talibu

inte

dilo-cet ne mm p ctat w vérita

s bont

utem t cllar.

am |2

abette

erceta.

iftale

quan-

Tes allies grant

i,qui mi

dest

cium.

6 Dom

expen

ebdom

prum n

busCh

tiam 3

em 💯

reft, and that you may fleep foundly.

Col. 26. Florentius. Balilius.

Mhat is the matter & fce pour lo lab?

We is me ! 3 am almost out of my totts, I am fmitten with luch a fear.

What is the matter, I fay? The Mafter hath ca ught us. In what? in theft?

Alas! no fuch matter.

In what then? Private junketting. Anhainous crime indeed.

Wo is me! wo is me! what should I do?

Alas! do not trouble your felf fo much.

Who were with you? Fluvianus and Forensis. O ungracious boyes, that made me go thirher!

Where was that done? In Fluvian's chamber, who I could wish he had not 20 rifen out of his bed to day.

How were you catch't at the length?

Was not the chamber door lock't ?

Yesit was, but the Mafter (as you know) hath the keyes of all the chambers, besides we thought etam, & somnum placi. dum.

Col. 26. Florentius. Bafilius.

Quid est quod te it i triftem video?

Me milerum! vix fum compos animi, lta sum timore perculius.

Quid (inquam) istudelt? Præceptor nos deprehendit. Quâ in re? tartône?

Ah! minime gentium. In quo i vitur?

In secréta comporatione. Indignum facinus!

Heu me miserum! me miterum ! quid agam ? Ah! ne te afflictes tantopere

Qui aderant tecum? Fluvianus & Florenfis. O pérditos, qui me huc impulérant!

Ubi id factum fuit? In cubiculo Fluvi ini, qui útinam hódie è lecto non furrexidet.

Quómodo tandem deprehenfi eftis?

Non erat observarum cubiculum?

Imo erat, sed (ut scis) præceptor claves haber omnium conclavium : prætérea putabámus, illum Aa

30

Le

For they have rundlets of wine in our Maiters cel-

What faid the Master, when he found you feasting so, mag he not very angry?

He was not a jot moved; but smiling, said, 3 mould be one of that good company, if you please.

O troublesome guest! what did ye?

and fruch bumb. For when he had faid this, he presently got him away.

I fee here are all as bad fignes as may be.

Who would not think as much?

The mafter must needs have finelt out the businesse fome other way.

Isuspect one, that had bewray'd us.

Whom do you suspect?

I will tell you after the end of the businesse.

How shall you lielpthis mis-

I know not; we are all been blank, although those two that banquered with me seem not to be troubled at it; for they 85 have an excuse ready.

pray you?

Habent enim vini dol sola în cella præceptóris.

Quid præcéptor, ubi vos sic epulantes vidit? annon excánduit gravíssime?

Nihil prorfus commótus est, sed subsidens, Volo (inquit) esse de isto symposio, si placet.

O moléstum convivam!

Ationiti omnes obmuteseimus. Nam eo dicto sta-, tim se pror puit.

Omnia figna video hie effe pessima. Quis ità non júdicet?

Oportet præceptorem aliunde rem oltecisse.

Suspectus est mihi quidam; qui nos indicaverat.

Quem suspicaris? Dicam tibi post rei éxitum.

Quod inveniéris huic maló remédium?

Néscio 3 valde stupémus omnes, taméra duo illi convivatores mei nihil vidéntur esse solliciti; habeni enim in promptu caufam;

Quid tandem causari queunt? As 2 They érunt di

-07 OS

ualus.

WS 716-

a, frut

e nostra ruder F

potatii- B

átis?

s noll

tores.

ntinam a keri pa keri pa s épulsar F hodiéran entácula ne vina

at vini.

i ui ad me citò juvital

Lib

(if it be possible) youmay be acquitted. You can expect nothing from me in that kinde. for I have neither ghit to abbile pou, not any itis powerts bely you; But do you (I pray you) thew all the wit you habe to belp me quick= 117

256 fo.

Why not?

worlt.

F

B

F

B

F

B

inqui

m (2)

eran

Jui he

uid.

nas ei lit ion

on aut

bicha

m grad B

ım fis i стария

nt. a ræcon

olumn

id facin

s confi

octeft)

mean filii la ellan ich d tu (de res in juvátia

ere.

eft in F

I feare my punifment at hand; you fee well enough that (unlesse something hinder) it will be inflicted after Supper.

That will not be done at all. For feeing the fault is not publike, the punishment will not be publick.

Whether it be like to be publikely or privately, it will not be deferred.

pou are in the right of now come to you to helpe me; if lo be you foglake me, Jam quite undonc; I hall be moft gricboully beaten.

You should have gone to God rather, without whom no counsel doth availe, from whom allo all help is to be defired and hoped for.

The case is clear enough, and I forgot not to pray before I came to you; but yet it is our most gracious Fathers minde, that weuse such helps, as he offers us, and as it were 145 puts intoour hand.

Wherefore I intrest you, for our nearnesse of acquaintance fake, that you would affift me with your ad

Animus pendet mihi, instat pæna; latis vides, ea (nifi quid impediat) post cœnam exigetur.

Id nequaquam het. Cum enim crimen publicum non fit, non erit pæna publica.

Sive publice, sive privatim id fucurum eft, non di.feretur.

Recte júdicas.

That is the reason why I 230 Id causæ est quamobrem nunc ad opem tuam confügerim; quod si me déferis, actum eft ; dabo pænas gravissimas.

> Ad Doun porius confugiendum fuit, fine quo nullum valet confillum, à quo item salus omnis & perenda & speranda eft.

Res est manifesta satis, & ego priniquam te adirem, non prætermili precandi officium; sed tamen vult ille Pater clementissimus, ut iis utamur auxiliis, quæ nobis offert ipie, & quafi in manum dat.

Quare re oro, per nostram arctiffimam necessitudinem, ut confilio tuo nunc mihi fuccurras.

> Heie Aa 3

into his study, and to 175 make a fpeech to this iter, I have offended, I confesse; most grievously;

but (you know) it is the

See, most courteous Ma

purpole.

F

tardándi locus, huc igitus vires tuas intende, han causam suscipe obsecto.

> Quandóquidem sic instas, u vim adferre quodámmod videaris, dicam ex anim or vere quod fentio.

Nostin' praceptóris ingoi um ?

Novi (ut opinor) expan áliqua.

Ergo memoria tenes, ni esse illo clementius, quidem quos vider in millos effe, & culpamin genue confiteri; for bis autem & continue bus vix aliquid poufit no cerc.

Egomet ista non semela lervavi.

I

170 Scin' igitur quidfacis"

Dic mihi, quælo. Dum tua res adhucimes est, tibi suadeo ut hom minem folus aleis mulæum, & orming habeas in hanc fentenia

En ego, præcéptor hornissime à graviter pens vi, fateor; fed (65) F prima est noxa, quelle

Bene haber, feribe nune

ac iging

de, hans oblecto.

ntio.

n femtio facias "

a, quint

0.

2	M. Cor	deri	us's Colloquies,
	a rude manner, as you can; and then let us compare it together; afterwards, you shall get it carefully without book, word for word.		crasso modo, ut pótersi deínde conserámus una póstea, edisces ad verbun diligenter.
В	There is nothing more fafe and fure then this; but what time do you think I can best go to him?	220	Hoc nihil est neque tuin neque cértius; sed qu tempore putas illum acti posse opportune?
F	As soon as you see him go to his Library after din- ner, or perchance go to walk alone (as he uses to do) in the garden, then follow him presently.	725	á prándio se recipera
В	What preamble shall I use then?		Quo tum utor exordio?
F	You need no other then what we all are wont to use with him.	230	Non opus est álio, qui quo apud illum utilis mus omnes.
B	What is that? Mafter, may I speak to you a word or two?		Quid est illud? Præcéptor, licétne pauca?
В	God fend all your counsel prove well.  Now I go to write what	255	Bene vertat Deus omneon filium tuum. Nunc eo scriptum quod dis
F	you told me, and after- wards will fee you again. Make hafte; For Dinner- tincis at hand.	260	isti, deinde te revisam.  Matura, nam instat bu pråndii.
	Col. 27. Ambrésius. Gra-		Col 27. Ambrosius. Gu
A	Me thinks you are fome- what fad, Graidnus; what is the matter?		Subtriftis mihi videris Gratiane; quid rei est?
G	I think night and day of		Dies noctesque de patre ab

F

G

I

ótetis: Is una:

my father that is from home, and I gricbe my felf away for that matter.

How long hath he been

from home?
About foure moneths.

Hath he writ nothing to you in the mean space?

bince he went from us, we have not heard one 10 word.

his letter either misears ried, 02 was intercepted.
It is very likely that you
fay. For heretofore he u-fed to write to us wherefoever he was.

Went he not to Paris this Summer?

Truly he fet out then with that resolution.

I am confident he is safe.

And I am not diffident: but my grief is not thereby abated.

What faith your mother?

She takes on aimost continually, thence it is that my grief is doubled.

Yet you should not torment your self so continually; for it behoves you rather to hope well of him, then to grieve your selfe so much.

For what are foure moneths? How many thou fands are sénte cógito, & ob eam rem interim mærére confícior.

Quamdiù ábfuit?

Quatuor abhinc menses. Nihil ad vos intérea scripst ?

Ex quo discessit, ne verbum quidem audivimus.

Fieri potest ut scripserit; sed aut litera interciderunt, aut suerunt intercepta.

Quod dicis verisimile est. Namántea ubicúnquesses, solebat nobis scribere.

Nonne hac estate iverat

Eo certè consilio tunc sese in viam déderat.

Confido salvum esse.

Ego quoque non diffido; sed non ideo meus allevátur delor.

Quid ait mater?

25

20

35

Ferè semper lamentaur; inde sit, ut mihi duplicétur ægvitúdo.

Sed tamen non usquè ádeò te maceráre debes; potius enim de illo bene speráre opórtet, quam te maceráre.

Quid enim funt quátuor

Quetula pars est corum, qui verbum

e tuting 6 fed on A bis em ciperein tut, forbulatur rit, tun iere. dio?

, quin uti folk A

pauca?

uod dix

am. at bon

. Gra

déris ; i est ?

aire ab

50

60

65

there, that are so many years from home, being toffed in the mean time to and fro.

With fundry dangers and great casualties?

But what do others haps and hazzards comfort me?

G

G

A But see you be not too nice, that you cannot endure to be without your father such a little time.

Truly I could take it patiently, if I did but know that he is well.

With whom can it be ill, who puts all his hope in God? For whether we live or die, we are the Lords, as St. Paul faith. I make no question, but fuch is the infirmity of this flesh of ours.

A What should he do then that hath no hope in

G | 1 know not.

But have a care that God be not offended by that inpatiency of yours.

G I straightway acknowledge my fault, and humbly agis pazdon-

A You do as you ought.
But I pray you heare, what

G | is come into my minde.

A What if your father be

Per vários casus per a discrimina rerum? Sed quid me consolama

11

Vide tamen ne sis nini delicatus, qui patricis A derirm tantillo tene G ferre non queas.

Ferrem équidem aquitanimo, modò illibent G faltem intelligeren.

Cui potest esse male, qua A Deo spem omnem as G cavit? Sive senimo mus, sive morimus, a semper sumus, utar

Paulus ait.
Nihil dubito istud the rissimum; sed eachenis hujus insimus

G

G

A

Quid fáceret igitur qui Christo spem nullant bet?

Nescio. Sed cave tamen ne ista impatientia Deus ipa fendatur.

Delictum meum sala agnósco, & supplas G ploro véniam.

Sed audi, quæso, quid A nunc in mentem et A Quid istud est?

Quid fi pater tuus na

heare this over and befide; the greater part of the English that had fled into this city, because of the Golpel, as into a place of refuge, removed back into their countrey about fifteen dayes ago.

Omy Ambrose, how much have you refreshed me to day with that newes of English affaires! what a remedy have you applied to my grief?

So God is wont to help his fervants' in the greatest extremities.

It is a wonder if my father be not in England, For [115] he did often complain long ago, that there was no free passage thither for trading.

Moreover, a certain Eng- 120 Quinctiam Britannus que lifh man, no light per= fon, noz one that valle= eth, told my father within thele few dayes, that he had received a letter of crebit thence, in which this thing was amongst the rest, that all that were driven their countrey for the name of Christ, were most kinde= ly emertained, and freely welcomed in England.

Why then should we doubt any more?

Britannorum, quiobe A vangelium, in hanc w bem, tanquam adalylu fele receperant, in pan 6 am remigrabant jam an dies quindecim.

O mi Ambrofi,quantume isto núntio de Britani cis rebus hódie res ásti! qualem adhibus meo dolóri medicina

Sic solet Deus noster in A adesse in extremisant ftiis.

Mirum ni Pater eft in I tannia. Jampridem ein 1æpius quærebatur, qui non effet tutus illucacio G fus ad mercaturas to undas.

dam homo, neque las neque nugator, axia his dicbus patrimeo, it literas certas illine acc. A pille, in quibus hoc en inter cætera, omnou dique ob Christi nome profugos in ipla Britin G nia excipi humm fine tractarique benigniffin 130

> Quid est igitur quod imp us dubitémus?

140

150 hanc p

d alvhu

in pan G jam and intum

Britani.

iè rec

adhiba

dicina ofter is A mis and

ft in L

dem enie rur, qui tras on nus qui que leis.

RITIN

ri meo, li hoc til omne ur

iti nome line acc. A luc acid. G

There remaines no doubt (as you heare) about that matter.

It only remaines, that we first extol the goodnesse of Almighty God, with as much praise and thanks-giving as can be, and then that we seriously and constantly pray, that he would not only confirme, but also increase his blessings more and more every day.

Therefore my Gratiane, rememberto commend your fathers welfare to God through Christ very often, and that by most ardent desires and prayers. I wish he would so frame my minde by his Spirit, that I may from the bottome of my heart poure out such prayers.

as he may vouchfafe to heare!

A most holy wish, so it but come from the heart, as I verily beleeve it doth!

O what a wonderful Comforter is our God! D how much both a true friends addice and comfort abail in addersity!

I make haste strait home, that I may tell my mo-

Nulla (ut audis) sestat ea

Tantumsuperest ut inprimis Dei Opt. Max. bonitátem extollámus, quantâ possimus laude & gratiàrum actione; deinde sedulò atque assidue precémur, ut sua benesicia non modo consirmet, sed étiam indies magis ac magis àugeat.

Igitur, mi Gratiane, memineris patris salutem ipsi Deo per Christum sæpissime commendare, idque votis & precibus ardentissimis.

Utinam ille suo Spiritu sic afficiat animum meum, ut ex imo pectore ejusmodi preces effundere valcam, quas ipse dignétur exaudire!

Votum sanctissimum, modò (quod quidem credo) ex ánimo profectum!

> O mirábilem consolatórem Deum nostrum! O quantum valet in adversis rebus veri amíci consilium consolatio.

Sed quò nunc is?

Domum rectà propera, ut hæc matri quam primitm

1

160 a Britis G nen stand nignistan

od impi

ther these things as soon as I can, and may make her merry. od grant she may be made

A God graut she may be made heartily merry.

So I defire.

Col. 28. Diffynangaus. fo-

D God save you, most desired fonas.

J And God fave you, most pleasant grape-gatherer.

D How goeth the school? Very well.

Are there many come again already?

3 quarter is scarce away now.

D What do they?

J

J

They teach, they read, they write, they repeat.

Those things are general, and tone every bar; but what is done in our forme.

The fame which is done in the rest, and which was done beforethe breaking up.

D Have they lessons then in good earnest?

Eight dayes ago now.

D. For what should be done else?

We were wont to be imploy-

We were wont to be imployed fome certain dayes in repeating what we had learn't afore. nunciem, atque eju in: mum omni explem giadio.

Faxit Deus, ut illa seriò en hilarétur.
Ità precor.

Col 28. Diffynangaus. 3

Salve, Jona optatissime.

Salve & tu vindemiatoriacundiffirme.

Quómodo se habet scholi Optimé.

Jamne rediérum multi?

Vix quarta pars nuncabi

Quid ágitur? Docétur, légitur, sabin, repétitur,

Ista funt generália, quit dana; sed quid fit in mit classe?

Idem quod fit in czes & quod fiébat ante va tionem.

Ergóne jam seriò haben prælectiones? Jam abhine octo dies. Nam quid áliud siere?

B

Solebámus per áliquo d exercéri in iis reper dis quæ antea didient mus.

b.IV. We did nothing else for three whole dayes. m ginleriò ez.

caus. Fo

Time.

miatoria et scheh

multi?

unc abd

, Cribin, 14,4000 it in noti n cent ante 130

habem dies.

fieret: liquot & is report

a didicti

W:

What doth the Probation? Is it begun a ready? Whoo! begun? It is almost ended; the fixt forme will be examined to morrow. Wo is me poor boy, 3 am debatted of mp remard.

What, did you feek for a re- 30 ward ? Why should I not look for one ? Every one may look for one, especially he that plieth his book.

Thad rather look't for no- 35 thing.

Why to? For if I get nothing, there will be no disappointing nor trouble; but if I get any thing, 3 hall put it amongst my boinnings.

Did you never reade I've feen one like to die still live in hope.

Yes, I have read it, and remember it; but this is nothing to the purpole.

Why not? Because Ovid there speaks of that hope which is to be had in advertity; which meaning our Cato hath expressed in this diitich;

Tribus totis diebus nihil áliud actum est.

Quid probatio? Jamne in; cept a cit?

Hui! incepta? propemodum finita eft; cras fexta classis interrogabitur.

Me milerum ! exclusus sum à præmio.

Etiamne præmium sperabas ?

Quid ni sper arem?

Unicunque sperare licet, præsertim studióso.

Malim ego nihil sperare.

Quid ità?

Nam 6 nihil contigerit, nulla mihi erit frustratio neque moleftia; fin consequar aliquid, id ego in lucro deputabo.

Nunquamne legisti? Vivere spe vidi qui moriturus erat.

Imò verò legi, & memórià teneo; sed hoc nihil ad propolitum.

Cur non!

50

Quia illic loquitur Ovidi. us de spe illa quæ in rebus advertis retinenda elt; quem fentum expressit Care nofter hoc difficho ;

In adverse Fortunes cast not down thy head: Keep hope. Hope never leaves 55 one, no not dead. Do you then hope for no-D thing? I hope for life everlafting. You faid even now we must 60 hope only in advertity. what do you call adverfity ? J Thole things which are fighting against me every day. What are those I pray D you? My own flesh, Satan, and 65 wicked men that injure me. D Dow long have you been a fmatterer in Debinity? I I am neither Divine nor Imatterer in Divinity; but what I say, I have learn't out of Sermons. D Truly I commend you; but come on, tell me in good earnest, is the Probation of our forme past? J Think that Thabe toid you in good earnest already, I am forry I was nor D there. You should have come J fooner; what did you? 80 My mother made measury D till the end of the vintage. I beleeve you, but you were enforced with your own consent.

Rebus in adversis and p submittere noli: Spem retine. Spes und be nem nec morte relingue Tu igitur nihil spera:

Spero vitam æternam, Dicebas modò speria esse in adversis rebus tibi sunt adversa?

Ea quæ me oppúgnanto

Quæ tandem sunt illa!

Propria caro, Satan, & probi homines, que injuriis afficium.
Ex quo témpore fada

Theologaster?
Nec sum Theologus, 20
Theologaster; sum
dico, id ego didicien conciónibus.

Laudo équidem; fel a dic mihi seriò, éfina classis nostræ probin

Jam tibi scriò diam

Dolct mibi non interfat D

Citiùs venisses; Quide bas?

Mater me coegit vinder

Ciedo; sed tuâ volumi

rfis ánim D noli : es una ha relingar l fperas

es,

ernam, o sperant is rebus.

ougnant

éría ?

int illa!

Satan, & nes, qui iunt. re tada . ?

ólogus zin r; led m Idici cas

m; fed as ò, éttre æ probati diffm #

interpal D ; Quid

it vinder ectare.

a volument TH nuoufly, I was willing to tarty.

But what should one do? We are but men, as they Nay, we are but boyes.

But you would scarce think, 90 what a fine thing it is to libe in the cou trep, cloccia ly where there is luch an abundance of all losts of fruits.

Have you any great plenty of wine?

Truly fo great, that I do 95 not remember that ever I law greater.

What fay the Countreymen in this lo great plenty?

they talke of nothing but drinking and furfetting, and belides, they milule wine now, just as if it were spring-water.

Such is the madnette of the fond common fort of People, that they never know how to use the bleffings of God aright.

105

Truly it is just as it is faid, fooleg are neber wife, but at a pinch, i. e. when they are put to their thifts.

theretore.

What, because they mock alfo at admonitions?

That I may confesse inge- 85 | Ut fatear ingenue, libenter expectavi.

> Sed guid agas? Homines fumus, ut aiunt.

Imo pueri.

Sed vix credas quam fit jucundum rusticari, pralertim ubi tanta eft omnium fructuum affluentia.

Estne vobis magnus vini proventus?

Tantus profecto, ut majore vidifle non meminerim.

Quid aiunt rustici in hac tantâ ubertate ?

Nibil aliud quam potatió. nes & crápulas crepant ; quine iam vino jam perinde abutuntur, quali aqua fontana fit.

Ea est stulta plebis dementia, ut Dei beneficiis nunquam rede uti sciat.

Schicer istud est quod dicitur, Nunquam fapiunt stulti,nifi in angustis.

They are rightly punished 110 Ergo plecuntur merito. Quid, quod admonitiones ctiam irrident?

There

M. Corderiss's Colloquies, 270 Sunt qui nullam omni There are some that can ferre poffunt, quin ber endure none at all, but & comiter ciam w they are angry even at néntibus iralentur, them, that admonishthem | 115 well and gently. Audi aliquid gravins; for I militell pout fomething runt qui mihi vérberan that is mozic; there were narentur, cum cos hand some that threatened to niffime admonerem. beatme, when I admonished them very kindely. 120 Istud mihi novum nord J That is no new thing Nam & quidam min with me. For one once liquando puznum imai held up his fift at me, lo that had he not been avit ; quod nih verius of my fathers fet mei patris authoris authority, truly tem, projecto vapulil 125 had been foundly beatacerrime. en. D sed omittamus eos quid But let us let them alone that are blinde, and yet do not funt, nec tamen le z conceive that they are effe intelligunt, 130 Jactant se probe ale They brag that they well understand what the Golquid fit Evangelium.an re vera Evangelio atte pel is, when in good deed they are against the Goslentur, J Si verbi divini minita If they do not hear the Mi-135 & pastores sues non 2 nisters of the Word of diunt, qui putas to God, and their own shepposte ut nos audiant R herds, how do you think it shall come to passe that they may heare us! Sequamur ergò quod pris Let us therefore follow cepit Christus; Ning Christs command; Give 140 (anctum dare canibus. not that which is holy unto dogs. At funt quidam finglicat But there be some simple benévoti, qui audition and well-minded men, im omnia Lib. IV. quin ber ctiam m contur.

155

avins ; h verberen n cos han D nerem.

m nond am mili tum intal fi verime s authoris o vapulifa eos qui a men le al unt.

obe ale gelium.ca gelio ale

i ministra ios non 2 putas fo audiant R

quod pris IS: NIER Snibus.

Emplica 6 audition

who are very much de 145 lighted with the hearing of Gods Word, and these are they whom it is a most pleasant thing to teach.

How glad am I as oft as I light upon tuch! Dom much bo 3 make of them!

And good cause why. For when you have taught them, you enjoy then at the lait the berefit of their labours with a great beat of content.

But what do we think of it? Da pou not fee bom the might harh almost overtaken us?

tomorrow (if God give leave) we will talk together more at large, of falling chearfully to our studies again.

Col. 29. Rufings. Sylvefter.

Your father (as I under stand) is come back again from Frace

He is come back indeed. When?

On Munday, at evening. Was not his coming unwelcome to you? What! unwelcome? no inverbi Dei mirum in modum delectantur, hi funt quos docere est jucundiffimum.

Quam gaudeo quóties in tales incido! ut ego illos compléfor libenter!

Nec immerito.

Nam ubi eos doc éris, tum demum frueris laboris tui fructu. non fine voluptate maxima.

Sed nos quid cogitamus? Non vides ut nox fere nos oppresseris?

Let us be gone then, and 160 Discedamus igitur, & cras (fi Dominus permilerit) pluribus verbis acemus una de studiisalacriter repe endis.

> Col. 29. Rufinus. Sylve-Iter.

> Pater tuus (ut' accepi) iediit è Gillia.

Rédiit fane. Quando?

Die Lunæ veipeti.

Adventus ejus non tibi moleftus fuit ?

Quid? molesths? imo ve-Bb E way, as when he is here. I do not drink immoderately, but 3 beink to fuffice me; I play when time gives leave; I do not ramble here and there, but 3 go abroad with my mothers leave, when I have any bufineffe. I, are you to exceedingly 272

R

S

R

S

R

S

R subject to your mother? 5 As much as to my father. For what do you think? Is not Gods command alike concerning both? R Honour (quoth he) thy father, and thy mother. What faith the heathenish Quia fortaffe illo ablente. liberius vivendi eft til potestas.

Lib

R

5

Neicio quam mihi liberi. tem narras. Potándi, ludendi, curfit ini

An igitur putas me nihis liud agere, dum pater a Diffoluti quidem.

Nam quod ad me attite absente patre fic vivo, al eo prælente.

Non poto, fed bibo quanta fat is eft; ludo cum ten R pus poitular; non 4 curro, fed cum boni mi tris venia, in publicat prodeo, cum aliquida bco negotii.

Etiamne matri tantope lubditus es? E que ac patri. de utroque zquale a 30

35 præceprum Domini! Honóra (inquit)parrent um,& matrem tuam. Quid Ethnicus ille unhs

Love both thy Parents, Th' one as well as th'other; Toplease thy father, Do not vex thy mo ther .

What faith our Apostle Paul? Sons, (laith he) obey your Parents in the 15 Lord.

Are not your father and mother contained under the name of a Parent?

That is observed by Latine authors.

Moreover, if there were any 10 difference of reve ence, there might bery well more feem due to the mo thers, because they have undergone luch lorrowes and paines for us.

I know these things; and 155 all that you have faid do like me.

Why then did you gain-lay

That by that gain-faying (as it were) I might gain iome matter of discourse. For (as you your felf know) our Master doth often exhort us to spend our idle time in fach discourses. Cruly it is good leafure which is spent in honest balineffe.

Hitherro belongs that wife speech of Africanas, who Dilige non agra charos pietate ja entes;

Nec matrem offendas, dum vis bonus effe parenti.

Qu'd Paulus noster? Filii, inquit obedite parentibus in Domino.

Nonne parentis nómine pater & mater continentur?

Istuc à Latinis observatur autoribus.

Quinctiam si quod effet reverentiæ discrimen, viderecur optimo jure plus deberi matribus, ut quæ dolóres tantos, ac labores propter nos pertulerunt.

Novi ego isti; & que dixifti place t mibi omnia.

Cur ergò mihi rer u inabas ? Ut ea quasi repugnantia nobis accerterem fermonis materiam.

Nam (ut tute nofti) præceptor sæpe nos exhortatur, ut noft um Otium ejulmodi termonibus inpendamus.

Bonum fane orium, quod honesto in ne otto confumitter.

Huc pertinet illud Africani Apoph heg na qui dicebat Bb 3

Lib.IV. s; Sed

ablente

eft til libem. urfit and e nihos pater a mnes.

ne atting C VIVO, I bo quata cum ten non 4 bona mi n publican aliquid to tantopt

s? Nom æquale & Domini' )patrem#

n rum ille mb

se nunquam minus orisfum effe, quam cum orie fus effet; ut ex Cicerone didicimus.

I

D

Sed jam tempus monet u huic fermoni finem in ponamus. Recte mones.

Fortaffe enim tua caufit na tardatur domi. Plura (fi Dominus pem. ferit) in próximo congris Precor tibi noctem proip ram. Et ego tibi Placidam per membra qu

Col. 30. No nenclator. D fiderius.

Non faris mirari pollana non este diligentioren D

Qua in re videor ubi ng ligens? Quod manè ferè nunqua ades in tempore; and N inde fit ut pene quotin noteris in Catalogo.

Cur tues aded fomniculor Mea fic fert natura.

Corrige naturam istam,ha elt, natúræ virium. Quid tibi profuit Carons Whi nostri dictum?

N

Col. 3'.	Trapezita.	Raimundus.

T Is it lawful to requite ebil mit coil. R

276

The fixth

me ?

DX

N

D

N

D

D

N

N

D

N

D

N

D

Why do you ask that? That I may answer them that contradict me in this point.

Pou habe asked me in

Col. 31. Trapezita. Ra mundus.

B

1

1

Licetne malum malo reper dere. Cur istud quæris? Ut iis respondère possion. qui hâc in re mihi a tradicunt. Bréviter interrogisti t bitti.

Why not?

Because Christ forbade us, 10 and after him the Apostles bus.

iuntur!

i Pauli

um no

ages a

Pror ti fueris?

neff; p

rit oppo.

ias confcúrii, his ima.

edamus

ita. Ra talo reperre politi.

mihi co

ogajti it

betth.

R

What must we do then?
We must require evil with

T Is it not sufficient to requite good with good?

It is not sufficient indeed for a Christian.

Why so?
For it behoves a Christian to imitate Christ his ma-

T What did Christ in that kinde?

He healed him who had buffered him; he prayed for them who crucified him; and many fuch things as these did he.

Doth he do nothing then, that requiteth one good turne for another?

R He doth as much as the Heathen do.

What do they

They love their friends, and requite a favour to them from whom they recived one.

T | No more?

No; for what more can you expect from them

spondébo brevissime. Non . licet.

Cur non? Quia vétuit Christus, & post eum Apostoli.

Quid gitur faciendum est? Malum bono compensandum.

Annon sufficit bonum bono repéndere?

Non fatis Christiano quidem.

Quamobrem ?

Nam Christianum opórtet Christum præceptórem imitári.

Quid fecit Christus in eo

Sanávit eum qui ipfi cólaphum impégerat; precátus est pro iis, qui ipsum in crucem sustulerant; ália item multa fecit ejusmodi.

Nihilne igitur facit, qui grátiam pro grátia re-

Tantum facit, quantum fá-

Quid illi fáciunt ?

Amicos diligunt, & referunt gratiam à quibus accepé unt.

Nihilne amplius?

35

Nihil; nam quid amplius expectes ab iis qui ve-

thi

which there body grantcti:

rum Deum non noverunt.

Lib.

T

Quid faciunt inimicis ?

Quibuscunque modis poifunt eos persequuntur. Estne Christiano peccarum Si non licer, (ut jam tibi probavi) conclude id peccitum effe.

Arqui (ut vulgo dicitur) Vim vi repellere licet.

Quam sententiam non quidam Poeta, etiani tius interpretatus eff hi verbis.

Pellere vim vi jura finut, or vulnere vulnus.

Quid ad hoc respondes? Litud quidem permitten Ethnicorum leges, la lex divina longe alie loquitur.

Quid est divina lex? Idem quod Dei verbum Quicquid ergò fit conti Dei verbum eftne peca-

Frocul dubio peccarument Poreine ista probace exte vinis literis? Quid vi possim? nibilf

T

R

T

10 celius. Adfer mibi (quælo) fentes tias.

Non creais id quot effert bus in confesso?

Lib.IV. T Yes indeed, I do verily be-leeve it. What need we any proofes then?

Y That I may give a fure anfwer to them that gain-fay it.

00

mu

pro-

too-ur)

DOVE

m li.

eft his inum,

u.

5. nitton

, la

ajir

um. COSTS

peccaum eft

COL

ubil f

Center.

A OTH

10

T

You conceive of it aright; but because you cannot get it by heart out of hand, tarry whilest I fet them down in a little paper, in which also shall be the quoration of the places, that you may even point it out toith the finger to whom you please.

Hery good counfel on a sudden; How much more convenient shall this be 85 for me!

For fo I shall get it bit! out book at my leafute, that I may have it in readines as need shall be. But when will you give it 90

mc?

Come acain hither to me to morrow (it you please.)

At whit a clock?

It one a clock in the af 97 ternoon.

I am satisfied, farewel in the mean time.

The Lord God habe you in his besping.

Imo vero indubitanter credo ?

Quid igitur opus est testimoniis?

Ut contradicentibus certo respondere possim:

Recte intelligis; sed quia non poffis ex tempore memóriæ mandare, expecta dum tibi deicribam in chartula in qua ctiam fit locorum annotatio, ut possis quibus voles étiam digito demonstrare.

Optimum ex tempore confilium; quanto istud mihi commodius fuerit!

Sic enim per otium edifcam, ut ad manum habeam quoties erit opus.

Sed quando mihi dabis?

Cras (filibet) bue ad me r. vertere.

Quo: à horà A meridie prima.

Sat habeo; intérea vale.

Te servet Dominus Deus.

Col.

	Col. 32, Grimondus. Ble- vėtus.		c
GB	Will you buy this girdle? Why should I buy it; one is enough for me; but why		V
GB	will you sell it? Because I have two. And yet you may not sell it unlesse you will hazard	5	01
G	What doth hinder me to fell my own things?		Q
В	You have nothing yet of your own.	10	E
G -	What now, nothing? how prove you that? Because you are not yet at		Q
B	your own liberty, but under your fathers command; to be short, will you heare in brief that you may not do it? I am willing with all my	15	М
В	There is a School-order concerning this, whereof this is the meaning; Let not children fell any thing, nor buy, nor change, nor alter the pro-		D
G	perty of a thing by any other meanes without their Parents consent. He that shall do otherwise, shall be whip't.  I knew that well enough; but I would try	20	Ifi

Col. 32. Grimondus. Ble.

Lib

G

GB

G

B

Vis émere hunc cingulum? Cur émerem ? unus min fat s est; tu veró curu véndere?

Quia sunt mihi duo.

Nec tamen licet ut venda, niss vis in pænim inin rere.

Quid vetat me véndere to meas ?

Nihil adhuc tuum habes Eho, nihil? unde probe istad?

Quia nondum es tui jure led sub patris potesta, denique vis audire brenter tibi istud non licere Máxime velim.

De hoc lex eil Scholifte, cujus hæcest sentente, Pueri iujussu parentum nec vendant áliquid, ne
emant, nec permuen, nec alienent quovisalio modo. Qui contrà se
cerit verbéribus plesseur

Istud non ego ignozibm, fed volebam per culum

0 whether you were conftant in observing orders.

Pou are a diffembler ther.
Ifee no harme in this diffembling; do you confrue it ill?

No indeed: for you have hurt me.

What if I had hurt you? I would have taken it patiently, as it becomes a Christian.

I wish we could thus endure all adversities for Christs sake, who for our salvation-sake endured every thing!

We shall be sure to beare 35 them, if we set his erample alwayes before our eyes-

Truly that is an hard mat-

Nay it is impossible unlesse his Spirit alwayes 40 assist us, which we must obtain by our daily prayers.

Oh with what pleasant discourse have we spent this little leasure!

Col. 33. Sartor. Odetus.

Have you faid your prayers at home to day?

Why do you ask that ?

Because pou mas not at morning-prayer.

facere an constans esses in observandis legibus.

Tu igitur es simulator. In hac simulatione nihil video esse mali: num tu interpretaris malé? Minimè verò; nihil enim nocuisti mihi.

Quid si nocussem?

Tulissem æquo animo, ut

Christianum decet.

Utinam adversa ómnia sic feramus propter Christ m, qui nihil non tullt salutis nostræ causa!

Feremus certe, si exemplum ejus semper nobis proponámus ob oculos.

Difficile id quidem eft.

Imo impossibile, nisi illius Spiritu semper adjuvémur; quod assibilius précibus est impetrandum.

O quam suavi sermóne tantillumtotii consumpsimus!

Col. 33. Sartor. Odetus.

Ecquid hodie precátus es

Cur quæris istud ?

Quia non interfuisti matutine precationi. How us. Ble.

Curvis

gulum!

is mili

m invin

habes e probu ui juri

otester: e brenlicere:

oliffica, mentis;

aid, nei muient, ovis alio errà felecteur

culum whe-

L

S

0

S

0

	282 M. Co	rder	ins's Colloquies,
0 5 0	How know you?  I took notice.  But you are not the moni-	10	Quî scis? Observavi. Atqui tu non es observator
S	I am not. Why then did you take notice?	74 H	Non sum. Quamobrem igitur observi- bas?
S	Because you are my very good friend.	15	Quia es mihi chair
9	What then ? 3 fratt be forey to fee gou whip't.		Quid tum? Dolchit mihi si vapulabu,
0	What? was I fet down in the note?		Quid? an ego notátus fui!
5	What, do you make any que- ftion?	20	Etiam dóbitas?
0	Did no man make an excuse for me, when the bill was called?		nemo me exculávit?
S	No body, that I know of.		Nemo, quod sciam?
0	(as you fay) why did not you your felt make an ex- cuse for me?	25	Si me tantòpere anus (a dicis) cur tu te non en-
S	What excuse should 3		Quid cause dixissem?
0	You hould habe bebifed fometting.		Comméntus esses àliquil.
S	Should I have told a lie then?		Ergò mentitus essem?
0	What then?	1.3	Quid indé?
S	But to lie is forbidden by the Word of God	30	Sed ex verbo Dei mett
0	I confesse it, but that was a light tie.		Fáteor; sed erat levent
S	lighe with which God is offended.	918	Nibil leve judicardum
O	I cannot denie that; but he	35.	Negare id non pollum:

blerri.

iffeme

tabu.

tus fui!

atalogu

tvit!

nias (

ion exte

m?

iquil.

m?

i merke

a ndun C

Hum: 61 0

litur.

will easily forgive us these small faults for Jesus Christs sake, who is our Mediatour and Advocate. For what one is there amongst a thousand that both not sin every day bery often?

Truly none, moreover we fcarcely pray, or do any good work, in which there is not fome them of an.

What then should become of us, if God were not ready to forgive us? wherupon allowe pray aily, we say, Forgive us our tref-paffes.

We ought not to make any question, but he will forgive us, if we seriously and truly acknowledge our faults, if we hearttly beg parbon, and be-

leeve that we are pardon-

What remaines then?

That remaines, that we neither delight in our fins, not perfit in them, nor commit sin maliciously, birtingly, and on purpose.

For there are too many 65 things which we do a misse through the infirmity of our flesh, and also through ignorance.

I make no question touchlévia ista facilè remitte nobis propter Iesum Christum, qui est deprecator noster & advocatus. Nam quotusquisque, non peccat quotidie sapissime?

Profectò nullus; quinétiam vix precámur, aut àliquid boni operámur, in quo non insit aliqua peccási species.

Quid ergò futurum esset nobis, nisi Deus faeile ignosceret? unde & quotidie precantes dicimus. Remitte nobis débita no-

At a.

Nihil dubitare debémus ;

Quin remittat, si errata nostra seriò & verè agnoscámus, si ex animo petámus veniam, si sidem habeámus nobis ignósci.

Quid igitur restat?

illud restat, ut neque delectémur peccásis, neque in iis pessistàmus, neque malitiose, scienter & de industria peccásum commitatamus.

Nimis enim multa sunt quæ per carnis instrmitatem peccámus, & étiam per ignorantiam.

Nihil dúbito de peccátis iling

5

S

ing those fins which we 70 commit through the infirmity of the flesh, such as was Peters denial of Christ But how comes it to paffe, that we fin also through ignorance? Touching this you have St. Pauls example, who writing to Timothy, doth openly professe in his former Epistle, that though he had persecuted the Church of God, yet he had obtained mercy, because he did it ignorantly. You have abundantly latisfied me in this example; (for I also remember that I have read it,) but do you know in what chap= ter of the Epiftle itis written?

Truly 3 to nor ufe to trous ble my memory in retaining the numbers of 90! the Chapters; I think it sufficient at this time, to note some sentences as it were hastily, which I may get by heart, if I can steal any leasure in the 195 mean time, from my daily employment at my prefent studies.

I with I could be fo too !

lis, quæ ex carnisimbe, cilli are perpetramus.quilis fuit Petri abnegation

Sed qui fit, ut peccamus pe ignorantiam?

De hoc Pauli exemplus habes, qui scribens ad Ti motheum, in priore En stola palam profiterit quamvis Ecciefiam Di perfecticus fuerit, tame veniam effe confequirum quia ignorans id feceni.

Isto exemplo mihi abuse la isfecitti; (nam & e id legitle mémini.) Icin' tu quoto Epifteleu fite id icriptum fit?

Equidem non foleo vain memoriam in retinent capitum numeris; Min hoc tempore fatis ett videtur aliquot femen tias quafi raptim ann tare, quas memóriz ma dare liceat, fi quid intedum ótii suffurári poli ex quotidiana studiórus prælentium occupation

Utinam ego quoque id fden possem! What

S B

1

V

B

Lib.

S

0

0

D

0

S

0

V I

115

Lib.IV.

S

5

S

ett O

0

CHE

OF

ter

Vha:

to

What hinders you?

I have much ado to give my Mafter content in my School=rereiles,

fofar am I from having any time granted to beflow on other studies.

Truly we are sufficiently imployed every day, yet we must endure these things, so long as God and our Parents shall think it necessary for us.

Therefore do I willingly undergo and endure all fuch kinde of paines.

With what hope do you endure them?

Because I hope it will come to passe, that they may be the first steps, by which I once attain to greater matters.

But of these things more at large at another time;

Row ser us minde what we have in hand.

What is that?

Do you not heare the bell ring to the Supper?

You tell me of a good ringing; I began to feel my felf hungry just now.

Verily, because you ment past your bashing.

I wish I could always a

I wish I could alwayes as easily forbeare it, as I was willing to be without it to day.

Quid impedit ?

Vix ego queo satis praceptori fucere in exercitationibus Scholasticis, tantum abest ut aliis studiis áliquid temporis imperturi concedátur.

Satis proféctò quoidiè sumus occupati; sed hæc tamen serenda sunt, quamdiu nobis opus esse; ipsi Deo & parentibus nostris visum suerit.

Ego proptèrea libenter fero ac tólero omnes ejúlm di labóres.

Qua spe toleras?

Quia futurum spero, ut primi sint gradus, quibus ad majora aliquando perveniam.

Seò de his áliàs plúribus; Nunc agámus quod instat.

Quid istudest?
Audin' tu ad cœnam signum dari?
Bonum signum núntias;
jam sentiebamesuriem.

Nimirum 'quia merendam pratermisifti.

Utinam ea tam fácile semper abstinere possem, quam hódie carúi libenter. Cc Bur

Truly a great many moze

But (I beleeve) you faw.

many things which you had no minde to ice.

ported.

things then I heard re-

S

P

Ego verò non libenter cares nifi occupatus neceffarie negótio. Col 34. Phrygio Stephann. Salve ambulator optatifing Et tu falvus fis, ceffator oc. cupatissime. Satisne recte vales, mi Sit phane? Imò rectiffime que eft De óptimi máximi benigni tas. Equidem ex animo ganta tibique vehementer gi tulor réditum istumini P lumem. Ubi fuisti bat to anno? In Italia. Quam ob causam anima induxeras cilci.

illuc prot-Ob fa mam regiónis, dequi tam multa ubique przucantur.

Nec ignoras, quam lim rerum novárum cópidi. Sic oft natura comparatus fed quid illic invenit

Certe multo plura quana fama audiveram.

Sed multa (credo) vidil quæ minime velles.

Yo

Lib.IV

Y

Fo

TÍ

3

Av

For

il

(

tl

a tł

u

e le

Ы 0

W

m

tl

ſ.

d

C

P

P

g a

Yo

Yes indeed, wicked boings; but as for the countrey, it is a land very fertile, very much abounding with ali kinde of the best fruits, and especially with the gal= lantell mine.

Forfooth that thing pleased you above all.

That I may fay the truth, it did wonderfully please my palare. For what like 30 do you say this wine of ours is? you would verily call it imall wine, if you compare it with that.

I fine futject then of praising God, did prefent it unto you from thence

A very fine one.

For thus I did oft-times think with my felf; Lord 40 God, how good art thou, that haft loved us so as to afford us dainties! For thou haft not only made us such things as the earth brings forrh of it selfe for our fuftenance; but also so many kindes of most delicate things , which if we use them moderately and with 50 thanksgiving, they both sweetly nourish our body, and marvelloufly chear up the minde it telf.

Nempe scélera; sed quod ad regionem attinet, terra est longe fertilissima, omni optimorum tructuum génere valde abundans, præcipue vino prastanti fin.o.

Scilicet ea potiffimum res tibi arridébat.

Ut verum fatear, mire afficiébat palatum, nam quale dicas hoc nostrum vinum effe? villum veic dicas, fi cum illo compares.

Inde ergo tibi se offerébat pulchrum Dei laudandi argumentum.

Palchérrimum.

Sic enim sæpè cogitabam ; Quan bonus es, Dómine Deus, qui nos amav sti usque ad delicias! Non solum ea creafti nobis ad victum, quæ terra sponte lua producit; sed étiam tot genera rerum delectiffimarum ; quæ fi moderate sumamus, & cum graniarum actione, corpus suavissime nútriunt, & iplum animum mirifice exhilerant.

75.

80

P

P

P

S

O with what words, or with what works may we worthily enough glorifie thy name, O Lord! To conclude, I was forabithed in my mind, that I defired nothing more, then to have the prailes of God ever in my mouth, but (alas!) by one thought or other every like coming in my minde, that fire was quenched by a little and little.

That is no new thing with me, for such a thing as that doth oft use to befall me.

S Such is the inconstancy of our nature.

We have experience of this almost every houre, but what I pray you did you do in your Italy?

I visited some of the more famous cities for my mindes sake, and I studied a pretty while too in some places.

What cities went you chiefly to see?

Truly I saw a many as I went along, but I bid take a leasurely biem but of a sew, to wit, Genoa, Florence, Venice, and last of all that Rome, which was called in times past the Head of the Oquibus verbis, quibus opribus saits digne gloris ceimus nomen tuum, Denique, sei pribar animo, ut il magis cuperem, quima vinas laudes semper in habere; sed (proh dolo aliis arque aliis some cogitationibus, ignis paulatim extinguos: p

Istud apud me non eff s vum; nam fæt s quid mihi solet acch

Ea est natúræ nostræ in stántia.

Horis fere ómnibus in experimur: sed quito dem in egisti in mittalia?

Invífi, ánimi grátik áliga urbes celebrióres alia éti am studui aliquate

Quas urbes visisti port

Multas quidem vidi into fitu: sed paucas com platus sum otiosu; minrum Génuam, Floreir am, Venétias, dénis l Romam illam, que da mundi caput dicebin nunc autem est omnia

100

wold, but is now the ibus op. fountain and original of ne gloris all abominations. ue, fici, P Did you see that great , ut ill s beaft? I faw him by the by, quime ! when he was carried mper in up and down the freets: oh dolo > them. But (that we may come to the purpole) in what 95 townes I pray you did you tarry to minde your ftudies?

(as I suppose) for a

As I came back from Rome, I passed thorough Bononia, Padua and Millain. In every one of these townes, I spent about three moneths in feveral lorts of studies.

For I had a minde to taite (asit were) a little of every one.

But what strange matter did you fee in so many most 105 famous townes?

Do you ask? all things almost did seem strange to me; but it would bel too long to tell you all, especially now when 1110 I am to haste some whither elfe.

Whither I pray you; To my Uncle, that invited me to Supper.

I will stay you no longer

abominationum fons & origo.

Vidistine magnam illam bestiam?

Vidi obiter. cum per vicos (opinor) fp ataculi gratiá portaretur.

Sed (ut ad rem) in quibus tandem oppidis commorátus esítudiorum gratia?

Romá rédiens, transivi Bononiam , Patavium , Mediolanum. In corum oppidorum fingulis menfes circiter tres versitus sum in vário literarum genere.

Volui enime singulis paucula quasi deguitare.

Quid autem vidisti novi in tot celeberrimis oppidis?

Rogas? ferè omnia mih nova videbantur: sed longum foret omnia tibi narrare, præsertim nusc cùm mihi est áliquò properandum.

Ouò tandem? Ad patruum qui me ad cœ? naminvitavit. Nolo igitur te remorari.

Cc 3 thea

Izpe a 3 et acom oftrz im nibus in non eff s

ווא ועוטוי

12ms inguebra P

ti in mi átia, aliqu iores, and P aliquande

ed quit to lifti poris vidi in To ucas com

10 m; m n, Floren as , denia ! , quz on t dicebatt est omnius

WOILG

Every morning to take diligent care, that all my 20

Quotidie mane diligent curare ut omnes done

Tab.es

do lice.

otide.

10.

Prima

olusse.

Creneta

r. Hyp.

c ent

mus an cogni

eu coor:

dero.

molettu

mibi all i pratti

ui fimit

przeid

, quoin diligent jes done

Tables

Tablers get up in but time, tespeding the bunter and the summer-season. After they are up, let them look to those things which concern the dressing and cleanlinesse of the body; and last of all, that they be at private prayers.

The second is, to bring them three times a day into the hall, that is, at morne, and before eleven of the clock, and three in the afternoon. There (unleffe I my self be present) to tarry till some of the Teachers come; in the mean time to fee the bills called, and that prayers be faid; in like manner to observe diligently, whether any of the Teachers be away from his feat; if any one be away, to come and tell me prefently, or to do what he theuld be.

The third is, to stay with the borderers, as oft as 45 they are not taught in the shools; in the mean time to teach the lesser boyes to write and read, and to hears other boyes repetitions, so far as time and opportunity will give leave: Last of all, to keep stici mei discipuli, matūrė cubitu surgant, pro ratione temporis tum byberni, tum astivi. Ubi surrexerint, ea curent quæ ad cultum & munditiem corporis pértinent; postremò, & adsint privatæ nostræ precátioni.

Secundum, ter quotidie in aulam deducere, mane fcilicet, & ante horam undécimam, ac tértiam pomeridianam. Illic (nifi égomet adero) expectare, donec áliquis ex doctoribus adfuerit; intérea curare recitandos catalogos, precationem dicendam; item observare ledulo, num quis exipsis doctoribus absit ab auditorio suo; fiquis aberit, mihi statim renuntiare, aut ejus partes agere.

Tértium, manére cum púeris doméficis, quotics non docentur in scholis; intérea minóres ad lectiónem & Sciptúram instrűere, exterorumque repetitiones audire quantum tempus & opportúnitas patiétur; omnes dénique in officio retithem all in order, to admonish, blame, chide, I and whip them too, when there shall be need.

The fourth is, to lead them 55 in order to Sermons on holy-dayes, and to lead them back again home in like manner.

The fifth, as oft as they shall 60 have liberty to play, to minde ever and anon, that they do or fay nothing unbehtting their duty and good manners.

The fixth, to help them mith the money which shall put into your hands, to paper, pens, ink, and certain other necelfaries only of a small value, and to let them all down into a book of ac= compts And that is wont to be done especially on Wednesdayes and Saterdayes.

The seventh, to be careful 75 of fuch things as concern their bookes, clothes and ordering of their body, that is, sometimes to call them to account about their bookes and clothes, and have respect to their health and ordering of their body, and such things as those to be heeded and look't after, nere, admonere, argine objurgare, virgi enan ubi opus fuerit, castige Lib

Quartum feriatis diebustus ad facras conciónes ó. dine deducere, acdomie similizet reducere.

Quintum , quoties ludes permiffum erit, fubine observare, ne quid prate officium & bonos more vel factis, vel dictisa. mittant.

Sextum, suppeditare ill ex pecunia, quam tibit manus dabo, charan pennas, atramenta, & j. lia quædam dunning parvi prétii necessaria; eaque omnia in extent. rum cádicem referre.

Id autem Mercurii & Sib. bati potissimum diebut fieri solet.

Septimum, quæ ad corum libros vestimenta, & curam corporis pertinebun non negligere; hoc ett, interdum ab illis libro rum & vestimentorum rationem exigere, valetudinis, & cultus corrationem habe re & ália ejúsmodi; ( in pueris præferim minoribus, ) curanda cloe-

rgine Lib.IV

étian.

flight

ebus en nes or domu

ludes fubind-

d przie

os more idisa.

are ille

m tibin

chartan.

ta, & j.

especially among the lesfer boyes.

The eighth, to teach the boyes, both in my forme, and in the rest, except the three uppermost, if at any time there be any necessity.

The nineth is, to helpe me fometimes (if need shall be) both at home and a-broad in my private businesses.

Thus far you have heard what fervices I would have you do, and what I am wont to require of my other Ushers in the house, yet will I not be such a severe Exactor of them all, but I my selfe, as my leasure serves, will ease you of some things, in which I will supply your place.

Understand you all these things?

Truly I have diligently minded them all; but I intreat you one thing, that to help my memory, you would give me alittle note of them, and withal a little time, to think, and to confider upon them.

How much time do you defire?

One natural day, i.e. foure and twenty houres.

& observanda.

Octávum, docere púeros tum in classe mea, tum in cæteris, præter tres superiores, si quando necessitas postulábit.

Nonum, interdum (si opus fuerit) me & domi & soris, in privatis negótiis ad juvare.

Hactenus audisti quæ mihi abs te præstári velim officia, quæque étiam abáliis domésticis hypodidáscalis exigere sóleam; eórum tamen ómnia non adeò severus exactor súero, quin ipse, quóties per ótium licebit, aliqua tibi remittam, in quibus ego quasi vicárii partes az m.

Intellextin' hæc ómnia?

Ego verò diligenter ónınia; sed unum te oro, ut, a d memóriam renovándam, des mihi eórum commentariólum, & simul cogitándi ac deliberándi spátium.

Quantum témpori póstulas?

Diem unum naturalem.

But

duntára ceffária; expensocre,

& Sibdiebus

, & cutinébun: hoc et, is libroentorum re, valuis co-

ismodi; ræfertim curanda

- elpe-

H

IM

B

But I will allow you two. In the mean time you fhall go on (as you have begun) to talk and tarry with us without any cost of yours, as freely as if you were at your own home.

bone of you, wherefore am a great beal the more beholding to you.

You shall have the note which you desire after dinner, as fast as I can write it you with my own hand.

H What if you should dictate

I had rather write it my felf; test any thing should perhaps ober-sitp me.

Do as you pleafe.

Col. 36. Questor. Benig-

How forry am 1, that I was not at your repetition in the morning!

Why came you not fooner to the School, as you use to do?

Wo is me poor boy! I go not up foon enough.

B Because no body awaked me.

bo. Intérea (ur capili)
nullo tuo sumptu nois perges convivere & conmorári, tam libere qua si esses domi tua.

B

Istud non fine humanishief.
cis; quo fit ut majorib.
nef ivio me devincias.

Habebis a prandio quod no quíris commentarium, cum primum mea m manu conferiplero.

Quid si mihi dictares?

130 Malim égomet scriber, u quil forte inter disidum éxcidat.

Ut libet.

Col. 36. Quaftor. Benig-

Quam doleo me non intefuille mane repetition veste !

Cur non ven sti in iudum citiùs, ut ferè soles?

Me in tierum! non functi in tempore.

Quamobrem? Qua nemo me expergefecit

Who

25

B | Who uses to call you up ? Our hoft, or his maid: but when he is away, the tu nobi maid doth oft-times for-& con. get, or certainly doth not heed. Where was your hoft?

B He was gone abroad berp carty about his bufinefle, as I underftood aftermarts.

What doth your Bofteffe? doth the look to nothing?

Q What do you think she should look to?

Every day after she is up, the is alwayes bufie, partly in looking to her little children, and partly in other houshold-occasions.

Have you no schollers to your chamber-fellows?

None at all.

Alas poor boy, that halt no body to confer withal about your studies!

My condition, as far as I suppose, is very miserable because of that.

For I cannot study as I would my felfe, for fuch a company of marketfolkes that use that house, and make a noile about me all the day long.

Have you not a chamber to your felf?

Onis te solet excitare? Holpes nofter, aut ejus ancilla: sed absente illo, ancilla sæpè obliviscitur, aut certe negligit.

Ubi erat hospes?

Sub auroram prodierat ad fua negotia, ut poftea recivi.

Quid hospita? nihilne curat?

Quid putas eam cur are?

Quotidie ex quo surrexit, semper intenta est partim curandis filiolis, partim cæteris domésticis rebus.

Nulloine habes contubernales (cholásticos?

Prorlus nullos.

Ah puer infalix, qui neminem habes quocum de studiis conseras.

Obeam rem mea est miferrima conditio, quantum ego judico.

Non enim possum arbitrio meo studere propter tantam mercatorum turbam, qui domum illam frequentant, & mihi toto die obstrepunt.

Non habes tibi cubiculum?

Cibat

ere quin

gros de.

Coepiffi

iti die fi. Mjóri b. cias. quod it-

B

tarium. nea th 0.

res? bere, H diai-

Benig.

n interetition

iudum 5? iuricu oefecit. Who

Lib

B

B

B

tum

u cenquin

iquis

iı. boup

ulum

Live,

ntur;

nibu

rcinz

da-

em!

es vid lan.

ie ul-

r effe

ım in 1, &

con-

am!

mihi

edibus

lins:

cum

2011 TC

athet

B

B

father with the inconveniences that attend your studies. I have oft-times acquaint. 75 ed him, both by mozd of mouth, and by tetters.

What answer doth he make He is made acquainted with it to no purpole, it is as if one should tell a tale to a teafe body.

Why to? B never Becaule he was brought up at school, and therefore he understands nothing in the way of itudies. B

Yet I, if it were my cale, would try ail means politible to gain my Delite.

What if the Master himself should write to my father?

You could never perswade him that. Why not?

Because be will not falm upon any man to get himself a company of schollers. For he cannot abide any ambition or covetouinesse.

What then do you perswade me to do?

I have only one thing to advile you.

de studiorum tuorum incòmmodis.

Sæpè quidem monui, & coram, & per literas.

Quid ille respondet?

Frustra monetur : quaf furdo narratur fabula.

Quid ità?

80

85

90

Quia nunquam in discendi ludo verfátus est, ideoque in Itudiórum ratione nihil intelligit.

Ego tamen, fi mea res ageretur,omnem moverem lapidem, ut voti compos efficerer.

Quid si præceptor ipse ad patrem meum fcriberet ?

Nunquam istud illi perluaceres.

Cur non?

Quia non vult ambire quempi.m, ut discipulorum tur= bam fibi comparer. Abhorret enim ab omni tum ambitione tum avaritia.

Quid igitur mihi faciendum fuades ?

Unicum habeo conflium.

You

·W

th

You

No

YOU

La

N

I

1

You

. t

145

155

Lib.IV.

da B led ú.

1

inc

K You give me good advice; what should I say to them ? them all the inconveniences that attend thy ftudies.

No more?

You shall shew them moreover how you may be provided for, that you may redeem the time which you have so wofully loft hitherto at your hoft's, & that unleffe you be speedily remedied, you will be touced to gibe ober four book utterly. Lastly, do no give over putting them in minde, intreating and befeeching them, till you have prevailed with them, to promile you that they will be earnest with your father about your bufineffe.

What if they shall refuse? It can scarce come to passe that they should all re-

Q It is not a thing likely, espe cielly (ceing they all love me passing well, and are so ready to do me any kindnesse for my fathers fake.

Besides these things, the matter it felf will fet Bene mones : quid illis dicam ?

You shall be sure to tell 130 Narrabis diligenter omnes incommoditates Rudiorum tuornm.

Nihilne amplius?

Docebis insuper quonam modo tibi provideri poffit, ut tempus redimas, quod apud istum hospitem tam mileie hactenus perdidifti ; & nifi eo remedio tibi mature confulatur actum effe de ftúdits tuis & corum progrellu.

Denique, ne ante destiteris monere, orare, obsecrare, donec perlua eris, ut tibi promittant le acturos este seriò cum patre tuo negotium.

Quid si recusabunt? Vix fieri potest, ut recusene omnes.

Non est verisimile, prafertim cum fint mei amantiffimi, & mihi patris nomine gratificentur àdeò libenter.

Ad hæc, res ipla urgebit cos; nempe, tant a ftu-

nis 10-

í.

Sec

Dd

ton of greij.

fto,

ies 14

cu in

m cop-Tofm.

ur de admo'

nothin

S.

whole time in it.

for that matter.

Vide quanta vis fit memo. riæ quæ rudibus anni didícimus.

Tib.

B

A

I

ŀ

A

I

1

Ea est Quintiliani imp hâc re sententia; cujus verba (ut opinor) memi B nisti.

Memini; fed (ut ad rem. A quæ fuit patris occifa, ut ante discetterit qui instituerat?

Quidam Lugdunenses, qui buscum ad mercatum hu venerat.

35

Aderaine cum profectus d

Prastolabar illum india. lorio.

Unde sciébas mutalle con silium de profectione?

Eram in prandio cumina iplos convenerat, utopedicis quibuldam rer quis in urbe negotis equos sub horam secur B dam confeenderent.

Quod superett, farineas A nimi lententia rem 1 am fecit ?

Ita feliciter, ut me ob en B rem ad divinas laudes # A hementer hortatus fuer B

That'

inni

cujus

emi- B

rem.] A

quin B

A

ccafe,

S, QLI-

m hu

us cu dim.

e (01)

ne:

m inte

utci-

1 ren

gous

fecto B

ica: A

ob en B

des W A

fuer B

That'

m 19-

ma A | Therefore (I suppose) you come back now mith good flore of money in pour purfe.

Do poujeere me? Why should I do so?

habe a Wiccaule you minde to do fo

As if indeed I used to jeere, at other tolkes for my mindes fake.

But I did think fo.

Pou arcfarre multaken.

For it is one thing to jest and another thing to jeere.

The one is free from fault, and is sufficiently common amongst friends; 65 the other is vicious and to be hated, because it commonly comes from contempt.

Pardon me then.

There is no great fault committeb.

But I pray you tell me, did your father give you no money ?

3 did not fo much as ask him any.

Yet he gave you some of his own accord.

Alittle.

How much then? A very little.

I pray you tell me. Why do you enugire fo earneffty?

Tu nunc igitur (opinor) bene nummitus redis.

Mone rides? 55 Cur ego id fácerem. Protua libidine.

> Quafi verò animi gratia soleam irridere cæteros.

60 Acqui ità putabam. Longe a erras. Nam áliud est jocári, áliud irridere.

> Alterum caret vitio, éstque inter amicos fatis frequens; alterum est vitiofum arque odio dignum, utpote quod ex contemptu fere proficilcitur.

Ignosce igicur mihi. Non gravis est culpa.

70 Sed die, rogo; nihilne tibi pecuniæ dedit pater?

Nè petivi quidem.

Tamen sponte dedit .

75 Aliquantulum. Quantum igitur? Perpulillum. Dic lodes.

Cur tam avide inquiris?

Dd 2

that

3	O4 M. Corderi	126'5	Colloquies,	Tib
A	That I may bid God give   you joy of it, asfriends		Ut amic orum more tibi gá tuler.	Lib
В	There is nothing worth bidding God give me iop of it.	80	Nihil est gratulatione dis
Α	Confesse what it is without any more ado.		Fátere tandem quid st.	A
B A	Whoo, to little? O you fool, that could'st not ask two or three shillings.		Soli asses quinque.  Hui, tantillum? O fluiz, qui non petieris duosa tres decasses argénteos.	B A B
B A	I durit not. What was you afraid on?	85	Non ausus sum. Quid verebare?	A
В	That he would utterly deny me, and take it ill		Ut plane denegaret, acet ægre ferret quod petera	В
A	that I should ask.  He would never have done so if you had but told him the reason why you ask- ed.		Nunquam id fecisse, as do petendi causam adis diffes.
В	I think so indeed, but what reason could I have alledged?		Credo equidem, sed qui caus attulissem?	1
A	Do you ask me? are there not fix hundred thing that icholars occasions have need or?	S	Rogas? nonne suntressa céntæ, quibus indigat sus scholásticus?
В	There are many things confesse.	95		A B
. A	But have you fuch flore of all things, that you wan nothing?	it.	Tu verò, adeone abund rebus ómnibus, un deut nihii?	1
В	이 후 그렇게 되었다. 그리면 내가 있는데 아이를 되었다면 하나 하나 하나 하나 없다.	y ro	Imo detunt plurimajied	-
A	Besides my father knowe	SI	Prætérea satis novit p	in in 610

ŀ

I

I

1 i on

HOSE A

1005.

et, mi d qui res its

iger

nt di ed que paid

MEN

とうとうとうとうとうとうとうとうとうとうとう

well enough what I want, both for my studies, and for my diet and apparel.

He knows indeed, but he hath many other things to look after, and to think on-

I beleeve he hath a special care of his children.

But you are too farre off from him.

Suffer me to tell out my

Well, I give you leave.

My father knowes too, I am not yet fit to use money mell.

Why not? have you not age and discretion enough for that matter?

from that. Therefore my father hath given order to my Master, to allow me all things requisite for my maintenance and studies: for which occasion he less him have as much money as serves the turne.

Be it fo-

Therefore if I should aske my father any thing, he would presently send me back to my Master, and perhaps too he would be angry with me, and chide me soundly. quæ mihi opus sunt, cum studiorum causa, tum ad victum cultumque corporis.

Novit quidem; sed ália multa funt illi & curánda, & cogitánda,

Credo esse illi pracipuam liberorum curam.

Sed nimis ab eo remótus es.

Sine me pervenire quò volo.

10 Agè, fino.

Novit etiam pater me nondum esse idoneum ad reste trast andam pecuniam.

An tu ad cám rem non sat's ætátis habes arque prudéntiæ?

Istine absam longissime. Itaque pater dedit præceptori in mandatis & omnia mihi suppeditet ad usus vitæ & studiorum necessaria; ad quam rem præbet ille quantum satis est pecuniæ.

Efto.

Ergo si quid a patre peterem me statim ad præceptorem rem tteret; fortassis étiam irascerétur, & me graviter objurgaret.

Dd 3

It

colen your father?

Truly it is not a thing like-

Lil

B

A

A

dum patrem inducere?

Mihi quidem non fit veil-

Ergò his rebus diligentec

Dd 4

nos exerceamns, adju-tere Dómino Deo, in ance

17.

eft.

0, allen.

yen-

ly

193

Bnalith.

Let us diligently exercise things, by Gods affist-our selves then in these 180

M. Corderius's Colloquies,

Lib

Pr

Px

H

Pa

V

Pa

V

Pa

H

P

308 thing, for your honour's lake.

H I will do it with all my heart, but for Gods honour's take.

Vi-

quit, us in ford

Pæ I commend that faying. For Gods honour and glory is to be preferred in ris tui caula hujus rei specimen edere.

Id ego libenter faciam; sed Dei honoris caufà.

Laudo istud verbum. Divinus enim honor & glória ómnibus in reall

H

Pr

H

P

all things well. Begin, if you have any thing to say.

Except your rightcousnesse exceed the rightcousnesse 30 of the Scribes and Pharifees, ye eaunot enter into the Kingdome of heaven,

Matthew the fifth chap-

Putting away lying, speak the truth every one to his neighbour. In the fifth chapter to the Ephesians. Children, obey your Parents Children, obey your Parents in all things, for this is pleasing to the Lord. In the third to the Colossians.

Pæ Welldone, a good proofe, fee that pour proceeding be aufmerable; that is, that you may diligently go on hereafter.

He that hath given us a beginning, will give us good successe.
The are to hope so.

Get you ready, that we may make timely hafte to go abroad.

We will be very ready here presently.

Cake every man his cloak, that you may go abroad more handfomly.

But do you hear boyes!

Pæ But do you hear, boyes!
What would you have, Mafter?

bus est præserenda, Eja

L

P

P

V

M

M

M

M

V

M

M

M

V

M

Nisi abundaverit justiniave straplus quam Seribarum Phariseorum, nonp. testis ingredi in regum cælorum, Manhæi quim capite.

De osito mendácio, loquini. ni veritátem que queprox. imo suo. Ad Ephésiosapite quarto.

Filii, obedite parémibu in ómnibus; hoc enim plan Dómino. Ad Colossens tertio.

Euge, bonum specimen; indete progressus respondes; hoc est, ut pergaris in posterum diligenter.

Qui nobis princípium delis, dabis i en succéssus profperos.

Parate vos, ut producmtutémus.

Mox adérimus paratiffini.

Súmite suum quisque pillium ut prodeatis honestiùs.

Sed heus, púcri! Quid vis, præceptor?

55

See

YALE

Lib.IV. Px | See you bring your Pfalmbooks too, we will fing somewhere in a shadow. Pr So shall our walking be 60 more pleafant. Col. 39. V. M. Was you at the School to V day? Where should I have had been? but what did you do ? 3 was buffed at bome. That is fallen out besides $5 V M your wont; for you ule! to be away somewhat seldome. As very seldome as I can; but what is done? Nothing at all. Have we (remedy, o;) leave to play then? M Yes furely. V How fo? M Because of the Faire to day. 15 Who gave it us? M The Master of the School; but by the Rectors confent. What hath he granted you? M Freedome from every Achool-exercife. .0 What, for all the day?

from mogning till & un-

Eja

100.

TIE

t pg.

m inno

ZIIIbróx.

S C2-

n in intle

enia

idea:

n po-dedit, prol-

e ma-fimi.

pallionc-

See

Videte ut Pialmos étiam adferatis; alicubi in umbra cantabimus, Ità fiet ambulatio nostra jucundior.

Col. 39. V. M.

Fuistine hódie in Gymnafio? Ubiergo fuissem? tu verò quid agebas?

Eram domi occupatus.

Id evénit præter morem tuum; soles enim abesse rarius.

Quam possim rarissime: quid autem actum est? Nihil prorfus.

Ergone remissionem habemus?

Certo. Quamobrem ?

Propter mercatum hodiernum.

Quis dedit ?

Ludimagister; permissutamen rectóris.

Quid concessit?

Vacationem ab omni munere icholastico.

An in totum diem ? A mane ad occ. fum ufque for fet; though he diligently charged us, and at large, that in our time of leafure, we should think of our businesse, that we come not to morrow to the school unprovided.

What then shall we do? shall we abuse this leafure?

become boyes of our

But what are you going to

M

V

V

1

1

P

P

M To get me into my study; unlesse you like it better for us to walk abroad somewhither an houre and an halfe.

Should I refuse it? nay there is nothing that I like better now. For we shall have some discourse about our books in the mean time, and withall shall we exercise our body.

Let us go then without the walls.

Whither?

As far as the water-fide.

I like that very well; but 35 you shall tarry for me, if you please.

How long?

So long, as whilest I go to put on my shors lis; tameth diligenter to multis quidem verbis admonuit, ut in ótio de me gótio cogitaremus, re cras in ludum venirems imparati.

Quid igitur nos? hoccine abutémur ótio?

Id vero ætátem nostram de cet minime.

Tu verò quid paras facere

Me recipere in mulæolum; nisi fortè tibi magis place ut sesqui-horam aliquò prodeamus deambulatum.

Egóne reculárem? imò, nihil est quod nunc magis velim; Nam & nosintérea tractábimus áliquem sermónem literáritim, & simul corpus execébimus.

Eamus igitur extra muros,

Quonam?
Usque ad ripam lacûs.
Valdê istud mihi arrida;
sed tu (si placet)me expectábis.
Quamdiu?

Tantisper dum crépils

M

N

L

v

V

N

N

V

45

V

M

V

M

4-

1

R

101 ine

de.

ere)

um;

ace

quò

tum.

, ni-

nagis

s in-

ali-

יונד

e xer-

105.

idet;

exbe-épids

in fead of my fippers. Where will you have me M tarry for you? At the Franciscane gate.

But see you do not deceive

Should I deceive my friend, when I know that faith ig to be kept eben with an chemp.

Goyour way, make haste; I will be reading fomthing in the mean time whileft I tarry you.

God fave you, Marcel

Tho is that that falutes M me ?

See, I am come again. What now, fo quickly? M me thinks you habe flomen. Now truly my very affection hath put wings to my feet. Let us go now by Gods 50 M guidance. It is only God that leads his forth, and brings them back again.

Let us make hafte; the M lake is a good way off bence.

the shall have the better flomach to our dinner; 55 eno one

.co mutatum calceis.

Ubi vis expectari?

Ad portam Franciscánam. At vide ne me fallas?

An ego amicum fallerem, cum sciam étiam inimico fervindam effe fidem?

Abi, festina; ego, dum te opperior, aliquid interim legam.

Salve, Marcelle.

Quis ifte salutator?

Ecce, rédii.

Eho, tam citò? mihi videris volaffe.

Nimirum afféctus iple pedibus alas addidit.

Eamus nunc, ducente Deo.

Solus Deus est, qui suos ducit ac reducit.

Maturémus; satis longe bie lacus abest.

Tanto melius prandebimus perge.

1 30

うとうとうとうとうとう

The END.

Herm. Schott. Col. 44.

Certainly if one desire to be a Latinist, he must use constantly to speak in Latine, for we become work-men by working. Books do little good, where both a Master and often exercise are wanting.

FINIS.

Herm. Schott. Col. 44.

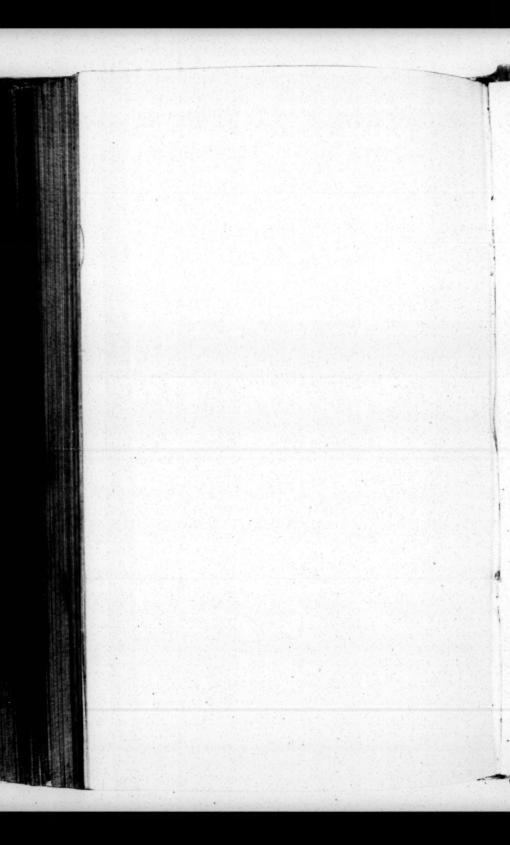

Certe opórtet continue sai Latine; si quis Latinus effici desiderat: namsabricando sabri simus, Libri parum profunt, un deest & pracéptor & coercitátio frequens.

FINIS.

P

e fari atinus m fa-us. & cz.

いいとうとうとうとうとうとうとうとうとうとうとうとうというとうというとう

Fund Penniman

Collation

A4(A1[blank?]wanting)B-Dd8(Dd8 [blank?] wanting)

Cordier, Mathurin

Author

Rare Book

Room

Gk4 653C

Call no.

Benerke Library Gkt 653 C d<sub>8</sub>

The Penniman Memorial Library of Education of Yale University

Established by James Hosmer Penniman, Yale 1884
In Memory of his Parents

James Lanman Penniman, Yale 1853

Maria Davis Hosmer